

CARNIVAL —AND— WHOOPEE

DANCE

OPENING ORIENTAL GARDENS Sat. Nite Jan. 12

Personal Management
John A. C. King
Dollar Dance

C'mon Up
An' Make Whoopie

NEXT BOXING CARD WILL BE GIVEN TUESDAY

Flash Kelly to Fight Joe Blackwell Here on January 15th.

PADELFORD SLATED

Former Roseburg Boy Will Fight for Opportunity to Meet Joe Marcus
on Later Bill.

The next boxing card is to be held Tuesday, January 15, according to announcement made today by Clyde Ward, local promoter. Mr. Ward is well pleased with the prospect for the coming program, which will feature "Flash" Kelly of Portland and Joe Blackwell of Eugene in a 10-round main event. Kelly and Blackwell two years ago fought one of the most sensational battles ever seen in Roseburg. Both of the fighters were just starting out then and lacked experience. Kelly was badly beaten in the first few rounds and took some terrible punishment, but near the end of the engagement he staged a rally that had all of the crowd standing and yelling like mad as he threw gloves from every angle of the ring, until Blackwell was groggy and hanging on to keep on his feet until the final gong. The decision was a draw.

Kelly fought for a little while around Portland and then went to Salt Lake where he won consistently until a couple of months ago when he returned to Portland. He came to Roseburg on the last card against Henry Brown and played around with the local fighter for about three rounds and then finished the bout in quick order. He shows that he has lost some of his speed, but has gained a wallop that he lacked in his former fight. Blackwell has also been making progress. He has proven himself a rugged, hard-hitting fighter, and only recently lost a close decision to George Dixon at Portland.

These fighters have not met since their previous engagement in Roseburg. Those who saw them in action at that time will be very desirous of seeing them again, while those who do not know them may be assured that it will be a good match.

Pat Padelford of Medford, Ore.

DR. DEAN B. BUBAR
OPTOMETRIST
Specialist in the fitting of Glasses
114 Jackson St.

An Experienced Staff
Our experienced staff assures excellent banking service—and you will find it a pleasure to transact business with this strong, obliging bank.

The Roseburg National Bank
Roseburg, Ore.

ROSEBURG UNDERTAKING CO.
Established 1901
M. E. RITTER, Manager
Founded and Maintained on Efficient
Service and Courtesy

Phone 284
Oak and Kane Sts. AMBULANCE SERVICE Licensed Lady Embalmer

ROSEBURG UNDERTAKING CO.
Established 1901
M. E. RITTER, Manager
Founded and Maintained on Efficient
Service and Courtesy

ROSEBURG UNDERTAKING CO.
Established 1901
M. E. RITTER, Manager
Founded and Maintained on Efficient
Service and Courtesy

ROSEBURG UNDERTAKING CO.
Established 1901
M. E. RITTER, Manager
Founded and Maintained on Efficient
Service and Courtesy

ROSEBURG UNDERTAKING CO.
Established 1901
M. E. RITTER, Manager
Founded and Maintained on Efficient
Service and Courtesy

merly of Sutherland and of Roseburg, will fight the semi-final with an opponent who has not yet been selected. It has been arranged that the winner of the semi-final will be matched with Joe Marcus of Portland on the following card. Mr. Ward states that he has positively arranged with Marcus to meet the winner and so is going to hold forth the coming fight as an inducement to the semi-finalists to "do their stuff."

"Tiger" Dunn of Roseburg, formerly of Riddie, who has been making a sensational start as a preliminary fighter, is to be featured in a 4-round special event. Dunn is a real boxing prospect and has the possibility of developing into a great fighter as he has a natural fighting ability and the faculty of withstanding terrific punishment.

He is as yet unskilled, although making steady improvement, and deserves to be carefully brought along in his development, but he is already a fighter who can take a place well up among the boxers of his weight. Local fans are greatly interested in him and anxious to see him succeed.

Mr. Ward is also arranging for two preliminaries.

Roseburg boxing fans have been privileged to see some of the best cards that have been presented in the state outside of Portland. It is extremely difficult for a promoter to succeed time after time in furnishing bouts in which the men are always equally matched and can furnish the crowd real entertainment. Mr. Ward has been extremely careful in this regard, as well as being fortunate, and boxing fans all over the state have been heard to remark about the excellent fights that have been staged in Roseburg, the cards as a whole being far better than the average in cities of this size.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(Associated Press Local Wire)
MIAMI, Fla.—Maxie Pele, Portland, Ore., won on a foul from Red Riley, New York (9).

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Milton Mangano, New Orleans, outpointed "Dutch" Easter, Pacific coast (10).
NEW YORK—Sid Terrie, New York, outpointed Jackie Philmore, New York (10). Jimmy McManus, New York, outpointed Joe Gonzalez, Mexico City (6).

RUFFALO, N. Y.—Lope Terrario, Philippines, outpointed Jimmy Goodrich, Buffalo (10). Oak Tin, Buffalo, knocked out Billy Kid Herman, Butte, Mont. (6).

ST. LOUIS—Joey Rivera, Kansas City, outpointed Eddie Anderson, Casper, Wyo. (10). Dave Knost, St. Louis, outpointed Arthur "Sailor" Maley, Chicago (10).

TULSA—Babe Hunt, Police City, and Big Boy Peterson, New Orleans, drew (10).

PEORIA, Ill.—"Spug" Myers, Chicago, outpointed Al McCoy, St. Louis (10). Johnny Melton, Indianapolis, negro, knocked out Eddie Walsh, Chicago (12).

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Sammy Price, Benton Harbor, Mich., knocked out Jackie Reynolds, Terre Haute, Ind. (6). Frank Nancy, Pittsburgh, outpointed Howard Jones, New Albany (8).

Last Night's Basketball
MISSOULA, Mont.—Montana 33; Montana Mines 32.
WALLA WALLA, Wash.—Whitman 27; Idaho 17.

CLASH STARTS NEW REGIME OF ROSEBURG

(Continued on page 4)

council got down to business. The old council, one by one, resigned their positions after which S. L. Kidder was elected president and took the chair following the resignation of Mayor Hoover. Then the council elected Mayor Hoover who took over the position of chief executive.

Thanks Old Council
After resigning his position as mayor, Dr. Houck made a short talk, thanking the members of the old council for their work while in office.

"I have never had the privilege of working with a finer group of men," Dr. Houck declared. "Our relations have been the most harmonious, and I have had the best of cooperation and support in everything undertaken. I only hope that the new council will give the same measure of support to the new mayor."

There has been some question regarding the time for seating new city officers. The charter provides that the new officers shall be seated the first Monday in November following the election. That provision was made when the city election was held in October. The old council, however, felt that the new officers should assume their duties at the same time as the county and state officers, and so established a precedent by resigning in the manner provided by law and allowing their successors to be seated into office under the charter procedure, so that there can be no question raised regarding the authority of the present officers to serve prior to November.

Salary Cuts Proposed
Mayor Hoover then read his message and proceeded to outline his appointments.

He proposed general salary cuts in all departments, reducing the salary of the street superintendent from $125 per month to $100 per month and of the police and night watchman was recommended to be $100 each per month instead of $150 and $140 at present. The city, however, is to pay $25 per month in helping to maintain a special guard in the business district. Edward Martin, who is serving in that capacity, is paid by the merchants themselves, and is to be continued in the position with an additional sum provided by the city as further remuneration. J. W. Thompson, who cares for the parks in North Roseburg, has been receiving $25 per month for 6 months during the winter season and $50 per month for 6 months during the summer season, making $450 per year. Under the new schedule he will receive $100 per year. Mayor Hoover proposed to abolish the office of city attorney as a salaried office and recommended putting it on a fee basis. He also stated that he would propose by ordinance readjustment of the salaries paid city officials.

For the appointive offices, aside from the boards and commissions, Mayor Hoover appointed Dan Hayes, street superintendent; J. R. Webb, electrical inspector; H. L. Epstein, city surveyor; Albert Abraham, city attorney; J. W. Thompson, parks superintendent; and James Traber, dump grounds superintendent.

Police Jobs Held Open
The appointment to the office of chief of police, an issue that has been attracting much public attention and comment ever since the new officers were elected, was held over for future action. Several of the councilmen, it is understood, favor the retention of the present officers and it was evident at the unofficial meeting of the council last Friday that an agreement could not be reached on that matter immediately, so Mayor Hoover of his own accord recommended later action. He has indicated, however, that at the end of the 30-day period he will recommend changes. Many applicants for the city police officers have filed petitions with the mayor and he therefore decided to delay action for 30 days, thus giving the present officers sufficient time to find other employment.

Objection Raised
Councilman Kidder immediately voiced an objection to the proposed change in the street department.

"We have had a very efficient street crew," Mr. Kidder said, "and I cannot understand why a change should be made. These men have had experience with the work, they are used to handling the machinery, and we can place entire confidence in them. I also believe that it would be a mistake to reduce their salaries. Certainly they are not being paid too much. It is hard enough for a man to live and support a family on $100 a month and I do not believe the city can expect efficient labor for less than that amount. Another thing, the members of the street committee are held responsible for the street work. Most of us are men who cannot be leaving our stores every few minutes to go out and superintend the work and it is important that we have men on the job who understand how to go ahead and on whom responsibility can be placed."

"If the new crew is not as efficient as the old one we can soon make changes," Mayor Hoover declared. "I have had a hundred or more applications for the jobs and there are plenty of men willing to take the work at the salaries I have suggested and if those I appoint are not efficient we can quickly find other men to take their places."

Councilman Dent protested against a change in wages.

"A new man, even at smaller wages, is apt to cost us a good deal more than a man familiar with the work," Mr. Dent declared. "The street department is equipped with some very valuable machinery. It takes time to become acquainted with these machines and to handle them efficiently. If we cut the salaries down to a low figure men will take the jobs only until they can find something better and we are going to be constantly changing crews and placing this valuable equipment in the hands of untrained men. Some of the slip due to inefficiency, can easily cost us a lot more than we will save by cutting the salaries."

"You must understand," Mayor Hoover insisted, "that the city finances are strained, and the only way we can economize is to cut expenses. We can find plenty of men to work at the salaries I have named."

"You may be able to get men to work," Councilman Kidder argued, "but I doubt if you get the same efficiency."

George Frey, present street superintendent, was asked if he would consent to a salary cut, and he declared that he would not. Mayor Hoover asked Frey if he had not previously agreed that he would accept a cut, and Mr. Frey said that he had not. Mayor Hoover insisted that such a statement had been made and Mr. Frey came angrily forward to the council table challenging the mayor to produce proof that such a statement had been given.

Mayor Hoover insisted upon order and Mr. Frey took his seat.

Councilman Shoemaker stated that he would like to see the present crew maintained at the existing salaries and made a motion to that effect, which was promptly ruled out of order by Mayor Hoover, who said that the council was acting upon the appointments as a whole and not separately.

A motion was then made and carried to consider each appointment separately.

Appointment Rejected
Councilman Harzis voiced his opinion that it is all right to economize, "but when you hire a $75 man you get $75 service."

Councilman Shoemaker then made a motion to reject the appointment of the street superintendent and a vote by acclamation was taken. There was no negative vote cast. Mayor Hoover then called for a second vote, which resulted in all of the councilmen voting in effect the appointment.

Councilman Kidder then made a motion to appoint the present street committee at the existing salaries.

"You're out of order," Mayor Hoover declared. "You can't take my appointive power away from me. I have the right to appoint and you can either ratify or reject. If you are not satisfied with my original appointment, I'll appoint Lee Angles as street superintendent." The mayor endeavored to secure a motion confirming the appointment, but none of the councilmen would introduce the motion, and so it was finally agreed to postpone further action until the next meeting.

The appointment of Albert Abraham as city attorney was next proposed and was rejected. Councilman Kidder and Young voted against the rejection but the rest of the council voted "yes". The appointment was also left over until the next meeting.

The council then ratified the appointment of "Doc" Martin as special watchman, W. E. Thompson as parks superintendent, J. W. Draper as dump grounds superintendent and H. L. Epstein as city surveyor.

Appointments to the board of commissioners were also approved.

A. J. Young was appointed on the library board, replacing S. J. Shoemaker, who is a member of the council.

Some of the councilmen also felt that the present electrical inspector Henry Worthington, should be retained, and so rejected the appointment of J. R. Webb, and this office was also left open until the next meeting.

The appointments as they now stand with the ratification of the council are as follows:

Council Committees
President of the council—S. L. Kidder.
Ways and Means—Charles W. Wharton, Elmer McKean, S. L. Kidder.

Expense and Accounts—Sam Shoemaker, James Hutchings, A. J. Young.
Fire and Water—J. E. Dent, W. F. Harris, S. J. Shoemaker.
City Improvements—S. L. Kidder, Elmer McKean, James Hutchings.

Health and Police—W. F. Harris, A. J. Young, J. E. Dent.
Electric Lights—James Hutchings, S. J. Shoemaker, Charles Wharton.

Judiciary—A. J. Young, Elmer McKean, S. L. Kidder.
Elections—Elmer McKean, Charles Wharton, J. E. Dent.

Boards and Commissions
Fire Commissioners—J. W. Perkins, S. K. Sykes, C. W. Kirk.
Library Board—S. J. Shoemaker, Henry Booth, Mrs. Glen Wimbler, Mrs. A. J. Sutherland, S. D. Evans.

City Improvements and Beautification Commission—W. C. Harding, Napoleon Rice, Mrs. A. C. Marsters, Mrs. Amanda Roudman.

Park Commission—Present appointments held over.

Boxing Commission—Earl Vonburgh, R. L. Whipple, Dr. R. R. Shoemaker, Leon McClintock, Dean Babar.

Appointive Officers and Employees
Street Superintendent—Appointment postponed.

Chief of Police and Nightwatchman—Appointments held open for 30 days. Special Merchants' police, E. B. Martin, $25 per month.

Electrical Inspector—Appointment postponed.

City Surveyor—H. L. Epstein.
Juvenile Officer—Office abolished.

City Attorney—Appointment postponed.

Park Superintendent—J. W. Thompson, salary $100 per year.
Dump grounds superintendent—James Draper, salary $20 per month (fixed by ordinance).

Cooperation Withdrawn
The position of juvenile officer is one in which the city has been cooperating with the county. Miss Pritchett is employed by the county and the city has been paying $10 a month for her services inside the city. Mayor Hoover recommended the abolishment of the office. No special action was taken by the council either in ratification or rejection.

The council then proceeded to audit the usual accumulation of bills and order them paid.

The annual report of the fire department was read and the table for pending at a future meeting.

County Engineer Floyd Frear protested the establishment of a dump grounds west of town as proposed by Mayor Hoover.

Council Banquetted
Last night's meeting was a little late in starting as the new city officials were guests of the old council at a banquet served at the Umpqua hotel. The retiring officers spread an elaborate meal for their successors and gave them a hearty welcome into the new offices.

All of the new councilmen were present for the meeting except Councilman Hutchings, who has been ill for several weeks.

The new officers are E. V. Hoover, mayor; A. J. Geddes, recorder; Elmer McKean, Charles Wharton, councilmen Ward One; S. L. Kidder, A. J. Young, councilmen Ward Two; J. E. Dent, James Hutchings, councilmen Ward Three; S. J. Shoemaker, W. F. Harris, councilmen, Ward Four.

COUNTY COURT IS MAKING UP JURY PANEL FOR YEAR

The county court is busily engaged today in selecting the persons to make up the jury list for the coming year. The general jury panel is made up at the January meeting each year, and the names are then drawn from the general list for each of the court terms.

The circuit court is preparing to meet in February and the names will be drawn from the new panel for that session.

The court has also heard several road delegations seeking the appointment of patrolmen. As yet, however, the court has made no orders relative to appointments or changes in road districts.

PLANE'S CREW
MORE DURABLE
THAN ENGINES

(Continued from page 1)

swant out on the catwalk, but his weight was too heavy in the unstable condition of the Question Mark. We knew then that the flight was over. We dropped the gas within two or three minutes after we had taken it.

"That was not the first flight trouble. Saturday night we thought it was all over. All three engines lost their power. That was fouled sparkplugs. We were all ready to end the flight but finally we cleaned that up. But it was worse than spark-plug trouble this time. It looked like valves. Shortly after one o'clock the right motor began to weaken, then we knew the flight was about to end."

"Our last two refuelings were on two engines," said Captain Baker, "and we knew we were through. The left engine had gone dead. We were at an altitude of 4,000 feet but we dropped 2,500 feet on the turn. We signaled Hope to get back. On two engines we couldn't keep our altitude, and got ready to land. The right engine began to show trouble similar to the left and we found we were really depending on one engine."

"We knew we were coming down then. The ship began settling and it was just a question of where we would land. It settled 2,500 feet in two and a half minutes. It takes about an hour to regain that much. We had no trouble in making the field. The second motor seemed to have had plugs."

One Motor Exhausted
When the plane landed, the left motor was silent. The right motor was refueling, but a stream of oil spouted from it, and the center engine was able to make but 1,300 revolutions per minute. Just exactly what mechanical trouble finally overtook the plane's motors was not to be known until the official examination of the plane by Lieut. Ray Harris, engineering officer, and his assistants. No one was permitted to examine the plane after it landed. The moment the men stepped out the Question Mark was taken to a hangar and locked up and an armed guard stationed about it.

Major Spatz said: "We have found that mechanical conditions rather than the condition of man is the only limiting factor in sustained flight. The whole personnel was in better condition this morning (a few hours before the landing) than at any time during the flight. In fact, we have had seven days of rest."

Medical Verdicts
The official medical examination of the fliers made a short time after the landing stated that no qualifying defects were noted other than moderate defects of hearing in three of the participants and a slight defect in two. Distant vision was not impaired in any, and near vision impaired in four and improved in one.

The fliers today were still busy receiving and reading the congratulatory telegrams and cablegrams from various parts of the world and from men and women in many walks of life on their historic flight.

Following its preliminary inspection the Question Mark was scheduled to be flown to Washington. Later it may undertake another endurance flight, air corps sources here indicated. It is not known whether the record-breaking crew will fly the plane to Washington.

Praise From England
LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Royal Aeronautical society, in recognition of the notable record made by the American army plane Question Mark, has cable Washington its "very cordial congratulations on the magnificent endurance flight which very suitably marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the first flight of the Wright brothers."

On Radio Tonight
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The National Broadcasting company announced today that the crew of the army endurance plane Question Mark would go on the air over a national hookup tonight.

They will speak from station KFI, Los Angeles, from 7:30 to 8:30 Eastern standard time, WJZ, New

COUNTY COURT IS MAKING UP JURY PANEL FOR YEAR

The county court is busily engaged today in selecting the persons to make up the jury list for the coming year. The general jury panel is made up at the January meeting each year, and the names are then drawn from the general list for each of the court terms.

The circuit court is preparing to meet in February and the names will be drawn from the new panel for that session.

The court has also heard several road delegations seeking the appointment of patrolmen. As yet, however, the court has made no orders relative to appointments or changes in road districts.

PLANE'S CREW
MORE DURABLE
THAN ENGINES

(Continued from page 1)

swant out on the catwalk, but his weight was too heavy in the unstable condition of the Question Mark. We knew then that the flight was over. We dropped the gas within two or three minutes after we had taken it.

"That was not the first flight trouble. Saturday night we thought it was all over. All three engines lost their power. That was fouled sparkplugs. We were all ready to end the flight but finally we cleaned that up. But it was worse than spark-plug trouble this time. It looked like valves. Shortly after one o'clock the right motor began to weaken, then we knew the flight was about to end."

"Our last two refuelings were on two engines," said Captain Baker, "and we knew we were through. The left engine had gone dead. We were at an altitude of 4,000 feet but we dropped 2,500 feet on the turn. We signaled Hope to get back. On two engines we couldn't keep our altitude, and got ready to land. The right engine began to show trouble similar to the left and we found we were really depending on one engine."

"We knew we were coming down then. The ship began settling and it was just a question of where we would land. It settled 2,500 feet in two and a half minutes. It takes about an hour to regain that much. We had no trouble in making the field. The second motor seemed to have had plugs."

One Motor Exhausted
When the plane landed, the left motor was silent. The right motor was refueling, but a stream of oil spouted from it, and the center engine was able to make but 1,300 revolutions per minute. Just exactly what mechanical trouble finally overtook the plane's motors was not to be known until the official examination of the plane by Lieut. Ray Harris, engineering officer, and his assistants. No one was permitted to examine the plane after it landed. The moment the men stepped out the Question Mark was taken to a hangar and locked up and an armed guard stationed about it.

Major Spatz said: "We have found that mechanical conditions rather than the condition of man is the only limiting factor in sustained flight. The whole personnel was in better condition this morning (a few hours before the landing) than at any time during the flight. In fact, we have had seven days of rest."

Medical Verdicts
The official medical examination of the fliers made a short time after the landing stated that no qualifying defects were noted other than moderate defects of hearing in three of the participants and a slight defect in two. Distant vision was not impaired in any, and near vision impaired in four and improved in one.

The fliers today were still busy receiving and reading the congratulatory telegrams and cablegrams from various parts of the world and from men and women in many walks of life on their historic flight.

Following its preliminary inspection the Question Mark was scheduled to be flown to Washington. Later it may undertake another endurance flight, air corps sources here indicated. It is not known whether the record-breaking crew will fly the plane to Washington.

Praise From England
LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Royal Aeronautical society, in recognition of the notable record made by the American army plane Question Mark, has cable Washington its "very cordial congratulations on the magnificent endurance flight which very suitably marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the first flight of the Wright brothers."

On Radio Tonight
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The National Broadcasting company announced today that the crew of the army endurance plane Question Mark would go on the air over a national hookup tonight.

They will speak from station KFI, Los Angeles, from 7:30 to 8:30 Eastern standard time, WJZ, New

MASONS ATTENTION

All members are requested to attend the Stated Communication of Laurel Lodge No. 12, Wednesday evening, Jan. 9th at 7:30 p. m. Work in E. A. degree.
W. F. HARRIS, Secy.

WATER CHANGE CHECKS FATAL FISH EPIDEMIC

(Associated Press Local Wire)
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—A strange malady that nearly wiped out the entire collection of tropical fish in New York's famous aquarium has been checked by causing the water in which they live.

The disease, said C. M. Breder, research officer, first developed in specimens brought from Key West early in the spring. It soon spread to other tropical fish and before it was checked caused the death of more than 400 fish. The disease first attacked the eyes, rendering the fish blind, and death followed within a few days.

The 100,000 gallons of pure sea water in the tanks was replaced by water from New York bay, which is less salty.

JACKSON NAMES TWO DEPUTIES

Sheriff V. T. Jackson today announced the appointment of two more of his deputies. Chad Daugherty, who has been deputy at Yoncalla, will remain a member of the law enforcement organization of the county, holding the same position as at present. Cap Griffith at Myrtle Creek will also be retained. Mr. Griffith is recovering from the effects of injuries sustained a short time ago while towing in a stolen car. The machine turned over and broke his shoulder. Both of these deputies are very efficient men and have had a good deal of experience in the past years. Geo. Sewell has been appointed a deputy in the tax collecting department and has assumed his duties.

PORTLAND KNIFE AFFRAY LANDS MAN IN THE HOSPITAL

(Associated Press Local Wire)
PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 8.—Victim of an unknown assailant who stabbed him in the abdomen with a pocket-knife, R. Isham, 38, was unconscious at the Good Samaritan hospital today. His condition was serious due to loss of blood.

Employees at the Gordon hotel, 174 West Park street, where Isham lived, reported to police that sounds of a scuffle came from the man's room just before 8 o'clock. A man unknown to them left the room and the hotel before Isham was found suffering from the cut.

Isham was said to be an advertising man for a moving picture company.

CARD OF THANKS

Appreciating the kindness of many friends who visited at the bedside of our beloved Mother during her last long illness, as well as the beautiful floral offerings, and the services of the pall bearers, and the comfort and aid given during her bereavement, we desire to hereby extend our sincere thanks to the hosts of friends who ministered to the needs of Mother during her last sickness and death.

The Sons and Daughters of Mrs. Anna Maria Harness.

CROSSED THE PLAINS BY OX-TEAM

The following is an extract from a biographical sketch of the late Mrs. Annie M. Harness written by Fred Loomis several years ago and published in the Oregon Journal.

"We crossed the plains by ox-team and prairie schooner to the Willamette valley in 1844," said Mrs. Annie M. Harness when I interviewed her recently in Roseburg. "My father, James Rice, was born in 1812, and my mother, whose maiden name was Nancy Bear, was born in Michigan in 1818. I was born in Missouri on January 20th, 1842. Father settled in the Tualatin valley. He lived there till 1861, when he moved to Douglas county. When I was a girl I went to school to Sylvester Penney, who later served as mayor of Portland and governor of Oregon. Later I attended St. Mary's academy. I taught school near Farmington and also taught to what was known as the English settlement in Douglas county. I was married on October 2, 1861, to Randolph Harness, who has long been dead. We farmed in Washington county till 1885 and then moved to Oakland in southern Oregon."

EASTERN FIRES TAKE FIVE LIVES, $135,000 SCHOOL

(Associated Press Local Wire)
DETROIT, Jan. 8.—Allen Doane, 56, his wife, Annie, 55, and