THE WATSONVILLE RIOTS

TO ANYONE who has visited Watsonville, Cal., and looked about a bit the wonder is that there are enough American citizens there to keep up their end of race riots such as have been recorded in the dispatches from there lately. It is a foreign looking town. Its shop windows are filled with cheap and tawdry merchandise of the sort designed to appeal to foreigners. Except for one hotel it has no good buildings. Circulation of its newspaper is lower in proportion to population than in most any other California community, thus indicating that few of its people read. The surrounding country is devoted mostly to truck farming, and foreigners, largely Mexican and Orientals, do the farming. Also they pretty much dominate the district.

In such a situation there is always potential cause for strife. The few white workers resent the presence of the foreign laborers, who work long hours at low pay and are efficient in such as vegetable raising beyond the point reached by the natives. Individual irritations, and conflicts are constant and the situation of strain is cumulative. Agitators play their part. Finally something happens to act as a match to the powder and riots ensue.

Filipinos seem to have drawn the burden of the attack in the present trouble but to one only casually an observer of conditions it would seem that if the whites are able to stand the Mexicans, the negroes of the lower class and the southern Europeans, they ought to be able to tolerate Filipinos, who are more intelligent and who have better standards of living than the others.

In its anxiety to get cheap labor the Watsonville district has brought its trouble on itself in large degree. The manner of the solution is not to be foreseen just now, but once the whole Pacific coast had a Chinese problem which was even more serious. That problem was solved and exists no longer. So probably will the present problem be solved as time goes on.

The Roseburg Municipal band has given complete and whole-hearted cooperation to the Parent-Teacher association drive for funds which will be used to build fine new tennis courts. The band is giving its services without charge for a concert Friday night and we are assured that in addition to the concert, several entertainment features have been provided. This is a community event worthy of every one's support.

This is the week of the big News-Review cooking school. Come to the armory Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from two until four and learn about cooking from Miss Irene Cameron.

POEM FOR THE DAY

By LOUIS ALBERT BANKS

THE MEN WHOM GOD HELPS

A keen-eyed, medium-sized young man captain stood in a lobby of a large hotel in Hong-Kong, conversing with a portly Englishman. "So you have come to trade in the Orient?" the portly one asked. "Well, step into the bar and tell me about your plans."

"I am sorry, but I never enter bars and I don't take alcoholic beverages," the young man captain replied.

The Englishman's eyebrows rose and his florid face broke into an unbecoming smile. "Entering Oriental trade without Scotch and sodas?"

"Yes, sir."

"Do you expect to be able to do business in the Orient except in a saloon over a friendly drink?" The portly one broke into a loud laugh. "If you do, don't bother."

The keen-eyed young man captain smiled and replied, "God will help me."

And presently God did for that young man. His name, Captain Robert Dollar, today sits on the tenth floor of the Robert Dollar Building on California street in San Francisco, and looks out over San Francisco bay, where there is always one or more of his great steamships and cargo boats resting in the water at the wharves, and his headquarters, representing the industries of coast commerce in the world—Walter Gifford Swanton in The Christian Liberator.

His men like this refresh our souls. Their faith is like hot, burning coals. They never leave a child of doubt. They put all timid fears to rout. They never compromise with sin. Or doubt that right and God will win. Their Christian life they keep in gear. And face their duty with a cheer.

Such Robert Dollar men are, wing. Old customs do not blind their eyes. And when they know a thing is wrong, They simply will not there belong. With Satan's ways they do not mix. And so escape his dirty tricks. They do not walk the devil's path. And have no shameful aftermath.

Such men will live with conscience clear. And never from the night will veer. They meet adventures every day. Expect them every time they pray. They do not fear the chattering coil. They walk in friendship with their God. And when their heads are old and white Their eyes still shine with heaven's light.

These are the men God stoops to aid. They walk through life all unafraid. They make the world a better place. Men see in them their Master's face. Discouraged souls take heart again. And wake to trust their fellow men. Where'er they go, their hands do good. They help to world-wide brotherhood.
