He was at one time state evangelist of California. For the past ten years he has been one of the leading instructors in the Eugene Bible University. During that time he has conducted some of the greatest evangelistic meetings held by any church in the northwest. MYRTLE CREEK, Mar. 15.—(Special)—Mrs. Ray Traub entertained a few neighbors and friends Wednesday afternoon. The greater part of the afternoon was spent in discussion of politics in general and the presidential inauguration in particular. The ladies were also given a new and tasty roll recipe and all were enthusiastic and eager to try it. Many household helps were contributed by different ones present. Later a delicious luncheon of club sandwiches, pickles, varied nut and fruit jello and coffee was served. All voted Mrs. Traub a prize hostess. The guests present were Mesdames Michaels, Hurst, Whitney, Anderson, Wallace and White.

Active People want and need sugar

The "Fuel of Preference" in the body

AN EMINENT food authority recently stated that any person who has a very active body is always on the edge of the sugar reserve in his body (glycogen). "That is why," he said, "the soldier and athlete wants and needs sugar. That is why the active child wants and needs sugar." He went on to explain that sugar is the fuel of preference in the body, that sugar can be more easily and quickly converted into energy than any other food. He emphasized the fact that sugar should form a part of the regular diet of every family and that any reducing diet, as well as any other diet, should contain sugar.

The best way for sugar to be eaten is as a flavor of other foods. In that way, it serves the double purpose of furnishing energy to the body and also of adding appetizing delight to other healthful foods. Sugar added to healthful grain cereals makes them welcome and enjoyable to growing children. Think of how many health-giving fruits are objectionable to the taste without sugar. Scientists tell us that we need the daily roughage of salads as well as cooked fruits and vegetables. Any good cook knows that adding sugar makes all of these welcome and pleasant to the palate. In addition to being the best and cheapest fuel for the body, sugar is nature's perfect flavor. It makes nearly all other foods more enjoyable. For health and enjoyment, there is no substitute for sugar. The Sugar Institute.
