BY GRACE CARROLL

All Contributions to this Page—Society, Women's Clubs, and Personal—Should Be Telephoned to the Society Editor by Friday of Each Week.

Easter week has been a gala one, hardly a day passing that has not had some special social interest. Some of the major events of the week's calendar have been among club groups, others have included bridge afternoons, luncheons and dinners that make the season a delightful one.

One of the largest affairs for out of town women was the card party at which the Lady Elks Club entertained Thursday evening, there being visitors from Eugene and Canyonville.

Mrs. W. F. Chapman and Mrs. Arthur Baum planned two of the week's larger functions, entertaining on Tuesday and again Friday in their series of parties for the spring. A number of matrons came from out of town for both events.

A visitor this week who has been entertained by friends is Mrs. A. F. Sether, former Roseburg matron, of Eugene. Mrs. C. S. Heintz was hostess for her at a lovely bridge party on Wednesday evening. She will be a guest at the home of Mrs. J. C. Hume today.

Miss Margaret Sloan, former Roseburg maid, is being entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Crafton. She arrived this week from Portland and will remain through the major part of the coming week.

Club Women Meet for Program and Social Hour

An interesting club meeting this week was that of the Roseburg Women's club on Tuesday at the club rooms, the business session being conducted by the president, Mrs. H. D. Hart.

Mrs. G. V. Wimberly of the Roseburg Garden club was a speaker of the afternoon, talking on spring planting and gardening to the group. The theme was covered very thoroughly by the speaker and some interesting pointers were given garden enthusiasts.

The play "A Wedding Without Women," which the club women are to honor in the near future, was discussed.

Games were arranged for the social hour by Mrs. V. J. McCall and one of the most amusing and interesting was one spent in identifying childhood pictures of the members of the club.

A table made colorful with a centerpiece of wild flowers. The hostess committee was Mrs. C. W. Parker, Mrs. C. A. Short, Mrs. Chas. Boyd, Dr. Lucetta Smith.

Miss Kathleen Ness, who is a student at Benhke-Walker college in Portland, arrived today to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Ness, in Laurelwood over the weekend.

Rose P. T. A. Elects New Officers

The Rose school P. T. A. met on Monday evening to hold a short business session and elect new officers for the year.

Those to take office are: W. B. Strawn, president; E. S. Hall, vice-president; Mrs. C. P. Snoddy, secretary; Miss Vera Fredericks, treasurer.

The Boy Scouts of patrol number 6 entertained the association with an exhibition of their training work during the remainder of the program.

Harmonica Club Spends Informal Evening

The Harmonica Club of the Business and Professional Women's Club spent an enjoyable evening Wednesday, the members being guests of Miss Agnes Hahn.

The time was informally spent in practice and social conversation. Refreshments were served to nine at the close of the evening.

Artisans' Dance Is Affair of Thursday

The Artisans' dancing party on Thursday night was an enjoyable affair of the week and one of the benefit entertainments to follow the Lenten season.

The event was at the Macabee hall and in charge were Mrs. Emma Fitchford, Mrs. M. R. Ivie and Howard Snydes.

Club Plans for Book Shower for Veterans

A social club group meeting this week was the Northside Sunshine Club, which gathered at the home of Mrs. Wm. Stork on Thursday afternoon.

A business session took the club's attention early in the afternoon and it was voted to give the World war veterans a book shower, each member donating a book for the library at the Soldiers' Home.

Luncheon was served at tables appointed in spring colors.

Headed Mrs. I. B. Kurtz and Mrs. Mary Teater were added guests and the members attending the affair were: Mrs. Robert Chilson, Mrs. Virgil Bush, Mrs. B. S. Nichols, Mrs. Walter Kurtz, Mrs. L. L. Marsters, Mrs. Geo. Marsters, Mrs. J. E. Harwood, Mrs. Wm. Fisher, Mrs. L. W. Ingles and the hostess.

Mrs. J. K. Falbe Invites Guild for Evening

St. George's Guild met on Wednesday evening, the members being asked by Mrs. J. K. Falbe to the Howell apartments.

Following the business session a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served to 14 guests.

An invitation was extended by Mrs. Mark N. Tidale of Sutherland to the guild to meet at her home for next Wednesday, April 10.

Members who wish to attend and have no means of conveyance are to meet at the Parish hall at 2:15 p. m. Wednesday and cars will be provided.

Miss Eva Richardson Bride at Quiet Wedding

Friends received here with interest news of the marriage of Miss Eva Richardson, formerly surgical nurse at Mercy hospital, to Mr. F. Gaston, the wedding being an event of Tuesday in Portland.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richardson of Roseburg. She is a graduate of the Los Angeles County Hospital Training school and is well known in this city, where she has resided for some time.

Easter Ball Is Gala Event Early in Week

One of the most delightful events to come following the Lenten period was the haater ball given Monday night at the Oriental gardens, by Umpqua Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

A large contingent of folk was in attendance at the elaborate affair. Music for the dance program was provided by the Merry-makers Orchestra.

The affair rode, made by veterans at the Soldiers' Home, was received by Walter Welker, who held the winning number.

Mrs. W. D. Wiley was general chairman of the dance committee. Hostesses for the evening included Mrs. Geo. Caskey, Mrs. E. H. Stewart, Mrs. Guy Corbin, Mrs. Jay Fulcher, Mrs. Carl Wimberly, Mrs. Clair K. Allen, Mrs. H. C. Church, Mrs. James Soules, Mrs. Rudolph Ritzman, Mrs. Clinton Gorthy and Miss Pearl ones, the president and past presidents of the organization.

Proceeds of the affair will go to the fund of the auxiliary for its community service work and to carry on its worthy activities during the year.

Mrs. John Hunt, formerly Miss Dorothy Chase of this city, has been here this week as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Chase. She now lives in Klamath Falls.

District Meeting Marks Successful Occasion for O. E. S.

The annual district meeting of the Order of Eastern Star in Roseburg Masonic temple on Thursday evening marked a wholly enjoyable and successful occasion for the members. The Worthy Grand Matron, Mrs. Beas Setters, of Astoria, and Grand Ruth, Mrs. Inez Glasiver, of Coquille, were visitors at the affair.

The district includes, besides Roseburg, Canyonville, Riddle and Myrtle Creek and the work was put on by these four chapters. The Roseburg group opened and closed the meeting, escort duty was by Canyonville chapter, initiatory work by Myrtle Creek chapter and balloting by the Riddle members.

The address of welcome was made to the visitors by Mrs. Chas. S. Heintz of the Roseburg chapter and the response given by Mr. Snyder of Canyonville. Addresses were given by the two grand officers. Mrs. Setters gave some very interesting points on the national grand chapter meeting held in Denver.

At the close a banquet was given in the dining hall, which was attractively arranged with the Eastern Star colors and spring flowers. There were 120 or more members present for the enjoyable affair.

Preceding the meeting a dinner was given at the Umpqua hotel, complimenting Mrs. Setters. In attendance were members of the four chapters of the district and the past matrons.

Miwalta Group of Camp Fire Girls Holds Ceremonial Saturday, March 30th, at the home of Avila Negley. Greta Wright and Helen Beaver were new members taken into the group.

After the ceremonial five girls were initiated, then refreshments were served carrying out the Easter idea.

Those present were: Miss Rosewena Beach and Cornelia McCanas as guests. Mrs. Hall, guardian, Irene Clark, Freda Thomason, Helen Wolford, Wanda Brunner, Joan McElhinny, Dorothy Jackson, Verneita Pickens, Bernice Duncan, Frances Gorthy, Rose Neurtler, Jessie Pyron, Anna May Unrath, Alton Walker, Helen Beaver, Greta Wright and the hostess, Avila Negley.

Mrs. Radabaugh is Hostess to Sewing Club. The members of the Elderen Club were invited to the home of Glenn Radabaugh for Thursday evening.

Sewing provided interest for an informal hour and at the close the hostess served luncheon to Mrs. Royd Bruton, Mrs. Ray Bechtolt, Mrs. Archie Wilson, Mrs. Ralph Church, Mrs. John Weatherford and Miss Gladys Bookell.

Mr. and Mrs. Lundeen Hosts for Dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lundeen were hosts at an informal dinner on Monday evening at their home on Fowler street for a few guests.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Harry Maybee of Portland, Mrs. K. E. Sandquist, Walter Sandquist, Harry Sandquist and the hostess.

Mrs. Ivie Entertains for Three Sons at Easter Party

Mrs. M. R. Ivie entertained on Saturday for her three sons, Bob, Donald and Billy, with a jolly Easter party at the Ivie home, a group of little friends of the three youngsters being invited to the affair.

Games gave the guests pleasure during the afternoon hours and later they were served refreshments at a table centered with a bowl of yellow daffodils. Mrs. C. W. Deishman assisted the hostess.

The list included besides the three honor guests, Patricia Cochran, Nadine Weichlein, Emma Lou Deishman, Wynona Borgman, Bobby Deishman, Craig Deishman, Dale Borgman, James Brown, W. A. R. Soules, Garret Soules, Lowell Russell. In addition were the three boys grandmother, Mrs. Mae Ivie, and their uncle, Glen Ivie, of Salem.

Informal Dinner at Sanquist Home Sunday. Mrs. K. E. Sandquist was hostess at an informal dinner Sunday for her daughter, Mrs. Harry Maybee, who has been here the past week or so from Portland.

At the table were Mrs. Maybee, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lundeen, Walter Sandquist, Harry Sandquist and the hostess.

ENSEMBLE

JULIETTE COMPTON, English film star, wears a Jean Patou ensemble of red and white printed crepe de chine frock with batiste front, and a red woolflower coat with fagotting for its trimming.

Senior High P. T. A. to Entertain With Special Program

An event of especial interest will be the meeting of the senior high P. T. A., which is scheduled for next Thursday evening, April 11. There being over sixty rural families represented in the high school it was planned early in the school year to put on one program of especial interest to rural parents.

The program for this meeting has been planned with this in mind. Written invitations have been sent all rural parents, and it is hoped a one hundred per cent roll call will be the result.

The association has put on a number of excellent programs this year but this is anticipated as the best one so far. All city parents are urged to be present, and help make those from out of town welcome.

The final reports on the shrubbery project will be in at this meeting. The project is practically complete, and adds much to the looks of the grounds. Those in the city who have not seen this improvement are urged to visit the school and grounds and view one of Roseburg's chief spots of beauty.

Among those who will take part in Tuesday evening's program are, Mrs. J. O. Arthur, who will talk on "Home Training and Responsibilities of the Child"; Homer Groe, "Agriculture in High School and Its Benefits"; H. H. Turner, "Athletics in School and Their Benefits"; Dr. Chas. B. Wade, "Adult Education for Child Training"; Mrs. Jean Wimberly, "Reaffirmation of Rural Grounds"; Miss Agnes Burt (student), "Farm Girls of Yesterday and Today." Music will be furnished by Floyd Groves and Ruth Hoover, students, and Louis Langenberg, high school orchestra instructor.

Umpqua Unit Meets on Tuesday Evening

Umpqua Unit of the American Legion auxiliary is now looking forward to the visit of the national president, Mrs. Boyce Picklen, who will be entertained by the unit on April 24. At the regular meeting held at the armory club rooms on Tuesday evening the reception, mass meeting and the banquet which will be a feature of the date on which the legion will also entertain the national commander, were discussed.

The past presidents and president of Umpqua unit will form the receiving committee for the reception.

Committee reports were heard. The group in charge of the library donations for the Soldiers' Home library reported that a number of books have been received. The various committees having charge of the Easter ball also made reports.

The auxiliary is sponsoring a Camp Fire girls group and Mrs. Earl Ulrich has been named guardian. On Monday the auxiliary will be guests at the court of honor conducted by the Boy Scout group which is sponsored by the American Legion and will attend as a unit.

A social affair is planned by the auxiliary for the next meeting, April 18.

Mrs. Mae Ivie and son, Glen Ivie, of Salem were visitors Easter week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Ivie in this city.

Talks on Seasonal Planting Heard by Garden Club

A group of interested amateur gardeners and flower lovers gathered for the meeting of the Roseburg Garden club on Monday evening at the Episcopal parish hall. Especially in April when there is such a variety of ideas to be worked out for garden plots are talks such as were heard by the club on culture of flowers most enjoyable.

J. C. Leedy, county agricultural agent, talked on soil treatment and fertilizing and gave some points which will be very beneficial to gardeners this spring. Mr. Leedy offers his assistance to those wishing analysis of soil, as this of great value to flower culture, for their requirements in acid, lime and other minerals vary greatly.

J. E. Runyan, one of the city's most successful dahlia growers, gave an interesting discourse on dahlia culture including the care of bulbs, the planting and suitable varieties for different uses. Mrs. E. B. Stewart brought to the garden club members attention many of the beautiful shrubs and plantings in bloom at this time. This will be a regular feature of the club program, with idea in view of members increasing interest in planting four blooms each month of the year. Mrs. W. E. Anderson brought specimens of Swedish myrtle, propagated from seed. These are very attractive evergreen shrubs with fern aromatic foliage.

Mrs. Walter S. Hamilton helped the members classify many of the narcissi blossoms brought to the club for display.

The matter of window box planting was brought up at this time to prepare the boxes to be in readiness for plants a little later.

The narcissi display and plant sale which the club is giving today in the chamber of commerce rooms came under discussion. The sale is creating a great deal of interest and numbers are visiting the rooms during the afternoon.

W. C. T. U. Has Business Session This Week

The Roseburg W. C. T. U. held a business meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the Roseburg Women's club building. Mrs. J. O. Arthur, president of the organization, had charge.

The devotional service was led by Mrs. Chamberlin, who took the theme, "An Easter Lesson," for the service from the sixteenth chapter of Mark. The story was on the consecration of the resurrection of Christ, the speaker adding that he was an individual friend in social life as well as daily occupations.

Mrs. C. Grove sang, "Must I Go Empty Handed," with Mrs. Chamberlin as accompanist.

A letter was read the union from the American Legion auxiliary, asking for books for the veterans for the Oregon Soldiers' Home library and that any donations would be appreciated.

For the next meeting on April 17 the union has planned "Temperance and Missions," as its subject for the program and all ladies and societies and missionary societies are invited for the affair.

Mrs. Dean B. Buhar left this week for the east, being called to Mars Hill, Maine, by the serious illness of her father, I. D. Kinney. She was to arrive there yesterday.

The Woman's Day

BY ALLENE SUMNER

Mrs. Myrtle Flanagan, 34, a road-show dancer, killed her little five-year-old daughter to her mother as she was dying. The law is saying, however, that a parent may not will a child as it would a tract of land or money in the bank, and that regardless of the mother's will, the child must go to whomsoever the law designates, probably to her father.

Fair Enough! Feminists might grow inflamed at this, citing the injustices of women bearing the pain of childbirth, only to have no right to direct the destinies of their own children. And yet, here's opinion that such a law is a good thing. If women could legally will their children away like so many puppies, there would be as many injustices done to fathers as the present state of affairs wrecks them on mothers. There are no more wise and just women than men.

Bread Before Style Women workers in a certain cotton mill in Salem, Mass., are learning the evolution of fashion as it goes hand in hand with industrial speed. A few months ago they were ordered to substitute low heels for high; a little later, skirts no longer than knee length were suggested as necessary for safety, and now the company suggests that overalls would be preferable to even the shortest skirts in consideration of whirling machinery.

Meekly the women are submitting. We hear a great deal about fashion being first in a woman's life; it looks sometimes as if the urge for bread and butter were even a sterner necessity.

Babies Killed The two little youngsters of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Walfach of Bethlehem, Pa., were killed when their father's still exploded the other morning. The father explained that it was his first attempt at making moonshine, and that he did it because he could not support his family on his weekly wage of $18 a week.

Here's a dramatic tragedy. The paternal urge to do more for his kids sent the father into the moonshine business, and that very move killed the kids.

Perhaps the same officials who met the bootleg liquor curse by languidly opining that everybody who broke the law and drank ought to be poisoned by had liquor, will also opine that if a few more babies are killed by still explosions, it may help to stop the business.

"Unwritten Law" The famous "unwritten law" functions very well when husband shoots the "destroyer of his home," Mrs. Olive Adams, 29, widow of Harry Adams, former head of the weather bureau in Hartford, Conn., is wondering if it will work so well when a mere wife invokes it and slays not the third person, but the immediate faithless spouse. The chloroformed her husband the other day because of his various infidelities.

If she'd killed some of "the other ones" she'd probably have had an easier time with the jury than she will because she killed her husband. Human nature does love to see "the destroyer" pay and pay and pay!

Mother Love Little Edith Reynolds, 6, of Fort Worth, Texas, was burned almost to death while playing with her dolls in front of a gas stove. Her mother gave 80 square inches of skin to be grafted on her child. An obvious comment might be a reflection on the superiority of maternal to filial love, with some glib comment to the effect that while a mother would make this sacrifice for a child, few, if any, children, would make it for a parent.

But that's not so. Just about as many children would surrender skin for a parent, as vice versa. They'd give the dramatic, momentary gesture of affection, even if they couldn't stand a long continuous gesture such as living with a parent or supporting him or her.

"Cradle of the Deep"

With all the excitement about Joan Lowell, author of "Cradle of the Deep," who spent most of her life till she was 17 on her father's trading schooner, and who has written of seeing sailors torn asunder by man-eating sharks and the wild virginal dances of savages, nothing seems so amazing as the fact that her shore mother would let her go with a seafaring father.

The maternal instinct generally flaps to keep all the offspring with it, even if there are eleven of them.

Mrs. Ralph Quine Entertains for Recent Bride

Japanese quince blossoms with a touch of yellow effected with Jonquil gave a pretty note of color to the rooms of the Ralph Quine home where Mrs. Quine entertained at one of the charming parties of the spring season on Monday, the affair complimenting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Richard Coen, who was Miss Evelyn Quine, a recent bride.

Bridge was the diversion. Honors were held by Mrs. Fred Lockwood and guest prize went to Mrs. Coen.

Assisting in the rooms and at the luncheon tables were Mrs. Roy Catching and Mrs. Kenneth Quine. The list included the Mesdames of Clatskanie, Fred Lockwood, Roy Catching, Kenneth Quine, C. A. Lockwood, Geo. Wharton, Chas. B. Wade, H. D. Quine, G. V. Wimberly, Geo. Johnson, Edith Gilmore, O. M. Berrie, A. M. Throne, Ivan Pickett and Miss Eva Rice.

Mrs. A. A. Look and Mrs. W. J. Gonler were in Eugene Monday as house guests of Mrs. C. L. Hays, former Roseburg matron. They attended the annual ball of B. L. F. and E. and Oregon Base auxiliary in Eugene Monday night.

Lady Elks Club Gives Large Entertainment

The Lady Elks Club entertained for one of the outstanding events on the week's social calendar Thursday evening, the affair being given in connection with installation of new officers in the Elks lodge and for the pleasure of visiting ladies.

Ten tables of bridge and five hundred were arranged in the red room, which was artistically decorated with forsythia, bridal wreath and daffodils.

The five hundred prize was won by Mrs. C. W. Parker, and Mrs. V. E. Hartung held honors at the bridge tables.

In the blue room, which also held a hint of the season in its floral scheme, refreshments were served. Mrs. Edward Koblhagen was in charge.

Mrs. L. C. Davis has as a guest for several days Mrs. Frederick Mathis of Vancouver, Washington. Mrs. Mathis' husband is a retired army officer at the Vancouver barracks.

Post-Easter Party Entertains Club

A charming note of the Easter season was afforded in the entertaining given by Mrs. C. E. Beesford at her home on Thursday when she entertained the members of the Bellview Club and added guests.

A business meeting and social hour was followed by refreshment and assisting the hostess was Mrs. Harry Collier. Club members present were (Continued on page 3)

SPARKLING PICTURE GLIMPSES OF SMART NEW STYLES FROM JEAN PATOU—FOR SPRING

A CHIC HAT DOUBLY NEW GOWN OF FILMY BEAUTY A SILK VEIL A LA MODE

VEILED EYES have an appeal all their own, especially when the shallow little trifle that veils them is of a fine mesh glistening silk. The Jean Patou hat that Miss Juliette Compton wears is of black felt with something new in the way of ornament, a little spray of mother-of-pearl tuberoses.

NEW EVENING GOWNS of filmy chiffon are delicate as a summer zephyr. Juliette Compton, English star en route to Hollywood, wears a Jean Patou creation in figured mousseline de soie in Patou's new nasturtium yellow. All of the skirt's trailing fullness is inserted almost at knee length, into a princess line. The neck has jabot front and a scarf back.

NEW ON TWO COUNTS is the chic little hat from Jean Patou that Juliette Compton, English star, wears. It is extremely shallow, fitting the head sweetly, like a glove. Its material is satin ribbon, the same brown as the luxurious mink collar of her coat.
