MALT BREWERS GET JOLT FROM DORAN'S ORDER

Solid Content of Product Raised From 12 to 18 Per Cent.

Extra Heaviness Halts Use as Beverage; Big Loss in Milwaukee.

(Associated Press Special Wire)

WASHINGTON, July 13.—A general order was issued today by Prohibition Commissioner Doran designed to make medicinal tonic unpalatable to those who might desire to use it for beverage purposes.

He ruled that the tonic must contain a solid content of 18 per cent instead of the 12 per cent which had previously been in effect.

The commissioner said the order did not affect the alcoholic content of the tonic.

Raising the solid content, which consists of extract of malt, Doran said, would not interfere with its medicinal purpose.

Gloom in Milwaukee MILWAUKEE, July 13.—James M. Doran, U. S. prohibition commissioner, has ordered Milwaukee brewers to discontinue at once the manufacture of "12 per cent" malt tonics.

Brewers Foresee Loss The 18 per cent product, the order decreed, must be bottled and distributed under the same restrictions as now govern the "12 per cent".

It was pointed out by some brewers that a nationwide advertising campaign has just ended and that the breweries were just beginning to profit from it.

Manufacturers declared it would be next to impossible to make popular the 18 per cent tonic predicted under the order, and they predicted the brew would disappear from the market.

great trans-Atlantic air race from Paris to New York.

Perfect weather conditions gave every hope that the Polish and French rivals of the air were well on their way, the Poles on a northerly route and the Frenchman on a more southerly one.

Major Ludwick Idzikowski and his companion, Major Casimir Kubala, took off first in their plane, the Marshal Pilsudski, at 4:47 o'clock this morning (10:47 p. m. Friday, eastern standard time) while Captain Dieudonne Coste, famous French flier, and Jacques Rollin, followed just 45 minutes later at 5:52 a. m.

By Way of Azores The French fliers were sighted three times, once over Tours, the second by a fisherman off the French coast due west of Bordeaux and the third time over Santander, Spain.

While flying between Tours and Bordeaux, Coste dropped a note saying that everything was going fine and that he intended to follow the steamship lane.

Both planes should reach New York tomorrow afternoon if all goes well, the French a little in advance for their machine is faster than that of the Poles.

Although the two planes headed in different directions at the start their courses came close together near the Azores when both plan to continue by the same route by way of Halifax to New York.

The sensational start of the first trans-Atlantic air race soon became known in Paris and throughout France and excitement grew with each succeeding report of the progress of the Question Mark, as the French machine is known.

The fact that the Poles had not been heard of was not considered remarkable as their wireless apparatus was known not to have been working well at the start and its light gray color would make it hard to distinguish against a cloudy sky.

The Marshal Pilsudski is equipped with a wireless apparatus for telegraph and telephone, having a range of about sixty miles, while the Question Mark has a wireless apparatus for telegraphy having a range of between 300 and 350 miles.

As the hours passed and still there were no indications that the rival airmen had turned back, French interest in the flight grew keener.

French interest in the flight grew keener. The plane was engaged in making its picnic basket for Sunday's Independence Day holiday and was just beginning to realize that its favorite native birdmen were over the Atlantic in the first Paris-to-New York air race.

To make it even more thrilling it was realized that the flight, if successful, would end on the famous July 14 holiday (the French Fourth of July) known in history as Bastille Day.

CLIFFORD SHINN DROWNS IN UMPQUA

two boys were paddling about in a boat, Shinn waded out on a joint of rocks, which projected across the river almost to the opposite bank.

On both sides of the ledge the river drops off into deep water with a slight current.

The lad was seen to slip off the rock and called for help. The other boys, unable to reach him, ran ashore and up the bank to their homes, calling for help.

Boy Scout Finds Body Bill Gawler, who received swimming instruction as a boy scout, was the first to reach the river's edge, and plunged in.

He swam across to the deep water and dove several times, finally locating the body lying on the bottom in about ten feet of water. He brought the body to the boat, which older men had paddled into the stream, and Shinn was brought ashore where Gawler immediately endeavored to remove the water from his lungs and attempted resuscitation.

Calls had been sent to three physicians, and Doctors Stewart, Wainwright and Houck arrived within a few moments. Fire Chief Fletcher was also notified and responded with the resuscitation equipment recently purchased by the city. The physicians, however, upon their first examination pronounced the boy to be dead.

Despite the verdict, however, the apparatus was put into use and the resuscitation efforts were continued for about 20 minutes, but death was apparent and it was considered useless to continue.

The Shlan family moved to Roseburg in January of this year, coming from Idaho, and have been living on the McCall place on Temple street. They returned only this week from an extended vacation trip. Besides the parents the young man is survived by three sisters and a brother.
