PAUL JAWORSKI DIES IN CHAIR FOR HIS CRIMES

Murderer Who Began Life as Choir Singer Spurns Religion at Finale.

ARROGANCE IS GONE

Falters in Paralytic State in Death Chamber; Took Seven Lives, Once Broke Jail.

ROCKVIEW PRISON, Bellfonte, Pa., Jan. 21.—Paul Jaworski, notorious bandit and killer, today paid with his life for the part he admitted playing in the deaths of seven men. He died as he had lived, a man without religion, going to the electric chair here unattended except by two guards.

Directly after Jaworski had been pronounced dead, Calvin D. James, of Upper Darby, was strapped in the chair and paid the toll for having killed a boy in a school playground.

Jaworski was given his first shock at 7:02 and was declared dead at 7:06. James took his first shock at 7:10 and was officially dead at 7:14. Robert Elliot, official executioner for several states, threw the switch that sent both men into eternity.

Arrogance Gone Jaworski, escorted by two guards, entered the death chamber in a daze. The arrogant attitude he had steadfastly maintained was gone. His flustering act, produced by a paralyzed leg, the result of police bullets, caused him to be assisted.

As he stepped up to the chair he stumbled on the foot electrode. The guards prevented his falling and he was seated in the chair of death. Three men, including the executioner, strapped him in. Then Elliot stepped directly behind the chair, took a last glance at the killer and threw the switch.

James had spiritual guidance as he entered the death house. He was hastily bound to the chair, the executioner again stepped back and after the first shock James was pronounced dead.

Shot Way to Liberty Jaworski in his younger days was known as Paul Fallos, a church choir singer.

He was leader of the Flathead mob of payroll robbers of the Pittsburgh district. At one time his gang mined a highway and hiew an armored payroll car from the road. The mob specialized in payroll robberies, and during one of these Jaworski killed a guard. For that crime he was sentenced to death.

Awaiting sentence in the Allegheny county jail in downtown Pittsburgh, Jaworski in August, 1927, made a daring escape. Aided by a two-man man who met him in the visitor's cage, he shot his way through the corridors, out the main door and into an automobile. Two guards were wounded.

For months Jaworski was in hiding. A Pittsburgh resident, who knew the criminal, spotted him in a Cleveland restaurant. The police were called. As they stepped into the doorway, Jaworski drew two guns and attempted to shoot his way out.

3000 ARRESTS MADE IN CHICAGO POLICE DRIVE ON CROOKS

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Three thousand persons were arrested between Saturday nightfall and today's dawn in one of the most sudden, widespread and successful police drives in the history of Chicago.

AIRPLANE SWOOPS INTO AUTOMOBILE; 7 PERSONS UNHURT

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Jan. 21.—A Sunday motoring family of six, including a grandfather, today was describing to their neighbors the frights and thrills of having an airplane swoop out of a snow swirling sky to collide head-on with their automobile—and of how good it was to have escaped with nothing more than a severe jolting.

The lone aviator, who was caught in a rising snowstorm which swirled down from the San Bernardino mountains to the fringes of southern California's orange groves, likewise was alive and able to tell the unusual tale.

The mute evidence of the crash—a plane with a broken propeller and wing, and a motor car with a smashed radiator and hood—stood abandoned in the ditch alongside the National Old Trails highway three miles east of here.

On the records of the San Bernardino police station, where the survivors were brought last night by other Sunday motorists, were written the serious facts, and the saving humor of the highway collision. There was the officially given but humorous statement of William Tice, the white-haired motoring grandfather, that the plane and the car were on their own or the "right sides of the road."

Richard Crooks, the aviator, reported that the snowstorm, sweeping out of Cajon Pass, forced him to turn back towards his air field at San Bernardino. Its increasing fury forced him to seek a landing where he could, rather than endanger himself among the snow-hidden wires and buildings of the city. The road, and an apparently clear stretch, presented itself. Crooks was about to set the plane onto the paved roadway when the Tice motor car poked out of the white wall ahead.

CHICAGO'S MILK WAR REACHING SERIOUS STAGE

Big Quantities Destroyed or Spoiled; One Truck Driver Manhandled.

SUPPLY RUNS SHORT

City Authorities Call for Inquiry by Grand Jury; Federal Department Agent Enroute.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—City health authorities today demanded a grand jury investigation of the "dairymen's strike" that menaces Chicago's milk supply.

There were several reports of violence by armed men, of the dumping of thousands of pounds of milk, and of mixing of kerosene with milk. Dr. Arnold Keigel, Chicago health commissioner, has asked the state's attorney's office to institute grand jury action.

Leaders of the striking milk farmers said they would welcome it. All Demands Supplied Chicago's milk supply yesterday was 400,000 quarts under normal, yet the distributors said they had been able to supply all demands. A shortage as great, or greater, was predicted for today.

Dr. Keigel asked Mayor Thompson for a $15,000 emergency appropriation to be used in employing chemists. Additional chemists are needed, the commissioner said, to keep a 24-hour staff available for the testing of milk and for the protection of the city's health.

Almost the entire supply of one large dealer was found polluted by kerosene. The pollution was blamed by distributors upon the strikers who are demanding $245 a hundredweight instead of the $2.50 distributors are paying.

Uncle Sam Steps In A department of justice agent was expected today to begin an investigation, United States Senator Otis F. Glenn told officials of the pure milk association in response to their plea that he ask that department to intervene in the dispute. Dr. Isaac Rawlins, director of the state department of health, also volunteered services of his department.

Additional producers joined the strikers' ranks yesterday as a violence became more widespread. Deliveries to receiving plants of the two largest distributors, the Bowman and Portland dairy companies, have decreased daily.

Man Beaten Inevitable John E. Stacey was set upon by seven men, armed with shotguns, near Lake Forest yesterday. He was pulled from his truck, beaten unconscious and his load of almost 1,000 pounds of milk was dumped into a ditch.

About 30,000 pounds of milk were destroyed yesterday; 2,500 pounds dumped from two trucks at (Continued on page 3)

LEONARD CLINE, NOVELIST, FOUND DEAD AFTER PARTY

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The body of Leonard Cline, novelist, who was released from jail last July, was found in his Greenwich village studio yesterday. The medical examiner said he had been dead five days. Heart disease was indicated as the cause of death.

He is Todd agent for the building in which the author had his quarters, said Cline had complained of pain in the heart at a party at which he was host last Tuesday night. That was the last time he was seen alive.

Last July Cline was released from a Connecticut prison where he served ten months of a year's sentence for manslaughter for the slaying of his friend, Wilfred Irwin, advertising man. Irwin died of a shotgun wound after a party at Cline's farm. The author maintained the shooting was accidental. During his incarceration he turned to the study of theology. Before he devoted his time to novel writing Cline was employed as a reporter and critic on newspapers in Chicago, Detroit, Baltimore and New York. He was a frequent contributor to magazines. His wife, Mrs. Katherine G. Cline, was notified of his death at the home of her parents in Detroit.

SENATE CONFIRMS CABINET MEMBER BY 54 TO 27 VOTE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—By exactly the two-thirds majority required, the senate today confirmed the nomination of Roy West of Chicago to be secretary of interior. The vote was 54 to 27 and the senate then voted not to make the roll call public.

Confirmation followed three days of senate discussion in executive session. Opposition to the nominee was voiced by republican independents who complained particularly of Mr. West's former holding of stock in the Samuel Insull utility interests.

The attack on West was led by Chairman Nye, of the lands committee, which recommended his confirmation by a vote of 9 to 4 along with Senator Norris of Nebraska.

Senator Deneen and Glenn, republicans of Illinois, defended the cabinet officer, and joined by several democrats.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Her 81 passengers transferred to another ship, the Dollar liner President Garfield was hard aground today on a coral reef in the Bahamas islands.

The Pan-America went to the assistance of the President Garfield when the ship sent out an S. O. S. at 7:25 a. m. yesterday. The distress call was followed by wireless messages saying the Dollar liner was aground on the Matilla reefs at the northern tip of the Bahamas islands.

Announcement of the safe transfer of the passengers 12 hours later was made by Robert E. Duff, operating manager of the Dollar and the liner. He said the officers and crew of the President Garfield, numbering 150, had remained aboard their ship, which was not taking water and was in no immediate danger.

DOLLAR LINER ON REEF IN BAHAMAS; NO DANGER SEEN

The minimum temperature of 19 degrees at 8:30 Sunday morning, was the coldest to be recorded at the local weather bureau station for two years, or since January 21, 1927, when the mercury dropped to 18 degrees, according to E. H. Fletcher, the local meteorologist.

The temperature last night was slightly higher, he reports, with a minimum of 25 degrees. The weather was below freezing all day Sunday, with 30 degrees the highest recorded.

It is not believed that the cold weather has damaged broccoli to great extent up to the present time. The plants have been fairly well protected by a light fall of snow, and unless freezing weather continues over a fairly long period of time it is not believed that any serious damage will result.

Mr. Fletcher reports the following minimum temperatures for the past five years: 1924, 11°, December 25. 1925, 31°, January 15. 1926, 25°, December 14. 1927, 18°, January 21. 1928, 22°, December 23.

The forecast is for unsettled weather tonight and Tuesday with snow turning to rain. Warmer temperature is promised.

7000 ERUPTIONS 24 HOUR VOLCANO MARK

DATAVA, Java, Jan. 21.—The island volcano Krakatoa, which has been in violent eruption recently, is reported showing increasing intensity. The visible eruptions rose from nearly 4,000 on Saturday to nearly 7,000 during the past 24 hours.

At least a hundred times yesterday in violent eruption, the burning material was hurled higher than 2,000 feet and one eruption reached about 4,000. Continuous tremors are felt at sea in the neighborhood of the isolated and uninhabited island.

Nation-Wide Share Owners Cust Exploiters And Put Business On Moral Basis, Financier Avers

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Owen D. Young, chairman of the directing board of the General Electric company, believes morals shape "big business," and dishonesty is scarce enough to be news. The recently appointed unofficial American member of the committee of experts named to consider Germany reparations spoke from the pulpit of the Park Avenue Baptist church last night on "what is right with business."

"Our big business is no longer feared by the people," he said. "Exploiters no longer own the big concerns. Bankers no longer own them. Their shares are spread from one end of the country to the other. Broadly speaking, the vast organizations are in skilled hands and the roads are reasonably safe."

The danger today, Mr. Young believed, comes not from bad men in business or bad principles but from the difficulty of applying right principles to complicated situations. Our greatest risk is the mistaken

NEON AIRWAY BEACON SITE IS PURCHASED

The Richfield Oil company, which announced several months ago its plans to construct a series of Neon airway beacons and highway service stations along the coast airway, today purchased a 3-acre tract from the Gilham estate about three miles north of Roseburg and on the east side of the highway. The negotiations were made and completed by Max L. Gordon, representing the company, who spent the week-end in Roseburg making the arrangements for hearing the land.

While this station is about two miles north of the airport, it is in a direct line with the revolving beacon and field beacon to be installed by the government, and will serve as an excellent guide to fliers.

The company is building service stations to serve automobiles on the highway, and at each station is erecting a huge Neon beacon, which will be visible for many miles in each direction. The Neon light also has good piercing qualities that make it extremely valuable to fliers.

The company also plans eventually to erect a modern hotel at each of these stations. Sites have been selected at Grants Pass and on the summit of the Siskiyou in addition to the one north of this city.

GOVERNMENT SALE OF TIMBER LANDS HELD IN ROSEBURG

All But One of Seventeen Tracts Offered Find Purchasers; Total Paid $103,000.

The Roseburg land office today disposed of 16 tracts of grant land timber for approximately $102,000. This is the largest timber sale in recent years, and was particularly interesting from the standpoint of the percentage of sales, as all tracts except one were purchased.

Usually there are a number of tracts that do not sell, but this time only one small piece remained unsold, indicating a much more favorable condition in the demand for timber. It is understood that an offer is in the mails for the one unsold tract, but the money has not yet been received.

The sales made today were as follows: Fisher Lumber Company, Marcola, 3,200,000 feet of timber on 89 acres O. and C. grant lands, Twp. 16 S., R. 2 W., Sec. 5, Linn Co., $5,788.55.

HAROLD BUCKNER, MAIL FLYER, DIES OF HIS INJURIES

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) LA GRANDE, Ore., Jan. 21.—The body of Harold E. Buckner, Varney airmail pilot, who died Thursday night from injuries suffered when his plane crashed in the Blue mountains 25 miles east of Cove, Ore., will be sent to Boise, Idaho, tomorrow for burial.

Examination today of the pilot's body showed that both arms were broken in the crash, that he suffered compound fractures of both legs, his left chest was crushed, and he suffered severe head bruises and other injuries. Physicians said the crushed chest was the cause of death.

Buckner died in an isolated trapper's cabin while Jack Handy, one of the two trappers who found him in the wrecked plane, sat by his side. Handy's partner, Phil Brockman, was trailing over a fifteen-mile route to the nearest telephone at Horse ranch when Buckner died. The trip was made through snow six feet deep.

Buckner's body was frozen when the rescue party reached here last night.
