

ROSEBURG NEWS-REVIEW

Issued Daily Except Sunday by The News-Review Co., Inc.

Member of the Associated Press. The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and to all the news published herein. All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

HARRIS ELLSWORTH Editor
Entered as second class matter May 17, 1920, at the post office at Roseburg, Oregon, under Act of March 2, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
Daily, per year, by mail $4.00
Daily, three months, by mail 1.00
Daily, single month, by mail .50
Daily, by carrier, per month .50

ROSEBURG, OREGON, TUESDAY, APRIL 30, 1929.

SEE YOU IN GLENDALE

EVERYTHING is all set now for the big Glendale Jubilee tomorrow. The special train is steamed up, cars for the caravan are being tuned to perfection. Every auto should have the "All for Douglas County" banner front and rear—get them at the chamber of commerce office. Get the "Booster" ribbons there also—get enough for the whole family. We are all "Roseburg Boosters" here. Let's make it a great big family party. Plenty of room for everybody, plenty of fun of all kinds and a lot of different things to see and do. Everybody now—ON TO GLENDALE.

A word of commendation to Tom Ness and his "On to Glendale" committee of the chamber is in order at this time. This committee has functioned so efficiently and completely that all arrangements are completed and the success of Roseburg's participation in the event is practically assured. Through the untiring efforts of this committee, practically every business house in town will be closed for the day, proper publicity has been given the event, floats have been entered in the parade, banners, window cards and identification badges have been provided. It was a big job and has been mighty well done.

The "collegiate" youngster in his coonskin coat, garterless socks and gaily painted flivver is not in the least representative of the average American college student. This cheering information comes from Dean Henry Grattan Doyle of George Washington University, who has just tabulated the answers to a questionnaire he sent to over 300 colleges and universities. Almost without exception, the colleges he questioned reported that the vast majority of their students were earnest, serious young men, not given to eccentricities of dress or conduct, busily engaged in getting an education and looking on the "collegiate" type of popular tradition as a sort of comic supplement caricature. That is highly encouraging news. The next time you see one of those vacuous-faced lads, slouchy, arrogant and noisy, moseying along the street, you can mark him down as a plain dumbbell and go your way. The chances are he is only pretending to be a college man.

Now that things had all quieted down wouldn't it be a sour joke on Mrs. Gann if Mr. Curtis decided to get married?

POEM FOR THE DAY

By LOUIS ALBERT BANKS

MAY DAY—CHILD HEALTH DAY

"The Child's Bill of Rights," upon which National Health Day is based is as follows:

- That there should be no child in America
That has not been born under proper conditions.
That does not live in hygienic surroundings.
That ever suffers from under nutrition.
That does not have prompt and efficient medical attention.
That does not receive primary instruction in the elements of hygiene and good health.
President Hoover has set apart May 1st as Child Health Day.

God bless the homes where children dwell—
Make homes perform their duty well!
The future with the children lies—
May God make parents wondrous wise
To keep young bodies strong and clean,
Their minds in harmony serene,
To build such true and earnest souls
They shall attain life's noblest goals.

This May Day plan's a happy thought;
It has our nation's fancy caught.
It is a day of flowering greens,
With birds enlivening all earth's scenes,
With summer's promise on each slope,
And field and forest full of hope.
This is a day when children's health,
Should seem by far our richest wealth.

We pin our prizes on our sheep
And watchful eye on pastures keep;
We're careful of our blooded cows
And take much pride in well bred sows.
How little worth our blooded hogs
If childhood flounders in the bogs!
Yes, after all, how small all these
Compared with babies on our knees!

This is a wondrous day of days
When we on childhood turn our gaze.
For these blue ribbon girls and boys
Can give us far sublimer joys.
Let's tune child hearts to love divine;
The children are our richest mine.
Let's seek for each earth's noblest chance,
Sound health and brain for life's romance.

W. B. STRAWN TO REPRESENT OREGON LIFE INSURANCE CO.

W. B. Strawn was today appointed district manager for the Oregon Life Insurance Company, taking the place made vacant by the promotion of Charles McElhinney to the position of associate general agent. Mr. Strawn is taking over the new work immediately and will represent the company in Roseburg from this time on. The new manager is thoroughly qualified for this work and because of his long acquaintance in this county will be a very valuable man for the insurance work. It is expected Mr. McElhinney will be located in Salem after the first of June.

LIQUOR CASES ARE HEARD AT YONCALLA

Vernon Grid, arrested Wednesday at Yoncalla, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor, was arraigned yesterday before Justice of the Peace Brown at Yoncalla and entered a plea of guilty. He was fined $100, which was paid. H. S. Miller, accused of driving a car while intoxicated, was also arraigned and entered a plea of not guilty and will stand trial. Elmer Flannel—does he shrink? See "Safety First." Eat barbecue sandwiches and live forever. Uman's Road Stand. Fresh salmon eggs, Idlewild Park.

OUT OUR WAY

SEEK AND YE SHALL FIND J.R. WILLIAMS

The Office Cat

An Irishman, who was an eligible bachelor, visited a widow in his district every evening and had tea with her. A friend suggested that he should marry the lady.

"I have often thought about it," he said, "but where should I spend my evenings then?"

Mothers who have made the poorest job of training their children are the ones who will tell the first-grade teacher how to do it.

The woodpecker succeeds in making a hole by the use of its head.

Elderly Lady: "Please tell me where Capa City is located." Conductor: "Never heard of it." Elderly Lady: "See? It's listed on that box car—Capacity 80,000."

Teacher (to class of small boys): "Which of you boys can give a sentence, in fewest words, containing the words Defense, Defeat and Detail?" Johnny promptly replied: "When de dog goes over defence, defeat goes over before detail."

Lyre is a musical instrument. It's also a fisherman, only you don't spell it that way.

Nothing can take the place of brains—but money helps some.

EDITORIALS ON THE DAY'S NEWS

(Continued from page 1)

Some given by Mr. Morris, has forged ahead somewhat more slowly than California or Washington. Her development, therefore, lies in the future, instead of the past.

For that reason, her future is brighter than that of either of her neighbors. She is amply dowered with material wealth, and her great era of development lies AHEAD, not behind.

Keep your eyes on Oregon. She will show you something worth watching one of these days.

Farm Notes

(By J. C. Leedy, County Agent) Mangos and other root crops are being more extensively grown by Douglas county farmers than formerly, as these crops have been found to be of special value for dairy cows, sheep and poultry, as a succulent feed in the fall and winter months.

Mangos should be planted in rows 30 to 36 inches apart as soon as soil is in condition after April 15th. Eight or ten pounds of seed are required per acre, and the seed is planted about 1 1/2 inches deep. The crop is best thinned to 12 inches apart in the rows as plenty of sun is needed to attain large size.

Good varieties are Prize Winner, Mammoth Long Red, Golden Tankard and Half Sugar.

Some losses have been reported by the flocks having been given the various capsules recommended for treatment of liver fluke and stomach worms.

These capsules have in most cases proved effective when given for specific purposes, but it is advisable to know which parasite is present and treat accordingly.

The two drugs commonly given sheep are very strong, as they necessarily must be and when in condition are not right, are liable to cause the death of at least a

NEWS BRIEFS

(Associated Press Lead Wire) DAILY CITY, Calif., April 30.—The body of an unidentified young man was found with his throat cut, at the bottom of a cliff on a lonely road near Salada beach. Police believed hijackers or rum runners were the slayers.

REIDING, Calif., April 30.—The body of Henry Bass, 55, a prospector, was found in his cabin. A nearby revolver indicated he had committed suicide.

YAKIMA, Wash., April 30.—Lemuel Herchel saved up $500 and burned his old clothes preparatory to buying a new suit and an automobile. Then he discovered the $500 had been in a pocket of the suit he burned.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., April 30.—The second trial of the Rev. R. P. Shuler on charges of libeling the Knights of Columbus by publishing a false oath of the order, was opened in municipal court. Shuler's first trial ended in a disagreement.

AVALON, Santa Catalina Island, Calif., April 30.—T. M. Polhamus, Avalon City treasurer, was arrested by Los Angeles county investigators on a liquor charge. W. H. Hevren, police commissioner, and three others were arrested on charges of conspiracy to violate the Wright act.

STATE ENGINEER HEARS GLENDALE WATER CASES (Associated Press Lead Wire) SALEM, Ore., April 30.—State Engineer Rhea Luper is at Glendale, Douglas county, today for a hearing relative to water control in the Cow Creek adjudication. From Glendale Luper will go to Medford, Grants Pass, and Klamath Falls for conferences relative to reorganization of the Grants Pass, Gold Hill, Eagle Point and Shasta view reclamation projects. C. E. Strickland, assistant state engineer, will leave for Klamath Falls tonight to appear before the circuit court in the Sprague river adjudication.

GORMAN AND O'GRADY DRAW IN TEN-ROUND BATTLE (Associated Press Lead Wire) MEDFORD, Ore., April 30.—Nails Gorman, Hood River, and Gene O'Grady of Ashland fought ten rounds to a draw here last night, in the main event of the weekly boxing card. Jackie McCoy, Seattle, and Arnold Roslander, Ashland, fought a six-round draw. Indian Joe Carbett, Roseburg, won a decision over Spike Furman, Hood River, in four rounds. Red Sorenson, Central Point, scored a second-round knockout over Eddie Welch, Medford, in a scheduled four-round go.

Fishing contest at Idlewild Park. Free camp grounds, Idlewild Park. Eat barbecue sandwiches and live forever. Brand's Road Stand.

DR. NERBAS DENTIST Painless Extraction Gas When Desired Pyorrhea Treated Phone 455 Masque Bldg.

GRIMES' THUMB NAIL BROKEN BY HARD DRIVE

(Associated Press Lead Wire) ST. LOUIS, April 30.—Burling Grimes, Pirate pitching ace, injured in yesterday's game with the St. Louis Cardinals, may be lost to the club for a week or ten days, it was announced today. A drive from Oratt's bat broke the thumb nail on Grimes' pitching hand, cut the flesh and bruised the finger at the joint.

JOHANN STRAUSS, famous Viennese composer, was known as the "Waltz King." His dance rhapsodies have deserved and won the highest praise of severe musicians. His waltz "On the Beautiful Blue Danube" is the final number on the orchestra program. When it was first performed in 1877 in Vienna, it was a complete failure and only after it won a remarkable triumph in Paris some time later did the Viennese realize that they had over looked a masterpiece.

Page wire fence, best and cheapest. Car load now at Stearns & Cheungworth, Oakland.

Where is Jerry? Geo. Warber might know. See "Safety First."

What is a Zuleika? Ask Marie Ring. See "Safety First."

NOTICE The annual meeting of the Civil Bend Cemetery Ass'n. will be held at the cemetery Friday, May 10th at 2 p. m. Officers to be elected and other business transacted. MRS. GEO. WINSTON, Sec.

CONCERT NUMBERS ARE WELL CHOSEN IN PROGRAM HERE

The program that the Philharmonic orchestra of Los Angeles will present in Roseburg on Wednesday evening is one unusually well chosen for its beauty and interest, both to the untrained music lover and the musician. Every number is melodious and readily appreciated. The program opens with the overture to the opera "Mignon" by Thomas, which is a deservedly favored concert number of the lighter type. This is followed by Schubert's symphony No. 8 in B Minor, commonly called the "Unfinished" Symphony. It is one of the most famous numbers in all the literature for orchestras. It seems to come direct from the heart and to have the personality of the composer in it to an unusual degree.

The third number is Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 1 in F. Liszt composed fifteen Hungarian Rhapsodies which were the result of intensive study of gypsy music in its reaction upon original Magyar folk-tunes. They are free in form but usually have an introduction followed by a slow dance or Lasser or a climatic Friska.

The Air for G String by Bach is written for the strings only. It has been made famous by transcription for violin solo. In this it is played transposed to the key of C Major and so arranged as to be played on the G string throughout. Bach gave the melody in the suite from which the Air is taken to the violins but not on the G string.

Masseuet who was one of the most brilliant and gifted of the French composers of our time is represented on the program by the Ballet Music from the Opera "Le Cid" (Commander). The plot of the opera is located in Seville during the tenth century.

Johann Strauss, famous Viennese composer, was known as the "Waltz King." His dance rhapsodies have deserved and won the highest praise of severe musicians. His waltz "On the Beautiful Blue Danube" is the final number on the orchestra program. When it was first performed in 1877 in Vienna, it was a complete failure and only after it won a remarkable triumph in Paris some time later did the Viennese realize that they had over looked a masterpiece.

Page wire fence, best and cheapest. Car load now at Stearns & Cheungworth, Oakland.

Where is Jerry? Geo. Warber might know. See "Safety First."

What is a Zuleika? Ask Marie Ring. See "Safety First."

NOTICE The annual meeting of the Civil Bend Cemetery Ass'n. will be held at the cemetery Friday, May 10th at 2 p. m. Officers to be elected and other business transacted. MRS. GEO. WINSTON, Sec.

CONCERT NUMBERS ARE WELL CHOSEN IN PROGRAM HERE

The program that the Philharmonic orchestra of Los Angeles will present in Roseburg on Wednesday evening is one unusually well chosen for its beauty and interest, both to the untrained music lover and the musician. Every number is melodious and readily appreciated. The program opens with the overture to the opera "Mignon" by Thomas, which is a deservedly favored concert number of the lighter type. This is followed by Schubert's symphony No. 8 in B Minor, commonly called the "Unfinished" Symphony. It is one of the most famous numbers in all the literature for orchestras. It seems to come direct from the heart and to have the personality of the composer in it to an unusual degree.

The third number is Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 1 in F. Liszt composed fifteen Hungarian Rhapsodies which were the result of intensive study of gypsy music in its reaction upon original Magyar folk-tunes. They are free in form but usually have an introduction followed by a slow dance or Lasser or a climatic Friska.

The Air for G String by Bach is written for the strings only. It has been made famous by transcription for violin solo. In this it is played transposed to the key of C Major and so arranged as to be played on the G string throughout. Bach gave the melody in the suite from which the Air is taken to the violins but not on the G string.

Masseuet who was one of the most brilliant and gifted of the French composers of our time is represented on the program by the Ballet Music from the Opera "Le Cid" (Commander). The plot of the opera is located in Seville during the tenth century.

Johann Strauss, famous Viennese composer, was known as the "Waltz King." His dance rhapsodies have deserved and won the highest praise of severe musicians. His waltz "On the Beautiful Blue Danube" is the final number on the orchestra program. When it was first performed in 1877 in Vienna, it was a complete failure and only after it won a remarkable triumph in Paris some time later did the Viennese realize that they had over looked a masterpiece.

Page wire fence, best and cheapest. Car load now at Stearns & Cheungworth, Oakland.

Where is Jerry? Geo. Warber might know. See "Safety First."

What is a Zuleika? Ask Marie Ring. See "Safety First."

NOTICE The annual meeting of the Civil Bend Cemetery Ass'n. will be held at the cemetery Friday, May 10th at 2 p. m. Officers to be elected and other business transacted. MRS. GEO. WINSTON, Sec.

CONCERT NUMBERS ARE WELL CHOSEN IN PROGRAM HERE

The program that the Philharmonic orchestra of Los Angeles will present in Roseburg on Wednesday evening is one unusually well chosen for its beauty and interest, both to the untrained music lover and the musician. Every number is melodious and readily appreciated. The program opens with the overture to the opera "Mignon" by Thomas, which is a deservedly favored concert number of the lighter type. This is followed by Schubert's symphony No. 8 in B Minor, commonly called the "Unfinished" Symphony. It is one of the most famous numbers in all the literature for orchestras. It seems to come direct from the heart and to have the personality of the composer in it to an unusual degree.

The third number is Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 1 in F. Liszt composed fifteen Hungarian Rhapsodies which were the result of intensive study of gypsy music in its reaction upon original Magyar folk-tunes. They are free in form but usually have an introduction followed by a slow dance or Lasser or a climatic Friska.

By Williams

CONCERT NUMBERS ARE WELL CHOSEN IN PROGRAM HERE

The program that the Philharmonic orchestra of Los Angeles will present in Roseburg on Wednesday evening is one unusually well chosen for its beauty and interest, both to the untrained music lover and the musician. Every number is melodious and readily appreciated. The program opens with the overture to the opera "Mignon" by Thomas, which is a deservedly favored concert number of the lighter type. This is followed by Schubert's symphony No. 8 in B Minor, commonly called the "Unfinished" Symphony. It is one of the most famous numbers in all the literature for orchestras. It seems to come direct from the heart and to have the personality of the composer in it to an unusual degree.

The third number is Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 1 in F. Liszt composed fifteen Hungarian Rhapsodies which were the result of intensive study of gypsy music in its reaction upon original Magyar folk-tunes. They are free in form but usually have an introduction followed by a slow dance or Lasser or a climatic Friska.

The Air for G String by Bach is written for the strings only. It has been made famous by transcription for violin solo. In this it is played transposed to the key of C Major and so arranged as to be played on the G string throughout. Bach gave the melody in the suite from which the Air is taken to the violins but not on the G string.

Masseuet who was one of the most brilliant and gifted of the French composers of our time is represented on the program by the Ballet Music from the Opera "Le Cid" (Commander). The plot of the opera is located in Seville during the tenth century.

Johann Strauss, famous Viennese composer, was known as the "Waltz King." His dance rhapsodies have deserved and won the highest praise of severe musicians. His waltz "On the Beautiful Blue Danube" is the final number on the orchestra program. When it was first performed in 1877 in Vienna, it was a complete failure and only after it won a remarkable triumph in Paris some time later did the Viennese realize that they had over looked a masterpiece.

Page wire fence, best and cheapest. Car load now at Stearns & Cheungworth, Oakland.

Where is Jerry? Geo. Warber might know. See "Safety First."

What is a Zuleika? Ask Marie Ring. See "Safety First."

NOTICE The annual meeting of the Civil Bend Cemetery Ass'n. will be held at the cemetery Friday, May 10th at 2 p. m. Officers to be elected and other business transacted. MRS. GEO. WINSTON, Sec.

CONCERT NUMBERS ARE WELL CHOSEN IN PROGRAM HERE

The program that the Philharmonic orchestra of Los Angeles will present in Roseburg on Wednesday evening is one unusually well chosen for its beauty and interest, both to the untrained music lover and the musician. Every number is melodious and readily appreciated. The program opens with the overture to the opera "Mignon" by Thomas, which is a deservedly favored concert number of the lighter type. This is followed by Schubert's symphony No. 8 in B Minor, commonly called the "Unfinished" Symphony. It is one of the most famous numbers in all the literature for orchestras. It seems to come direct from the heart and to have the personality of the composer in it to an unusual degree.

The third number is Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 1 in F. Liszt composed fifteen Hungarian Rhapsodies which were the result of intensive study of gypsy music in its reaction upon original Magyar folk-tunes. They are free in form but usually have an introduction followed by a slow dance or Lasser or a climatic Friska.

The Air for G String by Bach is written for the strings only. It has been made famous by transcription for violin solo. In this it is played transposed to the key of C Major and so arranged as to be played on the G string throughout. Bach gave the melody in the suite from which the Air is taken to the violins but not on the G string.

Masseuet who was one of the most brilliant and gifted of the French composers of our time is represented on the program by the Ballet Music from the Opera "Le Cid" (Commander). The plot of the opera is located in Seville during the tenth century.

Johann Strauss, famous Viennese composer, was known as the "Waltz King." His dance rhapsodies have deserved and won the highest praise of severe musicians. His waltz "On the Beautiful Blue Danube" is the final number on the orchestra program. When it was first performed in 1877 in Vienna, it was a complete failure and only after it won a remarkable triumph in Paris some time later did the Viennese realize that they had over looked a masterpiece.

Page wire fence, best and cheapest. Car load now at Stearns & Cheungworth, Oakland.

Where is Jerry? Geo. Warber might know. See "Safety First."

What is a Zuleika? Ask Marie Ring. See "Safety First."

NOTICE The annual meeting of the Civil Bend Cemetery Ass'n. will be held at the cemetery Friday, May 10th at 2 p. m. Officers to be elected and other business transacted. MRS. GEO. WINSTON, Sec.

CONCERT NUMBERS ARE WELL CHOSEN IN PROGRAM HERE

The program that the Philharmonic orchestra of Los Angeles will present in Roseburg on Wednesday evening is one unusually well chosen for its beauty and interest, both to the untrained music lover and the musician. Every number is melodious and readily appreciated. The program opens with the overture to the opera "Mignon" by Thomas, which is a deservedly favored concert number of the lighter type. This is followed by Schubert's symphony No. 8 in B Minor, commonly called the "Unfinished" Symphony. It is one of the most famous numbers in all the literature for orchestras. It seems to come direct from the heart and to have the personality of the composer in it to an unusual degree.

The third number is Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 1 in F. Liszt composed fifteen Hungarian Rhapsodies which were the result of intensive study of gypsy music in its reaction upon original Magyar folk-tunes. They are free in form but usually have an introduction followed by a slow dance or Lasser or a climatic Friska.

The Air for G String by Bach is written for the strings only. It has been made famous by transcription for violin solo. In this it is played transposed to the key of C Major and so arranged as to be played on the G string throughout. Bach gave the melody in the suite from which the Air is taken to the violins but not on the G string.

Masseuet who was one of the most brilliant and gifted of the French composers of our time is represented on the program by the Ballet Music from the Opera "Le Cid" (Commander). The plot of the opera is located in Seville during the tenth century.

Johann Strauss, famous Viennese composer, was known as the "Waltz King." His dance rhapsodies have deserved and won the highest praise of severe musicians. His waltz "On the Beautiful Blue Danube" is the final number on the orchestra program. When it was first performed in 1877 in Vienna, it was a complete failure and only after it won a remarkable triumph in Paris some time later did the Viennese realize that they had over looked a masterpiece.

Page wire fence, best and cheapest. Car load now at Stearns & Cheungworth, Oakland.

Where is Jerry? Geo. Warber might know. See "Safety First."

What is a Zuleika? Ask Marie Ring. See "Safety First."

NOTICE The annual meeting of the Civil Bend Cemetery Ass'n. will be held at the cemetery Friday, May 10th at 2 p. m. Officers to be elected and other business transacted. MRS. GEO. WINSTON, Sec.

CONCERT NUMBERS ARE WELL CHOSEN IN PROGRAM HERE

The program that the Philharmonic orchestra of Los Angeles will present in Roseburg on Wednesday evening is one unusually well chosen for its beauty and interest, both to the untrained music lover and the musician. Every number is melodious and readily appreciated. The program opens with the overture to the opera "Mignon" by Thomas, which is a deservedly favored concert number of the lighter type. This is followed by Schubert's symphony No. 8 in B Minor, commonly called the "Unfinished" Symphony. It is one of the most famous numbers in all the literature for orchestras. It seems to come direct from the heart and to have the personality of the composer in it to an unusual degree.

The third number is Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 1 in F. Liszt composed fifteen Hungarian Rhapsodies which were the result of intensive study of gypsy music in its reaction upon original Magyar folk-tunes. They are free in form but usually have an introduction followed by a slow dance or Lasser or a climatic Friska.

The Air for G String by Bach is written for the strings only. It has been made famous by transcription for violin solo. In this it is played transposed to the key of C Major and so arranged as to be played on the G string throughout. Bach gave the melody in the suite from which the Air is taken to the violins but not on the G string.

Masseuet who was one of the most brilliant and gifted of the French composers of our time is represented on the program by the Ballet Music from the Opera "Le Cid" (Commander). The plot of the opera is located in Seville during the tenth century.

Johann Strauss, famous Viennese composer, was known as the "Waltz King." His dance rhapsodies have deserved and won the highest praise of severe musicians. His waltz "On the Beautiful Blue Danube" is the final number on the orchestra program. When it was first performed in 1877 in Vienna, it was a complete failure and only after it won a remarkable triumph in Paris some time later did the Viennese realize that they had over looked a masterpiece.

Page wire fence, best and cheapest. Car load now at Stearns & Cheungworth, Oakland.

Where is Jerry? Geo. Warber might know. See "Safety First."

What is a Zuleika? Ask Marie Ring. See "Safety First."

NOTICE The annual meeting of the Civil Bend Cemetery Ass'n. will be held at the cemetery Friday, May 10th at 2 p. m. Officers to be elected and other business transacted. MRS. GEO. WINSTON, Sec.

CONCERT NUMBERS ARE WELL CHOSEN IN PROGRAM HERE

CONCERT NUMBERS ARE WELL CHOSEN IN PROGRAM HERE

The program that the Philharmonic orchestra of Los Angeles will present in Roseburg on Wednesday evening is one unusually well chosen for its beauty and interest, both to the untrained music lover and the musician. Every number is melodious and readily appreciated. The program opens with the overture to the opera "Mignon" by Thomas, which is a deservedly favored concert number of the lighter type. This is followed by Schubert's symphony No. 8 in B Minor, commonly called the "Unfinished" Symphony. It is one of the most famous numbers in all the literature for orchestras. It seems to come direct from the heart and to have the personality of the composer in it to an unusual degree.

The third number is Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 1 in F. Liszt composed fifteen Hungarian Rhapsodies which were the result of intensive study of gypsy music in its reaction upon original Magyar folk-tunes. They are free in form but usually have an introduction followed by a slow dance or Lasser or a climatic Friska.

The Air for G String by Bach is written for the strings only. It has been made famous by transcription for violin solo. In this it is played transposed to the key of C Major and so arranged as to be played on the G string throughout. Bach gave the melody in the suite from which the Air is taken to the violins but not on the G string.

Masseuet who was one of the most brilliant and gifted of the French composers of our time is represented on the program by the Ballet Music from the Opera "Le Cid" (Commander). The plot of the opera is located in Seville during the tenth century.

Johann Strauss, famous Viennese composer, was known as the "Waltz King." His dance rhapsodies have deserved and won the highest praise of severe musicians. His waltz "On the Beautiful Blue Danube" is the final number on the orchestra program. When it was first performed in 1877 in Vienna, it was a complete failure and only after it won a remarkable triumph in Paris some time later did the Viennese realize that they had over looked a masterpiece.

Page wire fence, best and cheapest. Car load now at Stearns & Cheungworth, Oakland.

Where is Jerry? Geo. Warber might know. See "Safety First."

What is a Zuleika? Ask Marie Ring. See "Safety First."

NOTICE The annual meeting of the Civil Bend Cemetery Ass'n. will be held at the cemetery Friday, May 10th at 2 p. m. Officers to be elected and other business transacted. MRS. GEO. WINSTON, Sec.

CONCERT NUMBERS ARE WELL CHOSEN IN PROGRAM HERE

The program that the Philharmonic orchestra of Los Angeles will present in Roseburg on Wednesday evening is one unusually well chosen for its beauty and interest, both to the untrained music lover and the musician. Every number is melodious and readily appreciated. The program opens with the overture to the opera "Mignon" by Thomas, which is a deservedly favored concert number of the lighter type. This is followed by Schubert's symphony No. 8 in B Minor, commonly called the "Unfinished" Symphony. It is one of the most famous numbers in all the literature for orchestras. It seems to come