GARDINER SEEKS OUTSIDE URGING ON COUNTY COURT

Word has been received here to the effect that the Gardiner chamber of commerce is sending out letters to the various chambers of commerce in coast cities tamped by the Roosevelt highway, asking that these chambers use their efforts to prevail upon the county court of Douglas county to provide funds for work on the coast highway north of Gardiner. The Douglas county court has taken the stand that the county has not sufficient money to provide any large amount for further construction work, declaring that its small road fund can be used to better purpose in maintaining existing roads and completing projects already undertaken. Considerable criticism has been received through the news of the state in statements emanating from the highway commission, but the court states that until the highway is relieved of some of the burden caused by continuing construction of the Devils Postpile road, the Tiller cutoff and other such projects already started that it is unable to supply funds to the Roosevelt highway.

BOMBING OF HOME HELD RETALIATION FOR LIQUOR RAIDS
