CLUB WORK IN COUNTY SHOWS STEADY GAINS

Each Year Sees Larger Number Boys and Girls Enrolled.

WORK PROFITABLE

Members Realized Over $2,300 Aside From Prizes During Past Year, Leader Reports.

Douglas county boys and girls club work increased, according to the annual report of J. Roland Parker, county leader, over 100 per cent in 1928 over the 1927 enrollment. Four hundred and eighty-two boys and girls completed projects in sewing, cooking, canning, marketing, poultry, rabbits, sheep, goats, dairying, corn and potatoes. The value of all the projects totaled $2841.04. This sum being the market value of the articles made, the poultry, livestock and crops produced. Cost of materials, feed, breeding stock and labor was $246.98, leaving a net profit for all projects a sum of $2594.06, but does not include over $500.00 won in premiums at the various fairs. The above figures were compiled from the cost account records each club member must keep of each project taken.

Thirty-one communities and fifty-seven school districts took part and made possible the club program for the year. Each community or school district provided an adult to act as advisor or instructor for the boys and girls in their various club projects. The number taking advantage of the club work has been increasing the past three years. On December 31 over 500 boys and girls had already enrolled for club projects for the new year, 1929, including many new schools and several communities not active before.

Boys and girls club work is available to all boys and girls in the county through the office of nine and eighteen. All that is required, is that they decide upon one of the twenty-five projects or divisions of the projects offered and agree to complete the work undertaken. They may enroll in groups of five or more taking the same project, having a local leader or advisor to meet with them and discuss the best ways to carry on the work to secure the best results. Working together in this way the group is known as a standard club each member benefits from the discussion and the experience of the other members but must carry his own work separate and distinct at his own home. An individual may enroll for a project and carry the required work under the supervision of the county club agent or the project agent.

The county club agent, with an office in the federal building, visits the schools and talks over club work with the children and explains how the different projects are carried and the requirements of each. The boys and girls are then asked to talk over the projects they think best suited to their conditions and secure the parents' consent. This done the enrollment blanks are filled out and sent to the county club agent. The club agent then sends the instructions as supplied by the United States department of agriculture and the extension service of the Oregon Agricultural college free to club members. The club member is entitled to all that he or she makes or earns from the club project but is required to send to the county club agent property filled in a cost account statement of the work done, the articles made and the profit or loss on the project as carried. This cost account report is a most important feature of club work. It trains the boy or girl to keep to a record and definitely know the cost and expenses, returns and standing of their business venture.

Club work trains in a business way and teaches the greatest and best practices for the farm and home. It brings the boys and girls together, fosters community spirit and teaches the advantages of co-operation in producing results. A few of the outstanding pieces of club work in the county are interesting and gives a clear understanding of the results to be obtained from the work. Mabel Richardson, an eighth grade girl attending the Jones school on North Myrtle creek was an outstanding canner, club member. Miss Richardson canned and preserved 104 quarts of fruit, vegetables, jellies, preserves and pickles besides completing her eighth grade work and caring for the home. The canning club on Smith river has been organized for three years and each year the girls have averaged better than one hundred quarts of fruit, vegetables, meats and preserves, and prepared an attractive exhibit of their work for the community, county and state fairs and have each year won premiums. The boys have been as active as the girls on North Myrtle creek. A coin club was organized three years ago at the Cedar Grove school and each year Homer and Steve James have taken premiums at the state fair and the land project show at the Pacific International Livestock Show at Portland. Ray Dunnakin attending school at Buck Fork exhibited his pot-

COLDEST HERE SUNDAY SINCE JANUARY, 1927

Snow was falling in Portland this morning, adding itself to the inch of old snow that remained from Friday night's storm. The snow came in fine, dry flakes. There was little wind. The weather bureau here today predicted unsettled weather with rain or snow throughout the day and Tuesday. Baker was the coldest spot in Oregon yesterday, reports to the weather bureau said, with a thermometer reading of 16 degrees below at dawn Sunday morning, and 4 degrees below Sunday night.

More Cold Forecast SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—A touch of cold weather that spread over the far western states during the weekend lingered today, with the forecast calling for subnormal temperatures up and down the coast and frost, snow and cold in the interior areas. Unfortown, Washington, reported a temperature of 30 below zero last night; Helena, Mont., registered a minus 16; Kalispell, Mont., and Pocatello, Idaho, reported 10 below. Montana reported 22 below at one point Saturday.

Southern California fruit growers today were warned to look out for a cold wave. The forecast called for frost in the interior of the southern part of the state and snow in the high mountain ranges. Lightning Injures Three Two waterpumps appeared at sea off Santa ornia, Calif., yesterday during a storm which played several tricks. Three persons were injured by lightning in Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. John Kalot were dazed when lightning struck their radio antenna and flashed through the house. Louise Critcher, 11, was shocked into unconsciousness by a bolt of lightning but was revived by an inhalator. Showers and high wind were reported in several places in the south. A break in the cold wave at Seattle which took the mercury down to 27 above, the lowest this winter, was promised for today. Northern and central California had temperatures lower than usual. At Sacramento yesterday motorists turned out in great numbers upon learning that snow had fallen 30 miles from the city. Many automobile parties carried sleds, hoping to do some coasting.

LA GRANDE, Ore., Jan. 21.—Eastern Oregon experienced a severe but brief frigid wave yesterday, with the temperature at Meacham, Ore., falling low as 26 degrees below zero, official reading. In La Grande the minimum was ten degrees below zero Sunday morning. At 7:30 o'clock this morning the official reading was 11 degrees above. The official minimum at Enterprise yesterday was 25 degrees below zero. Reports from Union gave 18 below, and 22 below at Imbler. A heavy fall of snow over the valley has protected the winter wheat crops.

VANDALS DESTROY O. S. FOUNTAIN COLVALLIS, Ore., Jan. 21.—The lady of the fountain, for 25 years a landmark on the Oregon State college campus, was demolished by vandals last night. Sledge hammers were used to smash the statue into bits. No clue as to the identity of the vandals has been found. The lady, cast in iron, was life size and the center of an ornamental stone bowl. It had been stolen many times since the class of 1902 placed it on the campus, but always returned. In 1922, after an absence of a year, it was got solidly in concrete to forestall further depredations.

NEW EVOLUTION THEORY ADVANCED BY DR. A. H. CLARK

Noted Biologist Contends That Human Beings Not the Descendants of Lower Animals.

(Associated Press Special Wire) WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Grave doubt is cast on current theories of evolution by Dr. Austin H. Clark, biologist of the United States National Museum, who has a theory of his own to replace them. "On the origin of mankind and animal life in general," Clark gives comfort to the fundamentalists.

"So far as concerns the major group of animals," he said, "the creationists seem to have the better of the argument. There is not the slightest evidence that any of the major groups arose from any other. Each is a special animal, complex, related more or less closely to all the rest, and appearing, therefore, as a special and distinct creation." Differs With Darwin Darwin, while held to be wrong in the main, is not entirely discarded. With his plain and animal groups Dr. Clark allows for the working of the Darwinian theory brought about by natural and artificial selection. While he admits that different breeds of dogs and cats may be caused by the artificial selection of the cat and dog fancier, he would allow for no gradation between dogs and cats. Dr. Clark explains the giraffe as an example, by declaring that the original pair were freaks born of some other animals, possibly antelope, and that the food supply was favorable to the preservation of the pair who came into the world for some mysterious reason with long necks.

He said he believed that man appeared in the world suddenly and declared in somewhat the same fashion as the giraffe, and said that man was constantly throwing off supposed abnormal types, idiots and also "supermen," and that one had about as hard a time surviving as the other, because subconsciously the entire race conspired against the "superman" by shutting them up in an asylum of convention and restrictions.

INVESTMENT OF COUNTY FUNDS IS BILL SUBJECT SALSF, Jan. 21.—A bill providing for the safe investment of surplus county funds is being drafted by the Jackson county delegation, and will be introduced soon. The bill is intended, in a measure, as a substitute for a bill, passed at the last session and vetoed by the governor. The veto

FAMOUS ACTRESS OF PAST DAY HURT IN CRASH OF AUTO

(Associated Press Special Wire) LONDON, Jan. 21.—A dispatch to the London Evening News from Sydney, New South Wales, said the American actress, Maude Jeffries, now Mrs. Osborne, wife of an Australian wool dealer, was seriously injured in an automobile collision near Narrabri, southern South Wales. The accident occurred yesterday when she was motoring to her husband's property.

PAUL JAWORSKI DIES IN CHAIR FOR HIS CRIMES

(Continued from page 1) way to the street. He killed one officer, but was shot in the neck himself. This resulted in partial paralysis of his right side. Spurns Insanity Dodge Returned to Pittsburgh by the Ohio authorities, Jaworski requested the governor sign his death warrant quickly. Mrs. Katherine L. Logan, of Detroit, his sister, fought the case, claiming her brother was insane from a wound in the neck. The state pardon refused a sanity hearing after Gov. John Fisher had stayed execution 23 days. Told of the move to have him declared mentally unsound, Jaworski said, "I'm not crazy. Let's get this thing over with."

His only concern was a continued magazine story he was reading. The final installment was to appear early in February, and he said, "Gee, it's tough not to know what that thing ended." The publisher of the magazine sent an advance copy of the periodical to the jail, and Jaworski read the final chapter of the story the day before he was removed to the death house.

BOYS BURN BARN, STOCK, VEHICLES

(Associated Press Special Wire) PORTLAND, Jan. 21.—Albert Harris, 15, and Don Perry, 12, were being held at the county jail here today pending action by the sheriff of Lane county. The two boys are said by police to have admitted accidentally firing a barn at Cottage Grove yesterday, resulting in the destruction of twelve head of stock, an automobile, wagon, and the barn. Young Harris and Perry, detectives said, ran away from their Portland homes last month and were picked up at Eugene. Their parents, reports said, refused to go after them and they were released by the sheriff. Harris and Perry said they slept in the Cottage Grove barn and that one of them accidentally dropped a match in the hayloft. They were unable to extinguish the fire and fled.

MARSHAL FOCH'S CONDITION BETTER

(Associated Press Special Wire) PARIS, Jan. 21.—Marshal Ferdinand Foch was so much better today that his doctors permitted him to get out of bed and sit in an arm chair for a few minutes. He was also allowed to read some messages which have arrived from various parts of the world during the last week. The ban on visitors to the sick room, however, was not lifted by the doctors despite the marshal's request to see General Weygand. The doctors said their patient's strength was increasing daily and his appetite was apparently growing with each successive meal. His spirits have never once been depressed during his entire illness.
