ROSEBURG, OREGON, THURSDAY, JUNE 13, 1929.

VACATION TIME IS HERE

HERE in this Umpqua valley when one thinks of going some place for a vacation one is reminded of the old saw about carrying coal to Newcastle. This is vacation land itself. But, vacation time is here and thoughts turn inevitably to the outdoor places. The t. b. m.'s (tired business man's) mind drifts from its invoice checking to wondering whether the tires on the car are good enough for a trip up to Steamboat. Where to go for a vacation outing? Why we can just start in any direction from Roseburg and before we have gone a hundred miles will have passed one or several ideal spots.

East to Diamond lake and the many North Umpqua resorts, west to the ocean, north and south, charming camping spots along beautiful rivers. Ocean resorts, mountains, hunting, boating, swimming, fishing—everything any vacationer can enjoy any place in the world—we can enjoy them all within three hours drive from our home. Really isn't this a most wonderful part of the world in which to live?

The business men of Bandon are awake to the fact that Roseburg and Douglas county folks have a wide range of choice of vacation places and they are making a strong bid for our patronage. On another page of this newspaper will be seen an advertisement, sponsored by Bandon business men, covering most of a page, inviting News-Review readers to come to Bandon "By the sea" and enjoy the Bandon beaches. It is an invitation that is mighty appealing.

POEM FOR THE DAY

By LOUIS ALBERT BANKS

A KIND DEED MAY HAVE WIDE RANGE

The Associated Press brings this note from Buffalo, New York:

"Merle A. Moltrup, pilot of Colonial Western Airways, has received a commendatory letter from the Chamber of Commerce of Silver Creek, N. Y., a small town near Buffalo, for his efforts in attracting the residents of the community recently to a burning dwelling over which he was flying on an air mail flight from Buffalo to Cleveland.

"Two children, trapped in the house, were saved by firemen who were aroused by Moltrup's airplane, which he flew low near the burning house as he raced his motor to draw attention to neighbors and directed them to the blaze."

Two little children have their chance
At all life's glorious romance
Because a pilot flying o'er
Had kindness at his heart's red core,
And quick as flash his airship stopped,
Out of the sky as quickly dropped
And gave the firemen swift alarm
And saved the children from all harm.

'Tis often so in human life
That chances come amid life's strife
To do some sudden kindly deed
If we with quick attention heed
Thus be, to all, God's messenger
And act with ready brotherhood.
We cannot tell how far 'twill bless,
How many reach with happiness.

These children may grow wise and great,
Become the pillars of the state.
The world may gain an added thrill
For this man's deed of rare good will.
It may be more than sentiment—
That here was saved a President
Who in some great decisive hour
Will sway the land with wisdom's power.

This is a lesson all should learn—
Each to himself its message turn,
And watch with keenest searching eye
As through this life we swiftly fly,
To bless our neighbors round about
And help them with our warning shout,
The things that threaten others' good,
As opportunity occur.

COUNTY COUNCIL OF P. T. A. TO CONVENE ON FRIDAY EVENING

A special program has been arranged for the meeting of the county council of the Parent Teachers association to be held tomorrow evening. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the music room of the Junior high school. The meeting is for members and all citizens interested in child welfare work. A short business meeting and election of officers will be held during the evening.

The program as arranged includes mass singing; "Poet and Peasant" overture, by Von Suppe, by Miss Avis Negley, a discussion of P. T. A. activities by J. E. McClintock; duet, "Here Comes the Parade," by Genevieve and Virginia Ness, and a reading by Mrs. Glenn Radabaugh.

PLANE REPAIRED

Work of installing the new motor in the West Coast Air Transport plane, forced down here last week by engine trouble, was completed today. The factory sent a complete new motor to replace the one wrecked, when a piston broke and was ground up through the working parts of the other motor. Gordon Burnett, chief mechanic for the West Coast company and Kenneth Householder, mechanic and copilot, and Leo G. Devaney, superintendent, have been making the change. All three of these men are former Roseburg men. It was expected, after a test hop, to fly the plane back to Portland this evening. Glenn McAllister, of the Terminal hotel plans to make the trip in the ship.

TWO DEER KILLED

Two big buck deer were brought to the city this morning by Ed Walker, deputy game warden. One of the animals was hit and killed by an auto stage, and the other was shot by hunters out of season. The illegal hunters were not identified. The two animals were dressed out and brought to this city, where their fine condition attracted much comment. The excellent feed on the range is causing the deer to become unusually fat, and their numbers insures good hunting this fall.

OUT OUR WAY

By Williams

The Office Cat

Mrs. Newlywed: "Don't you think I put too much salt in the soup, dear?"

Mr. Newlywed: "Not at all, darling. There is perhaps not quite enough soup for the salt, that's all."

Mrs. Mack: "I'm bothered with a little wart that I'd like to have removed."

Dr. Jones: "The divorce lawyer is at the second door to your left."

May—You haven't brains enough to cook dinner.

Belle—No, but I have brains enough to get one without cooking it.

"What's the fuss in the schoolyard, sonny?" asked the gentleman passing a ward school.

"Why, the doctor's just been around examin' us, an' one of the deficient boys is knocking hell out of a perfect kid."

"I hear that your divorced wife has made up her mind to marry a struggling young lawyer."

"Well, if Margaret has made up her mind he might as well cease struggling."

American Slang

All right, all right, all right, what's eating you? You're the cat's adenoids, aren't you? Beat it! I wasn't born yesterday, big boy. Banana oil! You're the berries, all right, all right, but you can't buffalo a wise guy. Raspberries! You big stiff, pull in your nose! D'ja get that, huh? So's your old man!

And when the Englishman tried to say it:

"Righto, righto, righto, what's devouring you, old chappie? You claim to be the kitty's mucous membrane, do you not? Pound it! I didn't come into the world within the last fortnight, large lad! Fruit juice! You're the huckleberries, I must admit, you know, but you can't kangaroo a philosopher, don't you know, old bean? Coconuts! You monstrous unlimber laddie, kindly pull in your nasal organ! Did you receive that, old egg? Your father is, too!"

WASHINGTON TO REGISTER ALL TOURIST CARS

Word was received here today through the A. A. A. office that the state of Washington will require registration of tourist cars after June 16, according to M. D. Hannah, field representative of the Oregon State Motor association, who is spending several days in this city making his headquarters at the chamber of commerce office. The state of Washington, heretofore, has not required such registration, but it now putting in to effect the same system as used in Oregon.

Northbound cars will register at the A. A. A. offices in Vancouver and Centralia, southbound cars at Bellingham, west bound cars at Walla Walla or Spokane and from the Island at Port Angeles.

Due to the fact that many cars now entering will remain longer than the 16th, the state is already starting its registration system.

Mr. Hannah, who is doing field work for the association and is assisting local people in planning their tours for their vacations, is being assisted by A. C. Smith, who arrived from the Portland office this morning.

ANOTHER TALLMAN CLUE TURNS OUT TO BE WORTHLESS

Apartment House Intruder at Los Angeles Other Than Suspect, Says Police Head.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

LOS ANGELES, June 13.—Herman Cline, chief of Los Angeles police detectives, said today that it had been positively established that the intruder who entered the apartment of Mrs. Harry Stern at Hollywood late last night was not William L. Tallman, sought in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Virginia Patty.

Mrs. Stern reported that the man gained entrance to her apartment by a ruse. She said he told her he was a radioman, and thinking he had come to repair her radio set, she admitted him. She noticed his unkempt appearance, she said, and commented on it. He replied that he had been in an automobile accident and asked to wash his hands.

Showing him to the bathroom, Mrs. Stern said he reappeared with several bath towels with which he bound her hands and feet, then gagged her and forced her into a telephone closet, locking the door. She succeeded in freeing herself sufficiently to be able to telephone police. Shown pictures of Tallman, Mrs. Stern identified him as the raider, police said.

Officers arriving at the apartment found furniture and fixtures in disarray, indicating the man had ransacked the place thoroughly. In the pantry police found remains of what apparently had been a hastily consumed lunch from the refrigerator. A purse containing $20 was reported missing by Mrs. Stern.

CONVENTION OF SPANISH WAR VETS TO BE BIG EVENT

The state convention of the Spanish War Veterans to be held in Roseburg July 15, 16 and 17, will be the largest ever held in the state, according to the expectations of E. L. Clark, of Bend, senior vice-commander of the department of Oregon, who was a visitor in Roseburg today.

"I have visited nearly every camp in the state," Mr. Clark said this morning, "and I find a great deal of enthusiasm over our coming convention. I confidently believe that there will be not less than 2,000 people present for this convention and that it will be the biggest we have ever held."

Mr. Clark last night accompanied a delegation of sixteen members of the Roseburg camp to Marshfield, where a seafood banquet was served by the Marshfield veterans. The Coos Bay camp reported that every member is planning to attend the Roseburg meeting in July.

Do You Know Your Own State?

Excerpts from "Oregon Geographic Names" by McArthur, which explain the origin of names of geographic landmarks throughout the state.

FORT STEVENS

FORT STEVENS, Clatsop County.—Isaac Ingall Stevens was governor of Washington territory, 1853-57, and delegate to congress 1857-61. He was killed while leading the seventy-ninth regiment, New York volunteers at Chantilly, Virginia, against the Confederates, September 1, 1862. He was major-general, and had seized the colors of the regiment after the color-sergeant had fallen. Governor Stevens was highly energetic and constantly active, and was very popular with the people of the territory. The route of his journey to the territory in 1853, laid out and surveyed by him, as one for a railroad, was largely followed by the Northern Pacific. Fort Stevens, in Oregon, was named for him by Captain George H. Elliott, United States engineer, who built the fortifications there and at Cape Disappointment in 1864.

NEW TYPE TRACTOR MOWER IS BEING SUBJECTED TESTS

A tractor mower, the first of its kind to be received in this county, and one of the first to be used in this state, is being demonstrated this week at the Busenbark place at Melrose. The machine was obtained by the Farm Bureau Exchange and is being subjected to hard tests to determine its efficiency.

The machine is manufactured by the John Deere company and is used with their general purpose tractor, the tractor also being suitable for all other customary farm uses.

An effort has been made for several years to develop a suitable tractor mower, but because of the amount of power used and ground conditions there has been considerable difficulty in securing successful operation.

The new mower, however, which was developed last year, is reported to be giving excellent success and is being produced on a large scale by the company, and is finding ready sale, particularly in the middle west.

So far as is known the machine obtained by the Farm Bureau is the first of the make to be brought to Oregon, and it is known positively to be the first in the county. It is being tested at the Busenbark place, where there is one of the heaviest alfalfa stands in the county, and so far has been giving fine results.
