

WOMEN'S PAGE

SOCIETY

By MILDRED BYNON

All Contributions to this Page—Society, Women's Clubs, and Personal—Should Be Telephoned to the Society Editor by Friday of Each Week.

WUMMER and its round of out-of-door sports and affairs has come at last and every highway and byway is crowded with motor cars whizzing to a cool spot. Many delightful affairs are planned for the out-of-door and the summer camps along the North Umpqua are live with activity. Cool breezes and softly shaded lights are found along the river for society folk are finding their summer homes the ideal place to entertain at this season. Several affairs were held on the river this week. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bubar were hosts at one of the parties at the week with Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Lockwood also inviting a group to their summer lodge at Idlewild.

The Wharton home on the river one of the loveliest spots in summer is a popular place and this week Miss Peggy Durgan was the inspiration of a lovely party for the younger set.

Brides and brides-to-be are sharing honors at many parties this season and approaching nuptials are holding the interest of the social world.

Home and its many offerings in Roseburg are delightful, but the open road has its attractions and during the past warm days many are leaving for vacation in the north or south, and many interesting folk from other cities are choosing Roseburg as their vacation home.

Roseburg Garden Club to Meet Monday

There will be a meeting of the Garden club next Monday, July 1, at the parish house at 8 o'clock.

The program committee has arranged to have an exhibit of lilies, to which members are asked to contribute. Mrs. Hyman of Deer Creek Inn will exhibit and will be there with other expert growers of lilies to tell how to do and lead in a round-table discussion. Members are asked to bring their friends and to introduce any prospective new members to the secretary.

There will be discussion of the recent flower show and plans for the future, and of the part to be taken by the Garden club in the city beautification campaign.

Newlyweds Are Honor Guests at Surprise

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Ischoff, who arrived in this city last week following their marriage in Lane, South Dakota, were surprised last Thursday evening when a number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. Ischoff's parents in their honor. An enjoyable evening was spent with musical numbers, readings and games being features of the evening's entertainment. Late in the evening a dainty luncheon was served.

Campfire Girls Enjoy Hike and Picnic

The Pompano Campfire Girls and their associates hiked to Umpqua park June 29, where they enjoyed a picnic and a swimming party.

The members present were: Elsie Bussard, Lucille Suoko, Olga Kent, Margery Stephenson, May Wood and Grace Rarige and guests were: Theresa Conn, Barbara Nelson, Edith White, Miss Ruby Neal, Edith Gibbs, Miss Beulah Lacy, Mrs. Geo. Clarke and son, Donald, Ward and Gerald Spitzer.

Mrs. Soules has taken the leadership while Mrs. Plancher is in the east, but has planned very interesting excursions for the summer. The group is sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary.

Interesting Party is Given on Thursday

The First Methodist church was the scene of a delightful party Thursday evening when members of the Epworth League and their invited guests enjoyed a party. Games were played throughout the evening and refreshments were served at small tables centered with pink roses.

Guests present for the function were: Dr. C. A. Edwards, Miss Mildred Hennig, Miss Evelyn Tompkins, Miss Hazel Richardson, Miss Bernice Branch, Miss Marjorie Smith, Miss Audrey McLaughlin, Miss Gladys Moorhead, Miss Barbara Clark, Miss Margaret Horn, Miss Virginia Smith, Miss Verne Picketts, Miss Maxine McLaughlin, Miss Marian Hagar, Miss Edythe Boothart, Miss Reva Neal, Robert Guen, Delois Richardson, Rex Applegate, Dan Entler, Johnny Zimcrick, Walter Henry, Floyd Orves, Adrian Bowen, William Urcutt, Charles Cook, Lawrence Newport, Stanley Kidder, Richard Liza and John Moorhead.

Mrs. Louie Korbhaugen and daughters, Miss Bertha and Miss Ina, are enjoying a week in Portland and Forest Grove visiting with relatives. Mrs. Sylvia Douglas, who has been a house guest at the Kohl home home accompanied them as far as her home in Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. Trueblood Entertain at Picnic

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Trueblood were hosts at their country home on Wednesday of this week to members of the Senior Bible class of the First M. E. church. The guests motored to the home, where games were played and a delicious picnic dinner was served. Those enjoying the afternoon and evening were Rev. and Mrs. Charles A. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cray, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tuck, Mrs. Clara Howard, Mrs. W. M. Orr, Mrs. H. W. Bell, Mrs. Elizabeth Porter, Mrs. Mary Patterson, Mrs. Alice A. Overton, Mrs. Elizabeth Hein, Mrs. A. C. Whiters, Mrs. L. C. Davis, Miss Charlotte Graham and the host and hostess.

Miss Elsie Opal Barker and Mr. Earl Oden of this city were quietly married at the home of Rev. W. H. Baird in Roseburg on June 25 at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. Only members of the immediate families were present at the nuptials.

Miss Josephine Jennings is Bride of This Week

Miss Josephine Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Jennings of this city, was married to Mr. Kenneth V. Rank of Myrtle Creek at a quiet ceremony Saturday evening at the home of her parents. Rev. W. H. Baird officiated at the service.

The bride was lovely in a white tulle crepe ensemble. The couple were attendants. The ceremony immediately following the ceremony a wedding supper was served and the couple left for the south on a wedding journey. On their return they will reside at Myrtle Creek, where the groom is engaged in farming.

Mrs. Rank is well known here and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Rank of Myrtle Creek.

Mrs. Norman Fisher is Charming Hostess

The North Side Sunshine club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Norman Fisher on Thursday afternoon at her new home at Kelly's Corner. Luncheon was served at four o'clock at tables lavishly with spring flowers. Canterbury bells were used about the rooms in profusion.

Enjoying the afternoon with Mrs. Fisher were Mrs. E. P. Ballou, Mrs. Fred Bowen, Mrs. Ben Childson, Mrs. Robert Childson, Mrs. L. Goodman, Mrs. R. Harves, Mrs. L. Ingles, Mrs. W. Walter, Mrs. George Marsters, Mrs. M. Komar, Mrs. William Stark, Mrs. P. K. Kramer, Mrs. Homer Kroske and Mrs. F. O. Owen.

Mrs. William Fisher will entertain the club at their next afternoon.

Ladies Day at the County Club was not observed this week due to the closing of the highway to the club. The regular day falling on July 4 this week the committee will announce later in the week the day to be observed. At the last tournament a Scotch foursome was an interesting event with Mrs. J. M. Judd and Mrs. A. G. Sutherland winning the prize.

Miss Hylda Hughes Inspiration for Shower

Miss Hylda Hughes was the inspiration for a lovely party on Thursday evening when a group of friends gathered and gave her a delicious shower. Miss Hughes will be a bride of next month, planning her trousseau with Mr. Gordon Chittfield of Pomona, Cal., at a lovely church wedding in this city.

Friends of Miss Hughes gathered for the evening were Miss Lucille Gormond, Miss Hazel Strickland, Miss Helen Rapp, Miss Isabel Warren, Miss Margaret Page, Miss Hazel Thompson, Miss Helen Baker, Miss Joan Byrd, Miss Jean Whitney, Miss Margaret Jennings, Miss Bernice Redburn, Miss Ruth Von Peschel and Miss Charlene Olson.

Lady Elks planning on joining the Red Cross swimming classes for the summer months are requested to order to Mrs. Sarah Patterson to order. She is the club may arrange to enjoy the lessons as a group.

Mrs. Jess Hicks is Hostess to Club

Mrs. Jess Hicks was a charming hostess for the members of the Roseburg Art and Embroidery club on June 19 at her home on North Jackson street. The afternoon was spent in needlework after a short business meeting.

Those enjoying the afternoon were Mrs. Earl Decker, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Virginia Campbell, Mrs. W. Brown, Mrs. Earl Parker, Mrs. James West, Mrs. Alice Rhoades, Mrs. A. H. Hummel, Mrs. L. W. Ingles, Mrs. H. Perry, Mrs. Carl Palm, Mrs. Ella Palm, Mrs. Henry Snyder, Mrs. Walter Stuberfield and Mrs. J. G. Stephenson.

The club will meet on July 2 at the home of Mrs. Earl Decker.

Miss Kathryn Dunham Weds at Marshfield

At a quiet wedding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Dunham in Marshfield, Miss Kathryn Dunham of Myrtle Point became the bride of Mr. Chatham E. Hulling of Myrtle Point Sunday. Miss Dunham was a former instructor in the Roseburg schools and is well known here.

The bride was lovely in a gown of huge georgette. Mrs. Arthur Barkerville played the wedding march and the couple were married under a beautiful arch of roses. Baskets of roses and fern were used about the room. Miss Mattie Hulling attended the bride and R. V. Dunham acted as best man. Rev. Arthur Barkerville of the First Presbyterian church of Marshfield read the service.

Immediately following the ceremony the wedding party drove to Marshfield where the wedding breakfast was served in the private dining room which was lavishly with spring flowers.

Those in the wedding party were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Dunham of Coos Bay, Mark Dunham of Portland, Miss Kathryn Wood of Yaki, Mrs. W. A. Cray, Mrs. G. A. Bradburn and son Arle of Roseburg, Mrs. F. E. Collier of Roseburg, Mr. and Mrs. Lundy and Miss Mattie Hulling of Myrtle Point, Miss Helen Dunham of North Bend and Robert and Arlene Dunham of Marshfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Hulling will make their home in Myrtle Point where the former is connected with Huling, Lundy & Sons and Mrs. Dunham is manager of a store.

Past Noble Grands' Club Enjoys Moonlight Picnic

The Past Noble Grands' club of the Rebekah lodge, together with their husbands as invited guests, held their usual meeting in the form of a moonlight picnic this week. The lovely grounds of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tenec Buserbark were the scene of the affair. Guests were seated at one long table and a delicious dinner was served. The usual business meeting followed the dinner hour. Mrs. Oliver Johnson drew the prize for the club for the month. Games were a diversion of the evening until a late hour.

Guests invited to share the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Buserbark were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Picketts, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goff, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Vivian Jackson, Mrs. Vera Wetmer, Mr. Earl Rhoades, Mrs. Alva Weatherall, Mrs. Effie Schwartz, Mrs. Charles Ferrer, Mrs. Claude Hosmer, Mrs. Maude Pyle, Mrs. Ted Bloom, Mrs. Clara Lawfield, Mrs. C. H. Rush, Miss Ila Caulbach, Miss May Fisher, Miss Ruth Shaden, Mr. C. E. Mansfield and Mr. Kenneth Picketts.

Mrs. Nellie Thompson of San Francisco is the House Guest at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ness

Mrs. Nellie Thompson of San Francisco is the house guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ness. The guest returned to this city during the week with Miss Dorothy and Marian Ness and Thomas Ness, Jr., who have enjoyed a motor trip and visit with relatives in the south.

Lady Elks Hostess Group at Delightful Party

The Lady Elks were charming hostesses at one of the most delightful affairs of the summer season on Thursday evening at the Elks parlors. Members of the order and their families were invited for an evening of cards, the function being the last of the season given by the Lady Elks. Seventeen tables of bridge and four of games were in play. A dainty luncheon was served at small tables bountiful with sweet peas, snap dragons and fern.

Prizes were awarded for bridge to Mrs. S. L. Kidder, Mrs. Victor Short, Mrs. Whipple, H. J. Whitehouse, Mrs. E. W. H. Whitehouse, Mrs. E. A. Britton, Mrs. B. P. Stillson, Miss Pearl Jones, H. C. Cram, A. J. Hochstadt and Fred Green. Prizes for the season series were awarded during the evening with Mrs. Woodley Stephenson holding first prize in bridge and Miss Pearl Jones at sol.

Committees in charge of the affair Thursday were Mrs. C. W. Parker, in charge of five hundred, Mrs. Thomas Ness and Mrs. Clara Darby, bridge. Mrs. Ivan Picketts, assisted by Mrs. H. C. Stearns and Mrs. E. V. Hoover, served the guests.

Miss Carmen Atterbury is Lovely Bride

At a beautiful ceremony at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening, June 22, at St. Mark's Episcopal church in Portland Miss Carmen Atterbury, formerly of Roseburg became the bride of William V. Hogg of Portland. Miss Atterbury is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. John Atterbury of this city.

Miss Atterbury was lovely in a tiered green chiffon beaded gown and wore silver pumps. Her hair was held in place with a hairpin of orange blossoms. She carried a large shower bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Esther Elman of Portland, also a former Roseburg maid, attended Miss Atterbury crowned in pink tulle and carrying a sweet pea corsage. Jack V. Hoize of Portland was best man.

Only the immediate families of the bride and groom were present at the ceremony.

Miss Atterbury is a graduate of Roseburg high school and attended Oregon State college where she is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Her groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hogg of Portland and is a buyer for a large department store in Oakland, California. Following a wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Hogg will reside in Oakland.

Miss Frances Butner Hostess to Younger Set

One of the loveliest affairs of the week was given on Wednesday evening at the beautiful home of Mrs. Frances Butner in west Roseburg. Miss Frances Butner was hostess for the affair and invited a number of her friends to share in a bridge and stunner party. The home was charming with sweet peas and rosebuds grown in the Butner hothouse. Bridge was the feature of the evening hours with Miss Shirley Knight holding high scores and Miss Margaret Hewitt second. Prizes in the form of dainty and unusual packs of bridge cards were presented. At midnight the guests enjoyed a dainty luncheon and the guests spent the night at the Butner home. Breakfast was served to the guests late in the morning.

Those invited to enjoy the lovely affair were Misses Margaret Hewitt, Elizabeth Renner, Vera McClintock, Dorothy Goodrich, Pauline Baber, Shirley Knight and Dorothy Marsters.

Dance is Planned for Tuesday Evening

The members of the L. P. T. club and their guests will dance at Rainbow Gardens on next Tuesday evening, July 2nd. This will be the last dance of the season. The following committee is in charge: Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Ness, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lockwood, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barth, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Winberry, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Childson, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. McNeill and Dr. and Mrs. Leo A. Wells.

Miss Helen Huntington of Eugene arrived in Roseburg during the tourist week and will be the house guest of her sister, Miss Anna Mae Huntington of this city for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Knauss Guests at Picnic

Maple Grove was the scene of a swimming party and picnic supper on Tuesday evening of this week when Mr. and Mrs. Archie Taylor entertained a group in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knauss of Portland. A picnic dinner was served at 8:30 o'clock and a delightful evening was enjoyed by the guests. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knauss, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Carstens, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Whipple, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Deeg, Mr. and Mrs. Harrie Booth, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Osborn, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Quinn and the host and hostess.

EUROPE'S QUEENS SNUB PARISIAN STYLES TO SHOP IN LONDON

By MILDRED BRONNER, NEA Service Writer

LONDON, June 29.—Paris is the destination of most tourist shoppers. But London claims the proud distinction of being the favorite town of queens and princesses.

Of course England is "home" to more royalty than any other country in the world. It is only natural that queens and princesses should like to come home to shop. And it is natural, too, that London shops should know what royalty likes.

Call the diminishing roll of European queens. Eliminate those who have scant interest in clothes. The rest shop in London.

Some Queens Stay Home

Sweden's queen is old and ill and clothes do not interest her greatly. She does little traveling. Denmark's queen sticks pretty close to Copenhagen. Yugoslavia's queen divides her time between Belgrade and Bucharest, where her mother lives. Queen Wilhelmina, of Holland, is getting along in years and finds all her clothes needs easily satisfied in The Hague or Amsterdam. The Italy of the Fascist proclaims its independence of the rest of the world and the queen does her shopping in Rome.

But Queen Mary of England, her sister-in-law Queen Maud of Norway, and her kinswoman, Queen Marie of Roumania, all shop in London. So does Queen Ena of Spain and Queen Elizabeth of Greece and Portugal, who has lived in England a great deal of the time, always shops in London. So does Queen Mary's kinswoman, the Crown Princess of Sweden, whose patronage is a great advertisement and other famous people whose patronage is a great advertisement.

When the queens and princesses go to other shops, it is "Your Majesty This" and "Your Majesty That." When they go to this Russian-owned shop, it is nothing of the sort. The keen little old lady who runs this branch has known these royalties since their girlhood. They call her by her Christian name. She calls them by theirs. The shopping expedition is not a mere business transaction. It is also a social function. Clothes are, of course, looked at and bought. But there is much gay chatter about mutual acquaintances and the good old times and there is the social cup of tea at the end.

But before all this happens, there is a great stir in the place. The princess owner turns the shop upside down. The mirrors are rearranged. The most comfortable chairs and stools are all conveniently placed. Knowing their taste in materials and colors, all the latest gowns in these lines are made ready for exhibition. The prettiest mannequins are ordered to stand by. In addition, usually some well born society girls come in to act as voluntary mannequins. The silver vases are filled with the

Shoppers on a royal scale are Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, left; Dowager Queen Marie of Rumania, center, above; Queen Ena of Spain, below; and Queen Mary of England, right.

When the queens and princesses go to other shops, it is "Your Majesty This" and "Your Majesty That." When they go to this Russian-owned shop, it is nothing of the sort. The keen little old lady who runs this branch has known these royalties since their girlhood. They call her by her Christian name. She calls them by theirs. The shopping expedition is not a mere business transaction. It is also a social function. Clothes are, of course, looked at and bought. But there is much gay chatter about mutual acquaintances and the good old times and there is the social cup of tea at the end.

But before all this happens, there is a great stir in the place. The princess owner turns the shop upside down. The mirrors are rearranged. The most comfortable chairs and stools are all conveniently placed. Knowing their taste in materials and colors, all the latest gowns in these lines are made ready for exhibition. The prettiest mannequins are ordered to stand by. In addition, usually some well born society girls come in to act as voluntary mannequins. The silver vases are filled with the

When the queens and princesses go to other shops, it is "Your Majesty This" and "Your Majesty That." When they go to this Russian-owned shop, it is nothing of the sort. The keen little old lady who runs this branch has known these royalties since their girlhood. They call her by her Christian name. She calls them by theirs. The shopping expedition is not a mere business transaction. It is also a social function. Clothes are, of course, looked at and bought. But there is much gay chatter about mutual acquaintances and the good old times and there is the social cup of tea at the end.

But before all this happens, there is a great stir in the place. The princess owner turns the shop upside down. The mirrors are rearranged. The most comfortable chairs and stools are all conveniently placed. Knowing their taste in materials and colors, all the latest gowns in these lines are made ready for exhibition. The prettiest mannequins are ordered to stand by. In addition, usually some well born society girls come in to act as voluntary mannequins. The silver vases are filled with the

When the queens and princesses go to other shops, it is "Your Majesty This" and "Your Majesty That." When they go to this Russian-owned shop, it is nothing of the sort. The keen little old lady who runs this branch has known these royalties since their girlhood. They call her by her Christian name. She calls them by theirs. The shopping expedition is not a mere business transaction. It is also a social function. Clothes are, of course, looked at and bought. But there is much gay chatter about mutual acquaintances and the good old times and there is the social cup of tea at the end.

But before all this happens, there is a great stir in the place. The princess owner turns the shop upside down. The mirrors are rearranged. The most comfortable chairs and stools are all conveniently placed. Knowing their taste in materials and colors, all the latest gowns in these lines are made ready for exhibition. The prettiest mannequins are ordered to stand by. In addition, usually some well born society girls come in to act as voluntary mannequins. The silver vases are filled with the

When the queens and princesses go to other shops, it is "Your Majesty This" and "Your Majesty That." When they go to this Russian-owned shop, it is nothing of the sort. The keen little old lady who runs this branch has known these royalties since their girlhood. They call her by her Christian name. She calls them by theirs. The shopping expedition is not a mere business transaction. It is also a social function. Clothes are, of course, looked at and bought. But there is much gay chatter about mutual acquaintances and the good old times and there is the social cup of tea at the end.

But before all this happens, there is a great stir in the place. The princess owner turns the shop upside down. The mirrors are rearranged. The most comfortable chairs and stools are all conveniently placed. Knowing their taste in materials and colors, all the latest gowns in these lines are made ready for exhibition. The prettiest mannequins are ordered to stand by. In addition, usually some well born society girls come in to act as voluntary mannequins. The silver vases are filled with the

When the queens and princesses go to other shops, it is "Your Majesty This" and "Your Majesty That." When they go to this Russian-owned shop, it is nothing of the sort. The keen little old lady who runs this branch has known these royalties since their girlhood. They call her by her Christian name. She calls them by theirs. The shopping expedition is not a mere business transaction. It is also a social function. Clothes are, of course, looked at and bought. But there is much gay chatter about mutual acquaintances and the good old times and there is the social cup of tea at the end.

But before all this happens, there is a great stir in the place. The princess owner turns the shop upside down. The mirrors are rearranged. The most comfortable chairs and stools are all conveniently placed. Knowing their taste in materials and colors, all the latest gowns in these lines are made ready for exhibition. The prettiest mannequins are ordered to stand by. In addition, usually some well born society girls come in to act as voluntary mannequins. The silver vases are filled with the

When the queens and princesses go to other shops, it is "Your Majesty This" and "Your Majesty That." When they go to this Russian-owned shop, it is nothing of the sort. The keen little old lady who runs this branch has known these royalties since their girlhood. They call her by her Christian name. She calls them by theirs. The shopping expedition is not a mere business transaction. It is also a social function. Clothes are, of course, looked at and bought. But there is much gay chatter about mutual acquaintances and the good old times and there is the social cup of tea at the end.

But before all this happens, there is a great stir in the place. The princess owner turns the shop upside down. The mirrors are rearranged. The most comfortable chairs and stools are all conveniently placed. Knowing their taste in materials and colors, all the latest gowns in these lines are made ready for exhibition. The prettiest mannequins are ordered to stand by. In addition, usually some well born society girls come in to act as voluntary mannequins. The silver vases are filled with the favorite flowers of the royal visitor. At last the appointed hour arrives. The little princess is at the door. A tall handsome figure of a woman steps out of a big car and rushes up.

"Greetings Exchanged"

Queen Marie of Roumania is, of course, at present in mourning for her husband, but before his death her purchases in London used to run especially to various shades of violet and mauve. The Queen of Spain, prevailing over the most severe and formal court in the world, buys many black dresses. But she also has a fondness for violet shades which are very well with her light hair, blue eyes and blonde coloring. One of her last purchases in London was a dress in brilliant sequins which became a favorite of her royal household.

To the Queen's Taste

The Queen of Belgium favors dark clothes for day wear and delicate pastel shades for evening wear. Another of her favorites is a right royal red adorned with ermine which makes a real queenly garment. Queen Maud of Norway is an independent shopper. She does not let the dressmakers tell her. She tells them. She knows exactly what she wants and how she wants it. It may be added that none of these royal customers go in for very short skirts.

With Queen Marie, being visitors, go to the shops. In queen plinks and chooses. Queen to her. In other words, the favored dressmaker takes her to the Buckingham Palace where the queen picks and chooses. Queen Marie, being very fair in hair and coloring, usually chooses delicate shades of gray and blue. She has never made the slightest concession to the short skirt mode. Her clothes have always come down well towards her shoe tops.

Thursday afternoon the lawn of the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Carstens in Laurelwood was the gathering place of a group of small folk who honored Clyde Carstens Jr. on the occasion of his sixteenth birthday. Games were played on the lawn by the young guests, after which a dainty birthday luncheon was served. A huge birthday cake with six bright candles graced the table around which the guests were seated.

Enjoying the party with Clyde Jr. were Athalia Taylor, Lois and Albin Hills, Marie and Alfred Knauss, Junior Denn, John Ness, Tommy Hartung, Dickie Carstens, Edward Smith and Jacqueline Carstens.

Mrs. G. H. McDaniels of Portland and her children are the guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Walter Hamilton, of this city. They plan to return to the metropolis next week.

Surprise is Given for Miss Martha Yeo

A surprise honoring the birthday anniversary of Miss Martha Yeo was given Wednesday evening at the summer lodge of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bubar. The evening hours were spent in the moonlight on the veranda of the lodge, the guests enjoying the pleasant summer evening in the hammocks and porch chairs. A lunkerchief shower was a feature of the evening with Miss Yeo receiving many lovely and dainty knickerchiefs. A delightful luncheon was served with a brilliantly lighted birthday cake as a center piece. Sixteen guests were bid to honor Miss Yeo.

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Vannie Williams of Raymond, Wash., have received word at Medford of a son born to them at Medford on Friday of this week.

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Vannie Williams of Raymond, Wash., have received word at Medford of a son born to them at Medford on Friday of this week. Mr. Williams is manager of the Western Union at Raymond and was formerly with the company here. Mrs. Williams is with her mother at Medford. Mr. Williams is the son of Mrs. Cora B. Starmer of this city.

Lockwood Summer Lodge Scene of Informal Affair

Rumble Inn, the summer lodge of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lockwood, on the Curry Estate, was a delightful place on Wednesday when Mrs. Lockwood had a number of guests for a potluck luncheon and informal afternoon.

Sharing the afternoon with Mrs. Lockwood at her lovely camp were Mrs. B. Casey, Mrs. S. A. Sanford, Mrs. H. L. Gie, Mrs. Charles Wharton, Mr. George Roack, Mrs. Mose Rice, Mrs. Belle Broadway, Mrs. George Bradburn, Mrs. Jack Harding, Mrs. Foster Butner, Mrs. A. J. Sutherland, Mrs. P. F. Barker, Mrs. Mary Harding, Mrs. B. A. Butler, Mrs. H. H. Stapleton, Mrs. F. W. Capman, Mrs. C. A. Marsters, and Mrs. C. E. Fowler.

Miss Peggy Durgan Inspiration for Party

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Wharton on the river will be the scene of one of the most delightful parties tonight. Miss Peggy Durgan of Eugene, who is visiting at the Wharton home, will be the inspiration for the affair and a group of girls of the younger society folk will be invited as guests.

The river with its trees and boat landing is an ideal spot for such an affair and amid the shadows of the trees and Japanese lanterns casting a soft glow the guests will spend the evening. Boats on the river will be a feature of the evening and sparklers and fireworks on the river will make the affair pleasing. A picnic lunch will be served on the river.

Miss Margaret Post has returned to this city from Grants Pass where she has been the house guest of Miss Louise Hess for the past week.

Mrs. Clyde Carstens Hostess at Lawn Party

Mrs. Clyde Carstens of this city was a lovely hostess Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Arthur Knauss of Portland who is visiting in this city. Bridge tables were arranged on the lawn of the beautiful home in Laurelwood and bowls of spring flowers made the scene delightful. The guests gathered at 2 o'clock and luncheon was served at small tables.

Guests bid to spend the afternoon were Mrs. Hugh Whipple, Mrs. Harrie Booth, Mrs. Joe Denn, Mrs. F. E. Hartung, Mrs. Clifford Fies, Mrs. L. E. Saunders, Miss Catherine Ferguson, Mrs. Frank Hills, Mrs. C. F. Heinlne, Mrs. R. R. Riddle, Mrs. Archie Taylor, Miss Martha Yeo, Mrs. Herbert Quinn, Mrs. O. D. McAllister, Mrs. P. S. Monroe, Mrs. W. L. Brown, and the honor guests.

Mrs. Rockwell Becomes Bride of Henry Weber

Miss Mary Belle Rockwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Rockwell of this city, was a lovely bride Saturday when she was married to Mr. Henry Weber, also of Roseburg. The ceremony took place at the home of Rev. Frank B. Matthews of the First Baptist church at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Miss Rockwell was lovely in a gown of orchid and carried a beautiful shower bouquet. Only immediate relatives of the couple were present.

Miss Rockwell is well known here and is an excellent pipe organist and for the past months has been employed in that capacity in Myrtle Point. Mr. Weber is with the Oregon Battery here and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Weber of this city. The young couple will be at home to their friends on Jackson street.

Picnic is Held by B. Y. P. U. of Baptist Church

The B. Y. P. U. of the Baptist church held a picnic at Umpqua Park Friday evening. Swimming was the early diversion and later a delicious lunch was enjoyed. Games and songs closed the entertainment. At the close of the lunch Miss Ruth Von Pesel, whose birthday fell on that date, was presented with a large birthday cake.

Those present were: Marjorie Smith, Virginia Smith, Clyde Jennings, Mildred Morris, Margaret Jennings, Ruth Von Pesel, Martin Hagar, Helen Kester, Floyd Crovoa, Desale Deiburn, Hazel Thomason, Belle Kester, Evelyn Thomason, Hazel Kester, Gladys Hammond, Veronette Morris, Margaret Pace, Lester Russell, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Thomason, and Fern Thomason.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boyd and sons, Billy and Donald, of the Hotel Hamilton in Portland are the guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Harvill. They are enroute south on a vacation trip and will return over the Dalles-California highway and the McKenzie pass to Portland late in July.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boyd and sons, Billy and Donald, of the Hotel Hamilton in Portland are the guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Harvill. They are enroute south on a vacation trip and will return over the Dalles-California highway and the McKenzie pass to Portland late in July.

Dinner Party is Given Honoring Visitor

Honoring Mrs. Arthur Knauss of Portland who is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heinline, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Walter entertained with a dinner on Friday evening. The dinner table and rooms were lovely with spring flowers, and covers were laid at 7 o'clock for Mrs. Knauss, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heinline, Miss Martha Yeo, and the host and hostess.

Miss Florence Wharton and Miss Marietta Clague arrived here yesterday morning from Honolulu, where they have been teaching for the past year. Miss Wharton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wharton of this city and will spend the summer here. Miss Clague makes her home in Anacosta, Mont., and will be the house guest of Miss Wharton for a few days before going on to her home. She twice visited in Seattle, Wash., before arriving here. They will return to Honolulu in the middle of August to resume their duties.

Miss Florence Wharton and Miss Marietta Clague arrived here yesterday morning from Honolulu, where they have been teaching for the past year. Miss Wharton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wharton of this city and will spend the summer here. Miss Clague makes her home in Anacosta, Mont., and will be the house guest of Miss Wharton for a few days before going on to her home. She twice visited in Seattle, Wash., before arriving here. They will return to Honolulu in the middle of August to resume their duties.

Because Harriet Connor Brown of Washington, D. C., was not too busy to listen to the tales of old people, not too interested in and sure of the superiority of every thing modern and a little scornful of any worth in the good old days, she has won fame and fortune.

Because Harriet Connor Brown of Washington, D. C., was not too busy to listen to the tales of old people, not too interested in and sure of the superiority of every thing modern and a little scornful of any worth in the good old days, she has won fame and fortune.

IMPORTANT YEARS

Grandma Brown's span of days has seen all the vital events of our national. She knew the old pioneer days of prowling Indians and no water to drink. She has lived through the most vital wars, battled in the temperance cause, survived at the Chicago World's Fair, given aid to the World War, prayed for Lindbergh and voted for Hoover.

The biography is not only an account of the things one woman has seen, but in running halogue form preserves her spicy, pungent, mellow, human comments on life as she has seen it.

Harriet Connor Brown who wins the $5000 award is not a daughter or granddaughter, but a daughter-in-law of "Grandma Brown," or Mrs. Maria D. Brown

DAWES COMMENT

Former Vice-President Charles Dawes says of the book: "Here is a fine picture of the New England character as it reacted 200 years after the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers to a new environment. The book is more than that. It is an epic of American life in the early and later days of the Middle West."

Most of us in this bustling modern day are "too busy to bother with the old folks." We sort of assume that they have nothing for us. But the famous "acres of diamonds" are often lying in the minds and hearts of those figuratively relegated to the chimney corner.

Because she was wise enough to see and hear, Mrs. Harvill's Brown is $5000 richer and famed as the author of "the most interesting biography."

The Woman's Day

BY ALLENE SUMNER

Because Harriet Connor Brown of Washington, D. C., was not too busy to listen to the tales of old people, not too interested in and sure of the superiority of every thing modern and a little scornful of any worth in the good old days, she has won fame and fortune.

The Atlantic Monthly prize of $5000 "for the most interesting biography of any kind, sort or description" has just been awarded Mrs. Brown for her biography called "Grandmother Brown's Hundred Years, 1827-1927."