

THEFT OF GASOLINE WORTH $1.15 DRAWS LIFE PRISON TERM

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
TULSA, Okla., Oct. 19.—A modern team Van Van who stole $1.15 worth of gasoline instead of bread was sentenced to life imprisonment today by Judge Saul Yeager, who yesterday sentenced a 17-year-old youth to death on a plea of guilty to a charge of robbery with fire arms.

The drastic sentence was pronounced by the district judge as a part of an announced campaign to curb a wave of highway robberies and other crimes of violence near Tulsa.

The life sentence was imposed upon Emmet Kelly, 29, a resident of Ohio. He told reporters he was a victim of tuberculosis and was returning to Arizona in search of health, with his wife and nine-year-old son. He had run out of money in Tulsa, he said, and begged for funds to aid him on the return trip. When he went to the filling station for fuel, he found his money was insufficient to pay for the gas he had ordered, he related, and drawing a gun from his car, told the attendant to stand back, while he departed with the unalloyed fuel.

In court yesterday Kelly first pleaded not guilty, telling the court he had no funds to retain an attorney. Counsel was provided for him and the plea was changed to guilty. Kelly's attorney attempted to change the plea again this morning, but Judge Yeager refused to permit it and pronounced sentence.

Mrs. Kelly, who was in the courtroom, wept bitterly.

Judge Yeager pronounced a death sentence yesterday on Ted Cole, 17, after the youth had pleaded guilty to a charge growing out of the robbery of a bottling works here August 20.

THOMAS EDISON HONORED WITH DETROIT FETE

route arranged for President Hoover's public appearance.

Even Clay Genuine
In his efforts to reach modern conditions that existed 50 years ago when Edison was working on the incandescent lamp, Mr. Ford even had earth from New Jersey shipped to the historical village to surround the original Edison laboratory, a part of the group of historical structures making up the community "Henry's even got the New Jersey clay here," Edison remarked yesterday during a stroll about the village.

Some 600 guests have been invited to the dinner tonight. Today was declared a holiday by the Detroit city council in honor of the jubilee and all public schools closed for the day. Buildings in the downtown section are gay with flags, and pictures of the inventor are much in evidence. Special glasses have been placed on street lights to shed golden light during the celebration.

To Open Institute
Mr. Edison arrived here from East Orange, N. J., Saturday, traveling in the private car of Henry Ford. The inventor went immediately to the Ford estate, "Fair Lane," at Dearborn and planned to keep out of the public eye until this evening when President Hoover will voice the nation's greeting in formally dedicating the new Edison institute of technology established by Mr. Ford in his early American village at Dearborn.

Light's own tribute to Edison will be a flood of modern illumination that will bathe the new Edison institute during the ceremonies tonight. To give the celebration the atmosphere of 1879, however, the restored Menlo Park buildings and the reproduction of Independence Hall, which is the principal unit of the early American village, will be illuminated only by tallow candles and oil lamps.

View 50 Years Ago
How Edison's electric incandescent light was greeted 50 years ago is told in the New York Herald in an issue of 1879.

"Edison's electric light, incredible as it may appear, is produced from a little piece of paper—a tiny strip of paper that a breath would blow away. Through this little strip of paper is passed an electric current, and the result is a bright beautiful light, like the mellow sunset of an Italian autumn. . . . The paper is baked in an oven until all its elements have passed away except its carbon framework."

There follows a description of the light bulb's construction and, "this light, the inventor claims, can be produced cheaper than that from the cheapest oil. Were it not for the photograph, the quadruplex telegraph, and the various other remarkable productions of the great inventor, the world might well hesitate to accept his assurance that such a beneficent result had been obtained. But, as it is his past achievements in science are sufficient guarantee that his claims are not without foundation."

Old Train Re-Lives
DEARBORN, Mich., Oct. 21.—Greeted by a driving rain and a biting chill, President Hoover arrived here today to participate in the golden jubilee celebration of the invention of the incandescent electric lamp by Thomas A. Edison.

ROSEBURG JUNIOR HIGH VICTORIOUS AT COTTAGE GROVE

Roseburg junior high school football team defeated Cottage Grove Saturday by a score of 7 to 0 in a fast game at Finley field. Only one member of the Roseburg team had previous experience, so that Coach Warberg has had to build a team from all new material. While there were some ragged features connected with the playing, the team as a whole gave evidence of being well founded in football fundamentals and played a very good game, carrying the fight to the heavier invaders throughout the entire contest.

Roseburg's lone touchdown came early in the game, when the boys ploughed through for three first downs from the 50-yard line, breaking through a weak spot in the Cottage Grove line for several long gains. A substitution, however, plucked the hole after the score had been made and Roseburg was not able to cross the goal line again, although the ball was in enemy territory most of the time.

Cottage Grove made a threat in the last quarter, when a costly fumble gave them the ball in Roseburg territory. A long run put the local team in the shadow of their own goal post, but they managed to stiffen their defense and booted the ball back into the center of the field.

The local team has several players who show promise of becoming excellent football material as they gain experience. The short periods used for the small teams kept the game moving very rapidly, and the local team speeded up their action by running back from huddles, which greatly pleased the spectators.

There were very few penalties imposed, Cottage Grove losing 15 yards at one time for holding, but there were only two penalties imposed for offside. There were no serious injuries.

The Roseburg team goes to Marshfield next Friday and will play Medford here on November 8.

MRS. W. B. HAMMITT DIES

Mrs. W. B. Hammitt, former resident of Roseburg while her husband was engaged in the undertaking business in this city, died Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock, according to word received here today. A brother, John H. Cochran, resides at Medford. Funeral services are to be held at Los Angeles Wednesday.

CANYONVILLE LADY DIES IN EUGENE HOSPITAL

Mrs. Lena Ross, wife of John C. Ross of Cottage Grove, died at Pacific Christian hospital in Eugene Friday, after undergoing an operation. Funeral services were held today in the Gospel Mission at Canyonville, at 2:30 p. m. Interment will be made in the Canyonville cemetery.

BRIDGES QUILTS AS OAKLAND'S MAYOR; E. G. YOUNG NAMED

Ralston Bridges, for several years mayor of Oakland, has resigned his official position, due to the pressure of private business, which prevents him from giving the necessary time to the official duties. Mr. Bridges has tried on several occasions to secure release from the office, but the council refused to accept his resignation, but it finally became necessary for him to refuse to serve longer in the office. E. G. Young was unanimously selected by the council to fill the vacancy and was installed as mayor of the city. This leaves a vacancy on the council which has not yet been filled.

making all of the preliminary arrangements.

The Douglas County Turkey Breeders' association was organized last year for the purpose of holding up an additional line of profit from the turkey industry. Douglas county, it has been proven, because of its climate, affording a longer growing season, can produce the finest turkeys to be found on the Pacific coast. Growers, however, have confined their work largely to producing birds for meat purposes. Breeding turkeys, however, can be sold for much larger sums than can be secured from sales for meat, and, as Douglas county birds are of such fine quality, no reason is seen why the growers should not receive the profit that can be made from the sale of birds for breeding purposes. It is first necessary, however, to build up a reputation, and as the first step in that direction the association is arranging a fair in which the birds will be placed on display, so that turkey growers from all over the state will have an opportunity to see exactly what the county can produce.

The location for the fair was left between Roseburg and Oakland and Roseburg withdrew in favor of Oakland for the first fair. The Oakland and Roseburg merchants are giving excellent cooperation in the way of assisting the association and in donating special prizes and making numerous concessions to help make a success of this event.

S. P. FENLEY, 43 YEARS AT ELKTON, DIES, AGED SIXTY

Sterling Price Fenley passed away at his home in Elkton last Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock after a long illness. He was born in Salato, Calif., December 18, 1885, and has been living in the vicinity of Elkton for the last 43 years. On July 2, 1889, he was married to Ella E. Weatherly in Elkton and to this union six children were born, two, Audrey E. and Claude R., passed away during infancy, and a third, Flossie May, passed away in early girlhood. Two sons and one daughter, Stacy A., Floyd A. and Mrs. Eva Campbell, and the widow, all of Elkton, survive him, also one sister and one brother, Mrs. Eva Conroy, River Bank, Calif., and Thomas Fenley, Fresno, Calif. Mr. Fenley was a member of the following orders: Masons, I. O. O. F. and M. W. of A. He has lived practically all of his life in Elkton and will be missed by a host of neighbors and friends, who have loved him as a kind and useful citizen. Services were held in the Methodist church at Elkton, Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. Rev. F. I. Jenkins officiated. Services at the grave were held by the Masonic order. H. C. Searns was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

REVIVAL MEETINGS AT BIBLE STANDARD TEMPLE

Revival meetings will be held during the ensuing week at the Bible Standard Temple, featuring Jack and Violet Van Gundy, youth evangelists, who will conduct services each evening at 7:45. Both are preachers and singers, last night's sermon being delivered by Jack Van Gundy before a large audience. Violet will bring the message tonight. Their music is one of the interesting features of each service.

SUTHERLIN BAND WINS PRAISE AT CELEBRATION

The Sutherlin band, which played in Roseburg Saturday during the courthouse celebration, was given considerable praise by local people. The band is directed by T. H. Ohlson of this city and is made up of 38 men and boys, although only 24 were present Saturday. Many of the members were unable to play instruments at the time the band was organized, so that it was necessary to build the band up from the very beginning. Although organized only a short time the band is making a good showing and is a great asset to the Sutherlin community. Weekly concerts are played during the summer months, and the musicians turn out to assist in any civic enterprise.

Falls 1500 Feet to Death
BELLINGHAM, Wash., Oct. 21.—Panic stricken as he stood ready to start a parachute jump here today, Ed Mills, a Baine contractor, plunged 1500 feet to his death despite the efforts of Herb Buroker, the pilot and Gus Dutt, a passenger, to pull him back into the pit. A rope from the parachute to the plane broke and Mills fell, grasping the chute in such a manner as to prevent its opening.

Buroker was about 2000 feet up when Mills made ready to jump, but lost about 500 feet altitude flying with one hand on the controls while they tried to rescue Mills.

Saves Self and Mail
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21.—Tucking his mail bag under his arm, Harry Sievers, pilot of the Pittsburgh-Cleveland air mail route, leaped in his parachute 1,000 feet to safety as his plane crashed in a field near Beaver Falls, early today.

Sievers was flying from Bettis field, here, to Cleveland, when his motor stopped. Seizing the long bag of mail, he leaped. The plane was demolished. Sievers took the mail to the post office in Beaver Falls and arrangements were made to transfer it to another plane.

DAIRYMEN CONSIDER BREED SECOND TO BREEDING

Only a small proportion of the dairy animals on the nation's farms are pure bred—or even good grades. Therefore, the activities of Breed Associations is raising livestock standards are a real service to the farming industry. Each association seeks development of the breed it favors. Yet in those exhibitions whenever the breeds are shown together the friendly spirit of rivalry which exists evidences the realization that breeding counts rather than breed.

Such is the atmosphere pervading the Dairy division of the Pacific International Livestock Exposition, 19th annual of which will be held at Portland, Oregon, Oct. 26-Nov. 2. Here can be seen America's finest and best dairy animals and knowledge obtained how pure-bred make possible increasing production and profits. Other exhibits include Beef Cattle, Horses, Sheep, Hogs, Goats, Foxes and Poultry; also Dairy, Manufacturers' and Land Production Shows; Boys' and Girls' Club Work Exhibits; Industrial Exhibits; and world-renowned Horse Show. $100,000 premiums are offered of which amount $14,500 is for dairy cattle exhibits exclusively.
