JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL TEAM BEATEN IN GAME WITH GLENDALE HIGH

The junior high school basketball team found that it had tackled a matching proposition than expected in matching a game with Glendale high school last night. Glendale has an excellent team this year and succeeded in trimming the local youngsters by a score of 40 to 21. The Glendale team was larger and more experienced than the local boys, most of whom are playing basketball for the first time. The Roseburg team, despite its handicaps, played a good game, but was hopelessly outclassed from the start.

Flu Creating Phenomenal Demand for Vicks VapoRub

Although the flu itself is not so serious as in 1918, authorities stress the importance of taking every possible precaution for fear of the complications which invade the weakened system after a flu attack. They urge, especially, prompt treatment of every cold, as colds lower the body resistance and make it easier for flu or pneumonia to get a foothold. That the public is heeding this warning is indicated by the phenomenal demand for Vicks VapoRub, the famous external treatment which is said to have almost overnight during the 1918 epidemic. In spite of triple capacity, the Vicks laboratories are once more operating night and day, and 452,000 jars are now being produced every 24 hours.

BROCCOLI GROWERS ATTENTION

Service Sunday—

An interesting service is to be held Sunday evening at the M. E. Church South, opening at 7:30 o'clock. Stereoscopic slides will be shown, featuring the southland. These pictures were taken in Carolina, Florida and Georgia. The public is extended an invitation to attend.

SUNDAY AT THE CHURCHES

M. E. Churches at Dillard, Lookingglass, Tenmile and Camas Valley. T. F. Allen, pastor. Sunday school at 10 a. m.; Mrs. S. A. Roser, asst. superintendent; T. Rodley, T. Godfrey and W. Reetz, superintendents. All extend to you a cordial welcome. Preaching at Dillard at 11 a. m.; Lookingglass at 2:30 p. m. The pastor will greatly miss the helpful cooperation and blessed ministry of Mrs. T. Rodley at Lookingglass and R. A. Hercher of Dillard, who were recently and suddenly called to their reward. They were always attentive to the means of grace, never shirking responsibility or service. They have lain down mantles that will have to be picked up by others. Dile's Epworth League at Camas Valley, 7 p. m. Prayer meeting at Dillard Wednesday evening. Tenthly Thursday evening. Young folks' service at Dillard Sunday evening, 7:30. A number of people are to be received into the church at Dillard Sunday morning. If you have not found a church home and love Christ and want to love and serve Him, come and unite with us and we have work ready for you to do. As the physical work strengthens the body, so will the work in God's kingdom strengthen you spiritually.

Methodist Episcopal Church South, corner of South Main and East Lane. Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; W. L. Cobb, superintendent. Morning worship 11 a. m.; subject, "His Face Shone." Epworth League 8:20 p. m.; subject, "Our Chapter's Teammate." Evening worship at 7:30; subject, "All Things Ready." This service will be very interesting. At 8:15 we are going to take a trip south, down through Georgia, Florida and South Carolina. All these pictures are hand colored, giving a beautiful expression of the country in which some of the people of this country live. Do not fail to see these pictures. Community singing starts at 7:30 p. m. sharp. We invite you to join in this service. There is a place for all to fit in—in prayer, song and service for the Lord. We on time to get a good seat. We welcome you. Prayer service on Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. Read the second chapter of St. Matthew's gospel. John B. Penhall, pastor.

ROAD IN GOOD SHAPE

C. W. Puckett and R. A. Findlay, special road patrolmen on the Mill Creek road to Loon Lake, are spending the week end in Roseburg. They report that cars are still coming out from Loon Lake over the new road without chains, the first time that the people of Loon Lake have ever had communication with the outside during the winter months, except through a most arduous and dangerous trip. The patrolmen are kept busy maintaining the road, but have managed so far to keep it open, despite the many slides. By keeping the drainage ditches open they have managed to keep the surface in good shape.

The Telephone serves best when its service is universal

YOUR TELEPHONE is connectible with 143,000 other telephones in Oregon, and with nineteen million telephones all over the United States.

A moment's thought will show that such a broad service—putting your telephone at the center of a network that covers Oregon and the nation—is made possible only by uniformity of equipment, uniformity of method, and close-working harmony between the operating companies of these widely separated geographical areas.

About two-thirds of the nation's telephones—the nineteen million to which your telephone is readily connectible—are operated by a group of companies known collectively as the Bell System. The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company is one of these operating companies.

Not only does the relationship give the Pacific Company the right to all patents, technical experience and results of scientific research of the Bell System, but it enables the Pacific Company to operate at the lowest possible cost—thereby keeping charges for telephone service at a minimum. Through the Western Electric Company—the manufacturing, supply and distributing organization of the Bell System—the Pacific Company is able to get its telephone supplies about 20% cheaper than it would get them otherwise.

The co-ordinating head of the Bell System is the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, a national organization with more than 420,000 stockholders. It owns a majority of the stock of the operating companies. Its fundamental interest is the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost, consistent with safety, and its fifty-year-old guiding principle has been to seek no speculative or large profits, but to work solely for a constantly enlarging and improving telephone service.

The ownership of a majority of The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company's stock by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company has been regularly published in the American Company's annual report, and spread broadcast for many years. It is one of the chief reasons for the advanced type of telephone service enjoyed in Oregon and on the Pacific Coast.

We are proud to be one of the family of associated companies whose mutual cooperation and access to the telephone experience and research services of the nation have given to Oregon and the United States the most nearly universal telephone service possessed by any country.
