I am glad to answer letters from any woman who wants to know more about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Bertha Stephens, 21 E. Ross Street, Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

BISHOP CANNON'S TEARS GAIN MERCY FROM CONFERENCE

DALLAS, Tex., May 21.—The contrition of Bishop James Cannon Jr., of Washington, D. C., plus the publicity given his case, saved him from a church trial on charges of stock market speculation, it was disclosed today in the report of the committee on episcopacy to the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south.

The bishop's contrition was shown as he made an oral statement to the conference after the committee's exonerating report was submitted. Tears in his eyes, he publicly admitted that he "made a mistake."

Judge G. T. Fitzhugh of Memphis, the principal accuser of the bishop, protested against the report, which he charged was irregular and illegal. A few hisses and many cheers greeted the Memphis delegate.

The committee report disclosed that a previous action had ordered a trial for Cannon, but this action had been rescinded.

TODAY'S MARKETS

PORTLAND, May 21.—Several large independent dealers were reported to have reduced their buying and selling prices on eggs 1c, following reductions at other coast markets. The Washington cooperative was said to have made a substantial cut. The official quotations in Portland remained unchanged, however, since no action toward reduction is announced by the Pacific cooperative poultry producers, who control about 60 per cent of production in this territory. The supply situation was said to be growing more top-heavy daily.

Butter prices were fairly steady following Tuesday's decline and supply and demand were generally about equalized.

Reviewing the fruit and vegetable situation, the Portland bureau of the U. S. department of agriculture says:

"Strawberry supplies are light—and no one is excited about the fact. Demand is very slow, due to continued cold rainy weather. Many berry growers report their berries rotting on the ground; and this week's receipts of Oregon berries at Portland mostly show watery condition, and generally poor texture. Best offerings are from Banks. Some of this stock is very good. Hood River is just starting to ship strawberries now. Eastern berry markets are in excellent condition, with rather high prices generally prevailing.

"Cantaloupes are now in plentiful supply, at moderate prices. Like strawberries, though, their movement is very slow, due to unfavorable weather.

"Meanwhile, apples are moving with regular mid-winter volume, and Washington apples are now arriving at about the rate of a carload daily, by motor truck.

"Asparagus is scarce, growth being hindered by weather conditions. Prices advanced sharply today.

"New potatoes, and cabbage are both cheaper. Local cabbage is rapidly replacing California stock at Portland."

The honest reason

THERE IS ONLY one real reason for smoking and that's pleasure. A pretty good reason after all. The cigarette you select in the long run will be the one that can contribute most to your enjoyment.

Camels are made with that idea in mind—the idea that genuine smoke pleasure is what you want in a cigarette.

When you try them you will find a refreshing difference—a mild, mellow richness of choice tobaccos—a blended harmony of fragrance, silky smooth—that makes smoking a delight.

The fact that more millions have chosen Camel than any other cigarette is a tribute to an honest product, marketed for an honest purpose.
