SELF-ENFORCEMENT ADVISED BY BISHOP

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 30.—The national congress of the Protestant Episcopal church was told today by Bishop Samuel S. Booth, of Vermont, the only solution to "the prohibition problem" was "self-enforcement."

He asserted prohibition was an individual problem calling for self-discipline.

"The law of Jesus Christ and the responsibility of the individual to society under it is the only law which seems to be strong enough to solve this problem," he said.

CHIEFTAIN MINE PREPARES TO SHIP FIRST CAR OF ORE

The first carload shipment of ore from the Chieftain mine on South Myrtle creek is to be completed within the next few days, according to Edward Law, who, accompanied by Mrs. Law and his partner, Ernest Ward, was in Roseburg today attending to business matters.

Mr. Law tok over the old Chieftain mine two years ago and has been doing development work to get the mine in operation. It was abandoned several years ago, after very profitable production over a long period of years. The vein was believed to have been worked out and the owners of the property abandoned it.

Mr. Law, who has had much experience in mining work, made a careful investigation of the property and became convinced that the vein had not been worked out and that the mine still held much valuable mineral.

He estimated that the lode would be tapped at a depth of 112 feet and his calculations were proven accurate to within three feet, as the vein was reached at 115 feet. The mine has now been reopened, he states and rich values have been found. The vein is widening out as progress is made, and there is every indication that it will prove very rich when the heavy production work is started, Mr. Law says.

Trucks are now hauling the ore into Myrtle Creek and a minimum car weight has already been taken in, but the car will not be moved until fully loaded, which will require a few more days.

It is planned to erect a stamp mill in the near future to eliminate the necessity for heavy transportation.

In From Days Creek—Mrs. R. A. Moore, of Days Creek, spent several hours in this city yesterday shopping and calling on friends.
