

Classified Section

RATES: Per word, each insertion, 1 cent. By the week, 5 cents a word. Minimum per advertisement, 25 cents. Mail your ads—count the words and enclose stamp, check or money order.

FOR SALE

- OLD GROWTH FIR $2 per tier in 2 1/2 tier loads. South End Fuel Co.
- WOOD FOR SALE—Block, $3.50 per tier. Phone 15F12. Jacoby Bros.
- RHODE ISLAND REL eggs for hatching, $4 hundred. Phone 8F14.
- FOR SALE—Kale plants; dry fir wood, $2 tier. L. G. Moxley, Wilbur, Ore.
- FOR SALE—Milk cow, giving about 4 gallons per day, $60. Phone 34F2.
- FOR SALE—12 head yearling and 2 year-olds. 2nd house on Lookingglass road. J. D. Vedder.
- FOR SALE—2 good milk cows and one 1150-lb. work horse. Mrs. E. Bradford, Box 147, Dillard.
- FOR SALE—Used tires at a big saving to you. All sizes. L. L. Chambers service station. Phone 649.
- FOR SALE—Cedar fence posts, from 5 to 12c. at the store. B. H. Dichter & Co., Canas Valley, Ore.
- FOR SALE OR TRADE—Baino wagon, $3, for cow, sheep, or what have you. Phone 49F3, Oakland.
- FOR SALE or trade for car, large paved lot on East Douglas St. Owner J. O. Elbert 894 W. 7th, Albany, Ore.
- FOR SALE—6-room plastered house, full basement, 1 acre, fruit and berries, chicken house, barn, work shop, garage. On the west side. Phone 378-J.
- FOR SALE—De Laval Jr. milking machine, complete, good as new. Less than half price, 1 mile east and 1 south of Dixonville, J. S. Turner.
- FOR SALE—If you break down, call on an accident of any kind, just call L. R. Chambers at 649. It doesn't cost so much. We have one of the best tow cars in the town, and take your car to any repair shop you say.
- FOR SALE—Auto paint enamel. It is time to paint your car, and we have the best auto enamel that is to be had. We have used it for a long time. Come in and see what it will do. L. R. Chambers. Durant sales and service garage. Phone 678. 325 W. Cass St.

WANTED

- WANTED—$2500, will give good security. Phone 266-R.
- WANTED—10 or 12 milk cows, coming fresh about June 1st. Box 2680.
- MAN and wife wants work. Carpenter work or anything. Richard Woods, Dixonville.
- WANTED—Maternity work in the home, 30 years' experience. Mrs. E. E. Thompson, Wilbur, Ore.
- SALESMEN WANTED—66 miles on 1 gallon. Amazing how little gas savor. All autos, 1 free. Critchlow, 4610-E, Wheaton, Ill.
- ENTHUSIASTIC woman gardener with years of experience desires employment. I like to make things grow and I know how. Give me a chance if you need help this summer. I am also a good cook and housekeeper. Could cook for small crew or for a family. I am an experienced dressmaker or could do clerking. I need employment to support myself and 12-year-old boy. Write or call Mrs. H. D. Hayes, Melrose, Phone 24F23.

FOR RENT

- FURNISHED house, ideal for children. 335 N. Rose.
- FOR RENT—4-room apartment. 248 N. Rose.
- FOR RENT—Modern 4-room furnished house. Phone 471-L. Call 547 S. Stephens.
- FOR RENT—May 5th, 4-room furnished apartment, ground floor, 117 W. Lane. G. W. Young & Son, Phone 417.

LOST

- LOST—About a month ago in front of Woolworth store, 1 key. No. 9277. Return to Red Cross Pharmacy. $1 reward.

FOUND

- FOUND—Bunch of keys in case. Owner may have same by calling at this office.

MISCELLANEOUS

- CAR OWNER—Don't forget to call 553 when in need of auto parts. Saff's Auto Wrecking House.
- COME to the Catholic ladies' card party at the Parish hall on Kane St. on Tuesday evening, May 6th, at 8 p. m. Bridge, five hundred. Prizes. Refreshments, 35 cents.

NEW TODAY

- WANTED—Washing, 3 dozen. 50c. Phone evening 563-J. Mrs. Noe.
- LOANS—We can help you to build your home, remodel your present home, or to get title to your property if you are buying under contract. Let us help you! DOUGLAS BUILDING & LOAN ASSOCIATION. Medical Arts Bldg. Phone 248.

POLLY AND HER PALS

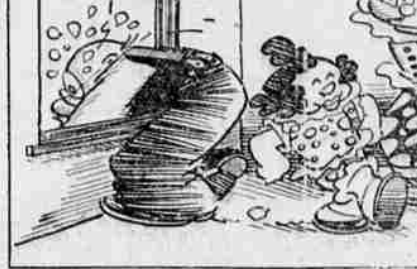

Y'CAN'T EXPECT GERTRUDE TO BECOME AN ANGEL ALL AT ONCE, PAW! Y'GOTTA GIVE THE CHILD TIME!

I'D LIKE T'GIVE 'ER 'LIFE! SHE'S BEEN HERE SIX MONTHS. AN' SHE'S NEVER SMILED ONCE!

YE GODS! THIS WOULD HAND HER A LAUGH! HERE OLE GAL ATTA BOY!!

WHAT IS IT? S'MATTER?

A Keen Sense of Humor

POOR OLE KITTY FELL IN THE RAIN BARREL. AN' WAS JESS GOIN' DOWN FER THE THIRD TIME!

POEM FOR THE DAY

By LOUIS ALBERT BANKS

THE KING OF JAZZ

Paul Whiteman may not be a great moving picture actor but he is a great showman. That on the word of Ted Bacon, well-known Portland violin teacher, who recently returned from Hollywood where he was engaged in assisting Whiteman in the making of "The King of Jazz," which will be given its world premiere at the Roxy theatre in New York on May 5.

The large and famous Mr. Whiteman will arrive in this city tomorrow and will present his widely known 32-piece orchestra in concert tomorrow night at the public auditorium for the education and enjoyment of those of Portland who like the Whiteman brand of music as hitherto made known in these parts by radio and records.

According to Bacon, Whiteman took no chances with putting out a picture that would mar his million-dollar reputation. The baby-faced conductor demanded experts in every line to work on the picture and he got them.

"I believe the picture will create a furore," said Bacon yesterday. "It has some of the largest acts ever employed and its sound reproduction is the best I have ever heard." "The King of Jazz" will only add to Whiteman's reputation and make people more anxious to hear him.

At Roxy's on May 5, for the premiere of his picture Whiteman will lead his own band combined with the Roxy orchestra, which will make an ensemble of 15 men. George Gershwin will play the piano part in the "Rhapsody in Blue."—Palmer Hoyt in the Morning Oregonian, April 13, 1930.

Paul Whiteman proves his right to live; He can such jolly pleasure give. God bless the men who make us laugh, For that of living's surely half! Men must not always cling to work, For in such strain dark ill may lurk. The wisest men take time for play; It quite prepares the heart to pray.

The folks who live to entertain Will soothe a deal of needless pain. We slower souls owe them a debt We never, never should forget. Whatever we may think of jazz It wondrous fascination has For frayed and fragile, weary nerves, And oft a healing purpose serves.

Paul Whiteman was to music bred, Has music in both heart and head; Has music in each drop of blood— A leaping, whirling, dancing flood— Absorbed it from his mother's heart And from his father's splendid art. He drew it with his very name— No wonder he has won his fame!

How true it is, all round the earth, The men who come to kingly girth Are those who in their art are lost— Flung on its waves and tempest-tossed! They put in work their very souls, And for success pay heavy tolls. To natural gift they give the reins— Through full surrender reap their gains.

The public is cordially invited to attend a MUSIC WEEK RECITAL

Given By Pupils of Gladys H. Strong

Monday, May 5 South Methodist Church 8 o'clock

DOUGLAS FUNERAL HOME

Established 1926
Perfect Funeral Services
Fair and Reasonable Prices

AMBULANCE SERVICE

PHONE 112 H. C. STEARNS PHONE 112
Pine and Lane Sts. Manager Lady Attendant

SENATE RACE IN MAINE SEES WET AGAINST 2 DRYS

AUGUSTA, Me., May 5.—(A. P.)—A "wet" running against two "drys" colors the June primary contest for the republican nomination for United States senator in Maine, pioneer prohibition state.

The three aspirants to the seat now occupied by Senator Arthur H. Gordon, who is retiring.

Donald H. Dewar, Portland securities dealer, in his first entry into politics, pledged himself to work for "repeal or modification" of the prohibition law and confined his candidacy to that one issue.

Against him are Congressman Wallace H. White, Jr., and former Governor Ralph O. Brewster.

White has represented the second Maine district for 13 years and foresees that his district probably will be eliminated as a result of reapportionment.

Seeking nomination to the congressional post, being voluntarily vacated by White are three candidates: Frederick P. Bonney of Hangeley, Boston business man; Donald B. Partridge of Norway, and State Senator Zeima M. Dwinall of Camden.

In the democratic primary Frank O. Haskell, Portland attorney, is opposed for the senate nomination.

Governor William Tudor Gardner, seeking re-election, is opposed by John H. Wilson, former mayor of Bangor.

Edward C. Moran Jr., of Rockland has no opposition for the democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Flag of Confederacy Now Flies on Capitol Hill

Planted There—First Time by Senator Blease of Mother Secession State.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The flag of the Confederacy flies on Capitol Hill perhaps for the first time in history.

And the arch-defender of the "lost cause"—Senator Cole Blease—planted it there.

The Stars and Stripes hang from the reception room of his office in the senate office building. The flag faces the pictures of Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson.

To "Coley" Blease goes the distinction of being the first United States senator ever to be presented with the flag of the Confederacy, and to have it placed in his office.

The presentation was at his request.

"Coley" never lets an opportunity slip to tell of his love and admiration for the gray hosts of Lee. Senate colleagues have heard him boast more than once that South Carolina, his native state, was the first state to secede from the union—fired the first shot in the Civil war.

"I come from the state which was the mother of secession," he has thundered again and again on the floor of the senate—"which has produced some of the bravest men who were ever seen on a battle field."

And as often have senators heard from his lips:

"Lee did not surrender—his soldiers were perishing, they were overpowered, outnumbered, but they were not cowed."

There's a reason for Blease's enthusiasm. His father was one who wore the gray. Eleven of his relatives served the Confederacy.

It was a picturesque affair—the presentation of the Stars and Bars the other afternoon in Blease's office, on the first floor of the senate office building.

The daughter of the designer of the Confederate flag made the presentation. Rep. Fred Dominick of South Carolina made a speech, in which he told Blease:

"Take this flag:— 'For though conquered, we adored it. Love the cold dead hands that bore it; Weep for those who fell before it. Pardoned those who trailed and tore it."

Come to the Roseburg Woman's club bridge party Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Refreshments, prizes for men and women. Admission 35c.—Adv.

Arundel, piano tuner. Phone 189-L.

AT YOUR SERVICE Phone 582 Day or Night STEPHENS AUTO CO.

Admission 35c.—Adv.

Arundel, piano tuner. Phone 189-L.

AT YOUR SERVICE Phone 582 Day or Night STEPHENS AUTO CO.

Admission 35c.—Adv.

Arundel, piano tuner. Phone 189-L.

AT YOUR SERVICE Phone 582 Day or Night STEPHENS AUTO CO.

Admission 35c.—Adv.

Arundel, piano tuner. Phone 189-L.

AT YOUR SERVICE Phone 582 Day or Night STEPHENS AUTO CO.

Admission 35c.—Adv.

Arundel, piano tuner. Phone 189-L.

AT YOUR SERVICE Phone 582 Day or Night STEPHENS AUTO CO.

Admission 35c.—Adv.

Arundel, piano tuner. Phone 189-L.

AT YOUR SERVICE Phone 582 Day or Night STEPHENS AUTO CO.

Admission 35c.—Adv.

Arundel, piano tuner. Phone 189-L.

AT YOUR SERVICE Phone 582 Day or Night STEPHENS AUTO CO.

Admission 35c.—Adv.

STOCK CONCERN IS UNDER SUSPICION

(Associated Press Local Wire)

SALEM, Ore., May 3.—After a special investigation that has been in progress for about two months, State Corporation Commissioner McCallister, in cooperation with the securities commissioner of California, has turned over to postal authorities evidence pertaining to the operations of T. R. Jump & Co. of San Francisco.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

The Jump company published what is referred to by McCallister as a "tipper," which was circulated through the mails. This record mentioned the purchase of Premier Metal stock. Through the influence of the company's literature, McCallister says the price of the stock was manipulated from 11 cents to $2.15 a share. Later it dropped to 7 cents. The Jump company also used the telephone extensively for long distance calls to prospective clients, running up thousands of dollars in telephone bills, it is said.

DIXONVILLE YOUTH AT BAKERY SCHOOL

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Heldenreich of Dixonville have received word from their son, Louis, that he is to spend two or three months in Chicago attending a school for bakers. He has been employed with the Silverleaf bakeries of Spokane and is to take a complete course in commercial bakery work. He plans to come to Roseburg for a short visit after completing the school.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

Fresh salmon eggs at Idleyle Park.—Adv.

FREE May 3rd to 10th Inclusive

TIRE INSPECTION WEEK!

Following Services Will Be Given You—No Charge—Regardless of Makes of Tires That Are on the Car.

1 All tires and tubes removed and carefully inspected 3 Wheels checked for proper alignment

2 All rims cleaned and painted 4 Tires remounted, switched as advisable, and correctly inflated

No charges except for materials furnished and repairs or adjustments that may be authorized by you.

NO OBLIGATION!