STEELHEAD BAN ON ALL OREGON RIVERS SOUGHT

Bills Introduced at Salem to Prohibit Taking for Commercial Purpose.

HOOK AND LINE ONLY

House Passes Measure to Establish State Tax Body Giving Full Time Service.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 13.—Agitation of sportsmen throughout the state against the gradual extermination of steelhead trout through the activities of commercial fishermen, has resulted in the introduction of three house bills by Peters of Washington county which make steelheads a game fish.

House bills 78 and 479, companion bills, introduced Tuesday afternoon make the steelhead, regardless of size, a game fish in all waters of the state including the Columbia. The bill prohibits the commercial taking of steelhead in any of these waters and gives the game commission authority to designate the portions of streams of the state above tidewater where steelhead 15 inches or more in length may be taken by anglers.

Peter's third bill, H. B. 480, excludes steelhead and trout from the classification of salmon and prohibits the taking of small salmon and trout in any of the waters of the state of Oregon or in waters over which the state has concurrent jurisdiction by means other than by hook and line excepting Dolly Varden trout.

Norton of Coos introduced H. B. 481 which creates the office of county tax collector, providing the method of appointment and compensation, thus relieving the office of sheriff from participation in the collection of taxes. All counties in the state excepting Multnomah are affected.

Tax Measures Pass

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 13.—Expected opposition to three of the property tax relief commission bills failed to materialize when the bills came up for third reading Tuesday afternoon. House members approved H. B. 199, which creates a three-man paid tax commission to replace the present commission of governor and secretary of state.

PROGRAM MADE UP FOR FARM WEEK TO START FEBRUARY 18

OREGON STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Feb. 13.—Farmers of Douglas county will have opportunity, February 18-22, to assemble in Roseburg and Reedsport and take stock of the agricultural situation, compare last year's results, hear latest developments in production and marketing, and consider authentic outlook reports for the future, through service offered by the extension department of the college.

These farmers' weeks will replace the outlook conferences of the past. Programs will contain the outlook conference features, but in addition will include the latest in production methods and will offer opportunity for reporting on county agent projects and other investigations of interest to the county.

The extension service of the college will provide specialists for the meetings. Each day in the farmers' week will be devoted to a single enterprise. The daily subjects have been scheduled as follows:

Monday, February 18—Crops day, Roseburg.

Tuesday, February 19—Livestock day, Roseburg.

Wednesday, February 20—Poultry day, Roseburg.

Thursday, February 21—Horticulture day, Roseburg.

Friday, February 22—Dairy day, Reedsport.

Cupid Joins Youth Of Old Style Type In Lindbergh And Miss Anne S. Morrow

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Miss Anne Spencer Morrow, the future Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, was described by friends today as an ideal mate for the flying colonel.

Both are of the old fashioned type as contrasted to the modern flapper and the slick-haired youth of today. But Miss Morrow is not adverse to a bit of fun and to her intimates is known as a laughing, frolicsome young woman, just as "Slim" Lindbergh in his mail flying days was known for his practical jokes and harmless horseplay. The engagement has been formally announced by Miss Morrow's parents.

Born in Englewood, N. J., a fashionable suburb across the Hudson from New York, Miss Morrow is 22 years old, five feet, five inches tall, has large brown eyes and dark brown unbobbed hair. The colonel is 27 years old, more than six feet tall, and a blonde. Both are Presbyterians.

Prominent at College

At Smith college, Northampton, Mass., from which she was graduated last year, Miss Morrow was one of the most popular girls of her class. Besides showing a decided aptitude in her studies, she was prominent in many social and extra curricular activities.

She wrote the ivy day song for her class and a senior song as well. She was a member of the Manuscript club, the International Relations club, the Alpha fraternity, and was an usher at the junior prom. Her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Cutter Morrow, is a trustee of the college.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh need not worry about the wolf at the door. The lone eagle hopped to fortune as well as fame when he made his flight to Paris, although he has declined many offers of a financial nature. And Mr. Morrow was a partner in J. P. Morgan and company before he became ambassador to Mexico.

Aerial Courtship

Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh presumably will have an aerial honeymoon. Since his return from Paris the colonel's only means of transportation has been by air, except such automobile trips as have been necessary to get him to and from flying fields.

His fiancee already is air-minded. She took airplane trips with him in Mexico City soon after they first met, and friends surmise that some of the courtship was up in the air over the volcano of Popacatepetl.

Lindy "Can't Hear"

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The New York American today printed the following telephone interview with Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh at Havana:

"You want to know something about the flight?"

"Not particularly. We want to know something about your engagement to Miss Morrow."

"I can't hear what you say. Anyhow, I don't like to give interviews

Continuing Appropriations Opposed—State Losing Heavily Because of Tuition Dodgers.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 13.—Reapportionment of the millage tax levies of the Oregon State Agricultural college and the University of Oregon on the basis of existing conditions, discontinuance of the practice of making continuing appropriations for extension service and experimental work of the college and adoption of a legislative policy of passing upon these appropriation requests at each session, adoption of a tuition fee schedule requiring non-resident students to "pay either all or a larger part of the cost of their training" on a basis to be determined through a survey to be made by qualified and disinterested experts, and an annual audit of the affairs and funds of the two institutions of higher learning are the principal recommendations in a report of the majority of a sub-committee of the joint ways and means committee appointed to examine the colleges.

NEW GLENDALE MILL READY FOR FIRST RUN SOON

Glendale Lumber Company Plant Has Capacity of 125,000 Feet.

COST OVER $250,000

Huge Electrically Operated Mill Is One of Best Equipped to Be Found on Coast.

The largest inland sawmill in Douglas county, and one of the largest inland mills in the state will start its test run soon after the first of March. This mill is being constructed at Glendale by the Glendale Lumber company and is almost ready for operation.

The mill will have a capacity of approximately 125,000 board feet of lumber daily and will employ more than 100 men in the mill itself and a like number in the timber, furnishing a monthly payroll for Glendale and community of more than $30,000.

The plant, together with timber and logging roads and equipment, represents an investment of more than one million dollars.

The huge mill is being built just north of Glendale and across Cow Creek from the city. It occupies a 40-acre tract of land. The main mill is 56 by 300 feet in size, with a remanufacturing plant 40 by 100 feet. Foundations are now being built for a planing mill 120 by 190 feet in size. The platforms and runways will cover about 10 acres while the log pond, which has been built adjoining the mill, covers an area of 7 acres an will hold approximately two and a half million feet of timber.

Is All Electric

The mill is said to be one of the finest in the country from the standpoint of the equipment used. It has all new machinery of the latest improved type and is electrically operated throughout, although steam is used for the piston operated levers.

COOLIDGE SIGNS CRUISER-NEUTRAL TREATY MEASURE

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—President Coolidge today signed the naval building bill calling for the construction of fifteen cruisers and one aircraft carrier.

The president's approval was given in spite of the measure's clause requiring that all the vessels be laid down by July 1, 1931, which he had opposed. His opposition to this provision was based on the view that it called for expenditures at future dates with no advance knowledge as to the condition of the treasury when they would be made.

In addition to providing for the construction of the vessels, the measure calls for an international agreement establishing the rights of neutrals at sea in time of war, under an amendment sponsored by Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee and Senator Reed of Missouri.

CLAIRVOYANT TIP ON ROBBERS' LOOT RECITED BY DUPE

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

POCATELLO, Ida., Feb. 13—One of the west's most sensational stage coach robberies figured in the trial here of A. B. Meyer, alleged pseudo clairvoyant and former resident of Milwaukee, Wis., charged with mulcting a Pocatello woman out of $460 by promises to uncover a $40,000 treasure buried in 1860.

Mrs. Agnes Schwabe of McCammon, Idaho, testified that Meyer posed as a fortune teller and during a seance told her of a stage coach robbery at Robbers' Roost creek near here in the early days and claimed to know where the bandits buried the loot. He offered to go to the hiding place and recover the plunder, if she would advance the money to carry on excavations. She said she provided money for the treasure hunt.

George Wakeley, reputed oldest resident of this region, testified that he searched for the buried loot in 1865.

Meyer was arrested in Salem, Oregon, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

Four dogs, chained to the outside of the building, also perished. News of the tragedy was brought here by an airplane. The barks of the terrified dogs roused R. F. FINDING OF EXPLODED TRAP GUN IN TRAIL FOLLOWED BY SEARCHING INVESTIGATION

Arrest of Two Men For Alleged Camp Larceny In Wilson Creek Region and Warrant For Third Latest Angle of Development in Case of Missing Man.

TANGIBLE EVIDENCE STILL LACKING

Unexplained Dynamite Blast in Mining Tunnel Leads to Excavation on Theory Debris May Hold Corpse of Supposed Victim—Many Possibilities Open for Investigation.

Discovery of a recently fired set gun along the Wilson Creek trail, today led officers into the Silver Peak mining district on a theory that Ike Gilbreath, who has been missing from his home at Riddle since January 28, was accidentally killed by stumbling into the loaded trap and that his body had been disposed of in an effort to avoid detection of the crime.

Arthur Schroeder and Robert Sullivan are in jail, charged with larceny, and a warrant bearing the same accusation has been issued for W. A. Bradfield. These men have been operating claims in the Silver Peak vicinity and are believed by the officers to have been responsible for the placing of the set gun.

The officers stated that the larceny warrants were issued after Frank Reynolds, a neighboring miner, had identified articles found in the possession of the three men, as having been stolen from his camp.

The officers state that they have not established any connection between the three miners for whom the warrants have been issued and Gilbreath's disappearance, but they are merely conducting an investigation on the theory that he might have stumbled into the set gun which was used either as a signal gun, or for the purpose of killing deer.

Digging Out Tunnel.

A number of men went to the claims today to clear out a mine tunnel in which a heavy blast is said to have been recently discharged. It is possible, they contend, that the body of Gilbreath was carried into the tunnel and covered by means of an explosion that brought down considerable dirt from the roof. They will also make a very thorough search of the entire district to see if they can locate any traces that might indicate the disposal of a body by any other means.

District Attorney Cordon and Sheriff Jackson reported that they are preparing to make a very thorough investigation and examination into the theory that Gilbreath was killed by the set gun, but that as yet they have no definite evidence, other than the finding of the gun, which was located by searchers this morning. They announced that they have information that there is another of these guns near the claims and possibly more and searchers have been warned to use extreme care while traveling the deer runs in that vicinity.

The gun was found only a short distance off the main trail. it was a gopher gun, having about a 5-inch barrel and designed to shoot a 16-gauge shotgun shell. Such a gun, loaded with buckshot, would have power to kill a man or large animal at a distance of 15 or 20 feet. The gun was mounted on a board and apparently was set off by means of a string fastened to a trigger, the cord being stretched across the trail beside which the gun was mounted. It is stated that the gun shows evidence of having been recently fired.

Was Beside Trail

When located by searchers, the gun was not in position but apparently had been tossed off to one side of the trail under thick brush. It is thought that the gun was set for the purpose of killing deer that would travel the trail at night, and also for the purpose of giving signals to cover suspected moonshine operations. The officers are looking for evidence of the operation of a still, suspecting that this gun, and probably others, was used to signal the approach of any persons to the claims, and to kill deer.

There is, of course, no evidence to show that the gun was pointed across the trail, but if used for killing deer it undoubtedly was so directed. In such case it must have been loaded at night and discon-

JURY EXONERATES DRY OFFICER WHO SLEW C. P. KELLEY

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

TOLEDO, Ore., Feb. 13.—A coroner's jury here last night exonerated J. J. Zimmerman, state prohibition officer, who yesterday shot and killed C. P. Kelley, moonshiner, after Kelley had fired at L. L. McBride, deputy sheriff, who had accompanied Zimmerman on the raid. The jury held the fatal shot was fired in performance of duty and in defense of of his companion's life.

nected in the daytime, but as it was storming on the morning of the 28th, when Gilbreath left home, the matter of unloading the gun may have been neglected as no one would be expected to be traveling through the woods on such a day.

Ownership Denied

The men held under arrest on the larceny charge are suspected by the officers of having owned the gun, but have not been subjected to any severe questioning and will not be until after a further investigation is made at the claims. In a brief examination it is understood that the men denied ownership of the trap, but admitted knowledge of it, but gave different statements, one saying that it was a signal and the other that it was used for killing deer.

Information has been secured that there is another of these guns in the locality and that there may be several of them.

SUICIDE FAILS TO TO COVER UP DEED

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 13.—Shot through the temple, and with a wire bound about his waist and attached to a heavy piece of concrete the body of a man was found today seated upright on the seawall of the Willamette river. The coroner said the man had committed suicide.

Apparently, officials said, he had planned to cover up his act by falling into the river after he had shot himself. The concrete block was belashed upon the edge of the seawall in such a manner that if the body had pitched off, it would have pulled the savy concrete block after it. When the man shot himself, however, the body slumped back against the seawall. A small revolver was found near the body.
