Even with mid-winter barely in full swing, style counters are heralding the spring trend in fashion and with their announcements comes another of interest, the Spring Fashion Show of 1929 which will be given under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary on the evening of March 6 at the Antlers Theatre. The event is among the early spring benefits, the proceeds to be used to carry on the community service work of the auxiliary, which is sponsoring the show for the second year.

Mrs. V. J. Miceli and Mrs. George Wharton have been named to head the committee formulating plans for the affair and members of the auxiliary are assisting. The Roseburg merchants will cooperate and each store will show three models. The men's shops also are to be represented this year.

Special scenery is to be procured and features will be interwoven in the show to add a light and sparkling entertainment. The management of the theatre has secured a special feature photoplay to be shown in connection with the affair.

Installation of O. E. S. Officers Followed by Program

Installation of officers in the local chapter of the O. E. S. was held on January 3 at the Masonic Temple.

The new officers for the year were installed by Elmer Webb, outgoing matron, and Ruth Cook acted as installing marshal. Ella Lenox acted as chaplain and Myrtle Bercher was organist.

The new officers installed were as follows: Mrs. E. Morgan, worthy matron; Fred A. Cook, worthy patron; Mrs. Nell McElhinny, associate matron; Mrs. Johnson, secretary; Mrs. Ruth Cook, treasurer; Mrs. Alta Williams, conductress; Mrs. Lella L. Wimberly, associate conductress; Mrs. Eva May Ferrier, chaplain; Mrs. Ethel Hughes, marshal; Mrs. Frances Linton, organist; Mrs. Edna A. Entler, Adah; Mrs. Florence Hercher, Ruth; Mrs. Inas Buhar, Esther; Mrs. Lorraine McClinch, Martha; Mrs. Maude Newbass, Electa; Mrs. Viola Thurston, warden; Mrs. McGee, sentinel.

After the installation ceremonies an informal program was enjoyed. Miss Vera McClintock, soprano, gave a vocal solo, with piano accompaniment by Miss Jean Whitney. Herbert Williams entertained with a violin solo.

A supper was served at the close of the program, and several visiting members were present for the evening.

Sewing Club Spends Afternoon Planning Year's Work

The ladies of the sewing club of St. Joseph's church were entertained at the parish hall on Wednesday, Miss Lillie Davis being hostess for the afternoon. She was assisted by Mrs. L. B. Nichols.

The hall had been early spring-like atmosphere, decorated with the use of pussywillows. During the business session discussion was held concerning plans for the food sale for today. Officers for the year were elected, also. They are Mrs. Lorraine Miller, president; Mrs. J. G. Koenig, vice-president; Mrs. T. H. Noss, secretary; treasurer, all being re-elected to office.

The club is planning a very heavy year's work and among the coming events will be the Easter sale, for which the club sewed during the rest of the afternoon. Refreshments were served to 12 ladies at the close.

Roseburg Folk Will Be In Chicago for Visit

Mrs. W. Dale Strang and Leo Helen Strang and their family, sister, Mrs. H. E. John, of this city will leave the first of this week for Chicago.

They will travel the southern route to Illinois and visit at Mrs. Strang's and Mrs. John's former home. They plan to visit other points in the state and will be away for about three weeks.

Miss Lansaw, Former Roseburg Maid, Weds San Diego Man

The marriage of Miss Ida Lansaw, a former Roseburg maid and daughter of Mrs. C. A. Lansaw of San Diego, to Mr. George Tweed of San Diego was revealed to friends of the bride here this week.

Mrs. Tweed attended school in Roseburg and had many friends among the younger set. The marriage came as quite a surprise to her friends here. The bridegroom is stationed at San Diego with the Eagle boat, a reserve naval boat.

Interesting P. T. A. Program Given Monday

Quite an interesting social program was arranged for the meeting of the Rose P. T. A. on Monday evening following the regular business session of the month.

Discussion was held concerning improvement of the school grounds. Plans were also formulated for an entertainment to be given next month when the P. T. A. will hold a party for a Valentine party for the children of Miss Parry's room, this group being winners in a recent contest to secure the most names for membership.

The program of the evening was sponsored by Kenneth Quinn, A. A. Wilkey and W. B. Strawn. Included was a group of two vocal solos by Mrs. Paulson, two readings by Rev. W. B. Baid, a harmonica solo by R. L. Whipple, with piano accompaniment by Frances Linton. The entertainment was completed with the showing of moving pictures of the North Umpqua river country by J. R. Wharton.

Invites Mayors To Her School

Miss Lucile Frater, of St. Louis, president of the Junior Federated Club at William Woods College, Fulton, Mo., has invited a number of mayors from cities in the middle west to come to college and tell the girls about city politics from the inside. Among those invited are mayors of Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Des Moines, Memphis, Oklahoma City, Little Rock, Detroit and Denver.

A bed spread, a scarf, a pillow cover and a dollie are included in the little glass casket which has been sent to Governor Patterson the medium through which the gift will reach the president. The president's name appears in the center of the spread and his initials on the pillow cover. Beauty and skill have been interwoven in the work.

STRIPES BRIGHTEN THE NEWEST SPORT FROCKS

By HENRI BENDIS

For NEA Service

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Probably no type of clothes designed for Palm Beach and other southern resort wear attracts the attention that sports clothes do.

They hold their strategic position because they can be worn most universally. By that I mean that more people, in more parts of the country, need the sports type of frock than for instance, the bathing suits or the filmy chiffons for formal afternoon affairs.

Influence All Fashions.

Moreover, in recent years, sports clothes have had a tremendous influence on the whole world of fashion. Everyone remembers the advent of the kerchief topping a formal evening gown. Cocktail jackets had their origin in sports cardigans.

Therefore the details of style that couturiers evolve for sports clothes are watched very minutely, not only by fashion experts but by individuals who follow the style.

New Stripes Are Novel.

Novelty stripes are being used in profusion on early spring sports things. Not collegiate stripes and not broad, uninteresting even stripes. But some kind of a combination of varying sized stripes, stripes and dots, stripes and checks. Much is made of color against a less bright background. Much is made of blues, and many times the overblouse or sweater is the colorful part of a costume.

Skirts on the whole are full. Novelty pleating is used a great deal. Some skirts introduce the idea of plain, unadorned gathers, as a new way to get fullness. Since gathers have been out for many years, they do bring a certain sense of fresh novelty with their return.

A gathered white crepe skirt, in one of the new styles, is topped by an overblouse of hand-blocked silk in a moderate pattern of blue.

Another skirt, of diagonal stripes of blue and beige, heightens the colorfulness of this overblouse, with a similar diagonal pattern up the elbow and across a pocket on one side. A scarf of blue adds its bit too.

Small Hat Favored.

Topping this sports frock is a little beige hat from Rose Valley with a draped banding of blue and beige chiffon. This hat is indicative of the small hat's favor this winter, provided it is avel and smart.

Beige (falle, striped in yellow and green fashions, a charming little two-piece frock. The skirt's deep pleats are curved and stitched to fashion a long yoke effect and its lower edge has a sweet banding of the green with narrow stripes of the yellow above it.

This novelty striped circles the overblouse and the cuffs. The square neck has an interesting treatment, the tie ends really being an extension of the neck's banding. A beige, bangkok hat has banding of the colors in suede, exactly matching to complete the scheme.

For Sweater Suits.

Sweater suits this spring are apt to combine knitted sweaters with silk or fine wool skirts and often take their matching cardigans in the skirt's fabric.

A stunning gold-yellow and white sports suit has a box-pleated skirt of white kasha and its sweater embroidered in stripes and novelty diamond figures in white silk. The sweater simulates a little tie, by its embroidery.

Yellow basque and white shoes are suitable accessories while a little white ball-hat with a band in the gold-yellow.

Club Tea Will Be Charming Event on Social Calendar

Quite an attractive event on the calendar for the new week will be the tea sponsored by the Roseburg Women's Club 13, a observance of scholarship, Loan Fund Day on Tuesday at the club house.

Plans for the event have been extensively carried out and guests are invited for the afternoon. A social business session will precede the affair, and Mrs. H. D. Harris, the president, will be presiding.

Mrs. Carl H. Neal will talk on new books in the early part of the afternoon. The hostesses committee is headed by Mrs. C. D. Pies and Mrs. A. C. Marsters. Assisting them will be Mrs. R. W. Marsters, Mrs. Mary Harding, Mrs. D. H. Morgan, Mrs. H. R. Nerbass, Mrs. E. R. Fletcher, Mrs. V. S. French, Mrs. Fredrick E. Hartung.

Mrs. H. P. Ogden, a former Roseburg marion now residing in Eugene, has been a visitor in the city for the past week and returned Thursday to her home. She was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Singleton.

P. T. A. Plans Spring Frolic

On Thursday evening, members of Fullerton Parent-Teacher circle held their regular meeting. Plans were completed for the serving of a hot club to the children who bring their lunches to school. The presentation of a spring frolic by the circle was discussed, and a committee was appointed to lay plans for this event. The chief speaker of the evening was Mr. Leroy Hatt, who gave an interesting dissertation on the teaching of nature study. Mrs. Leah Neigher, accompanied by her sister, Evelyn, played two violin solos, "Madrigal" and "The Gypsy Dance," which were very much enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Boise in South for Several Weeks

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boise are away from the city for a number of weeks, leaving Sunday for southern points. They were in Medford the first part of the week. Mrs. Boise attending the executive session of the officers of the Presbyterial.

Church Supper is Pleasurable Event

Quite a pleasurable affair of the latter days of the week was the church supper at the Baptist church at 8:30 o'clock Thursday evening when more than 120 members were present.

Tables were reserved for members of the R. Y. P. U., the World Wide Guild girls and other organizations of the church and following the supper the yearly roll call, election of officers and various yearly reports were given.

A blue, white and beige sports outfit has its hand-blocked overblouse striped diagonally with blue and white and its white skirt gathered. A gold-yellow sweater, embroidered in white silk, tops a white kasha skirt with box-pleats. Unusual skirt pleats, novelty striping and a new tie effect distinguish a beige, yellow and green outfit.

GILBERT HERE IN LATEST PICTURE HIT "FOUR WALLS"

What's the first thing a man would notice on returning to civilization after an absence of four years?

John Gilbert supplies the answer in his new starring picture, "Four Walls," which comes Sunday to the Liberty theatre. Gilbert plays the role of an ex-convict who returns to the East Side of New York after four years in Sing Sing.

It is by such human touches as this that Director William Nigh has made "Four Walls," one of the most human pictures that Gilbert has ever brought to the screen. Joan Crawford has the leading feminine role, while the cast includes Carmel Myers, Vera Gordon, Louis Natheaus, Robert Emmet O'Connor and others of note.
