AUTO REGISTRANTS URGED BY HOSS TO RETAIN RECEIPTS

SALEM, Ore., May 14.—Too many Oregon automobile owners carelessly lose their auto registration receipts, says Secretary of State Hal E. Hoss, and thereby breed a lot of bad luck for themselves.

This caused the secretary's office today to issue a statement stressing the importance of keeping the receipt.

"The receipt is not just a slip of paper to be ignored," says the secretary, "or a mere receipt for money to be placed in a file of paid bills, for it has a vital purpose—the identification of the automobile for which it is issued. It is the motorist's evidence of registration and ownership and is extremely valuable to him."

Hoss urges that the receipt be placed in the container furnished by the state and kept there until it is returned to the secretary of state for renewal of registration.

He says further that the certificate is important, not only for identification of the car in case of theft, but that when an Oregon motorist enters another state it is essential that he have the receipt with him.

Light rain showers have again been reported from western Oregon, attending a shallow depression over the Pacific region, and rains have occurred in the eastern states, attending a disturbance central in the Ohio valley. It is slightly warmer in the western states and cooler in the Mississippi Valley, but moderate temperatures for the season prevail in nearly all sections. Considerable showers and occasionally unsettled weather is expected in this vicinity tonight and Thursday, with temperature above normal.
