GARDENS . . . . and Other Things
"I don't know anything about it and you don't know anything about it so I'll explain it to you, to use the words of C. R. Shipman, one of the picturesque citizens of Douglas county who has now removed to Chicago where he is engaged in the lumber brokerage business. A fresh truck always has a sack of seeds, the same kind I had last year. I found this year a slip of paper tucked exactly how to handle these temperamental seeds. It's worth quoting entire and cutting out, so, for once we will put all levity aside and devote the space to something worth while, vaunting detailed directions for starting petunias."

"Prepare a seed bed by taking two parts of any light compost or leaf mold thoroughly mixed with one part of clean sand, and sift all through a fine screen. With this mixture fill flats and seed pans, pressing down the soil to a flat surface, evenly, within two inches of the top. Give a thorough soaking."

"Sprinkle the petunia seed evenly over this surface but do not cover with the least bit of soil. To prevent attacks of fungal which might easily kill the young petunia plants sprinkle the newly sown flats with charcoal dust. Place a clean pane of glass over the top of the flat or seed pan in the days. If the wind rays can reach it, place a single sheet of newspaper over the glass to prevent danger of burning. At night and in dark weather remove this sheet of paper."

"As soon as the seed sprouts (say 8 or 10 days after sowing if kept at a temperature of 60 degrees) take off the pane of glass entirely. The young plants should be planted as soon as possible into flat boxes, another them on inch apart. Shortly thereafter they should be put into two or three inch pots. The seedlings will commence flowering three months after sowing under the conditions indicated."
