

By FRANK JENKINS "If Roseburg is the outstanding clean city on the tourist's drive he is going to remember it; and if the surrounding territory looks prosperous he is going to think well of the whole country."

There was a time, before the era of good roads and universal touring, when communities went far afield in their efforts to attract new population.

That time is past. Now, in the summer season, potential new population pours constantly through every city located on a main highway. These travelers—"tourists," we call them for want of a better word—are all prospective new residents.

Many of them, attracted by what they see, will come back to become permanent residents.

So far as these prospective new residents are concerned, a city's homes and its business district are its show windows. If what is shown is attractive, the result will be apparent in a growing population.

There is no doubt whatever that tourist travel is the most promising of all sources of new permanent population and development. California has proved that plainly enough.

ROSEBURG is inherently one of the most attractive of Oregon's cities. To see Roseburg at its best is to want to live here.

And don't let anybody tell you that Roseburg isn't a good business city. It is a good business city—soundly prosperous. People here have the money with which to pay their bills, and in the last analysis that is the ONE SURE TEST of a good business point.

No one, tourist or otherwise, who locates here is ever going to regret it. We can truthfully and sincerely say that life is better worth living in Roseburg.

So let's dress up the windows of our city attractively. Let's clean up and paint up. Let's put our best foot forward. Let's make Roseburg such a clean and beautiful and homelike city that every traveler who passes through will want to stop and stay.

We have the finest climate on the Pacific coast. We have a lovely natural setting. We have outdoor attractions that can not be surpassed anywhere in the world. If we can induce people to stop, we can induce them to stay. Let's make Roseburg so attractive in appearance that no one can get through without wanting to stop.

OREGON has the lowest infant mortality rate in the United States. What parent can deny that here alone is cause for the utmost rejoicing?

Oregon is fourth in the Union in percentage of the population which gets a high school education. It costs money to send children through high school, and if Oregon people were stricken with poverty they could not give their children better educational equipment than is enjoyed by the children of 43 other states.

OREGON is eighth in the Union in percentage of its teachers who have normal school training and seventh in the amount of education, figured in years spent in school, that the average young person receives.

ELIZABETH, N. J., June 12.—Henry Colin Campbell today was found guilty of murder in the first degree in the torch slaying of Mrs. Mildred Mowry, his bigamous wife. The verdict contained no recommendation for mercy.

By failing to recommend mercy, the jury made a sentence of death in the electric chair obligatory.

HOUSE TURNS DOWN SCHEME OF DEBENTURE

Senate's Request Met By 250 to 113 Vote.

Expression of Entire Body Shows Majority Favors Hoover's Ideas.

FINAL VICTORY SEEN

Approval of Farm Aid Bill in Original Form Now Expected to Come in Senate.

(Associated Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, June 13.—The house today backed up the views of President Hoover by rejecting the expert debenture plan of farm relief.

The vote was 250 to 113. The debenture proposition, which Mr. Hoover had attacked twice in public statements and which he had termed a subsidy, was voted down on a roll call vote taken at the insistence of the senate which had approved it on two occasions.

A number of senators had been represented, however, as demanding the inclusion of the plan in the bill in order that the house members could be recorded on it.

Today's action was regarded by administration leaders as paving the way for a recession by the senate in its stand and a quick transmittal of a relief measure, minus the debenture, to the White House.

A few minutes after the house clock had announced the outcome of the ballot, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democrat senate leader, indicated he would carry out his announced intention of abiding by the decision of the house.

Robinson has been a leader of the move in the senate in behalf of the debenture and has been insistent upon a direct vote by the house on the proposition.

It now is expected he will recede from his position and not continue to press for further senate approval of the plan.

Ad Valorem Basis Asked WASHINGTON, June 13.—The senate finance committee today voted down a motion by Senator King, democrat, Utah, that the committee confine its tariff revision to agricultural products. The vote, 11 to 7, against the motion, was strictly along party lines.

After rejecting the King motion, the committee received a proposal on an ad valorem or percentage basis of tariff protection instead of specific. It was presented by Chester H. Gray, legislative representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, who said his recommendation represented a "complete reversal of policy."

On the part of agriculture, as he argued, ad valorem duties had worked advantageously for other industries and he saw no reason for their abolition.

SWEDISH FLYERS WILL CONTINUE IN SPITE OF MISHAPS

(Associated Press Leased Wire) REYKJAVIK, Iceland, June 13.—Despite the efforts of aviation experts here to dissuade him from the attempt, Captain Albin Ahrenberg, Swedish flyer, said today that he would try another take off from Reykjavik tomorrow or earlier if the weather in Greenland continued good.

The spirits of the three Swedish flyers who are attempting a transatlantic crossing from Stockholm to New York by way of Iceland and Greenland, dropped considerably because of the constant breaking down of their airplane. The Swedes, in attempts to get away on the Greenland leg of their trip, repairs on the plane were finished earlier than had been expected and Captain Ahrenberg decided to make a trial flight this afternoon.

Mexico-Church Rift Reported To Be Patched

(Associated Press Leased Wire) MEXICO CITY, June 13.—Advices from Washington indicating that actual agreement had been reached here on the long standing Mexican religious controversy, and that communications asking papal sanction to the agreement had been forwarded to Rome, created a sensation today.

No official announcement was forthcoming but there was reason to believe that yesterday's meeting of President Emilio Portes Gil and Roman Catholic prelates merely climaxed long months of prior negotiations, in which the basis for settlement had been reached. In well informed quarters here it was said this basis was mutual consent for a broad interpretation of the country's religious laws, strict enforcement of which in 1925 led to the episcopate's order withdrawing priests from the churches. Such, it was pointed out, would involve concessions by both the Mexican government and the church, without either giving in un- duly.

The same well informed source said the vatican probably would act quickly and satisfactorily on the terms of the agreement. It was pointed out as extremely unlikely his holiness would delay or permanently pigeon hole the matter, as it was understood happened on two previous occasions when negotiations looking to settlement, came to a head.

If agreement did eventuate in the single meeting yesterday there was inclination to give much of the credit to Ambassador Morrow and the Mexican ambassador at Washington, Manuel C. Teitel, both of whom returned here hurriedly when Archbishop Ruiz recently started for Mexico City.

MOTHER OF TWELVE GIVEN 18 MONTHS UNDER LIQUOR LAW

Congressman Asks Probe of Enforcement System—Two Killings Are Held Justified.

(Associated Press Leased Wire) FORT SMITH Ark., June 13.—A 50 year old mother who pleaded guilty to a prohibition law violation that her husband might be freed to care for their 12 children today made ready for her journey to the federal industrial prison at Alderson, W. Va., and an imprisonment of 18 months.

Admitting responsibility for the liquor business which officers said they found on the couple's farm 20 miles north of here, Mrs. Joe Post heard her sentence and a $100 fine with a gallon after similar charges against her husband had been dropped.

A leniency plea by defense counsel, who cited the woman's large family and her previous clear record, brought little sympathy from the bench. Judge Frank A. Yonmans replied: "It is too bad that Theodore Roosevelt is no longer living," he explained, his remark applied to the late president's fondness for large families and Mr. Roosevelt's sympathy for erring parents.

Mrs. Post is the mother of 16 children, four of whom are dead. Solon Asks Probe WASHINGTON, June 13.—Creation of a joint congressional committee to study methods of enforcing prohibition laws used by federal officials was asked in a resolution today by Representative Schaefer, republican, Wisconsin.

He proposed a $25,000 appropriation to meet expenses. Schaefer has been active in renouncing recent shootings by federal officers.

MURDER CASE CLUE DRAWS SHERIFF TO JACKSON COUNTY

(Associated Press Leased Wire) MEDFORD, Ore., June 13.—Sheriff R. L. Hill of Visalia, Calif., was in Medford today to interview Harvey Gustavus, Butte Falls rancher, and to search for Mrs. Pearl Franklin, who disappeared from her home near Visalia six years ago. Gustavus reported to police here that he saw Mrs. Franklin in this city in June, 1927, and the officers say it is possible she may be living in southern Oregon.

G. F. Franklin, the woman's husband, is being held in jail in Sacramento on statutory charges preferred by his daughters. His children connected him with the disappearance of Mrs. Franklin and a small son six years ago and police investigated on the possibility that she may have been murdered. A fifteen-year-old son of the woman accompanied Sheriff Hill to Medford to aid in the identification if Mrs. Franklin is found.

BUSINESS OF STATE GRANGE ATTENDED TO

Reports of Officers and Committees Heard at Session Tuesday Afternoon.

Lecturer Presents Excellent Program to Huge Crowd During Evening Hours.

By C. H. BAILEY (Editor Oregon Grange Bulletin) MYRTLE POINT, June 13.—(Special in the News-Review)—By noon Tuesday 352 delegates were registered at the convention of the Oregon State Grange in this city, and the writer has seldom attended a convention of the state grange where so many visiting members were in evidence and who seemed to so thoroughly enjoy taking part in the meetings.

During the noon recess the executive committee appointed Louis M. Graham of Washington county and Fred A. Goff of Douglas county as clerks and the first event of the afternoon was the reading of the annual address of State Master Palmiter. The reading was carefully followed by the assembled grangers and the worthy master was frequently applauded. At the close of the reading the address was referred to the committee on division of labor.

Reports of Worthy Overseer M. C. Glover, Worthy Steward Clarence Davies, Worthy Chaplain J. D. Chitwood, Treasurer B. K. Deny and Secretary Bertha J. Beck were read and made a part of the proceedings.

The worthy secretary stated that there were now 256 granges in good standing with a membership of 16,761, and that the net gain last year in membership was 1785. The reports of the Gatekeeper C. B. Holland, Ceres Mrs. Elmer D. Cook, Pomona Mrs. H. B. Davis, Flora Mrs. C. W. Craft, Lady Assistant Steward Mrs. J. G. Kelly and the editor of the Bulletin were then read and ordered made part.

BOY WHO PUT FARM ABOVE FEDERAL JOB DRAWS $3000 PLUM

(Associated Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, June 13.—The boy who took in the crops out in Iowa while affairs of the state department waited for two weeks made good.

Fred G. Heins of Alma, 29, today found himself promoted from a clerkship in the state department to $1,860 a year to the position of confidential secretary to Governor General Davis of the Philippine islands, at a salary of $3,900 a year. Governor Davis asked all the departments to submit candidates for the position and picked Heins after interviewing hundreds of applicants.

When notified of his appointment to the state department in 1924, Heins wired back, "can't come for two weeks; must take in the crops."

He was then working on a farm in Iowa. He has a perfect record in the division of foreign service administration in the state department.

FRANCE RUSHES DESERT TROOPS TO SUCCOR BESIEGED

(Associated Press Leased Wire) RABAT, Morocco, June 12.—Eight battalions of the French Foreign Legion, prize troops of the Sahara, were being rushed by detachment at the desert post, At Yakoub.

Two thousand dissident Moorish tribesmen have invaded the post on three sides, and some fear was felt for the detail, its numbers already depleted by an ambush at the foot of the Atlas mountains June 2.

Those besieged at the post included the remainder of the two companies of Senegalese infantry and the company of Moroccan camel corps who in the ambush, lost 13 known dead, 19 seriously wounded, and 83 others missing or dead.

The reinforcements were in the command of General Freydenberg, former priest, whose valor in the Rifian wars brought promotion from colonel to general. At Yakoub is on the Sahara side of the great Atlas mountains north of the famous date growing oasis of Tafilalet and a hundred miles west of the railroad at Colomb Bechar.

Cadet "Grads" Told To Mix In Civil Affairs

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 13.—Secretary of War James W. Good told the members of graduating class of the United States Military academy today that one of their greatest opportunities for service will be the voluntary observance of the laws of the state in which they live and "of the nation whose laws you will take oath to obey."

The regular army officer's life is no longer confined to the performance of military duties, Secretary Good said, but the times are making many varied demands upon the officers. The government is using the army officer and more and more at home and abroad as its representative and realizes he makes a tactful and capable agent, he said.

"In the performance of his varied tasks it is imperative that he establish bonds of common purpose with his fellow men in civil life, remembering that when we assume the soldier, we do not lay aside the citizen," said the secretary. "His first consideration must always be the national defense but that does not preclude a rational participation in the life of the community and sincere interest in its problems and projects."

"The habit of observance of domestic law will breed respect for international obligations. Yours is a profession which upholds and restores peace. Therefore no before you than the voluntary observance of the law."

POSSES SEEKING ASSAILANTS OF IDAHO OFFICIAL

Lieut. Gov. Kinne Held Up by 4 Bandits Desiring His Automobile to Make Getaway.

Two Other Motorists Fight Highwaymen and One Is Wounded—Captives Tied to Trees.

(Associated Press Leased Wire) OROFINO, Idaho, June 13.—Several thousand men and boys comprising nearly all of the able-bodied population of three Idaho counties were pressing organized and unorganized searches through this mountainous country today for four armed bandits who yesterday abducted W. B. Kinne, lieutenant governor of Idaho, and two men who attempted to rescue the official.

Kinne, W. L. Tribbey and Paul Kille, who attempted to help him, made their escape last night after the bandits had tied them to trees and then drove off in Tribbey's automobile. Kinne was unhurt, but Kille was suffering from a gunshot wound in the leg and a badly battered head, the result of a battle that ensued when he and Tribbey attempted to help the official. Tribbey also was suffering from bruises.

Capture Chance Good The search was being carried on by three main posses, headed by deputy Sheriffs of Lewis, Clearwater and Nez Perce counties, and around this group were residents of every town, farmers and others hastily organized by volunteer leaders. Every highway and road for a radius of a hundred miles was being watched and groups of men with bloodhounds were pressing deep into the heavily timbered and mountainous Clearwater river country on the theory that the men may have abandoned the automobile and taken to the mountains. Following a report from near Orofino that a sedan similar to Tribbey's was seen speeding up the highway near there, the theory was expressed that the bandits were hidden in the sparsely settled region populated only by scattered lumber camps. In this event, officers said, capture was only a matter of hours because roads dwindle into trails and cannot be traversed by an automobile. And as description of the men has been broadcast, a stranger would have difficulty in getting through the cordons surrounding the country.

Abduction and Battle Kinne, traveling from Lewiston to his home here, was attacked by bandits shortly after leaving Lewiston. They boarded his car, ordered him into the rear compartment and drove off at a furious rate of speed. Near Orofino, Kinne said, a front tire blew out and the automobile catapulted into a ditch, bottom side up. No one was hurt.

When Tribbey and Paul Kille, of Orofino, drove up they started to assist the wreck victims and were greeted with drawn pistols. (Continued on page 4)

The planes fell from an altitude of 6,000 feet. Cadet Troup landing in his plane. Both planes were demolished.

The planes were flying in two three-ship formations, and the wings of the planes flown by Troup and Wood came together while the flyers were above the clouds. Officers at Kelly field had their first intimation of the tragedy when Wood came down out of the clouds swinging to his parachute.

Mrs. Hatfield and Mrs. Virden are candidates for the three year term and Mr. Thomson is a candidate for the two-year term.

FRENCH PLANE FINALLY HOPS OFF FOR PARIS

Yellow Bird Reported Going Strong.

American Green Flash Less Fortunate, Crashing on Maine Beach Again.

DAMAGE IS SERIOUS

Bride of Three Days Says Goodbye to Frenchman; Vibration of Ship Is Reduced.

(Associated Press Leased Wire) OLD ORCHARD, Maine, June 13.—One of the two trans-Atlantic airplanes got away to a good start today for Paris, but the second, destined for Rome, crashed before she left the ground.

The Yellow Bird, huge French monoplane, manned by a crew of three young Frenchmen, made a beautiful take-off and sped away to the east accompanied by a coast guard amphibian.

The Green Flash, American plane, with an American crew, nosed over on the beach and swerved into a ground loop about mid-way of her run. The ground loop turned her nose directly about. Lewis A. Yanshey and Roger Q. Williams of the American plane were not injured.

Previous Mishaps The Green Flash nearly duplicated its accident of two weeks ago today. At that time one of the wheels dropped into soft sand and caused it to ground loop, but only the wheel and a few stay wires were damaged.

The plane was traveling at a much higher rate of speed today and the damage was more serious. The French plane got away two weeks ago but was forced to return after 20 minutes because of a leak in the main fuel tank.

The Yellow Bird today was using a mixture of benzol and gasoline. The benzol was put in the fuel to reduce the detonation and vibration which caused the leak on the first take-off.

The mixture will be about 40 per cent benzol for the first two hours of flight. It then will be cut to 20 per cent and later to 20 per cent.

The crew of the Yellow Bird—Arno Lott, Jr., sponsor and pilot; Jean Assolant, pilot, and Rene Lefevre, navigator.

Bride Sees Take-Off Assolant, a 23-year-old pilot checked out, was married three days ago to Miss Pauline Parker of New York.

She accompanied him to the beach this morning and was very grave as she bade him goodbye and saw the plane roar down the hard packed sands of the beach. The Frenchmen carried two automobile inner tubes for use as life preservers. Lott ordered a good sized rubber boat discarded because of the added weight.
