GEORGE WASHINGTON

TODAY we celebrate the anniversary of the birth of the first president of the United States, George Washington. Should one of us find ourselves suddenly transported back to the time of Washington we would believe ourselves to be in some foreign country, so different were things in those days.
Washington was not the president of the United States of our conception.

He gravitated to leadership partly due to events over which he had no control, and he made a great and successful leader. Things in the colonies of Washington's time were chaotic to say the least.
Trouble among themselves, trouble with Indians and more or less trouble with the colonies of other countries beset them.

Washington had two outstanding qualities which made him the leader of the people of his time; he was a born soldier and a fine and considerate officer and secondly he was wealthy and the owner of vast areas of land. In Washington's time, the measure of a man's wealth was the amount of lands he owned.

There was a very definite class distinction in the colonies in Washington's time. The aristocrats and owners of large estates, often under grants from the English king, were not greatly concerned over the relationship of the colonies with England. The burden of the disaffection with things was in among the middle class shop keepers and small business people of all kinds. Labor on the large estates in those days was pretty largely slave labor but in the northern colonies where farms were smaller and population more dense, disaffection was more general.
Washington was an aristocrat but being a physically active man and a soldier he had a healthy contempt for sham and pretense. Washington was urged to become a member of and in fact became the leader of the only attempt ever made on this continent to form a nobility.
He rejected the idea and the movement failed.

Many historians claim that Washington was infinitely more interested as general of the revolutionary forces, in the work of making war than he was in the political side of the conflict. It has been said in criticism of Washington that he was a materialist, that he had no imagination or emotion. No man can be justly criticized for those qualities, nor should Washington's name be compelled to suffer such biographical writings inspired by small minds. Washington was a great man, a clean character, a hard master but a just one, and a man who, were he alive today would be a leader in our time as he was in his own. We pay respect today to the memory of a great American.

Coch Spear has arrived in Eugene and sport fans see in his coming the beginning of the rise of University of Oregon teams to great fame. People who are criticizing the large salary paid the new coach should realize that they as taxpayers have nothing to do with the paying of Coach Spear's salary.
The Associated Students organization of the university pays the salary.

Mr. Hoover in his latest address urged congressional leaders to do something about the tariff bill but did not repeat his former expression of confidence in the ability of congress to legislate. "Hope long deferred," etc.

Oregon Editors' Opinions

(Salem Capital Journal) ANNOUNCEMENT that the Kimball school of theology will have open activity next September for one year because of the decree of the University senate of the Metropolitan church requiring endowment of $250,000 by 1932 will be received with regret not only in Salem, but throughout the Northwest. The present endowment is but $35,000, and if the required sum is not raised, it may be cut off the list of schools.

The crisis in the affairs of Kimball may force action by the congregational Methodist conferences of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, who will consider the question at their annual sessions in June. Certainly it will not speak well for a church so powerful as the Methodist in neglecting theological education in the northwest. If constructive action follows, the temporary closure may in the long run be beneficial.

It does seem as if some way could be devised to perpetuate the institution, if on no other lines than as a department of Willamette university, on whose campus it is located. This of course, is a problem for Methodists to solve, though in the means the cooperation of the community is assured.

Filling Stations and Curb Space (Corvallis Gazette-Times)
The Salem city ordinance committee has recommended to the city treasury a fee of $1.00 per annum for use of the city streets parking space. This is as it should be. If all the parking space down town used up by service stations could be utilized, there would be no need for a time parking ordinance. No other business concern in the city is allowed to monopolize a couple of square feet of parking space.

We note that the law in connection with the registration of voters provides that the card records shall be punched with a hole fivesixteenths of an inch in diameter, in the middle of the bottom side and the bottom of said hole shall be three-eighths of an inch from the bottom of the card. Sounds like another "Gold Bug" cipher.

Dry Throats
(Astoria Astorian)
After all, when you come to think about it, all the "wet orators" are depending in the national capital must have a lot of dry throats in its wake.

Certainly Not
(Hend Bulletin)
"Students drinking less than before," a headline informs us. It will be taken for granted, of course, that no allusion to the fountain of knowledge is intended.

GARDENS..... and Other Things

By CHARLES A. BRAND

The garden magazine writers have been suggesting a lot of things that will be done in winter in preparation for the opening of spring, among them the preparing of stakes for the tying up of flowers, putting garden tools in shape, overhauling the lawn mower, making plant and tree labels or name plates, painting the flower tubs and window boxes, fixing up the seed flats with soil, bottoms, and many other things. And it is time here to plant annual flower seeds in flats in the house or in a cold frame. There are always weeds to pull. But real gardening weather has not come yet.

Members of the Garden Club might just as well be bracing themselves for the visit of the census taker. He will ask what you do. You will say, "I have a garden. I do the spading and the weeding, prune the shrubs, spray the rose bushes, trap the moles and bait the earwigs, pick all the sweet peas every day, and so forth, then morning and evening I drag the hose around and water everything. Of course there is the lawn to mow, and my husband is so tired when he comes home from the office that I do that too. Of course I keep house and cook, wash, sew, mend, scour, wax the floors, have company and bake cakes for church suppers. Then the countless official will turn to his book and write the words, "Housewife—an occupation."

This is Washington's birthday.
Besides being the father of his country George Washington was a famous gardener and his home at Mount Vernon was one of the show places of the country. In regard of the Roseburg gardens there are descendants of the original English life in the Mount Vernon garden.

There are 112 City Planning boards in Massachusetts. They are required by law to have them there.

There is nothing very original in the saying that it takes a lot of followers as well as strong leaders to make things go, but it is simply true, and it is a truth for home consumption. We have a five-cent coin in our country, and it is giving us level-headed, statesmanlike leadership, but generals without an army can't win battles.
The future of this valley will be just what we make it. We can have a pleasant little one-horse future here without spending an hour of a nickel to get it, but if we make of this country what providence has given us a chance to make it one of the finest and richest valleys in the west-it is going to take work and money.
What if there are some special taxes if we bring prosperity by the means? We should be thankful that we can do big things by comparatively small tax contributions.
Satisfaction with things as they are never built up in any country.
Whatever you may think of Masolini he said one thing that is worth quoting. He said, "There are many dangerous things upon the face of the earth from the Bengal tiger to the malaria fly, but one surpasses them all—idleness. Optimism that is the kind of optimism that thinks the future of this country will be all right if we can only keep taxes down. We can have a great future. It is not at all certain that we shall. It all depends."

Advice to Girls

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am a girl of 16 years and I want to know if I am doing right. I have a boy friend and I like him very much. I have been with him for a year and I am sure I am doing right.
I am a good girl and I am sure I am doing right.

JUST TWO: (A) If the girl knows that she will be a woman, she should not be with a boy who is not a man. (B) If the girl is a girl, she should not be with a boy who is not a man.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
My boy friend has broken several dates off and on. Still he says he loves me. Should I believe this? My only doubt is because of his breaking dates.

DITTO: If it all right for a girl to write to a boy friend when they have been on the "outs," when she has made a mistake, and cares for his friendship?

RODO: A legitimate reason for breaking his appointments with you there is no cause for complaint. But if you are prepared to tolerate such conduct without a good excuse you are a very easy-going person. A gentleman must not break an appointment, regardless of his affection for the person involved. You should tell him this, in case he is not aware of it.

RODO: If you have been at fault, it is only proper that you should proffer your apologies to the person whom you have offended, whether it be man or woman.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I've been going with a boy off and on for about three years and I like him very much and he claims he likes me. But a couple of times he made a date with me on Sunday and didn't keep it and it made a fool of me in front of my parents and friends. Please advise.

MAR: The time of your letter quite clearly expresses your indignation at such inexcusable conduct. If the young man is not prepared to offer sincere apology and adequate excuse for his behavior, you would be lowering yourself to make further appointments with him.

LOCAL CONSUMERS SHOULD DEMAND HOME PRODUCTS

Editor News-Review: I wish to congratulate you on your recent editorial concerning the failure of local stores to handle the product of the Roseburg cannery. Your experience serves to illustrate one of the principal reasons why other states, with fewer natural advantages and resources than Oregon, have forced ahead so much more than this state.

Many years ago I was employed as secretary of the "Magnolia California" at Healdsburg, California.
This cannery gave employment to from 400 to 500 hands during the canning season and purchased the Talks on Health

By DR. R. S. COPELAND

IT IS a sad fact that many little children suffer from deformities of one kind and another. They are of a more or less serious nature, and it is our duty to take preventative measures, and the public must be educated to the possibilities of securing the large numbers of cripples in our midst.
Much can be done and is being done to help these unfortunate ones. The most important work lies in preventing deformities among children.

Hospitals are built for crippled children and are doing a wonderful work in overcoming deformities.
A list of the measures used in this line of work shows the wonderful advances science has made for the benefit of the cripple.

There are several classes of crippled children:
First, there are the children who are born with some deformity.
This may be a clubfoot or hand, it may be a harelip or cleft palate.
It may be a dislocation of a bone,
