"Waterfront" With Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall at Liberty Sunday

Jack Mulhall is at his best as the older on a tramp steamer who falls in love with a tugboat captain's daughter in "Waterfront," which comes to the Liberty this afternoon commencing Sunday. Mulhall and Dorothy Mackaill are both ideally suited for the roles they portray in this picture, which is hailed as one of the outstanding farce comedies of the year, and one that will eclipse all previous efforts of the co-starring team.

WOMEN who she realizes that she loves after he has been disgraced. Conrad Nagel plays opposite Miss Garbo as the dashing Austrian cavalryman who falls under the charm of the beautiful spy.

The new screen triumph, besides being one of the beautiful, best most enchanting romances, is a fascinating behind-the-scenes revelation of the espionage system that riddles continental Europe. How this network of intrigue operates, the part that women play in it, and the methods used to combat it, furnish the film with a thousand and one new thrills.
