ROSEBURG HAS SPOKESMAN AT RATE HEARING

cause the freight rates were prohibitive.

During the cross-examination of Marsters, it developed that the rate from Roseburg to San Francisco was higher than the rate from Medford to San Francisco. In response to a highly technical question Marsters responded that "I certainly think that Medford is entitled to a lower rate than Roseburg."

J. E. Lyons, commerce attorney for the Southern Pacific, objected to Marsters' testimony on the grounds that it was hearsay, and in questioning him tried to confine his testimony to specific rates and commodities. It was ruled that since Marsters is not a rate expert he could not do this.

Two-Sided Handicap

Marsters held that the lower rate, sought by the Western Oregon Traffic association, would benefit the railroad by producing more tonnage and the communities by the securing of greater agricultural and industrial production.

He held that under the present rates both these community factors were handicapped, by reason of small profits and inability to enter competitive fields.

Readjustment of the rates, he declared, would permit western Oregon districts to do this on an equitable basis.

F. J. Norton Testifies

MEDFORD, Ore., Mar. 23.—The second day of the Medford hearing before interstate commerce commission representatives on rail and water freight rates, opened today with the possibility that the hearing might be concluded late this afternoon.

Frank J. Norton, cannery operator of Sutherlin and Roseburg, testified yesterday that the present freight rates of the Southern Pacific have forced him to go into the trucking business to transport sugar and cans from Portland. These rates, he declared, have forced his products, with the exception of high-grade pears, from Los Angeles and San Francisco markets, "the best canned apple markets on earth."

Competition is at a standstill as a result of the present freight rates, Norton said.

Under cross examination he testified his belief that relief would be furnished by fixing the intermediate point rate the same as port rates.

Out in Society

bringing out some interesting and valuable points.

Anna May Unrath and Aleen Walker played two duet numbers, "Volga Boatman," "Bobolink Polka," Wolcott.

A very interesting talk on "Obligation of the Parent to the Child," was made by Dr. Frank B. Mathews.

The April meeting of the association promises to be quite enjoyable, the program to be given by the teachers who are members of the P. T. A., with Professor David Oiman acting as chairman.

"THE FOREIGN LEGION," A POWERFUL PHOTOPLAY

Coming to Antlers Sunday, for three days.

NORMAN KERRY and JUNE MARLOWE in "The FOREIGN LEGION" A LAEMMLE GOLDEN SPECIAL PICTURE.

The most spectacular and powerfull drama in many months is coming Sunday to the Antlers Theatre. It is "The Foreign Legion," co-starring Norman Kerry and Lewis Stone, supported by beautiful Mary Nolan and June Marlowe.

This is without a doubt one of the finest pictures of the year and should rate high when the selection of the year's greatest pictures is made.

It is sheer drama, of romance and revolt, relieved with comedy masterfully placed at just the right spots. It cannot hurt your enjoyment by being told that the story revolves around the powerful situation of a son and his father opposed to each other, neither knowing who the other is.

The action takes place in the colorful locale of Algiers and is featured by sensational photographic beauty. On the dramatic side, highlights are the troops and the mutiny in the desert led by Kerry unknowingly against his father, the commmanding officer. They also are pitted for the smiles of Mary Nolan, blonde and dangerous. Another powerful sequence is where the father is presiding judge at his son's trial.

REBELS FAIL IN TWO ATTEMPTS TO SEIZE MAZATLAN

Federal Commander States He Can Hold the City; 3 Priests Executed by Government.

By the Associated Press.

Rebel troops in their counter-offensive against the goverament were at the gates of Mazatlan on the west coast today and fighting for the possession of that port was imminent.

Some fighting between the 2,500 defenders and the 5,000 rebels was reported, but apparently little blood had been shed.

A force of 6,000 federal reinforcements was rushing to the relief of the city, but was not expected before Sunday at the earliest.

Two clashes took place yesterday, but in both cases the insurgents were driven off and General Carrillo, Mazatlan's defender, assured the government he would be able to hold out.

The rebels, who recently evacuated Torreon before the Calles advance, were again proceeding southward and were reported at Bermejillo, about 30 miles north of the city.

A rebel advance also was developing on Naco, along the border, the insurgents being reported 30 miles from that town, where a federal detachment is strongly intrenched.

Pointing to the three counter-attacks being developed, rebel leaders expressed optimism that they would control the country by July.

The rebels have imposed a war tax on Nogales, Sonora, for funds to run the revolution.

Three Priests Executed

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Mar. 23.—Miss Carmen Garogoza of Oakland declared upon her return here yesterday from a trip to Mexico that three Catholic priests had been executed in Manzanillo for being identified with the Mexican revolution.

Miss Garogoza said the train on which she rode from Mexico City to Guadalajara recently was held up by "Cristeros" religious supporters of the revolution.

Banks at Mazatlan, where she took a ship for San Francisco, were closed, Miss Garogoza said. The populace was short of food and general conditions were bad in the harbor city, she declared.

Rebel Victories

JUAREZ, Chih., Mar. 23.—Detachments of insurgent soldiers have penetrated the territory south of Torreon in their campaign to rout the federal forces commanded by Gen. P. Elias Calles, it was announced today in a revolutionary report from Jimenez, the rebel base

The rebels encountered federal forces at the town of Colorado in the state of Zacatecas and after a skirmish more than 300 federal infantry men were dispersed, said the report, which was received from Col. Juan Villegas Fernandez. Simultaneously with the insurgent attack on Colorado, a rebel uprising in the city caused 300 other federals to flee to the mountains, he reported.

Catholics Are Target

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 23.—12:30 p. m.—General Calles chief of the federal forces in the field, notified the government today that he was sending twelve regiments of cavalry, approximately 5,000 men, from Torreon to the state of Guanajuato and Jalisco to fight the "Catholic rebels" there.

Federal aviators reported that a majority of the troops of General Escobar, the revolutionary commander, apparently are still in the vicinity of Jimenez. A rebel observation train was remaining at Escalon, however, for the purpose of directing the further destruction of railways to prevent federal pursuit.

(The revolutionary movement in the north of which Escobar is one of the main leaders, is separate from the so-called "Catholic" revolt in Guanajuato and Jalisco which has been in progress some time.)

Garden Club Notes

Books Suggested by President.

Mrs. G. V. Wimberly, president Roseburg Garden club wishes to call the attention of the members of the Garden club and other flower lovers to the many inspiring garden books obtainable in the library to help with the planning of their spring gardens.

These are written especially for the arrangement of shrubs, perennials and annuals as to their height, color and period of bloom. "The Practical Flower Garden," Mrs. Ely; "Variety in the Little Garden," "The Well Considered Garden," "Chronicles of the Garden," Mrs. Francis King; "The Seasons in the Garden," Shelton. Home Garden Handbooks: 1. "Rock Gardens." 2. "Shrubs." 3. "Gladiolas," Rockwell. "Spring in the Little Garden," McElvaine.

A very valuable set of encyclopedia known as "Cyclopedia of Horticulture," by L. H. Baily has been added to the library. This will fill a long felt want to those interested in horticulture of any kind.
