MULE DEER OFFERED FOR SALE AT $15.00 A HEAD

A considerable number of surplus mule deer, or black-tailed deer, are being offered for sale alive by the biological survey of the United States department of agriculture from the National Bison range in western Montana. The animals are offered at the price of $15 each as they run on the range, the purchaser paying all expenses in connection with capturing, crating and removing the deer, which it is estimated will not exceed, on the average, $20 an animal.
The biological survey does not recommend these animals for stocking ranges in the south or east, particularly in areas already frequented by deer. But says they should do quite well in most of the western portion of the United States. Where these deer are introduced only for exhibition purposes they would, of course, stand a fair chance of surviving in the east.

STUDY MORE, PRIMP LESS, EDICT TO SCHOOL GIRLS

(Associated Press Local Wire)
HELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Mar. 11.—Declaring that Yugoslavia's school girls must devote more time to education and sports than beautifying themselves, Premier Zivkovich today decreed that school authorities must refuse admission to girls using lipstick and powder and wearing short skirts and silk stockings.

The premier's action was largely prompted by defiance of the new regulations of the part of the daughter of a cabinet minister who declared that she was exempt from restrictions because of the official position of her father.

LEE RIBLE WILL ATTEMPT TO BREAK SEGRAVE'S TIME

(Associated Press Local Wire)
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Mar. 12.—Fair weather and possibly better beach conditions than those faced yesterday by Max H. O. D. Segrave in his record breaking run greeted Lee Rible, local mechanic today as he prepared for an attempt to break the new mark of 231.36 miles per hour in J. M. White's triplex racer.
Rible, however, was not certain whether he would be allowed by the contest board of the American Automobile association to essay the race for a record in the 26-cylinder machine. He must make several trials run to establish his qualifications to the satisfaction of the contest board.

Val Haresnap, secretary of the board, said Rible would be allowed to drive the car at successive higher speeds until it was determined whether he should have a shot in competition with the thrice-around-the-worlder.

Meanwhile, White, a Philadelphia manufacturer, who built the triplex as a hobby, was certain his car would set a higher mark than Segrave's Golden Arrow.
Among the messages of congratulations received by Segrave today was one from the Prince of Wales expressing pleasure that the Britisher had brought back the trophy to England. The Englishman conferred with his advisers concerning whether he should let his record stand, if the triplex fails to better it, or try to develop the maximum theoretical speed of 240 miles per hour credited to the Golden Arrow.

"The operation was a remarkable success and it will be a question of only a few weeks until Mr. Tarkington completely regains the sight of his eyes," Dr. Wilmer informed Mrs. Jackson in a telegram.

ROSEBURG GETS LIGHT SNOWFALL

Snow, rain and sunshine combined to give Roseburg and vicinity some real March weather today. City residents awakened this morning to find a heavy snow falling and within a short time the ground was well blanketed. In some of the outlying districts the snow was more than an inch deep, according to reports. The snow, however, soon was replaced by rain, after which the sun made its appearance for a short time, overcast skies, interspersed with intervals of sunshine making up the rest of the day's weather.

The snow was welcomed by brocoli growers, as it gives better moisture to the plants than does the rain, and much moisture is needed in order to secure proper maturity for the plants.

BIDWELL RIDDLE'S ALLEGED MURDERER PLACED ON TRIAL
(Associated Press Local Wire)
PORTLAND, Ore., Mar. 12.—Burton H. Klamath Indian, went on trial in federal court here today charged with second-degree murder in connection with the death of Bidwell Riddle. Baker is alleged to have killed Riddle on November 28 by battering his skull with a hammer. The killing was the climax of a drunken party. The government contends, and is alleged to have resulted from a dispute over a gallon of whiskey.

The murdered Indian was the son of Jeff C. Riddle, author of the "Indian History of the Modoc War."
As the task of obtaining a jury set under way, defense counsel said a postmortem would figure prominently in the evidence as to the place where Riddle purchased all of his liquor. It also was divulged that the claim would be made that the fight did not take place over a gallon of liquor but over Riddle's alleged attack on Marie Baker, now Blurton Baker's wife.
Counsel for defense had photographs of the snow-plotted country where the fight between the two men occurred and also of the spot where twelve days later the body was discovered buried in the snow.

U. S. JURIST AND LAWYER ACCUSED BY EX-CONVICT

(Associated Press Local Wire)
NEW YORK, Mar. 12.—Meyer Kaplan, a former convict, testified today that when his probation was revoked by Federal Judge Francis A. Winslow and he was sent to Atlanta penitentiary, Marcus Helfand, an attorney, told him he was being imprisoned because he had not paid $5,000.
Kaplan was under cross-examination at a hearing before Federal Judge John Knox to determine whether Helfand should be barred from practice in the federal courts of this district.

On direct examination yesterday he testified that when he was convicted, Helfand had boasted of intimacy with Judge Winslow and said he could get him probation for a consideration, even though the case had been carried without avail to the United States supreme court and President Coolidge himself had refused commutation.

He gave Helfand $5,000, Kaplan said, and a few days later was placed on probation. Later the probation was revoked and he was sent to Atlanta. He said that Helfand told him he was imprisoned for failure to pay a second $5,000 agreed upon between them.

INDIAN WOMAN KILLED WM. WARD, PERRY JOHN SAYS

PORTLAND, Mar. 12.—Defense attorneys for Perry John, Klamath Indian accused of the murder of William Ward, white, said today they will contend that the murder was committed by Clara Weeks, the Indian woman who is connected with the drunken orgy in which Ward is said to have met his death. John will be tried next Monday for second-degree murder.

Defense counsel today filed a petition asking permission to subpoena defense witnesses at the expense of the government.

D. M. Wilkins of defense counsel, said: "The defense will prove that Clara Weeks had threatened Ward's life twice before, once with the very knife by which he was killed, because he was attempting to cast her off after a two-months' intimacy."

FARM RELIEF BILL TO DEAL CHIEFLY WITH MARKETING

(Associated Press Local Wire)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—With the special session still a month away, President Hoover is turning his thoughts toward the development of plans for dealing with farm relief to his message to congress when it assembles in extraordinary session.

Although Mr. Hoover is restoring the public revelation of his plans for his message, it is known that the committees are preparing to approach the task largely from the cooperative marketing angle.

In several of his speeches last summer in which he dealt with farm relief, Mr. Hoover stressed the part that he feels cooperative marketing must play in assuring the farmer a proper price for his product. Along with cooperative marketing, he placed tariff revision and the development of cheap transportation to markets.

Many of the witnesses to be heard by the committees in planning the farm bill are expected to be persons who have had experience in dealing with the marketing of farm crops and the belief has been expressed that the measure that will come from the committee will largely hinge around the development of marketing facilities.

Some of those who have been closely associated with the problem and appear to hold views similar to his own believe that success in dealing with the farm problem can come only when the marketing of agricultural products has been developed to keep pace with production.

They recognize that there are wide differences in the marketing systems that must be established for handling different crops and that methods must vary among perishable and staple products.

One of the proposals that has been advanced for dealing with the problem has been the creation of a fund to aid cooperative organizations, but the method of promoting the growth of these marketing agencies must be evolved largely after the testimony of various experts has been submitted to the congressional committees dealing with the subject.

Poisoned System!

Watch your tongue! If tongue is coated in the morning and you have a bad taste in your mouth, it usually means your system is filling with poisons from waste matter retained in the body. This state of self poisoning, or auto-intoxication, causes chronic constipation, sick headaches, sour stomach, and often high blood pressure and hardening arteries. You need to stimulate your liver so it can remove the poisons from the blood and clean the waste out of the colon. Pure ox gall is the best thing for the purpose. It is a natural liver stimulant, as any doctor will tell you.

You get the genuine, pure ox gall in dainty, tasteless form in Doan's tablets. Each tablet represents 10 drops of the precious ox gall and costs less than 2c. Try a few for three or four days. The amount of old waste matter expelled from your body will astonish you! Note the new feeling of health, strength and energy that is yours. You'll feel like a new person. Getting there ahead of the trouble

DURING the afternoon of March 17, 1928, an alarm bell rang in a telephone test station. This meant that a puncture had been made in the air-tight sheath of a busy inter-city cable. The men on duty knew that the injury was somewhere within 50 miles.

Highly developed locating devices were instantly applied and in sixty-five minutes the trouble spot was located. By 7:15 in the evening, before the break in the sheath had affected service on any of the 248 pairs of wires in the cable, the repairs had been made without one conversation being interrupted. This special alarm system is one of the many mechanical and electrical wonders developed by Bell System engineers to guard telephone conversations.
