SOCIETY

By MILDRED RYNON

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the First M. E. church met with Mrs. A. C. Marsters on Thursday afternoon. Inspirational devotions were led by Mrs. Hein with Mrs. A. J. Geddes presiding.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Foster Butler on June 26, the Little Light Bearers to be the guests. The income offering will be taken at that time. This is the sixtieth year since the organization of the Foreign Missionary society and each member is asked to give one cent a year or sixty cents, to be used for the meeting at Columbus, Ohio, to be held in October.

Members of the local organization attended the southern sectional meeting at Cottage Grove on Friday to complete arrangements for the annual meeting.

The annual meeting of the Standard class of the First Presbyterian church was held at the home of Mrs. W. L. Scott on Saturday, May 18. Thirty-two were present for the annual election and business session. Mrs. Honck was elected president for the coming year, Mrs. Blake, treasurer; Mrs. Rodie, secretary, and Miss Margaret Baldwin, substitute. A social hour and delightful refreshments followed the business meeting.

Mrs. J. A. Thronson is the house guest of Mrs. J. M. Agnew of this city. Mrs. Thronson is here to receive the benefits of Douglas county climate after a long illness. Her daughter, Mrs. Guy Duncan, of Redmond, Ore., returned to her home yesterday after having visited with Mrs. Agnew.

Oceanic Race Looms OLD OREGONIAN BEACH, Maine, May 22.—The possibility of a trans-Atlantic air race increased today with the arrival here of Armonio Lotti, sponsor of the projected flight to Paris of the monoplane Bernard 191.

While Roger Q. Williams was taking his monoplane, "Green Flash" up for a series of test flights to check gasoline consumption in preparation for a takeoff for Rome tomorrow, if weather conditions become favorable, Lotti was measuring the hangar of Captain Harry M. Jones to determine if it could accommodate his craft. Following Williams' first test flight today, Captain Lewis Yancey said if weather permitted, the start would be made at 8 or 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the tide will be well out. He said reports now indicated that the weather was clearing over the Atlantic. He believed that the flight to Rome might be completed in between 45 and 50 hours.

CLASH BETWEEN LAW AND SOCIAL WILL STRESSED

Words and law of the social will, if the minds of the multitude make this distinction and therefore maintain the germ of respect for law, how great would be the disaster if your commission served not to uphold this distinction, if it is valid, but instead broke it down.

MAN CLAWED BY TIGER NEAR DEATH

PORTLAND, Ore., May 22.—Douglas Grizzard, 23, whose left arm was amputated as the result of injuries suffered when a tiger sank its teeth into his flesh as he was tending it at a circus Monday, today was not expected to live. Grizzard was a huge man for the circus. The tiger, suddenly infuriated, attacked him as he was handling it a basin of water.
