All-Metal Dirigible Takes a Turn-Around

The zinc-minded world will soon have opportunity to determine the practicability of all-metal, steam-driven dirigibles, for the "City of Glendale" under construction at Glendale, is nearing completion. This photo was taken as the big metal ship was taken from its construction hangar and turned around. At the left is Capt. T. B. Slate, designer and builder. The big bag is 212 feet long, will have accommodations for 40 passengers and, if successful in test, will be followed by many larger ships for transoceanic use. Motive power is furnished by light steam engine in fore part of cabin, driving the single propeller on the nose of the blimp. In case of accident to the duralumin bag, it would not collapse, being solidly built.

VIGOROUS BODIES NEED VEGETABLES
Sugar Works Wonders in Flavoring Them
"What do these canned tomatoes need to make them taste better?" Sugar added to the tomatoes while they are being heated will work wonders in making them enjoyable. Sometimes as much sugar as two tablespoons to a quart is needed.
"Add a dash of sugar to the cooking of string beans.
It isn't strange that sugar improves all these vegetables. Nature developed sweetness as the perfect flavor and the result is the proper amount of sugar changes that, unpalatable foods into dishes that can be enjoyed.
One famous cook puts it this way: "Fine flavors revolve around sugar. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.
