

WOMEN'S PAGE

SOCIETY

By MILDRED BYNON

All Contributions to this Page—Society, Women's Clubs, and Personal—Should Be Telephoned to the Society Editor by Friday of Each Week.

THE PLEASANT weather of the past week has been delightful and hostesses have entertained at many lovely homes and out of doors. The first of the week saw the return of local Legionnaires from the state convention at Salem, weary but enthusiastic over the hospitality of the capital city.

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club enjoyed a delightful evening when Mrs. L. B. Skinner opened her lovely home for the club members last evening. The installation of the Oregon Kappa chapter of Pi Omicron was completed this week marking the organization of another cultural club in the city.

Local society is journeying away from the city, motoring north and south and the boating of Crater and Diamond lakes has the usual charm for the vacationist. Out of city visitors are many and the North Umpqua is the Mecca for scores of vacationists.

Bride-Elect Is Honored at Shower

Miss Ellen Guile, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Guile, who is to become the bride of Mr. Albert Wells on August 18 was the inspiration of a miscellaneous shower on Friday of last week at which Miss Vivian Gilkerson and Mrs. Edwin B. Randolph were joint hostesses.

The rooms were lovely with baskets of summer flowers in pastel shades. The pastel colors were carried out at the prettily appointed table where a tiny bride was used as a centerpiece. After the luncheon hour the bride-elect was presented with many beautiful gifts.

Enjoying the affair with Miss Guile were Mrs. Ethel Dole of Miami, Florida, who is a house guest at the Guile home, and the Misses Irene Cox, Katherine Kelly, Shirley Ware, Gladys Hargis, Wanda Wood, Ethel Guile, Mrs. Hugh Guile and the hostesses.

Mrs. V. N. Cameron and daughter, Betty Jane, who have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cobb, have returned to their home in Eugene.

Housewarming Is Pleasant Affair at Glendale

The M. D. Zwick home on Gilligan avenue in Glendale was the scene of a delightful social event last Friday afternoon when a large number of neighbors and old-time friends met there for an informal housewarming. The affair was arranged as a surprise to Mrs. Zwick. The afternoon of social conversation was enlivened by a diversion that caused considerable amusement, deriving into reminiscences of the past for "frats," such as first day in school, first beau, first this and first that, and then comparing each other's "frats." A delightful lunch was served by the acting hostesses, Mrs. A. A. Snyder and Miss Cunningham, and they were assisted by Mrs. C. J. Sether and Mrs. H. C. Good. Those present were: Mrs. M. D. Zwick, Mrs. Josiah Jones, Mrs. J. C. Jones, Mrs. O. C. Sether, Mrs. D. N. Snyder, Mrs. Mary Lewis, Mrs. A. H. Hanson, Mrs. A. H. Cunningham, Mrs. J. H. Brown, Mrs. J. D. Harper, Mrs. Margaret Stevenson, Mrs. Jolla Hagen, Mrs. Esther Hudson, Mrs. J. W. Johnson, Mrs. W. T. Smith, Mrs. E. E. Redfield, Mrs. C. Neel, Mrs. C. J. Sether, Mrs. R. C. Good, Miss Manula Breese and acting hostesses, Mrs. A. A. Snyder and Miss Lavella Cunningham.

Epworth League Enjoys Barbecue and Swim

The Epworth League of the First Methodist Episcopal church and their invited guests enjoyed a barbecue at the Country Club Tuesday evening. Swimming was the diversion of early evening.

Singing around the bonfire after the barbecue was a feature of the affair.

Those present were: Dr. Charles A. Edwards, Miss Hazel Richardson, Miss Merle Branch, Miss Evelyn Thompson, Miss Mildred Koenig, Miss Marjorie Edith, Miss Martha Weber, Miss Edith Moot-hunt, Miss Hazel Keeler, Miss Helen Keeler, Miss Gladys Moot-hart, Miss Virginia Smith, Miss Royce Neal, Miss Richardson, Gordon Applewhite, Robert Coen, Floyd Groves, Tom Ness, Charles Cook, Lawrence Newport, Craig Marsters, Kenneth Olson, Rudolph Haden, John Moorhart, Adrian Bowen, William Stock and Walter Hays.

Couple Wed in Eugene on Saturday

A quiet wedding occurred Saturday morning at the manse of Rev. A. H. Saunders of Central Presbyterian church, Eugene, when Miss Vera O. Hyland of Eugene was married to Dr. Roland Bratton Miller of Reedport.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Hyland of 924 Fourth avenue west, Eugene, and has spent most of her life in Eugene.

The bridegroom is a Reedport school. He was educated in the schools of Linn county.

The couple left immediately following the ceremony for Portland, Seattle, Vancouver and Victoria, British Columbia. They plan to return to Reedport about August 18.

Mrs. Gilmore Hostess at Days Creek

Mrs. Manola Gilmore entertained last week at her home in Days Creek for a number of guests. The afternoon was spent in swimming in the South Umpqua and at 6 o'clock the guests enjoyed dinner with the hostess.

Enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Gilmore were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Farmer and family of Bridge, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Farmer and daughter of Bridge, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Farmer of Camas, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Farmer of Camas, Mr. and Mrs. John Huff and family of Camas, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lindsey and daughter of Camas, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Perrine and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Sutton and family, Mrs. S. A. Perrine and family, Max Garrett of Grants Pass, William Farmer of Bridge, Marion Perrine, and the hostess.

Local Maid Is Bride's Attendant

A wedding of much interest occurred Friday morning at the Trinity Lutheran church in Marshfield, when Miss Elvie Hillstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hillstrom, and Layton K. Noster of Coquille were married at a quiet and informal wedding.

The bride is one of the popular girls among the younger set and is a member of one of Marshfield's older families. She has been employed in the First National bank in that city. She attended school at Oregon State college, where she was a member of Sigma Kappa sorority.

Layton Noster is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Noster, well known resident of Coquille. He attended the University of Oregon, where he was prominent in college affairs, and is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He is an employee of the Dimmick Lumber Co. office in Marshfield.

The marriage was solemnized at the Trinity Lutheran church with Rev. J. A. Edlund officiating. Miss Helen Falbe of Roseburg, sorority sister of Miss Hillstrom, and Arthur Anderson, fraternity brother of Mr. Noster's, attended the ceremony. The engagement of Miss Hillstrom was announced in Marshfield early in February.

Charming Bride-Elect Is Honored With Shower

Miss Mildred M. Thompson, of Sutherlin and a graduate of the Sutherlin high school, was the guest of honor at a shower given by a large number of friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Bond in Laurel Heights addition Tuesday afternoon. In honor of the occasion the home was prettily decorated, the tables were throughout being pink and white.

Among the pleasing features of the event was a mock wedding ceremony which occasioned much amusement, and in which the following "cast of characters" appeared: Catherine Duer, "Cath' 'em at Last," bridegroom; Marguerite Anderson, parson; Olive Merritt, "Mr. Try a Long Time," bride's father; Lucille Avery, bridesmaid; Orpha Holzgate, "Mrs. Cath' 'em at Last," bride; Myrtle Thompson, ring bearer; Lenoid Cooper, flower girl. The wedding march, "Here Comes the Bride," was played on the piano by Miss Mildred Slater. A picture was taken at the wedding, and also a group of the guests present.

Following the "marriage ceremony" Misses Ruby Calver and Gertrude Davis entered the living room with a tastefully decorated wheelbarrow loaded to full capacity with many beautiful and useful gifts for Miss Thompson. At the close of the afternoon a delightful lunch was served by Mrs. M. C. Bond and Mrs. J. W. Calver.

Among the invited guests who enjoyed the affair were: Mildred Thompson, guest of honor, Violet Fortin, Lucille Thompson, Irene Murphy, Evelyn Pearson, Margaret Churchill, Myrtle Thompson, Amy Churchill, Mrs. J. A. Stebbins, Maude Huntington, Mrs. Liles, Wanda Stephens, Mrs. Dean Henry, Mrs. Cal Henry, Umqua; Ella Hill, Wilbur; Catherine Duer, Marguerite Anderson, Olive Merritt, Wanda Hall, Lucille Avery, Orpha Holzgate, Mildred French, Marjorie Ladd, Maxine Payne, Gladys Hulst, Lillian Lindlie, Lenoid Cooper, Mildred Slater, Edna Ross, Beanie Holzgate, Mildred Hinman, Monte Cooper, Minnie Hartshorn, Olive Avery, Edith Bond, Maude Calver, Ruby Calver, Gertrude Davis, Sutherland, Mary Carpanan, Agnes Carville, Eileen Norton, Roseburg; Juanita Pinkston, Ella Moore, Naomi Pinkston, Mildred Wilcox, Lucille Sparks, Mrs. Thelma Smith, Bernice Hand, Oakland; Ardy Gorrell, Frances—Mrs. V. L. Applegate, Yoncaffa.

Local Lad Is Honor Guest at Party

Master Bobbie Chilson was the honor guest at a lawn party Saturday celebrating his tenth birthday anniversary.

Delicious refreshments were served and a large candle-lighted birthday cake was used as centerpiece.

Guests at the affair were Miss Gertrude Stephens, Miss Donna Jean Bowden, Miss Precious Du-lend, Miss Rose Marie Chilson and Masters George and Billy Marsters, Floyd Wood, Junior Webber, Lay-Verne Marsters, Benny Larson of Klamath Falls and Jay Updegrat.

Summer Modes Must Match The Sky

Their Cut, Form, Color and Texture Should Take Varying Weather Into Consideration, Points Out Jean Patou

For NEA Service

PARIS, Aug. 17.—Mid-season collections are usually considered of minor importance compared to the spring or autumn showings. They may be smaller and less significant so far as actual fashions are concerned, but this by no means implies that they have required less study than the others. On the contrary.

The greatest difficulty that be-tets the couturier when preparing his mid-season collection is that most of his models are created on the basis of a mixed atmosphere. They have to contend with irregularity in the form of weather and light—grey days and often days of quite brilliant sunlight. It follows, therefore, that a model created for such unpendable times of the year as mid-summer or mid-winter must necessarily be the subject of careful consideration. They must never, even under the most diverse of weather conditions, look out of place!

It's a Special Problem.

Mid-season clothes for this very reason have to be specially combined and cut, form, color and texture must be very wisely selected. Hence the tremendous difficulty facing the couturier of imparting to them a definite personality.

It is in these small collections that you will find the most diverse materials—in-between materials— I might call them. In this category, I believe that "woolflor," a material I launched last year, is a typical example of the mid-season fabric. There are, too, several varieties of flat silk crepes eminently suited to this betwixt-and-between time which I use quite freely.

Take a coat made of this heavy, rather thick silk. It has sufficient body to hang well and at the same time it ensures sufficient comfort to meet any change in temperature at that time of the year. A woolen material might be a shade too warm for comfort, even on a relatively chilly mid-summer day. The heavy silk wrap has the added advantage of protection combined with a good fit.

Neutral Shades Desirable.

Color is another very tricky point to decide upon. Very light shades would strike the wrong note. Dark, wintry shades would look sad in the sun. Neutral shades, therefore, under the circumstances, should be chosen rather darker than lighter, provided a touch of color is present in the ensemble.

I am all in favor of the combination now ruling so far as the combining of a mid-season ensemble is concerned. This is usually composed of a light dress worn under a dark coat, the lining being of the same material as the dress.

An ensemble from Jean Patou's mid-season collection which he picks as ideal for summer travel is of plain navy blue crepe Alhambra with touches of light navy crepe Alhambra in fitted hips and skirt fullness introduced in pleats below the hips. A scarf collar of the dotted silk ties in a smart bow. The coat has a feminine cut, with sleeves fitted into cuffs and the collar faced with the print. The cut, likewise, is lined with the print, and a neat purse, with metal half-circle for its handle, is made of the polka dotted silk also.

Thompson, Charabell Olson, Owen Simmons, Jessie Smith and the hostess, Mrs. Matthews.

Oregon Kappa of Pi Omicron Installed

Oregon Kappa chapter of Pi Omicron was formally organized in this city Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the club rooms of the Roseburg Women's club.

Miss Golda V. Holt of Seattle staff organizer of the University Guild introduced Mrs. Frank B. Matthews of this city as the new leader of the study club.

Matthews spoke to the members laying stress on the advantages of the cultural society which Pi Omicron represents and touched upon various benefits of reading good literature. Mrs. Matthews' talk drew the tribute of spontaneous applause from the members.

Election of officers followed. Mrs. Matthews' talk was the following: elected as officers for a year of Oregon Kappa chapter: Mrs. Elizabeth Heintzel, president; Miss Adeline Stewart, vice-president; Mrs. Mildred Bynon, secretary, and Miss Martha Perry treasurer.

The charter members of the chapter are as follows: Mesdames J. R. Chapman, Alda Williams, Lou Proctor, Beattie Clinger, Marie Gerrie, Evelyn Hoover, Elizabeth Heintzel, Mildred Bynon, Margaret Abernethy, J. A. Pulcher and the Misses Margaret Hewitt, Kathleen Montgomery, Vera Klone, Dolores Grobe, Mae Henningsen, Marie Langenberg, Mildred Fullerton, Bess Wharton, Maud McQuay, Martha Perry, Doris Jackson, Leola Potter, Abbie Hirschinger, Leola Wilson and Adeline Stewart.

The first meeting of the study club of the Oregon Kappa chapter will be held September 18 at the Roseburg Women's club.

Miss Bertha Parrott has returned to this city after enjoying a three weeks' visit in Portland, The Dalles and Volga lake.

Bride-Elect Inspiration of Lovely Shower

Miss Hazel Thompson, who will become the bride of Mr. Kenneth Deaton of Eugene in the early fall, was the inspiration of a delightful affair on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank B. Matthews.

The bride elect was presented with a large bouquet of violet-colored flowers during the evening. Packages were wrapped in dainty paper to correspond with the flowers and it was the task of Miss Thompson to choose a flavor and find the corresponding packages. The packages contained many lovely and useful gifts for the young bride.

Luncheon was served in the following guests, Mesdames Hazel Thompson, Margaret Pace, Gella May Beaver, Ruth Von Pesel, Beattie Redburn, Bertha Kohlhaagen, Lois Byrd, Lucille Peterson, Bertha Thompson, Dorothy Acumel, Ruth

Miss Ethel Conn Becomes Bride of Wade Worthington

Miss Ethel Mae Conn was a lovely bride last evening when she plighted her truth with Mr. Wade Worthington of Days Creek. Miss Conn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Conn of Melrose and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Worthington of Days Creek. Rev. Frank B. Matthews read the nuptial ceremony which took place at six o'clock at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride was charming in a gown of honey dew colored lace in a tight bodice effect, and carried a bouquet of gladioli, sweet peas and fern. Miss Grace Conn was the bride's only attendant and wore a georgette and lace gown of blue. Arthur McGehehey acted as best man.

The wedding party entered to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. E. C. Diller of Portland at the piano and William Hill of Benson's on the violin.

Following the nuptial service a reception was given and a wedding dinner served. Friends and relatives of the couple bid them adieu as they left for a trip over the McKenzie Pass to Idaho and to Yellowstone park. They will be at home upon their return in Days Creek.

Mrs. Lyman L. Spenser has returned to Roseburg after motoring to Crater Lake with a party of friends who are visiting here from the east. The party had an enjoyable visit at the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wharton Compliment Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wharton entertained at dinner last evening complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Charles McElhinny of Salem who are visiting relatives here. Dinner was served at 7 o'clock and the table was lovely with zinnias and pink verbena. After the dinner hour the guests enjoyed carria and a social evening.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Charles McElhinny, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Quinn, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Catching, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Whipple, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Whipple, Mr. and Mrs. George Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Quinn, Mr. and Mrs. John McClintock, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Berrie and the host and hostess.

Bridge Is Diversion of Evening Friday

Mrs. R. R. Smith was a charming hostess at bridge last night at her home in Laurelwood. The rooms of the Smith home were attractive with summer flowers in profusion. Late in the evening dainties were served. Mrs. Roy Entler won high score at bridge.

Tables were laid for Mrs. Roy Entler, Mrs. Willard Johnson, Mrs. C. C. Heitker, Mrs. Clay Church, Mrs. Thos. Ness, Miss Marion Ness and Mrs. William Gerretsen.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McElhinny of Salem are leaving tomorrow for their home in the capital city after visiting here for several days at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Dixon and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Whipple. They have been in the inspiration for several affairs while in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Perkins of the Kohlhaagen have had as their house guest this week Miss Lenore Holland, a charming maid of Salem. Miss Holland will visit with her sister, Mrs. Roy Cunningham, of Glendale before returning north.

Miss Florence Sinnott has returned from Berkeley, where she had been studying music at the university. Miss Sinnott will return south in the fall, where she has been engaged to teach music in the Sacramento schools during the coming term.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bell Jr. of Medford are the house guests of Mrs. Bell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Houser of this city. Mrs. Bell was formerly Miss Vera Houser, a popular Roseburg maid.

Miss Marie Lane has returned here from a trip to Salem, visiting friends. Miss Lane will teach near Salem at the industrial school this fall. She will be the house guest of Mrs. Ralph Church of South Stephens street until her departure.

Mrs. Lulu King Is Honor Guest at Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Waite were hosts at dinner on Monday evening honoring Mrs. Lulu King of Washington, D. C. Dinner was served at 6:30 under a lovely fire tree at the Waite home, at carefully appointed tables. A large French bouquet was used as a centerpiece.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Lulu King, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Heintzel, Mr. and Mrs. William Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Washington Hughes, Miss Martha Yeo and the host and hostess.

Weather Bureau Picnic Is Unique Affair

Mr. and Mrs. William Bell of this city were hosts this week to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Jernin of Seattle who are enjoying a honeymoon in this section of Oregon. Mr. Jernin was stationed here for a few weeks as a relief man at the local weather bureau. Returning to Seattle the young couple were married and journeyed to Seaside for a short visit then coming to Roseburg.

On Friday evening an unusual affair was given in their honor when Mr. and Mrs. William Bell, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Fletcher enjoyed a "weather bureau" picnic at Kiwanis park. The three couples spent a delightful evening conversing over experiences. Mr. Bell is a veteran in the weather bureau service having spent nearly 50 years with the department. Mr. Fletcher is the present "weather" man and Mr. Jernin is one of the youngest in the service. Whether the weather men were responsible is not known but the evening was one of the lovely ones of the summer and a delightful dinner was served on the river. After dinner the party motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher where the evening was enjoyed viewing aerial photographs of a recent trip Mr. Fletcher made by plane from Medford to Seaside and moving pie-

Bridge and Golf at Country Club Enjoyable

Eleven golfers enjoyed Ladies' Day on Thursday at the Country Club. Mrs. J. E. Sawyers won the prize. Next Thursday the players will compete for the president's cup and much enthusiasm is evident in the match.

Bridge was enjoyed during the afternoon hours with three tables in play. Mrs. Charles McElhinny, a visitor from Salem, won first score. Mrs. Berne West second and Mrs. Fred Lockwood third high.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Coleman of this city are the house guests at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. A. Storgard, in Marshfield. They motored to the coast to attend the wedding of Miss Elvie Hillstrom and Mr. Layton Noster. Miss Helen Falbe, the bride's sorority sister and attendant, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Coleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Heintzel and Miss Martha Yeo are enjoying a vacation at the Heintzel summer home near Rock creek. They departed the first of the week to spend a fortnight at the lodge.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. William Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Austin will be guests at the Heintzel lodge.

Miss Edith Malne is leaving tonight for her home in Portland, after spending two weeks visiting with her sister, Mrs. Guy Calhoun, at the Kohlhaagen apartments. Sunday they motored to the coast and were accompanied by Mrs. F. W. Friebe, Miss Malne's former resident of Roseburg, but for the past year has been in Portland.

Campfire Girls Diary

August 6.—Wolf Creek camp was formally opened Monday morning August 6th. All of the campers are glad to welcome the out-come of "Fertile," "Beaver" and "Burro," and the new ones "Bunny," "Crickle" and "Quail." We know our faithful cooks, "Cookie" and "Snow" will make us look forward to all of our meals. Also we welcome another faithful camper, "Woodchuck." At the first evening's camp fire we were entertained by "the" singing down the river of Old Man Grouch." Uncloudiness, boatfulness, untruthfulness and selfishness were sent down the river, we hope never to return.

August 8.—A big banquet was held at Wolf Creek camp last night at 7 o'clock. The guests all dressed in white undies entered the beautifully decorated banquet hall. Bouquets and fancy candlesticks adorned the tables. A delicious cocktail was served in corky-cork half cups, Joyce Bunsen's as toastmaster called upon the speakers for their best efforts. "Burro" made a record breaking speech. "Woodchuck" furnished music with the whole and also responded to the toast, "Does the Spearman Laze his Flavor on the Belpost Overnight." Alyce Kay Roberts, Ruth Anne Crawford and Helen Rovang sang two numbers very professionally. All couples did a bit from each group were called on for short talks. Dishes were done by candlelight and the banquet ended with much hilarity.

August 9.—Those taking the "old dip" have been getting fresh each morning although there are several still left. The trail-makers thought they were very smart this morning because they made their beds before breakfast.

YOUR CHILDREN

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON Copyright 1929 by NEA Service

The oftener a habit is repeated, the more lasting its effect is. What takes effort and thought at first, in a short time becomes reflex and is done without thinking at all.

This is why it is necessary for children to be taught good and regular habits when they are small.

One of the greatest mistakes we make in training children is that we keep putting things off because we think they're not old enough.

Manners Begin Early.

Teach a child to be polite when he is young and he will be polite all his life. Allow him to be rude and uncouth, and, although later on he may be able to gloss over this lack, under circumstances when he forgets self, his early training is almost sure to manifest itself. It's the same old story of the act, the habit, character and destiny.

Not long ago, I met a very wonderful woman who had gained great prominence as a welfare worker. She was very quiet and uncommunicative and I put it down to a personality, as women will. I thought she didn't like me and wouldn't put herself out to talk.

But one of our friends in common told me the truth. She has a terrible complex about talking. She was an orphan and grew up with a family that was kind but illiterate. Later a relative took her and had her educated—very well educated—but if she forgets herself for a minute she'll say "seen" and things like that and you notice it until it's too late. She's so sensitive about it that she has become very silent. She's pure gold and one of the hardest workers I ever saw, but I believe that secretly she is terribly unhappy.

Just one example out of a hundred I could name.

Forming Characters.

Now we many think that manners and grammar belong in the superficial class—where too many people would relegate the amenities. Very well, then. How about the habits of character? Acts of kindness become a habit if repeated—so do acts of serving, sympathy and generosity. Telling truth and making it a point to accept nothing but truth makes it a habit. And obedience becomes a habit.

Then there are the physical habits, cleanliness, eating regularly, sleeping, diet, exercise, and elimination. How important they are. Sometimes I hesitate to say all these things to mothers. It is such an enormous task to make a perfect little human being! All these habits to teach—is there any job in the world as big?