YANKEES WIN AND CROWD ST. LOUIS FOR 2ND PLACE

Athletics Are Stopped by Detroit - Cardinals Retain Lead in National.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
The New York Yankees gained one full game on the Athletics yesterday by winning from the White Sox while the Mackmen were losing to Detroit. The Athletics were beaten 8 to 4.
With Ruth and Gehrig still on the shelf, the Yankees were not so ferocious on the offensive as they have been known to be, but they had enough to squeeze out the decision over Red Faber and the White Sox by 4 to 2.
The Yankees now have seen four successive starting pitchers finish their games.
The Browns suffered a heart-breaking reverse at Washington when the Senators, themselves with no particular destination, turned loose a six-run rally in the ninth to win by 8 to 7. The Senators got nowhere, and the Browns fell one game nearer the Yanks.
Jimmy Zinn turned in five-hit pitching to defeat Charlie Ruffing and Jack Russell at the home of the Red Sox. The score was 4 to 9.
In the National League, turned back in three games on their home field, the Cubs fired five home runs at Giant pitching to save the last game of the series by 10 to 9.
The victory continued the Cubs in third place. The Giants retained the fourth rung of the ladder as the Pirates again got even with the Phillies, this time by 9 to 5.
The Cub home runs were delivered as follows: Wilson, 2; Gram, Grace, Hornsby, one apiece. Roush and Terry hit for the circuit for New York.
The Cardinals got only an even break against the Robins, winning the first game by 3 to 1 and permitting Brooklyn to take the second.

and by 11 to 8. The Cards remained comfortably in first place, but both the Pirates and the Cubs gained a bit.
St. Louis won the first game in the seventh when Jim Bottomley's homer with Douthett on base credited a victory to Jess Haines, Glink Hendrick and Babe Herman featured the Robins attack in the nightcap. Hendrick hit two home runs, each with two on, and Herman got four hits out of four times at bat.
The Braves shaded Cincinnati by 4 to 1 in the remaining National League struggle.

Farm Notes

By J. C. Leedy, County Agent
At two well attended lamb grading demonstrations held at Oakland and Myrtle Creek during the past week, H. A. Lindgren, extension livestock specialist, and R. L. Clark, secretary of the Portland Livestock Exchange, pointed out a few of the problems encountered in marketing lambs at a profit.
Mr. Clark stated that the housewife who purchased the lamb chops on the market was the person to please and that all handlers of lambs in the process of marketing must have that ultimate object in view. To bring a good price, lambs must be marketed in an attractive manner, when and where the demand exists.
Mr. Lindgren urged Douglas county sheepmen to put on the market only quality lambs, well attended, and weighing from 65 to 80 pounds, in order that our reputation for high grade lambs may be maintained.
Cultivation Important
Frequent and thorough cultivation during spring and early summer is the most effective means of conserving moisture for mid and late summer needs, according to C. L. Long, horticultural specialist. Delayed or careless cultivation at this time of the year will insure in a few days as similar neglect would permit in weeks during the mid and late summer.
A good rule to follow is to cultivate often and thorough enough to keep down all weed growth throughout the season. This will mean more frequent and thorough cultivation early in the season, the weed becoming less and less as the season progresses.

HALF BILLION U. S. COIN UNDER FARM BILL SOON READY

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, June 4.—Congressional leaders indicated today that after enactment of the pending farm bill they would favor a recommendation by the agriculture department to make available immediately the $500,000,000 appropriation proposed by the measure for stabilization of the agricultural industry.
The farm bill, which is expected to be enacted into law within a week or ten days, merely authorizes a half billion dollars appropriation.
Leaders take the view that the wheat situation demands immediate attention and that if the farm board is to buy up the surplus wheat crop, about $175,000,000 would be needed alone for this. They hold the board ought to have the full amount so as to be able to take advantage of its powers under the bill to deal with the wheat situation and that needing attention in other crops.

SPOKANE, Wash., June 4.—A. S. Goss, Seattle, master of the Washington state grange, feels that the American people need a surplus of agricultural products, but that the export debenture plan should finance the surplus rather than the farmer, he declared before the grange convention here.
The present protective tariff which is necessary to maintain high standards of living, benefits other industries, but is hard on the farmer he said, adding that it is sound economy to use the proceeds of the system, which has depressed agriculture, to lift the farming industry to the same plane of prosperity enjoyed by other industry. That is exactly what the debenture program does.

Discussing objections raised against the debenture by President Hoover, Goss said he believed them unground.
"I feel that that debenture really belongs on the tariff bill instead of being needed alone for this. It is purely a matter of tariff adjustment. We are trying to effect an agreement to transfer it to the tariff bill when the president made attack upon it. This attack so aroused the friends of effective farm legislation that it solidified the opposition in the senate to a point where they would consider no change."
Conceding that the protective system has come to stay, Goss said "there are two ways of assuring the wheat grower that protection to which he is entitled under our tariff system. One is to curtail production until we are on a basis of domestic consumption of our output and the other is to raise American prices above world prices by legislative means in a manner similar to that by which we have protected other industries."
The debenture would do that, he concluded.

DOUG. FAIRBANKS, JR., 19, WEDS JOAN CRAWFORD, 21
(Associated Press Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, June 4.—Work on the motion picture lots of Hollywood will defer for a time the honeymoon of the screen's latest newlyweds, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Joan Crawford.
Married yesterday at the rectory of St. Malinky's Roman Catholic church, they plan to return to California next Tuesday where each has several screen productions to make this year. Upon completing their year's schedule, they said, they would return east and sail on a European honeymoon.
In obtaining their marriage license, Fairbanks gave his age as 19 and Miss Crawford said she was 21. They became engaged two years ago.

GOODYEAR PLANS AIRSHIP PROGRAM
"The tremendous airship program which the Goodyear Zeppelin corporation, a subsidiary of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company, has under way is attracting world-wide attention," declared O. L. Wood of the Healy-Wood Co., Goodyear tire dealers, at corner of Mosher and South Stephens streets.
Goodyear will build two airships to be the biggest ever assembled for the United States navy. Each ship will be of 6,500,000 cubic feet of gas capacity, nearly three times the size of the present navy ship, Los Angeles.
"Work is progressing simultaneously at Akron, where the huge facilities of factories, equipment and man-power of the Goodyear organization are located, on the airship factory and dock and the first of the airships.

"Work on one unit of the factory is expected to be completed this summer when assembly work on the first air levitation can be started," Mr. Wood pointed out that a rigid ship such as the navy craft can be built part by part, because the big ship will not be one integral blimp, but consists of a series of great gas cells, fitted into duraluminum compartments—so that in case of an accident to three or four gas cells the ship will still fly.
"Engineering students are watching with interest the construction work on the huge factory and dock.
"It will be, engineers declare, the biggest building in the world without interior supports, 1200 feet long, 325 feet wide and 200 feet high, having eight and one-half acres of level floor space.
"Shaped like a great hollow half-cylinder, the building will be big enough to clap down over the national capitol at Washington and would afford enough space that 14 games of football could be played inside at the same time. The peculiar shape is necessary to prevent wind gusts forming about the entrance, thus preventing danger of wind disturbances as the Zeppelin enter and leaves the dock.
"The entire building will be mounted on rollers instead of a fixed base—this to allow the entire mammoth structure to stretch and contract—because the building is entirely of steel, both frame and roofing, and will gradually change its dimensions as temperatures vary.
"Doors of the building, to be placed at each end, will not be the usual straight doors but will conform to the general plan of the building and will resemble in shape that of a quarter of an orange; their designation as "orange-peel" doors. They will be opened and closed by electricity, four 125-horsepower motors furnishing the necessary current, and will be carried upon heavy trucks, resembling those used on railroad freight cars.
"Provision for moving the huge air liner in and out of the dock is to be made by docking rails which will run through the building and far out into the field, and upon which small trucks will ride. The ship will be anchored to these as it moves in and out, further steadying it against cross harbor winds and reducing the number of the ground crew which otherwise would be required.
"A tunnel has been built under the floor of the building carrying the various service lines and pipes for fuel, water, ballast and electric power, with connections made by holes in the floor. The steel arches overhead provide numerous catwalks for workmen and trolley beams for the handling of materials in building the airship."
