Love Pact Ends in Pen Terms

Less than 30 hours after they had attempted to murder Mrs. Rose Pope's husband, John, with a hammer, Mrs. Pope and Phil Polster, shown above, were on their way to the Wisconsin penitentiary at Waupun to begin serving 20-year sentences. They confessed to chasing Pope down a road, near their home at Madison, beating him over the head with a hammer until he lay apparently dead. Rain revived him. Pope had a $3000 life insurance policy. Officers blame a love pact.

Has Never Seen Her Five Children

Mrs. Caroline Warburton, 52, of Akron, O., is the mother of five children—two married daughters and a married son—and yet she never saw her children or her husband, Mrs. Warburton has been blind since she was 12 and the last thing she remembers is a street car pulled by horses through Akron. Her greatest wish is to see her children ten minutes before she dies.
