THE Los Angeles Herald prints a table showing increases of the Los Angeles county cities whose 1930 populations have so far been reported to the census bureau.

AND don't forget the tourist. The tourist is apt to come first to SEE and return later on to LIVE. That is the way California has got a lot of her present population.

THIS writer, again speaking as one individual, isn't ashamed to show Oregon to ANY CALIFORNIAN. Oregon, in natural beauty, in natural resources and in prospects for future development, isn't excelled by ANY STATE IN THE UNION.

SO MUCH for the bright side of California and her great growth in population in the past decade. Let us now take a look at the side which is not quite so bright.

WE WANT development here in Oregon. We want growth. We want more population on our farms, and MORE AND BETTER farm production.

McNary Reassures on Vets' Home

EXPLANATION OF ALTERING BILL IS MADE

Substitution of Northwest for Roseburg as Site Merely in Keeping With Custom.

This City Will Be Chosen for Institution, Says Opinion Expressed in Telegram.

While the national soldiers' home bill in which Roseburg is vitally interested has been amended to provide for an institution in the Pacific northwest instead of definitely designating Roseburg as the site, there is no need for apprehension on the part of Roseburg, according to a message received today from Senator Charles L. McNary, who is giving every possible influence to the passage of the measure.

The house committee on military affairs voted favorably today to report the soldiers home bill with an amendment that the home be located in one of the states of the Pacific northwest. Senator McNary states in a telegram received by the Roseburg chamber of commerce late last night, "I have just discussed the committee's action with the chairman."

Mr. McNary continues in his message, "and he stated that the practice of the committee is to select the locality but not the site, leaving the definite location to the board of managers of the national home for disabled and volunteer soldiers at Dayton, Ohio."

"I have presented to the board of managers Roseburg's unique advantages as a site for a soldiers' home," Dr. E. B. Stewart, while in Washington, presented Roseburg's unequalled claims for this home in a very effective way.

"We shall continue our activities, which in my opinion will result in the location of the home in your delightful city."

McNary's Aid Valuable
Senator McNary concludes his lengthy telegram with the request that his best wishes be extended to General George White and all others present at the dinner to be held in Roseburg tonight.

Roberts Confirmed as Associate Justice of U. S. Supreme Court

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, May 21.—The senate yesterday confirmed Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia as an associate justice of the United States supreme court.

OWEN J. ROBERTS

Confirmation was without a record vote.

Roberts takes the place on the supreme court bench left vacant by the death of Justice Edward T. Sanford of Tennessee.

Known now as a lawyer of great ability, Roberts wanted to be a teacher when he was in "prep" school. He did not think lawyers in pursuing their profession could be honest, but after arguments by his father and advice from the headmaster of the academy, chose the profession which has led him so high.

He is only 55 and one of the youngest men ever named for the place, the sixth Pennsylvanian since the court was erected 150 years ago.

Not only has he practiced law, but he has taught it in the University of Pennsylvania. He was a leader of the bar before President Coolidge about the spotlight of fame on him by naming him to prosecute the celebrated oil cases.

In addition to his home in Philadelphia, Roberts owns a 700-acre estate 30 miles distant. He is very fond of the woods and roughing it in camp. He is an expert with a canoe, too, having spent summers in Maine camps in his youth.

There are but three in the Roberts family. The others are Mrs. Roberts and their one child, Miss Elizabeth, who is in her early twenties. She is abroad now, studying voice.

Triumph For Decency, Victor Says; Brown and Pinchot in Close Count.

Latest Tabulation Reveals but 8500 Votes Between Rival Aspirants to Governorship.

POLITICAL FIGHT RESULTS TOLD IN REPSHELL

Pennsylvania republicans nominate James J. Davis, secretary of labor in the Hoover cabinet, for United States senator and apparently Francis Shunk Brown for governor. Both are avowed drags.

South Dakota republicans, in post-primary convention, nominate for governor Warren E. Green, who ran last in a field of five at the primaries. The convention sidetracked Miss Gladys Pyle, secretary of state, who ran first in the primary, but failed to poll the requisite 35 per cent vote.

Thomas L. Blanton re-elected to congress from a Texas district following his defeat for the senatorial nomination two years ago.

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—Returns from 7706 districts, out of 8701 in the state, showed that the lead of Francis Shunk Brown, candidate for governor in yesterday's primary, had dwindled to 8,518 over Gifford Pinchot.

With 995 districts missing, the vote for Brown was 572,992; Pinchot, 564,478, the vote for Thomas W. Phillips, the wet candidate, was 24,737.

Missing districts are from upstate country where Pinchot has been receiving his strongest support.

The vote of Secretary of Labor James J. Davis for senator continued to mount over that of Senator Joseph B. Grundy. The latest figures indicated that he had a lead of more than 220,000. Thomas W. Bohlen, wet candidate for senator, is running a poor third.
