PRESBYTERIANS TO START REVIVAL CAMPAIGN SOON

Rev. R. W. Achor, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, announces a series of evangelical meetings to be held in the church, continuing from February 12th to Sunday the 24th. A choir of fifty voices is being organized and trained by Mrs. Elsie Carleton Strang, Mrs. Homer Grow and Mrs. Frances Listott and will provide special music for the meetings, which will be held at 7:30 every evening.

Other preparations are in charge of committees working under these chairmen: Public schools, W. M. Campbell; Sunday school, Mrs. Homer Grow; finance, H. C. Parslow; young people, Miss Eleanor Sherk; women, Mrs. J. O. Arthur; men, W. C. Harding.

The principal speaker at the meetings will be Dr. Jacob E. Snyder, pastor of the Presbyterian church at North Bend, who will remain in Roseburg throughout the series. Other speakers are being arranged for by Rev. Achor. Dr. Snyder has been an active minister for thirty-five years in various Presbyterian churches in Oregon, and his evangelical work has been carried on in every part of the state. During his ministry he has received more than three thousand members into the church, has organized nine churches and brought about the erection of a number of edifices, including Piedmont church at Portland. He has been pastor of Christ church, Chicago; Central and Piedmont churches, Portland; First Presbyterian churches at Vancouver, Washington; Pendleton, Corvallis and other churches.

The general subject for the first week of the series will be "The Church's Challenge to the World," and for the second week, "Jesus, the Hope of the World."

CAPTAIN FRIED AND BRAVE MEN TO BE HONORED

of eight are to be taken aboard the tug to the battery where a fleet of automobiles will bear them in a procession of triumph up Broadway.

Captain Fried was master of the liner President Roosevelt when he rescued 25 men from the Antinoe. That time the modest little ship's master was escorted proudly up Broadway in a storm of ticker-tape and torn telephone books between massed thousands who roared their cheers in the characteristically welcome New York accord her heroes.

Stories of Heroism
The rescue of the crew of the Antinoe in mid-Atlantic three years ago yesterday was even a more difficult exploit than the saving of the crew of the Italian freighter. And like the second rescue it demonstrated the master seamanship and daring courage of Captain Fried.

Two of the Roosevelt's seamen were lost and five life boats smashed before all 25 of the shipwrecked British sailors were safely aboard the President Roosevelt.

A boatswain's mate and a master-at-arms were drowned when the first boat launched was splintered against the side of the life-raft. It was 80 hours later that Captain Fried sent a wireless message, telling of the rescue of 12 of the Antinoe's crew. The next day the rest were taken off the sinking hulk.

By her rescue of the crew of the Florida, the America has more than evened the score of lives she has lost and has saved. Twice she went out of her course to perform her sacred duty as minister to men desperately ill at sea, thus saving two lives. The Florida rescue brought the total to 24. Accidents in which she has figured have cost half the number saved.

Medals Proposed
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Captain George Fried's suggestion that members of the lifeboat crew of steamship America be awarded life saving medals as a result of help rendered at sea of the crew of the disabled steamer, Florida, drew the comment from Rear Admiral Billard of the coast guard that he would be delighted if the necessary formal recommendations were made.

Almost simultaneously with Admiral Billard's statement a bill was introduced by Representative L. V. Black of New York, which proposes

Don't dose a Child's Cold

CONTINUAL dosing upsets children's delicate stomachs. Vicks is applied externally and therefore cannot disturb the digestion. It acts in two ways: (1) The body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors which are inhaled. (2) At the same time Vicks "draws out" the soreness like a poultice.

ed that congress tender its thanks to Captain Fried and the members of the America's crew. The proposed measure would also authorize the award of gold medals to Captain Fried and such members of the crew as he might designate as having distinguished themselves in the rescue. Five thousand dollars would be authorized for the purpose.

PRETTY TYPIST IS NEW YORK AIDE TO DRY LAW FORCES

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—A typist by day and a federal prohibition agent at night was disclosed today as the role of Miss Marjorie Melius, 22-year-old beauty.

Disclosure of her employment as an under cover agent came at padlock proceedings against James (Dinty) Moore, who conducts a restaurant in West 46th street. Miss Melius and a male agent testified they bought liquor there.

The government's motion for the padlocking of the restaurant and forfeiture of a $15,000 bond posted by Moore last June as a guarantee against violation of the prohibition law was dismissed by Federal Judge Thacher, who, however, said he believed liquor was served at the restaurant but that Moore did not know about it.

Miss Melius was produced as a witness at the request of Judge Thacher after Herbert E. Slade, an agent, testified that on his three visits to Moore's restaurant he had been accompanied by a woman agent he knew only as "Miss Melius."

Questioned by Judge Thacher as to whether she drank liquor at Moore's place, she replied: "Yes, I drank old-fashioned cocktails and rye highballs."

She said she received $5 a night for her services from "James Donovan, the chief prohibition investigator for a district administrator Campbell." She started work as a prohibition agent last December she said, and was discharged a few days ago because "funds for enforcement were low." During the daytime, she said, she worked as a typist at a business office in the building adjoining prohibition headquarters.

AIMEE SUMMONED TO EXPLAIN CHECK GIVEN TO HARDY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25.—The district attorney's office today gave a state legislative committee evidence purporting to show that the $2500 check given Judge Carlos S. Hardy, by Aimee Semple McPherson, was issued from the evangelist's "legal defense fund" at the time of her kidnapping story developed a grand jury investigation.

The evidence, which had been closely guarded by the office and which was seized at the time Judge Hardy acknowledged acceptance of the check, was obtained from the private files of the evangelist and consisted of a private account book kept by Mrs. McPherson, the district attorney's office said.

"The evidence I have turned over to the legislative investigating committee tends to show that the $2500 paid Judge Hardy came out of the legal defense fund of Mrs. McPherson," Assistant Chief Deputy District Attorney Wayne Jordan said following a conference this morning with Walter Little, committee chairman. Judge Hardy is under investigation by the committee which had been instructed by the legislature to determine if impeachment proceedings were in order because of the admitted acceptance of a fee during tenure of office. The judge had maintained the check was purely for "legal advice" and was given as a "good will" offering. Mrs. McPherson has been ordered to appear before a special session of the committee here tomorrow to explain the transaction.

Home From Coast Trip—Chas. S. McElhinny, local agent for the Oregon Life Insurance company, returned home last night from Reedsport and Gardiner where he has been on business for the past several days.

SPANISH WAR VETS ENJOY VISIT FROM DEPT. COMMANDER

George Starmer Camp, Spanish War Veterans, held a well attended and interesting meeting last night. Robert Campbell, state department commander was present on his official visit, accompanied by M. L. Uplike of Grants Pass, a member of Rogue River camp. The greater part of the evening was spent discussing the state convention to be held in this city July 15, 16 and 17. Following the business meeting a social time was enjoyed.

BALLROOM DENTISTRY
CANTON, O.—A bit of expert dentistry was featured along with a dance marathon here recently. One of the girl entrants developed a severe toothache, so one of the city's tooth-yankers was prevailed upon to step around the floor with the young lady and pull the bothersome molar.
