SOLDIERS HOME
BUDGET ASKS FOR REPAIR ALLOWANCE

The annual budget of the Oregon State Soldiers Home presented to the state legislature for approval calls for a total expenditure of $15,571, of which the state is asked to furnish $9,111, according to S. W. Starmer, commandant. This is the budget that has been submitted as being needed for the coming biennium, but it is subject to such revision as may be decided upon by the legislature.

The budget includes $2,758, which it is proposed to expend in re-roofing the barracks and administration building, as these structures are feeling badly and are in need of repairs. It is also proposed to build additional fences and to add to the household equipment and supplies, for which $6,358 is requested.

There will be some reduction from the budget amount if the legislature decides to accept the committee's proposal to abolish the institution. Mr. Starmer states. The commandant says that he has made no recommendation to the committee relative to the matter of abolishing the cottages and has made no statement regarding the proposition either to the committee or to any members of the legislature. A committee recently made a thorough investigation of the needs for repairing or rebuilding the cottages and has recommended their discontinuance, this action being taken entirely upon the committee's initiative following their investigation.

MYRTLE CREEK

Organization of a grange at Myrtle Creek is to be completed, within a very short time, according to Fred Goff, county grange organizer, who has been working in the Myrtle Creek section for several weeks in an effort to secure sufficient membership for a grange. He reports that the new organization will start off with a charter membership of about 10. It is planned to hold the first meeting and election of officers Wednesday, January 26.

EXACTLY SUITS ELDERLY PERSONS

Teasing, harassing coughs, tickling in the throat, and exhausting, nervous hacking are immediately relieved by Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Hold the dose low in the throat a short time, before swallowing. Its accurate blend of pure pine tar, fresh laxative honey, together with other valuable medicine ingredients is wonderfully healing to cold-inflamed tissues of throat and bronchials, and easily clears away irritating phlegm. No opiates, no chloroform. Try it. Sold everywhere.

GRANGE TO MAKE CAMPAIGN FOR FAIR GROUNDS

An active campaign is to be inaugurated by the granges of the county to secure the return of the model farm east of Roseburg to Douglas county for fair ground purposes. This land was originally used as a fair ground, but was sold 10 years ago to the state for $5,000 to be used as a model farm under the direction and supervision of the state land settlement commission, for the purpose of experimenting in the cost of developing a farm.

The state has invested during the 1928 period approximately $2,500 in the project, it is understood, but as yet the report has been received regarding the financial status of the venture, as a model farm, agricultural compound. It has failed to be of any value.

The legislature at the last session authorized the sale of the farm, but so far no action has been taken to dispose of the property. The governing legislature is making good its promise of the sale and is apparently intending to force the disposal of the land before any more money is spent.

The granges of the county have been very anxious for several years to resume county fairs, but have been badly handicapped by lack of a suitable location. The situation of the model farm is ideal for the purpose, being located on a good road, close to town with ample room on the 55 acres for such improvements as might be desired. A five-acre grove near the road also affords an excellent place for a park.

The granges are endeavoring to have a bill introduced to have the land turned back to Douglas county to be used for a fair grounds, the aid of service clubs and commercial organizations of Roseburg and other cities of the county being solicited.

COPCO QUARTERLY REPORT IS SENT TO STOCKHOLDERS

Quarterly dividend checks, accompanied by the regular quarterly report on the condition and progress of the company, have been mailed to local owners of shares in the California Oregon Power company. The report is an excellent one, showing a healthy increase of earnings for the twelve months' period ending November 30, 1928 over the previous twelve months' period. This, of course, reflects the growth and general prosperity of the communities and territory served by the company.

Under the heading of "New Business," which includes new loads and general expansion, it is noted that on December 1st the town of Butte Falls, Oregon, was supplied with central station service from the lines of the company. To render this service it was necessary to construct fourteen miles of transmission line from McLeod on the Rogue River to Butte Falls and to build a distribution system in the town itself. Likewise in northern California the town of Mt. Hebron was supplied with service upon completion of a line from Macdoel. Fifty-seven communities in southern Oregon and northern California are now served by Copco.

One of the largest loads contracted for during the quarter was that of the Glendale Lumber company at Glendale, Oregon, for approximately 1500 horsepower. The new mill will employ many men and stimulate business in that community to a marked degree.

Added load for the immediate future includes airway and airport lighting over a large part of the entire Copco territory. The Pacific Air Transport company will commence night flying on June 1, 1929, and to make this possible, all regular and emergency landing fields, in addition to the routes of travel between fields, must be completed and lighted by this date. Lighting of this nature is a very expensive and is occasioned by the constant progress of aviation in the past few years.

The merchandising department of the company has increased its service facilities to customers and residents of the Klamath basin by the opening of a new electric appliance store at Malheur, Oregon, on November 1st. An office for payment of bills and convenient to customers is maintained in conjunction with the store. Modern fixtures and furniture were installed throughout and this store and office is conceded to be among the finest of its size in the state.

The company reports approximately one thousand electric ranges added to their lines during the past year and the selling of one hundred eighty one new ranges during a recent eight weeks' campaign in one out of about every four homes on their system, making the comfort and convenience of electric cooking available to more households than ever before.

Stockholders are invited to avail themselves of the services of the company's investment department. Advice and information regarding securities which investors might be interested in will be given gladly without any expense or obligation.

UNIVERSITY HEAD
STILL PONDERING
BAGSHAW'S CASE

(Associated Press Local Wire)
SEATTLE, Jan. 25.—The University of Washington today still awaited the decision of its president, Dr. M. Lyle Spencer, on whether Enoch Bagshaw will complete the remaining three years of his contract as head football coach.

Dr. Spencer, if he has not already determined his answer, was weighing opinion on all phases of Bagshaw's eight years with Washington. He has received opinions from lawyers, alumni, athletes and student leaders, from the faculty athletic committee which refused to approve the dismissal.

Indications that he has about settled the matter were the dropping off of his conference and his requests for support of the university administration whatever his verdict may be. He has made the same appeal to faculty and athletic leaders favoring Bagshaw on the one side and student leaders opposed to him on the other.

The last three days, during which Dr. Spencer has been preparing to make his decision, have seen growing efforts on the campus to repair the broken spirit of the student body. As yet such moves have been productive of little more than sober debates over the Bagshaw battle.

NEW YORK CHURCH
REFUSES MILLIONS TO GIVE UP SITE

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—A church whose members feel they have a "sacred trust" to maintain their edifice in the heart of New York threatens to prevent a complete realization of the metropolitan opera center planned by John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

The collegiate reformed church of St. Nicholas at Fifth avenue and Forty-Eighth street, occupies one of the best parcels of land in the three blocks from Forty-Eighth to Fifty-Third streets, between Fifth and Sixth avenues, not included in the $25,000,000-a-year lease by Columbia university to Mr. Rockefeller.

The Rev. Dr. Malcolm James MacLeod, pastor, and Charles Stewart Phillips, treasurer, said today the church had repeatedly refused offers to sell or lease.

Dr. MacLeod said he believed landowners in New York, particularly churches, should not be forced down. "The material things are great," he said, "but the spiritual things are greater."

The office of St. Nicholas church has often been declared one of the most beautiful in the world. The bell in its steeple was cast in London in 1728. The church at one time retained an offer of $7,000,000 for the site.

A representative of Mr. Rockefeller said that his negotiations for the church site had been opened by Dr. MacLeod, but he had been told to drop them immediately if he learned the church was unwilling under any circumstances to move from its present place of worship.

DERN PINS KOTSONAROS

RAIL LAKE CITY, Jan. 25.—Tra Dorn, Salt Lake, beats 3-0-0 weather, defeated George Kotsonaros of Los Angeles. Dorn had eight hits when the California was unable to return to the dugout after the second fall. Dorn had six strikeouts. Kotsonaros won the first fall with a head scratcher.

Professor Emory W. Hobson, the director of the Willamette University Glee Club and of the school of music, has presented a splendid program for presentation. It consists of a variety of popular and classical numbers, solos, duets, instrumental selections, college songs and stunts, and other features. Professor Hobson's directing and choice of selections won for the club second place in the only all-northeast college Glee Club contest ever held, in Portland a few years ago. They will appear in Roseburg Saturday, Jan. 26th, in the Junior High School auditorium.
