

NEW DODGE EIGHT A MARVELOUS CAR

Model Came as Surprise to the Auto World—Sedan on Exhibition.

An eight-cylinder car at less than $1500 has been received by the Newland Motor company...

It really is a remarkable car, its hushiness being the outstanding feature. Quality has not been cut anywhere in order to build an "eight" at so low a price.

This mono-piece body, each side being stamped out of one piece of metal, is much lighter and stronger than any other body offered today...

A Kiss for Corinna

By MAY CHRISTIE

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Denise Van Wyck, bored with the life of a debutante, and Corinna Dugan, beauty parlor operator, are both in love with Malvey Craig...

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER 13

Denise Van Wyck—a wrap of cream ermine covering her white evening frock—awaited Van Tui's arrival at the side entrance of the mansion.

That was farthest from the library. After her uncle's recent scathing observations on her idle hanger-on, and his expressed wish that she would cease running around in their company, it behooved her to be as quiet tonight as possible.

Because she wanted him to invite Malvey Craig down here, she must not be found out in anything that would further antagonize her uncle. She hoped with all her heart that Van Tui wouldn't think that terrible hooter.

He didn't, in his low, low-sounding machine he slid silently up under the shadow of the house and stopped close to her.

"That you, sweetheart?" He enjoyed intrigue. "You look forlorn. Lake Cinderella after the ball."

As she got quickly in beside him and the car glided out into the road, she said, nippily: "I'd have you know that this rag of a coat cost a mere couple of thousand dollars, so if you're going to play the fairy prince to this little Cinderella—as you call me—you'd better get a move on, or you haven't a hope in Hades!"

He looked down at her blonde prettiness, angled low in the machine beside him. What was she getting at? Girls—even wealthy ones—were all gold-diggers. They expected full cash value for every liberty accorded.

She was annoyed. Despite the April moon sinking in the blue sky above them—the romantic atmosphere of Spring—the knowledge of the cocktail bar behind them that was calculated to "put a kick" into proceedings—she felt she couldn't bear his touch.

This particular Cinderella doesn't want anything from you, thanks. There was a scornful flare at her nostrils, a curl to her soft lips. "I'm not one of your soft-digging women, thank the Lord!" and she moved definitely away from him with a wiggle of her hips.

tion by combining gravity and air pressure in feeding fuel to the combustion chambers. A fuel pump is used instead of the vacuum tank.

Internal hydraulic brakes are used. The hydraulic brake is automatically self-adjusting and is more dependable than air.

Two-way hydraulic shock absorbers add greatly to riding qualities and driving safety.

Timken adjustable roller bearings, used by Dodge Brothers since they began building cars, are used in the wheels.

Interior equipment includes robe rail, foot rail, ash trays, assist cords, window curtains, adjustable front seat, dome light, and interior side lights.

Hardware is designed after the style of modern skyscraper architecture, and is very beautiful.

Even the dome light and interior lighting are designed in harmony with the hardware.

Detailed mechanical specifications have not been received by the Newland Motor company, as public announcement of the car has not yet been made.

Museums in Russia Reveal Tragic Luxury of Czarist Regime; Soviet Tries to Eradicate All Religion

MOSCOW, Jan. 12.—Establishment of museums, on the chief fetiches of the soviets, continues in all parts of the union.

Palaces, churches, synagogues and other structural relics of the czarist regime are constantly being dedicated to education of the present day proletariat.

Another Leningrad museum of evil report is the former fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul on the banks of the Neva. It is stripped bare, a condition which adds somberness to the tales of soviet gulags concerning the manner in which political prisoners of the czars were allowed to rot in its gloomy dungeons.

Then there is the royal palace in the suburb of Tsarsko-Selo. Just as Czar Nicholas and his wife and children left it. The ikons which the czarina worshipped under the tutelage of Rasputin, the dolls and miniature furniture of the petticoats and the American Teddy bear and toboggan slide with which the sickly heir apparent amused himself are still there when they were that night in August, 1917, when the royal family departed by the rear portals of their home.

Then if one has time and inclination to can travel some 1700 miles eastward into Siberia and visit another museum, the most tragic of all. It is the two-story house in Ekaterinburg in which Emperor Nicholas, his wife and four children were murdered. For a fee of ten cents visitors may even enter a basement room and see upon the walls and floor the dull red stains left by the bullets and bayonets that obliterated the ruler of old Russia.

1 say!" The Scotch had gone to his head, however, and Denise's beauty. She was no longer just a fairy vision in the darkness, but a warm, desirable reality.

He held her tighter. "Come! I'm crazy about you!" and he started pulling her. "I tell you I won't, you cur!" She struck at him with all her force as he dragged her into the closed auto.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Carrie Chapman Catt, who is here to preside at the conference for the cause and cure of war which opens January 14, thinks it will be 100 years before peace for the world is attained.

She sees the popular general interest and demand for information about the naval reduction conference as a most hopeful sign. The press, she believes, has been a potent agency in bringing this open and above board policy about.

Women, in the opinion of this veteran leader of women's causes, are soon due to furnish a surprise to men by the way they vote.

"Men have been measuring the feminine voting population by their own yard stick," said Mrs. Catt. "They think they know just how the women will cast their ballot at every election. Some day their complacent calculations will be completely upset. Women are just getting their stride and realizing what they want. Before long now their vote will show it."

Asked if she thought women of this country had taken full advantage of their voting opportunities the white-haired pioneer worker replied:

"At least I am not satisfied. I did not look for a revolution overnight. Two things have held the women voters back. One is the lack of cordial welcome from either of the political parties. The Other is the evident shock experienced by men whenever a woman has aspired to an important position. However, this will all adjust itself."

BUILDING MATERIALS are different from most products bought and sold, in that they are purchased for long use—in a great many cases—for a life time. Poor quality or poor workmanship causes many regrets and additional expense. It is therefore more important that one considering new work or repairs, should investigate thoroughly the quality of materials required—Lumber, Millwork, Roofing, Hardware, Flooring, Finish, Cement, Plaster, etc.
