EXCESS ZEAL ON PART BASKETBALL REFEREES IS HIT

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Mar. 7.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the graduate managers and basketball coaches of the Pacific coast at Seattle Saturday, Billy Reinhart, coach at Oregon, will make an effort to curb the activities of the officials, who he claims have "spoiled the game by over-officiating." Basketball, one of the fastest of all games at one time, has been slowed considerably by the heavy penalties meted out to players on the pretext of "charging," Reinhart believes. "The officials have construed the dribble rule so closely," Reinhart said, "that the teams may as well abolish that phase of basketball and play simply a passing game. No sooner a player starts down floor within scoring distance than his progress is checked by an overzealous official because of 'charging'."

"In the season just past games have been stopped on many occasions to inform the scorekeepers on whom fouls were called. These infractions were so slight that apparently they were not noticeable to the spectators or scorekeepers. That is the reason there has been so much 'booming' on all floors this season. The spectators see a penalty inflicted and are at a loss to know what its cause is. The 'booming' is a consequential result."

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Cockeram and son, Donald, were here from Yoncalla Wednesday visiting.

CHILD STRUCK BY MACHINE NEAR OAK STREET BRIDGE

Robert, the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wells of Fullerton street was slightly hurt, receiving bruises and a gash on the back of his head, when he was struck by the machine driven by Roy Huffman, local sign contractor, as the child and a companion attempted to run across Oak street at the east approach of the Oak street bridge. The driver of the car stated that due to the high board fence on the bridge he could not see the children nor could they see his approach. Mr. Huffman took the boy to Mercy hospital where his injuries were attended and he was removed to the parents' home. Only the fact that the child was caught on the fender of the car kept him from being run over and receiving more serious injuries.

MRS. S. J. BISHOP IS BURIED HERE TODAY

TIDAL WAVE FAILS TO KEEP SCHEDULE

HONOLULU, Mar. 7.—Dr. Thomas A. Jaeger, director of the observatory at the Kilauea volcano on the island of Hawaii, advised Rear Admiral George R. Murvell, commandant of the Fourteenth Naval District here, by navy radio last night that a tidal wave might hit Hawaii about 10 p. m. as a result of an earthquake at 3 a. m. Wednesday. All craft were ordered, securely lashed to their moorings in Pearl Harbor and the Honolulu waterfront.

Mr. Jaeger's message said: "Dangerous earthquake at 3:17 p. m. today 2,200 miles away, likely cause tidal wave tonight about ten Use every precaution." The tidal wave failed to develop.
