Ten million poppies, made by American World War veterans in 30 government hospitals, will be sold during the next few days to raise $1,000,000 for relief of stricken veterans and their families. It is an annual event and Roseburg will be given a quota of 2000 poppies to sell, the sale here to be May 28 and May 29.

Disabled veterans have been making the poppies for the past year. They are paid one cent for each and in every instance the men chosen to make the poppies were those receiving the least government aid and having the greatest responsibilities.

The little red poppy should be worn for a number of reasons: as tribute to the soldiers who died; to help the disabled men and their families to earn money for themselves; to provide warmth, food and clothing for the families of these men; and to help as does the Legion and auxiliary in time of peace as well as war.

Each poppy has a sticker on it which reads: "In memory of American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary. Made by patients U. S. veterans' Hospital No. 77, Portland."

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL GETS MYSTERY RIDE (Associated Press Leased Wire) SAN JOSE, Cal., May 21.—Taken for a mystery ride by a man believed to be fleeing the bay section after committing some crime, Miss Lora Smith, 18, Piedmont, entered the San Jose police station early this morning, clad in flimsy evening array, without wraps and told a story of two hours of terror during a drive from Oakland, while a pistol held at her back urged her to great speed.

Miss Smith, a senior at the Piedmont high school, daughter of Mrs. H. A. Dodge, who is now in Washington, D. C., attended a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. "Borax" Smith, Arbor Villa, Oakland. The affair was a farewell to Miss Smith's pastor, Dr. R. A. Brown, of the First Congregational church, Oakland, who is leaving for the east.

At about 11 p. m., Miss Smith went to her mother's car parked outside to rest, alone. She was barely seated when a man of 40, in blue jeans and a cap opened the door thrust a gun in her side and ordered "Get in the front seat little girl, you're going for a ride."

The gunman-passenger stopped the car and disappeared.
