MARCHERS ON THE ROAD OF PROGRESS

SINCE the dawn of time, man has longed for voice to talk distant friends, and eyes to see things and friends remote.

Senator Brookhart's Support of Prohibition Based on Statistics Gained From Personal Experience

By HERBERT PLUMMER
(Associated Press Local Wire)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Senator Smith W. Brookhart has worked out his business of opposing prohibition on a sound mathematical basis.

The junior senator from Iowa popped into the limelight rather unexpectedly the other day on the question. His revelation on the floor of the senate that some of his colleagues were in attendance at a wet party in the capital recently has stirred up something closely akin to a hornet's nest.

There is talk that he will be asked to go before a grand jury soon and tell all he knows. And if he is called, the senator intimates that he will divulge plenty.

It is necessary to go back some 20 years to get the proper slant on the senator's attitude.

In 1907—and from then until he entered the senate—Brookhart was an expert rifle instructor. At that time he was trying to teach the Iowa national guardsmen how to shoot.

Beer and liquor in those days were as prevalent around camp as coffee and ammunition. Brookhart soon concluded that the two were not compatible.

So he went to the governor of Iowa. So impressed was the executive that he told his rifle instructor to write any kind of "bone dry" law he chose, and that it would have his signature.

Brookhart did. So "bone dry" was it that even if a man who did nothing but tack up targets on the range was found drinking, out he went. And not only the guilty one, but also every member of his detail.

Such disciplinary action had its effect. Since that time the senator has personally trained 20,000 men—more than any man in the world.

His figures talk.

During the succeeding years he made a careful study of the effect of stimulants on nerve coordination. And he can read those figures off at a moment's notice.

Says the senator:

If one drinks mild beer his efficiency is decreased 7 per cent.

If one smokes tobacco his efficiency is decreased 5 per cent.

(No study was made of those with chews.)

If one drinks tea or coffee his efficiency is decreased 3 per cent.

Stimulants stronger than mild beer were never considered. The man who so indulged was not fit for study.

Brookhart believes that these figures are as accurate and scientific as any. His study on mild beer was substantiated by tests made in Germany.

He indulges in none of these himself. And he attributes the success of his rifle teams to abstinence. As evidence, he points to the fact that his teams improved

(Associated Press Local Wire)

PAIN IN YOUR SHOULDER? Use Tysmol for Relief

Keefe-like ache of pain in the vicinity of the shoulder blade are generally due to neuritic impulses on exposure to draughts or sudden changes of weather. In some cases there is stiffness or soreness in the muscles, making it difficult to raise the arm.

The safest and easiest way to relieve such an attack is to apply a small quantity of Tysmol over the affected area. This soothing, heating preparation is quickly absorbed through the pores and carried to the throbbing, aching peripheral nerves. The pain usually stops at once, and in a very short time the last trace of soreness should disappear.

Tysmol is absolutely harmless, free from opium, recommended for all forms of nerve pain, whether caused by neuritic impulses, rheumatism or rheumatoid, both by leading physicians. Always on hand at Northern Portland—(A29)

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Wise legislation has halted the ancient prejudice that dictated the exploitation of child labor for selfish gain. Guided by AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE it has routed greed. No longer are little children forced into slavery.

"toasting did it"—
Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKY STRIKE'S which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.
