FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. CLEMONS HELD YESTERDAY

Mrs. Elizabeth J. Clemons, wife of John M. Clemons, passed away at her home in Edenhower, Saturday afternoon. She was 64 years of age and had lived in Roseburg five years. Besides her husband, she leaves seven sons, one daughter and thirteen grandchildren. The children are: J. W. Clemons of Washington; M. M. Clemons, Chas. Clemons, C. A. Clemons, A. A. Clemons, H. H. Clemons and Zella Hodson of Roseburg; F. R. Clemons of Spokane.

Funeral services were held at the parlors of the Roseburg Undertaking Co. Sunday afternoon, Rev. Crook officiating, and interment was made in the Masonic cemetery. Six sons acted as pall-bearers.

Markets

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

PORTLAND, Ore., May 13.—The market generally displayed an unruffled front early Monday.

Butter and egg prices remained at Friday's quotations in the absence of a Saturday session of the dairy exchange.

In vegetables, asparagus was weaker at $1 to $1.15 a dozen bunches, wholesale.

Lettuce was 25 cents higher because of an increased demand. Shipments from The Dalles have begun to arrive, but the quality so far was reported as not outstanding.

In fruits, one of the best buys is found in medium sized oranges. The 176s and 200s are selling at $s a box. The smaller sizes are being rapidly cleaned up and the navels, except for the few on hand, are a thing of the past.

Old potatoes are firm. An advance is expected any time.

Poultry and dressed meats were firm. The week-end demand took care of all supplies.

Butterfat was a cent higher all around. Station 44, Track 45, delivered at Portland 47c.

Eat barbecue sandwiches and live forever. Brand's Road Stand

There will be a pre-school clinic at Rose school Tuesday afternoon from 1 to 4. All mothers with children entering Rose next fall are urged to bring them to the clinic.

NOTICE

Senior High P. T. A. meeting Tuesday evening, May 14th, 7:30. Election of officers and other business.

With slick tires and slippery roads, with faster cars than ever, with stops more necessary and more frequent, for the safety of your life, your wife's and baby's, always in mind, it is wise for you to provide your car with the best and strongest tires made —Lee Tires, none better and few as good. Big trade in values all this week at Nick Carter's Tire Shop.

"Peter Stratford" and "Widow"

For 20 years "Peter Stratford" worked as a man in munition plants, in a nursery farm, attended boxing matches, and married Beth Rowland in Missouri in 1925, after a long correspondence. Just before "Peter" died of tuberculosis in Oakland, he told attendants "he" was a woman. Inset is Stratford. Large photo is his "widow," who declares she did not know "Stratford's" secret until a few months ago, when she left to end the weird union by divorce.

HAMMERSTEIN IN LEGAL BOUT WITH ABSENT ACTRESS

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

NEW YORK, May 13.—Arthur Hammerstein, theatrical producer, today announced his intention to appeal to the American federation of labor to compel Helen Kane, missing musical comedy star, to fulfill her contract.

Miss Kane disappeared from the cast of "Good Boy," a Hammerstein production, three or four days after it opened a Boston engagement and has not been found by the producer's agents.

Hammerstein said the show would close in Boston next Saturday and he sent to the storehouse. He attributed the sudden closing to Miss Kane's disappearance.

Miss Kane, Hammerstein said, has a contract to make talking pictures which does not become effective until her contract with him expires June 1. He said, however, that he believed she was on her way to California and if he found that was a fact he would bring suit against the picture company.

He said his appeal to the federation of labor was planned because the Actors' Equity association, which is affiliated with the federation, has authority over motion pictures.

FRANK HAHN DIES IN GLIDE THIS MORNING

Frank Hahn passed away this morning at his home at Glide after a short illness. Mr. Hahn had lived at Glide the past thirty years and was 64 years old. He leaves, besides his wife, two children, Chas. L. Hahn and Mrs. Lizzie Rexroad. Remains are at the Roseburg Undertaking Co. parlors and funeral announcement will be made later.

ABSENT-MINDED

LONDON.—Railway passengers lose everything under the sun on their train journeys. The Southern Railway recently held a Lost Property auction of the items left in its cars. The sale included nearly 8000 umbrellas, 6000 pairs of gloves, hundreds of bottles of wine, a sewing machine, electric heaters, fishing rods, golf clubs, tennis racquets, a motorcycle and side car, skiis and a perambulator.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KNICK

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

"Oh, my!" cried Clowny. "Let's sit down and eat that bread. It's nice and brown. When honey's spread upon it, it will surely taste real good. If no one seems to really care, I'll start right now to eat my share. Why, I could eat one loaf myself. At least I think I could."

"Hey! Wait a minute! Don't you dare!" said Scouty. "You shall have your share, but there are only two large loaves. That's not one loaf for each. Now, don't be selfish. That's not right. Remember, you're a Tinymite. Don't make it so that we must put this bread out of your reach."

"Now, now!" exclaimed the baker man. "Our bread must stay right in the pan until it cools a little bit. 'Tis best to be discreet. I will not have bad tummy aches from eating things this baker bakes. You've surely heard that hot bread is a real bad thing to eat."

The bread was then set out to cool. "We mind," said Coppy, "as a rule, so we will gladly sit and wait until you say the word. 'Twould be real sad if we'd get sick on bread that really looks so slick. To disobey your kind advice, of course, would be absurd."

"I'll take a nap," the baker said, "while we are waiting on this bread. In 'bout an hour, please, wake me. Then we all will have a thrill." The Tinies promised that they would, and also promised they'd be good. They knew that later on of bread they all would have their fill.

Just then the Goofygoo jumped quick and pulled a very unkind trick. It grabbed one of the loaves of bread, and ran off on the hop. It took the Tinies by surprise. They stared at him with open eyes. Then Clowny jumped up to his feet and shouted loudly, "Stop!"

(Clowny catches the Goofygoo in the next story.)
