STATE MARKET AGENT'S LETTER

Text of Cattle Legal, Wheat Still on Tobacco, Reducing Valuable, Delaying Onion Crop.

(By REYMOUR JONES)

The right of the legislature to require owners of breeding cattle to submit animals to tuberculin test and adopt reasonable measures for carrying out such requirements recently was upheld by the supreme court of Nebraska. The man who restated the operations of the law contended that it was unconstitutional because it discriminated between breeding cattle, which are covered by the law, and feeding cattle which are exempt from inspection, and that both breeding and feeding cattle are susceptible to tuberculosis. The point is made in the decision that feeding cattle are raised for market and must necessarily pass through many stages of inspection before the product finally reaches the public for consumption; that the existence of tuberculosis in breeding and dairy cattle is a menace to the public health both of infants and adults and is a matter of common knowledge. The decision held that the legislature was within its power in adopting the classification, and closed with this declaration: "Statutes to promote and protect the public health by suppressing tuberculosis among domestic animals are for a public purpose and are liberally construed to accomplish the intended purpose."

TODAY'S MARKETS

(Associated Press Local Wire)
PORTLAND, April 25.—Butter prices declined somewhat after the decline of Thursday. Demand appeared to be slightly more active. Firm prices continued to hold steady.

A leading produce company announced reduction of its "round in choice red, making the price 19¢ to 20¢.

Following the fruit and vegetable situation, the Portland bureau of the U. S. department of agriculture says: "Lettuce supplies are heavy, but generally poor quality. In raising the slow distribution in Portland. The few offerings of good quality are steady at $1.50 to $2.00 per crate. Though California's shipments increased sharply to 200 cars.

The nation's heaviest apparatus loadings from the northwest were recorded with 7 cars from Washington and one car from Portland and The Dalles. California's shipments are light, and the apparatus market is fairly good at western points. Portland prices are higher.

Recent arrivals from California's market in quality from very poor to good. Some berries show a high percentage of decay. The market is low at $1.50 to $2.00 per crate.

Domestic wheat markets decline on rumor sharply the past week, influenced principally by improved prospects for winter wheat as a result of scattered rains over dry areas in the southwest, says the U. S. Weekly Grain Market Review. Additional moisture in the spring wheat areas of both the United States and Canada were also weakening factors. Cash wheat was relatively firmer than futures at most markets under a good domestic demand from mills. Export demand for U. S. wheat was still lacking. Hard winter wheat showed the greatest decline in the domestic market, and prices in Kansas City at the close Friday were about 6 cents lower than a week before. Pacific coast markets weakened along with those at eastern points, but declines were less marked, as cash prices at Portland declined only about 1 cent during the week.

The onion growers of the Lake Umbagog region in Marion county are discussing the advisability of reducing the acreage about 25 per cent in order to be assured of a better market at profitable prices. The Gervais Star says: "Exper-ence and shipping point markets weakened. Onions are arriving in over-abundance and jobbers' prices were cut to 20¢ per bushel. "First Imperial Valley" tomatoes and cantaloupes are enroute to the northwest.

Prices to dealers: Fresh extra, 20¢; standard, 18¢; fresh medium, 16¢. Prices to wholesalers 2¢ under price to dealers. Butter—Cubes: Extra, 25¢; standard, 23¢; prime first, 21¢; fat, 19¢. Country butter: 21¢; 20¢; 19¢.
