DESERT SQUATTERS STILL FACE TIMBER CUTTING CHARGE

PORTLAND, Ore., June 5.—J. E. Brahan and Edwin Martin, two novice squatters on the Fish creek desert in the Umpqua national forest east of Roseburg, were before Federal Judge McNary yesterday and their cases continued until July 2, as far as the trespass charges are concerned, and if they are able to report to the court when they return here on that date that they have moved from the property, this charge will not be pressed.

The two, however, face another charge that they still will have to answer to and that is the cutting of timber on government land. This charge, Judge McNary informed the two, would be called for trial on July 2, and he warned them to be ready at that time.

Joseph K. Carson, appointed by the court to defend the two, withdrew from the case yesterday, informing Judge McNary that as in the case of E. H. Best, who was before the court Tuesday, he had been unable to agree with his clients as to the conduct of the case. Best has been given until July 2 to leave the forest reserve.

Best has been before the court a number of times and has served time for contempt of court when he repeatedly refused to leave the forest reserve after the court had ordered him off. Emroy Davis, who along with Best has been most persistent in his effort to stay on the reserve, is now under suspended sentence, the imposition of which depends upon his leaving the forest.

The four squatters were arrested the last time in April.

TODAY'S MARKETS

PORTLAND, June 5.—Butter prices displayed a considerably firmer undertone today, but no changes were announced in quotations. Supplies were less than previously and demand for storage appeared brisker. Premiums were reported paid by some for 92 score product.

Because of low prices, there has been a good demand for eggs, but not sufficient to absorb all the supplies. Prices continue irregular.

Reviewing the fruit and vegetable situation, the Portland bureau of the U. S. department of agriculture says:

"The summer fruits and vegetables—melons, berries, cucumbers, etc., are meeting with rather slow demand this week; meanwhile, the cool weather standbys, as apples and potatoes, continue in good demand. Rain has delayed strawberry-ripening again, and receipts are light. Production will increase again with warm weather, though.

"The potato market shows fair activity, and new California stock shows a stronger undertone, with a few sales at higher prices. In California, northwestern Netted Gems are selling higher than new potatoes. At Portland however, the new potatoes are still a trifle higher.

"The firs carlot shipment of mixed vegetables this season was loaded fro mPortland yesterday. A car of peas were loaded today, and Oregon's first cherries were forwarded yesterday, with two carlot shipments.

"Hothouse tomatoes are suffering from the present liberal supply of southern outdoor stock. Hothuse prices have lowered, to meet this competition."
