DOLLARS LEAVING TOWN

Why does anyone have to go from town to town looking for a job? Is it because he cannot get a job in his own city? Why do not the citizens of every town patronize their home industries? Why patronize the "foreigner" and pay $1.50 to get their lawn mower sharpened when they can get the job done for $1.25 by a man who lives in the home town, whose guarantee of satisfactory work is backed up by his investment in taxable property here. Jarvis has the latest improved lawn mower sharpening equipment, and he only charges $1.25 with a guarantee that is good. Keep those two-bit pieces for the family.

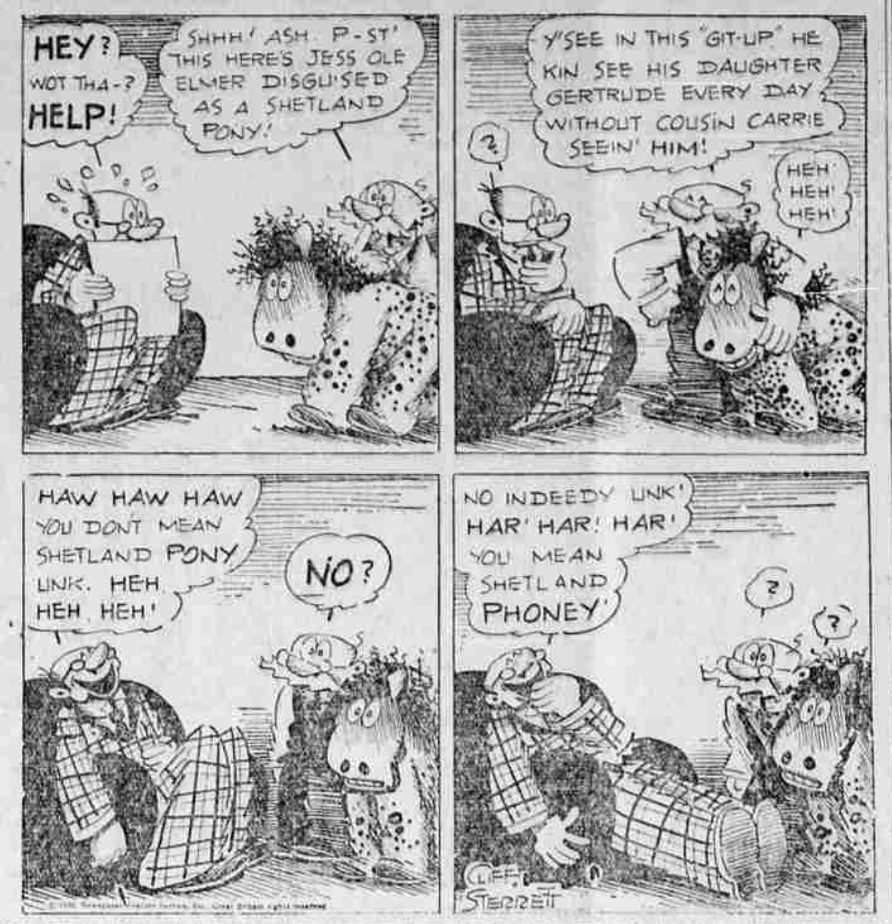
POLLY AND HER PALS



The Horse Laugh

POEM FOR THE DAY

By LOUIS ALBERT BANKS

PLAYING WITH PEARLS

This story came from New York:

"Fannie Surella, 4, of 9 Crosby street, has just had the distinction in their neighborhood of wearing a $50,000 pearl necklace. Only those persons who know Crosby street, in the lower East side of Manhattan, can really appreciate the distinction.

"When Fannie's Uncle Frank, whose driver's license with a taxicab company calls him Frank De Luca, came home to the crowded flat a few nights ago, he invited Fannie, as usual, to look for things in his pockets. This time it was not jelly beans, however, but a string of large white 'beads' that Fannie tried to break so that she could roll them over the floor. Uncle Frank told her how he had found them lying in the gutter near his taxi stand at Fifth avenue and Eighty-sixth street.

"Fanaie incorporated the necklace into all her games. She learned the cat with it and dropped it over and over again into the cat's milk saucer, licked clean, to hear the delicate sound it made. Then she wore it about her wrist and then it hung about her chubby neck and then wore it as a pale crown atop her dark, tousled hair. Many times she pulled and pulled at it to see if she couldn't get the beads off to really play with them, but the string was very strong."

In the meantime five thousand dollars reward had been offered for the finding of the pearls. "Uncle Frank" got it, and gave Fannie a new doll in place of the pearls.

This little maid who played with pearls
Was true to ways of little girls.
The pearls were just a plaything bright—
Some stones that sparkled in the light;
They had no other wealth for her—
Just made her, like a kitten, purr—
A bit of sunshine to her day,
A thing to toss about in play.

Alas, we children older grown
To just such carelessnes are prone!
We play with our immortal souls
As though there were no higher goals,
As though our regnant power of will
Were but an evanescent thrill;
We waste our energy and power
On things that perish with the hour.

This necklace round old Tabby's neck—
A gleaming chain, a brilliant speck
That's picked from out the muddy ditch
Without a thought of wealth so rich,
Is like our play with human hearts—
We'd buy and sell them in our marts,
And do not dream their precious worth—
The rarest jewels known to earth.

If some men knew how rich they are
Their faces would outshine a star;
They've chance for love worth more than gold—
A source of pleasure all untold.
Have power the heaven's to entrance—
To pulse and thrill with rare romance.
Yet many play with trifling things
And do not recognize their wings.

Annual Cherry Crop Worth $1,750,000; Every Fruit Region of Oregon Takes Part in Industry.

Oregon has about 10,000 acres devoted to cherry growing. From this acreage is annually harvested approximately 10,000 tons which oring to the orchardists nearly $1,750,000. Salem has been called the "Cherry City." Near The Dalles is a large cherry producing area. In eastern Oregon and in the Rogue River valley are large cherry districts. Cherries are grown in practically every fruit section of Oregon. The principal varieties are Royal Anne, Bing, Lambert and Black Republican. Oregon cherries are packed in special boxes, placed in refrigerator cars and sold throughout the east. They are extremely large in size, firm in texture and beautifully colored. From the Royal Anne cherries grown in Oregon are made the highly prized marischino cherries. The Oregon trees yield from 3,000 to 4,000 pounds to the acre. There are about 2,500 acres of cherry orchards near Salem. The largest Lambert cherry orchard in the world is near Salem. Bing and Lamberts are usually shipped east in the fresh state. Union county is now enlarging its acreage of cherries and has been pronounced an excellent cherry district. The state chamber of commerce has recognized this important fruit industry of Oregon by selecting it for the material of one of its poster stamps whereby this excellent fruit grown here will be advertised to the nation at large. When you ask for Oregon cherries, you will be pleasantly surprised with the flavor and uniformly high quality product you receive.

RUPTURE CURABLE
REPORTS EXPERT
Results Not Influenced By Age or Time Standing

W. E. Hardy, nationally known expert of New York and Philadelphia, but now of Los Angeles, says:

"Rupture (Hernia) comes through a natural opening. It is not a breach or tear in the abdominal wall, as most people think, therefore subject to closure."

The Hardy Super Shield, as furnished and supplied to the United States government, is a scientific advancement over all other methods and will not retain any reducible rupture perfectly, giving immediate and complete relief; also relieve all fear and danger of strangulation; but closes the opening of the average case in 30 days. Make up your mind to permanently close the hernial opening by the use of the Hardy Super Shield. Mr. Hardy himself treats every case personally and proves to each what he claims for his treatment. If you want done what others have failed to do, see W. E. Hardy. Large and difficult cases of long standing specially solicited. Special attention given to children at nominal rates.

Mr. Hardy will be at the Hotel Rose Sunday, March 23rd only. Hours: 10 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. evenings 6 to 9. Ask at desk for Mr. Hardy, Rupture Expert.

Avoid the use of elastic or web trusses with leg straps, as same rests when the bump shows and not where the opening is, often resulting in strangulation and permanent injury.

Don't wear your truss where the bump shows, but place it where the opening is. It is different. Call and be shown. He will be glad to show you without charge or fit you if desired. Anyone ruptured should remember the date and take advantage of this opportunity.
