

LEGISLATURE HAS BUSY PERIOD WITH MASS OF AFFAIRS

(Associated Press Local Wire) SALEM, Ore., Feb. 21.—Governor Patterson today signed the Robinson reforestation bill.

MacPherson's plan for the cabinet form of government successfully passed another hurdle Wednesday when the house resolution committee decided unanimously to return the resolution to the house with a favorable recommendation.

Work of the Senate SALEM, Ore., Feb. 21.—Regulatory measures galore have been introduced at this session of the legislature. Most of them have been rejected. One was added to the rejected list by the senate yesterday when Senator Marks ridiculed to death the Settlement Children's house bill providing for the regulation of shade trees along streets and highways and the appointment of three wardens.

The senate adopted the Upton joint resolution extending benefits of the veterans' state aid act to all men and women who have served in the wars and who are now living and have lived in Oregon 10 years, regardless of whether they enlisted in this state.

Other measures passed by the senate Wednesday afternoon were: S. B. 207, by joint Multnomah delegation—Providing that affidavits of prejudicial may be filed against circuit court judges.

S. B. 192, by E. F. Bailey—Relating to certification of teachers on graduation from standard colleges.

S. B. 194, by Hillmanley—Giving county courts and city courts right to build buildings by issuing bonds to be retired by rentals.

H. B. 235, by Metaker—Providing that a school district maintaining a high school and voting against consolidation with other districts cannot be forced into the consolidation.

H. B. 225, by McCurt—Makes it possible for anyone absent from his home voting place to vote under the absent voters' law.

H. B. 238, by Washington and Yamhill delegations—Providing for establishment of control areas to protect orchard, farm and forest products from disease.

H. B. 456, by Fisher and Lockwood and Senner—Authorizes county court to waive or reduce penalty and interest upon unpaid taxes.

Passed by the House SALEM, Ore., Feb. 21.—The bill "designed to create a further confidential relationship between an employer and her employee," according to Representative Briggs, was passed by the house Wednesday afternoon.

The house also passed the Bailey bill which declares the industrial accident fund to be a trust fund for use declared in the industrial accident commission act and declaring all contributions heretofore made by the state of Oregon to said fund to be in trust in which the state has no proprietary ownership or rights to reclaim.

Settler's bill providing for the licensing of nursery men under the supervision of the state board of horticulture, was also passed by the house. A $15 license provision is included in the bill.

Banker Has Road Plan SALEM, Ore., Feb. 21.—J. C. Alsworth of Portland, president of the Oregon Good Roads association, presented before the senate roads and highways committee Wednesday a plan whereby he said the completion of all remaining state highways could be paid for in five years and all the contracts let within two years.

Alsworth said he thought that more than one cent increase in the gasoline tax would be a great mistake. His plan is to make about $1,000,000 a year available for highway construction, of which $1,000,000 would be by bond issue.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 21.—Two things were certain in Portland's "gas war" today—gasoline at the general Petroleum corporation's filling stations was selling at 14 1/2 cents a gallon and motorists were happy.

Following the announcement of the General Petroleum corporation here last night that beginning today their brand of motor fuel would retail at 14 1/2 cents, the Portland Retail Gasoline Dealers' association went into a "huddle" this morning.

Up until a late hour members had made no decision on what price they would advertise.

BOY SCOUTS WILL ENGAGE IN ROUNDUP CONTEST

Another council-wide contest for Boy Scouts was started yesterday and will continue until April 19th. This is known as the achievement roundup contest. Last year a similar contest was held with individuals competing. This year the competitors will be for patrols of scouts.

The winning patrol will go along with the winner of the recent first aid contest on the San Francisco-Sacramento trip to be taken after school is out. This contest is worked out on the point basis. Each patrol leader is to report points for his entire patrol each week. He must keep accurate account of and report the following: Each patrol advanced from tenderfoot to second class, 120 points; to advance from second class to first class, 180; for each second class merit badge passed, 40; for each first class merit badge, 60; for each patrol meeting brought in, 100; patrol meetings during week of some member, 10 for each one present; for troop dues paid up to date, 10 for each scout; for each scout on clean all-day hike, 15, overnight hike, 20, evening hike, 10; patrol good turn, 250 for patrol; attendance at Sunday school or church, 25; wearing complete uniform at troop meeting, 25; wearing neckerchief (if not uniform) at meeting, 5; best report for week, but based on points, 100 for patrol; to each patrol completing hike to world gift to Sir Robert Baden-Powell, 2 cents each, 100 points; for each old scout re-registered, 50.

The purpose of this contest is to advance the scouts already enrolled further along in the scout tests and to enroll new scouts. The contest will also make for a good patrol spirit which, in turn, will mean good troops. Such a contest brings about team work which is absolutely necessary to the scout points and develops in the patrol leader and his assistant valuable leadership qualities.

Golden Flow Blocked SALEM, Ore., Feb. 21.—The ways and means committee is in a grim, tax-saving mood Wednesday night and voted adverse reports on various appropriation bills.

Among those that went into the discard was the Moser-Corbett bill providing for an appropriation of $100,000, to be matched by a federal share, appropriation for the construction of a memorial building at Champeau.

Another measure disallowed was one providing for $25,000 annually for three years for the agricultural promotion campaign of the state chamber of commerce.

Measures disapproved were: Dunne resolution for $2500 for John B. Yeon memorial; $5000 for county disease investigations; $12,000 for agricultural experiment station in Deschutes county; $2500 to locate graves of ex-soldiers; $500 claim of E. E. Jamison against state lime board; $7500 for topographic map of state; bill to increase county fair tax levy from one-twentieth to one-tenth of a mill; to create a revolving fund for the state printer; providing for a committee to investigate the matter of taxes on federal forest lands.

A proposed appropriation of $11,600 to reimburse Washington and Yamhill county farmers for clover plowed up under orders of the state board of horticulture in fighting the nematode pest, which had been disbanded the previous evening, was given another hearing Wednesday night.

The majority and minority reports of a subcommittee on state university and state college affairs, which have been the cause of much discussion, were tabled.

In place of the disapproved Yeon memorial resolution Senator Dunne will introduce another not carrying an appropriation.

A subcommittee was appointed to investigate the soldiers' and sailors' commission which is asking for $1500. Senator Strayer recalled that about 10 years ago the legislature allowed it $100,000, and said he wanted to know what was done with the money.

The committee approved a bill calling for an annual audit of all state departments.

A senate joint resolution for a fact-finding commission to investigate the state university and the state college was tabled.

GAS REACHES AS LOW AS TEN CENTS IN COAST WARFARE

A retail price of 14 1/2 cents was fixed at Portland by General Petroleum although it sold as low as 14 cents at service stations in Vancouver, Wash., across the river from Portland.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 21.—Two things were certain in Portland's "gas war" today—gasoline at the general Petroleum corporation's filling stations was selling at 14 1/2 cents a gallon and motorists were happy.

Following the announcement of the General Petroleum corporation here last night that beginning today their brand of motor fuel would retail at 14 1/2 cents, the Portland Retail Gasoline Dealers' association went into a "huddle" this morning.

SECOND TRIAL OF COOS MAN MAY BE HELD IN ROSEBURG

(Associated Press Local Wire) MARSHFIELD, Ore., Feb. 21.—The possibility that a change of venue to the Douglas county court at Roseburg will be sought by Robert Green, charged with killing neighbor, Calhoun Green, was seen here today when defense attorneys were quoted as saying such a move was considered. Green was convicted in a previous trial, but a new hearing was ordered by the supreme court.

Dud McGowan, escaped California convict, charged with an attempted bank holdup in which his companion was shot to death, is to go on trial on the same day.

MORE MONEY URGED TO BACK DRY LAW

(Associated Press Local Wire) WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—After the house appropriations committee had submitted today a new deficiency bill omitting the proposed $2,100,000 additional for prohibition enforcement, it authorized Representative Wood, republican, Indiana, to offer an amendment on the house floor to provide $2,727,917 for prohibition.

That sum was recommended by President Coolidge after the treasury had estimated it could use $2,500,000 more at this time.

ACTION OVER OIL CONTRACT MAY END COAST PRICE WAR

(Associated Press Local Wire) PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 21.—Back of the suit filed today by the General Petroleum corporation against the Richfield Oil company of California, Portland gasoline men saw a possible solution to the price slugging war which has entered motor fuel down to 16 1/2 cents within the last 24 hours.

The complaint charges that the General Petroleum corporation entered into an agreement with one Cornwell, service station operator, whereby he was to sell their gasoline exclusively until 1935.

On February 16, the suit continues, Cornwell refused General Petroleum's offer and began reselling Richfield products. The plaintiff states that no amount of damages will compensate its loss and asks a restraining order prohibiting Cornwell from selling Richfield products pending settlement. Cornwell and the Richfield Oil company are named as defendants.

Gas dealers said today they believed it a test case and a forerunner for a series of similar court actions.

Markets

(Associated Press Local Wire) PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 21.—Butter, butterfat and egg prices declined today to levels existing before the advance of a few days ago. Extras and standards in butter went down one cent to 45 and 44 cents, respectively, while prime firsts lost half a cent at 47 cents. Firsts held to 43 cents.

Standard extra eggs shipped off a cent at 29 and medium extras half a cent at 29. Butterfat went to 44 station and 45 track. Delivery prices were quoted at 47@49. Vegetables and fruits were unchanged with a slight improvement reported in root vegetables. California green onions were selling wholesale at 60 cents a dozen bunches. Poultry and other fresh meats were steady with supplies somewhat larger, but no increase in demand. Livestock quotations unchanged.

ASA KEYES AND ROSENBERG GET ONE TO 14 YEARS

(Continued from page 1) His wife, Mrs. Lillian Keyes, and his daughter, Elizabeth, were in tears. They embraced him before he was led away to his cell. Rosenberg was pale, but he received the sentence quietly and went to jail with no comment.

Attorneys for the convicted men had made an impassioned plea for release on bail. Keyes' record of more than 20 years as a public servant was touched upon, and Rosenberg's mother, father, wife and twin babies were brought to the attention of the court. Attorney Lecomte Davis was in tears as he concluded his argument.

In opposing the bail plea, District Attorney Plitt said "Keyes has been found guilty of a most heinous crime—a public officer derelict to his duty—and I see no reason why an exception should be made in this case." Plitt in past years worked shoulder to shoulder with Keyes as a deputy district attorney.

"I deeply sympathize with the defendants," Judge Butler said, "I have not so stated before, but I will now. I feel, however, that I would not be doing the right thing if I granted this motion for bail. Sympathy is one thing and the relentless rule of the law another."

Rosenberg shaken Rosenberg, his fellow convict, seemed soundly lighter than he was during the trial which ended two weeks ago. His hands shook as he heard the court's pronouncement. Getzoff has given a confession which will be evidence against Keyes when he, A. U. Lauer and others face a second trial for alleged bribery here March 4.
