POEM FOR THE DAY

By LOUIS ALBERT BANKS

THE REALM OF UNDERSTANDING

The story of a 21-year struggle against the handicap of blindness and of an effort to continue the practice of law through the assistance of his wife was related today by Senator Thomas D. Schall of Minnesota.

Speaking over the radio, Senator Schall explained he lost his sight at the age of 30 from an electric shock and asserted that after being blind for 21 years he wouldn't "trade the understanding" he has gained "for all the eyes in the world."

He said the first thing every man who loses his sight thinks of is to quit and that if it had not been for the "love and the tender understanding of my brilliant little helpmate and classmate I think I would have quit."

He added that when he became blind he asked his wife if he should sell lead pencils and she replied: "I should say not, Tom. We're going to practice law. I will be your eyes. You have your profession. In a short time, I am sure, you can try a lawsuit as well without your sight as you could with it. People will trust a blind man, if he has the ability, just as quick as a man with sight."

Explaining his attitude toward his blindness he said: "Through chastisement has come to me understanding. With that understanding I realize the truth, I no longer pray to have this cup taken from me, but accept the fight as it is presented to me. After 21 years of darkness, I wouldn't trade the understanding that has come to me for all the eyes in the world."

Schall was elected to the senate in 1924 after serving ten years in the house.—Associated Press story, Feb. 29, 1930.

This speech of Schall's fills us with hope; No need that anyone should mope. Say not again a man is blind. Who does his seeing with his mind. All honor to this wondrous wife. Who merged in his her very life. Became the guardian of his soul To fit him for his splendid role.

The world would be a sorry place But for such women's wondrous grace! In times of need they give their eyes To lead their loved ones toward the skies. Tom Schall is in the senate now Because his woman showed him how; Her courage nerved him for the fight; He climbed life's ladder by her sight.

The torch she lighted in his heart Has helped him play a leading part; It lifted him from out the slough, And made his life all over new. I would not from his fame detract. But he makes clear the wondrous fact That back of all his noble will There was her woman's power to thrill.

Brave Schall has reached this glorious realm Because of her who's at the helm. He well deserves the praise that's given. But she has been his gift from heaven. All honor to this noble pair! Their love perfumes our common air. Of all who've reached the senate halls. The bravest fight was Thomas Schall's.

TODAY'S MARKETS

PORTLAND, March 8.—Egg and butter quotations continued barely steady today. The egg movement into storage has become quite general.

Reviewing the fruit and vegetable situation, the Portland bureau of the United States department of agriculture says:

"Lettuce shipments from the Imperial valley continue very heavy, with volume of loadings during the last 2 weeks unprecedented in the history of the valley. The tremendous consuming capacity of the western public for this product is shown in yesterday's shipping-point report of market fruit for best stock. With prices slightly higher than former levels, at Portland, good fresh lettuce is selling to retailers at $3.00 per crate, while older, wilted stock is cleaning up at a 50 per cent discount.

"Oranges and grapefruit are firm, with price advances in a few sizes. The onion market continues very unsatisfactory. Weaker eastern markets are confining Oregon's distribution to the Pacific coast. Better truck receipts of Roseburg cauliflower are increasing in volume, but no carlot loadings are in immediate prospect.

Mills Demanding Wool

BOSTON, March 8.—The Commercial Bulletin of Boston today says: "While business in wool is not brisk and cash offerings are few, there is a more general demand for wool, notably for the Pacific coast."

"Foreign primary markets are fairly steady. Secondary markets are quiet and cash offerings are few. Further openings of semi-staple, overcomings and fancy goods this week by the American Woolen company reveal prices usually ten to fifteen cents a yard higher than a year ago, and sometimes more. Demand for goods is reported rather broader.

"Buying of new wools is more or less steady, with dealers and the cooperative scheme reporting varying success in different localities.

Mohair is moderately active in the range of 15 to 20 cents for good to choice original bag hair.
