SCHOOL bells rang out over the city Monday of this week and society has settled down for the fall and winter months.

The snap of morning air lends enthusiasm to living and life socially gives promise of much in the future after the summer lethargy.

College students have bid adieu to their friends and after a number of delightful parties among the younger set are leaving for college.

Clubs and civic organizations are planning out an extensive program for the winter months and the busy season of the year is on.

Weddings are popular during September running a close second to June for popularity.

The leaves are turning yellow and red and as a setting for social gatherings are popular lending a warmth and bit of color to rooms already lively.

W. C. T. U. Has Meeting Wednesday at Clubrooms

The W. C. T. U. met Wednesday afternoon in the Woman's club rooms, with Mrs. Willis, president, presiding. Mrs. H. L. Eddy led the devotionals, using the 12th chapter of Hebrews as the lesson. Reports of directors of departments were given, after which a program was given with Mrs. R. L. Glie in charge.

Mrs. A. Taylor sang "Resignation," accompanied by Mrs. G. O'Brien. Rev. Edwards gave a very interesting talk on the work of the W. C. T. U. Rev. Edwards spoke highly of the great work that this organization had done and stressed the importance of the young women of today taking up this work.

Mrs. H. Whipple sang "A Little Bit of Love," accompanied by Mrs. G. O'Brien. Rev. Baird gave two readings, "The Old Bishop's Criticism of the Choir," and "Carolina Emmy and her Photographs."

Delicious refreshments were served by the committee and a social hour enjoyed.

Mrs. Childs Is Interesting Visitor From Southland

Mrs. G. R. Childs, a much feted visitor from San Francisco, was the honor guest of Mrs. J. E. Sawyers, Mrs. S. L. Kidder and Miss Gertrude East at dinner, early in the week at the home of Mrs. Sawyers.

The rooms were lovely with fall flowers. Mrs. T. B. Virden and Miss Hazel Patterson assisted in serving the dinner.

Those enjoying the affair were: Mrs. G. R. Childs, Mrs. G. A. Bradburn, Mrs. W. R. Willis, Mrs. J. F. Barker, Mrs. Walter Hamilton, Mrs. C. W. Wharton, Mrs. H. H. Stapleton, Mrs. J. E. Thome, Mrs. L. G. Broadway, Mrs. Fred Chapman, Mrs. B. Casey, Mrs. A. A. Wilder, Mrs. Arthur Baum, Miss Elizabeth Parrott, Miss Naomi Scott, Miss Hazel Patterson, Miss Helen Casey, Mrs. T. B. Virden, Mrs. S. L. Kidder, Mrs. J. E. Sawyers and Miss Gertrude East.

Virginia Rose of Medford, who is a guest of many friends in Douglas county, was the honor guest at a number of affairs about the county this week.

Born in Medford, Miss Rose has not visited there for thirty years and on her return is greeting friends. On Sunday thirty guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Critzer for a picnic dinner.

Tuesday evening a number met at the clubhouse and spent the evening in dancing in honor of Miss Rose.

Business and Professional Women Held Guest Night

The Women's club was the scene of an interesting gathering last night when members of the Business and Professional Women's club enjoyed guest night. Several visitors and prospective members were present and a delightful evening followed the regular business session. Outlines for events to follow later in the season were discussed.

Wes Williams of the Williams' Gardens at Dillard delighted the clubwomen by furnishing delectable cantaloupes for a "melon feed." After the refreshment hour the members and their guests grouped for a social evening and a feature of the hour was the relating of vacation experiences. Mrs. J. K. Falbe held the attention of her listeners as she related the many moments of interest enjoyed on her trip to Alaska this summer. Illustrating her talk she presented slides, placed up on the table for her listeners to inspect. Other members told happenings of interest of vacation months.

The club will meet for their regular banquet at the Hotel Umpqua on October 4.

Miss Noma Orey Becomes Bride of Eugene Remington

At one of the prettiest weddings this season, Miss Noma Orey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Orey, became the bride Sunday afternoon of Mr. Eugene Remington, at a ceremony performed by Rev. Duncan P. Cameron at the home of the bride's parents at Anlauf, Astoria and gladness mingled with autumn serenity making a lovely altar.

The bride's gown was of orchid georgette caught at the waist with a sash. She was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Otto Robinson of Portland, as maid of honor, who wore a blue lace gown. Mr. Otto Robinson of Portland acted as best man.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. William Watson of Cottage Grove.

A luncheon for the bridal party was following the ceremony, after which many beautiful gifts were presented to the bride and bridegroom following which Mr. and Mrs. Remington left for a short wedding trip. Upon their return they will make their home at Anlauf.

Wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Orey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Remington, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Anlauf, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anlauf and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hill, Robert Anlauf, Ida Ward, Harley Remington, Bertha, Andrew and Prudy Remington, Everett and Doris Anlauf, all of Anlauf, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Manning and daughter, Dora May, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anlauf, Mr. and Mrs. William Watson and son, all of Cottage Grove and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Robinson, Mrs. Theo. Robinson, Vinton Thiel, Leslie Swanson all of Portland.

Former Resident Weds in Salem Sunday

Dr. M. T. Cooper, former Roseburg dentist, now a resident of Klamath Falls, was married at Salem Sunday, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cooper, to Miss Patricia S. Jackson, also of Klamath Falls. Dr. and Mrs. Cooper left for a tour of Washington and British Columbia before returning to Klamath Falls where they will make their home.

College Folk Depart for Another Year

The exodus of college folk has begun, taking a number of the younger set away to college.

Misses Pauline Bubar, Elizabeth Abraham and Frances Butner are returning to Oregon State college during the week-end. Harold Wainwright has already departed for the college city. Misses Mildred Stanger, Edna Judd and Daphne Hughes are in Eugene, registering for courses and Miss Jennie Judd will leave Sunday to enroll at the university. Truman Remyan, Maynard and Raymond Bell and Frank and J. V. Long are on the campus at the University of Oregon attending in their various fraternity business and lining up their work for another tuition year.

Mrs. Willis Entertains for Visitor

Mrs. W. R. Willis was a charming hostess at a luncheon on Tuesday at the Hotel Umpqua, when she entertained Mrs. G. R. Childs of San Francisco.

Over a score had in thirty friends. At the luncheon, the guests went to the home of Mrs. S. L. Kidder where refreshments were enjoyed. Mrs. Arthur W. Baum won first prize and Mrs. Foster Butner second.

Mrs. Cunningham Hostess at Afternoon of Bridge

Mrs. F. Roy Cunningham entertained at her home on the Cunningham ranch with bridge Friday afternoon complimenting Mrs. Arthur H. Hagen who is visiting from Los Angeles. The guests were Mrs. Arthur H. Hagen, Mrs. Wilton B. Garrett, Mrs. Ella Leach, Mrs. R. C. Good, Mrs. C. F. Nelpert, Mrs. C. S. Henninger, Mrs. A. G. Henninger, Mrs. E. R. Harvey, Mrs. L. C. Normoyte, Mrs. M. F. Corrigan, Mrs. George Jackson, Mrs. Carl J. Sether, Mrs. A. J. Fawcett, Mrs. A. J. Snyder, Mrs. W. N. Hazen and Miss L. Cunningham.

The guest prize went to Mrs. Garrett and consolation was awarded Mrs. Harvey. A delightful luncheon was served late in the afternoon.

Mrs. R. A. Heicher left Thursday for Portland for a few days' visit with relatives. Later she will go to Oregon to visit her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth G. LaViolette several months.

Miss Bertha Lary Is Guest of Honor

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Davis entertained at their home, which has been Miss Bertha Lary of Carleton Valley on the occasion of her ninth day anniversary.

Covers were laid for Miss Lary, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Gossowsky and Donald Gossowsky and the hosts.

Unique Affair Is Given at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan

On Friday evening a group dressed according to the fashion of 12, gathered at the lovely new home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Morgan in Laurelwood.

Soon after their arrival a desperate villain burst into the room and ordered the frightened group into the basement. The basement was decorated to represent a bar room of the early days when the guests remained the rest of the evening, as the villain's captives. The prisoners enjoyed an evening of bridge.

Late in the evening all that remained of the unique company was a list of names left by the villain. The list included: Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Pickens, Mr. and Mrs. Loren McCulloch, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Newland, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hellweg, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Burr, Miss Florence Stewart, Miss Mona Porter, Miss Kathleen Ness, Miss Marion Ness, Mr. Ford Singleton, Mr. Everett Shluter, and the host and hostess.

Two Wraps for Two Types

All the grace of youth is in this eggshell luna sat sash dress, worn by Janet Gaynor. A Spanish shawl with hand-tied fringe completes the charming ensemble. Considerably more sophisticated is this luxurious wrap of ermine on the right, worn by Norma Terris. While voluminous, it is wrapped fashionably close over the white chiffon frock underneath and creates a sleek smart line.

Local Couple Are Wed at Beautiful Ceremony

One of the loveliest fall weddings this season was that of Miss Gladys Carstens of this city and Mr. Glen V. Colby, at a ceremony at 8 o'clock Sunday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Carstens. Only relatives and close friends of the young couple were present.

The service was read by Rev. W. R. Baird of the Christian church under an arch of autumn leaves banked by flowers. With the opening strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Mrs. Clyde Carstens, the bride advanced to the arch on the arm of her father.

The bride was lovely in a model of brown crepe satin and carried a bridal bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses and fern.

After the nuptial service a wedding breakfast was served at a table decorated with pink gladiolus and fern. A large bridal cake, placed in the center of the table, was cut by the bride.

The bride chose as her going away dress a costume of navy blue transparent velvet ensemble with matching hat and shoes.

The young couple left by auto for a trip through southern Oregon. After October 1st, Mr. and Mrs. Colby will make their home on East First avenue north.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Carstens and is well known in musical circles as an accomplished pianist. She has been employed as bookkeeper for the Roseburg Steam Laundry for the past few years. The groom is the son of Mrs. Minnie Colby of Eugene, formerly of Roseburg, and operates the Union Oil station at the corner of Stephens and Lane streets. Both are well known in Roseburg, having graduated from the local high school in the class of '23.

Goodman Conservatory Popular Among Musicians

FLOWERS and Gardens

CHARLES A. BRAND
An organization the object of which is to beautify the entire Pacific highway from Canada to Mexico is being promoted by Samuel Hill and a group of influential citizens of the Pacific coast. In Oregon the preliminaries are being looked after by the Memory Gardens Highway association, Mr. John G. Edwards, president; Mr. Peter Kerr, vice-president. All Garden clubs are being asked to cooperate. It is a monstrous undertaking but whatever progress is made will be to the good.

Massachusetts has been working on a similar project for seven years but there they secured legislation empowering the state department of public works to improve the highways with "such painting, care and replacements" as seen desirable. One state highway and one state bridge is in charge, and the state has its own nurseries. This work is considered a part of highway maintenance and it has worked miracles in Massachusetts. At present that plan probably is not practicable here in Oregon though it would be desirable. But it is being done under the regulations and with the helpful advice of our highway commission.

One first step in this high enterprise would seem to be to remove as far as possible the man-made obstructions to a highway that is already one of the most beautiful in the world.

Probably Robert Bridges, editor of Scribners, was not thinking of the painter of some of our screaming billboards when he wrote this parody, but it fits:

"He sits in a sea-green grove
With a bucket of lurid paint,
And draws the 'thing' as it isn't
For the God of Things as they ain't."

There can be no question about the unattractiveness of some monstrosities and they ought to go. But there can also be no question that some of the billboard advertising, especially that of the larger companies, is artistic and beautiful. But even a beautiful billboard should be placed so that it does not mar the scenery that belongs to the whole world. On the other hand, I can think of several spots not so far away that would be improved if entirely free of the noisy rooster and Kiebler billboards. We can't condemn all billboard advertising with one majestic sweep of the hand.

A sentiment is growing the nation over that resents disfigurement of the landscape by signs, billboards or hot dog stands, and that public sentiment is getting results. Some of the big oil companies have heard the rumblings of it, and indeed sympathize with it themselves, and have removed their own signs by the thousand. That is fine. But the removal of other people's signs is not so simple. Our highway commission does not allow any sign to be within 22 feet of the edge of the pavement, but there is no sign so ghastly that a man cannot put it where he likes on his own property back of that line, unless, of course, it becomes a menace to some dangerous road intersection.

But a drive is being made against the great Richfield beacons which seem to be ill considered. Is the big tower north of Roseburg any barrier to look at than a tall windmill? And sometimes it will be a great help to aviator flying at night. The Richfield service station being built beside it is architecturally one of the most beautiful ever built, and the whole plant will be an ornament to the highway.

Roseburg's thoughts and interests used to follow the railroad. Now they follow the highway. There is one thing about the approach to Roseburg on the north that does not indicate a forward look or suggest that we are ambitious and expect to grow. As you drive down from the north through the prosperous and growing Edgewater or Riverside section you remember perhaps that a lot of those houses stand in what not so long ago was Harry McClellan's corn field. You drive a little farther into town and come to the city gates—two handsome columns marking the wood lamp. Twenty-year membership pins were presented to Mrs. Sam Starnier and Mrs. Lena Henry.

Harding was in charge of the bridge playing for the afternoon. Mrs. Leon McCulloch and Mrs. Clair Allen were joint chairmen of the table committee; Mrs. Charles Wharton, Mrs. H. H. Stapleton and Mrs. Casey were chairmen of the decorations committee.

Couple Inspiration for Surprise Housewarming

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Morgan were surprised on Monday evening by a group of their friends when they were given a housewarming. The young couple received many beautiful and useful gifts for their new home.

Those enjoying the affair were: Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Pickens, Mr. and Mrs. Loren McCulloch, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Burr, Miss Mona Porter, Miss Kathleen Ness, Miss Marion Ness and Ford Singleton.

Bridge Tea Is Interesting Event on Thursday

One of the most interesting and successful affairs of the season was the bridge-tea for club members and their guests given Thursday at the Country club by the club's house committee. The tea culminated the women's golf and bridge tournament which has caused such interest during the past summer season. Fifteen tables of bridge were in play, and additional guests were present for tea.

The club house was lovely with its decorations of fall flowers, and a charming tea table was prepped over by Mrs. Mary F. Harding and Mrs. A. A. Butler. Mesdames Leon McCulloch, Baum, Berrie, Wilder, Phil Harth, Denn, Kenneth Quine, John Thorne, Edward Kohlhaugen, Fullerton, and Miss Helen Casey and Naomi Scott, assisted about the room. High scores for the afternoon were held by Mrs. Harry Hildebrand and Miss Eva Rice.

As a result of the season's golf tournament, Miss Gertrude East was named the club women's champion, and Mrs. Judd received a prize as runner-up. Miss Gertrude East also won the silver trophy presented for the lowest net score. Mrs. Ivan Pickens received a prize as runner-up. The silver cup was presented last year by Mr. A. A. Wilder and was won in 1928 by Mrs. Ivan Pickens. It will become permanent when won twice in succession.

Mrs. Judd received first selectie prize, Mrs. Kenneth Quine, Mrs. Ivan Pickens and Mrs. Mary F. Harding tied for second prizes and were awarded equal prizes. Mrs. J. A. Harding, retiring general captain, received a gift of appreciation for her fine work during the year just passed from members of the club.

Prizes for high bridge scores for the season were awarded Mrs. Harris Ellisworth, Mrs. Ivan Pickens, Mrs. West, Mrs. Leon McCulloch, Mrs. O'H and Mrs. Sam Shoemaker.

Lockwood Lodge Is Scene of Pot Luck Party

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lockwood's beautiful lodge on the North Umpqua was the pleasant scene of a no-host pot-luck party on Thursday evening of this week. After the supper, the evening was spent in conversation and dancing.

Those enjoying the evening were Mr. and Mrs. C. Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. George Adams of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. George Wharton, Mrs. H. H. Stapleton, Mrs. J. F. Barker, Mrs. A. B. Casey, Miss Elizabeth Parrott, Miss Naomi Scott, Miss Helen Casey, Mr. Clifford Barker, Mr. Gene Parrott and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lockwood.

Sewing Club Enjoys Dinner Party

Mrs. Guy Gordon was a charming hostess to the Sewing club which gathered at her home on Wednesday evening. The rooms were lovely with fall flowers. Dinner was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Quine.

Those enjoying the dinner party were: Mrs. Ivan Pickens, Mrs. P. Thurber, Mrs. O. M. Berrie, Mrs. Kenneth Quine, Mrs. J. R. Wharton, Mrs. Clair K. Allen, Mrs. Leon McCulloch, Mrs. Dean Baber, Mrs. H. C. Church and the hostess, Mrs. Guy Gordon.

Mrs. Cunningham Hostess at Afternoon of Bridge

Mrs. F. Roy Cunningham entertained at her home on the Cunningham ranch with bridge Friday afternoon complimenting Mrs. Arthur H. Hagen who is visiting from Los Angeles. The guests were Mrs. Arthur H. Fur Inside The Coat a Paris Winter Idea

By BARBARA BAUFORT
(Associated Press Fashion Editor)
PARIS, Sept. 21.—Style makers have thought up new ways of letting women appear lightly clad for the coldest weather.

Never have winter coats appeared so inadequate as they do when made in the loose tweed weaves and light weight woolsens shown by authoritative designers for wraps that come several inches short of the hem, and sometimes clear the knees.

The secret of their warmth lies in fur linings and in woolen shorts which form an important part of the ensemble. Many a coat which does not show a single hair on the outside has a "trick" interior.

Durable short fur formerly used for sport coats are used. Wool trousers are sometimes attached to blouses of their same material. Jersey and soft woolen tricots are favorites, although some wash silk and crepe de chine blouse and pant combinations are also shown. The blouse and shorts in one appear, as a rule, with wrap-around skirts.

Trousers-skirts are shown instead of skirts and shorts with some of the winter tweed suits. The trouser idea is so carefully disguised by pleats and panels, that divided skirts are not readily distinguishable from others.

Wool scarves instead of fur collars are another departure. Small stand-up collars and lace wool scarves attached to the wool blouse of the suit are another substitute for fur at the neck.

Volcano Krakatoa Near Sumatra Again Active

(Associated Press Bureau Wire)
BATAVIA, Java, Sept. 20.—Krakatoa, the island volcano in Sumatra, between the islands of Java and Sumatra, is again active. Earthquakes shook the island yesterday and eruptions followed, flames and smoke rising 500 feet from the crater.

Krakatoa has been mildly active between 1926 and 1928, but it is feared for the eruption of 1882, one of the most stupendous ever recorded. It was estimated stones and ashes shot into the air to a height of 17 miles. The sky was darkened at Batavia, and volcanic dust was carried over a large part of the world's surface. The actual sound of the volcanic explosions were heard nearly 3,000 miles away and sea waves created by the eruptions traveled to the far corners of the globe. More than 36,000 persons perished in the disaster.

Of course the city has grown, but the city limits, on paper, have not grown correspondingly. After all, what of it? Who is interested in the paper limits? The welcoming city, as it is not built by progressive cities to meet any legal requirements or to mark fire limits. They are to tell the stranger that he is about to enter a hospitable, forward-looking town, and that the town thinks well of itself. The legal city limits, like the equator, is an imaginary line. It is
