GOOD-NIGHT STORIES

By Max Trel

For Once Knarf Was Right But He Didn't Know It.

MH. Flor, Hamid, Yam and Knarf—the five little shadow-children with the turned-out names—found themselves in Vienna. How did they come to find themselves there? You will have to ask that of their masters, who are thinking a trip around the world. The shadows simply followed them about wherever they went, just as your shadow follows you about wherever you go.

"This is the Rathaus."

Well, the children weren't in Vienna very long before they set out with their father to see the city, for it was new to them. The shadows were only too glad of the opportunity to go along, even though no one invited them. Who ever notices them, even? Still they don't mind. They're not very sensitive, you see.

MH. Flor, Hamid and Yam, walking down a broad avenue with trees on both sides, they stopped in front of a huge building. From the center of the building rose a tall clock-tower.

"This is the Rathaus," father explained to the real-children. The shadows looked at each other questioningly.

"What does that mean?" Yam wanted to know.

MH. Flor and Hamid shook their heads. But Knarf tried to look very wise.

"Hm-m," he said, "don't you know what Rathaus means? All you have to do is break it in half. Rat means rat, and Haus means house. It's a house for rats. After this explanation he ended. He was quite fond of his own cleverness.

Just then, however, father said to the real-children: "I don't sup-

SOCIETY

log planned by the ladies for the coming winter months.

Rose P. T. A. Met on Monday Evening

The Rose school P. T. A. met on Monday with W. B. Strawn, president, presiding. Plans for the membership drive and the coming winter work were discussed. After the business meeting, Roy Goodman entertained with three piano solos and Miss Henrietta Morris, of the tubercular association of Portland, gave an interesting and instructive talk.

The delegates elected for the convention at Grants Pass this coming week were: Mrs. F. Stewart and W. B. Strawn.

Elks Enjoy Party Thursday Evening

The Elks' temple was the scene for a delightful entertainment at 200 party, Thursday evening when the men invited the Lady Elks to a boxing match and musical program. The hall was lovely with flowers and a large crowd was present. Charles Stanton, R. L. Whipple, Parks Schneider and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Williams, P. M. led the musical numbers during the evening. Refreshments were served in the banquet room.

Young Peoples Conference in Roseburg, October 16, at Presbyterian Church

The Presbyterian Young Peoples' conference will be held on October 16th in Roseburg, with a delegation of about fifty young people from Astoria, Medford, Grants, Pais, Glendale, Myrtle Point, Oakland and Sutherlin. The day will be crowded with activities from 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon until 8:45 in the evening. The conference will open with devotional service and the afternoon will be taken up with the discussion of programs and leadership committee. The mothers of the Christian Endeavor young people will serve a sandwich supper at 6:00 o'clock. The young people will furnish the entertainment during the supper hour.

The local committee is composed of Superintendent W. C. Campbell, Mrs. Charles Roberts and Miss Eleanor Sher. Miss Stier, the new director of women's work under the board of education, will be a prominent speaker on the program.

MARCHING TO ROSEBURG

All the Douglas county folks come to the county seat.

The old courthouse has been torn down, the new one is complete.

You'll hardly recognize the site out on East Douglas street!

Come on the 19th to Roseburg!

Everybody celebrate and make it countywide.

For Saturday, the 19th, will be Douglas' "Day of Pride."

Make the highways into town look like a rolling tide.

Come on the 19th to Roseburg!

Hurrah! Hurrah! Come to the jubilee!

Hurrah! Hurrah! Roseburg will feed you free!

Everybody come to town from the Cascades to the sea.

Come on the 19th to Roseburg!

Never mind the weather, folks, if there be sun or rain,

Come on donkeys or on mules or drop from an airplane;

Come on foot or in a car or on the P. train!

Come on the 19th to Roseburg!

Come and lay the cornerstone, the courthouse building that is class "A" in the state.

Come and look it over, folks, and don't forget the date—

Come on the 19th to Roseburg!

By MRS. I. H. DUFF.
