GLENDALE

GLENDALE, June 12.—R. N. Knight, who is connected with the foreign exchange department of the Dexter-Horton National Bank at Seattle, is spending a brief vacation with his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McCullough, who operate the Capitol Auto camp on the Pacific highway at the base of Stage Gulch pass.
 Mrs. C. Williams, Mrs. Jessie Warnke and daughter Betty left by auto for Portland Wednesday morning. They will attend the Rose festival and visit with friends while there.
 Willard Cook and family moved into the Mrs. J. H. Stewart house on Willis avenue last week, moving here from near Canyonville. Cook is employed in logging operations of the Glendale Lumber company. Albert Lindow, local Southern Pacific roadmaster's clerk, left for Portland Monday evening for a few days' visit with friends.
 Mr. and Mrs. Rodney A. Calvert of Seaside, who have been visiting friends here since Friday left for Grants Pass Tuesday morning, where they expected to make a short visit before going on to Long Beach, Cal., where they intend to make an extended stay with Rodney's brother, Donald Calvert, and family. The trip is being made with the hopes it may better Calvert's health, which has been poor for some time. Calvert was formerly in charge of the Standard Oil distribution plant here until his transfer to Seaside about five years ago.
 Harry Eycheney, an inspector for the Western Union company now stationed at Corvallis, was a week-end visitor here. He returned to Corvallis Monday.
 Mrs. D. C. Harris, left for Portland last Saturday evening for a visit with her daughter and grandchildren. While in Portland she will also attend the 41 annual session of the grand chapter O. B. S., which convenes this week.

 Mrs. Jessie Warnke returned from a business trip to Medford last Friday.
 Archie Strong, who has been attending Linfield college at McMinnville the past year returned here Monday. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Strong who reside at Reuben and is a member of the 1928 Glendale high school graduating class. He is taking a course

DANCE PAVILION AT BANDON OPENS

BANDON, June 12.—The opening of the Silver Spray was all expected of it; the hall was filled to capacity, many people from all sections of the state attending, to make it the most successful opening of this mammoth dance pavilion in history.
 The beautifully decorated hall, which is always popular to every one who has ever danced in it, was filled to such an extent that moving about in it was almost impossible. Dancing began at 9:00 p. m. and lasted until 2:00 a. m. during which the people never seemed to tire. The unique lighting system in the Silver Spray according to visitors was the best they had ever seen.
 The dance band made a wonderful showing with its selected dance numbers. The nine-piece orchestra played everything from the "Stein Song" to "Home Sweet Home." The popularity of this orchestra will be a great asset to the future success of the dance hall during the summer season.
 As an added attraction for the opening night a camera man from Hollywood was there to take shots of the huge crowd. With bright lights shining from one corner of the hall, many people danced over to investigate never realizing that they were being photographed.

In biology at college and is now a sophomore.
 A. J. Lilburn of Roseburg transacted business here Tuesday.
 Mrs. William Goehrend and Mrs. C. D. McCarthey and three children left for Portland Wednesday morning, where they will attend the Rose Festival and visit with friends and relatives.

 Carl T. Smith left here Tuesday for Roseburg, where he will visit with his father, William Smith.
 V. Reeves of Grants Pass transacted business and called on friends here Tuesday.
 Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart of Wolf Creek visited with friends and shopped here Saturday.
 Miss Kathryn Strong of Reuben visited with friends and shopped at Roseburg Saturday.

This gave an added touch to a most delightful evening.
 While the Silver Spray will not have such crowds all summer, it shows nevertheless that this form of recreation at Bandon beach is becoming more and more one of the high-lights of entertainment.

JUNIOR LEAGUERS AT PRACTICE FOR TITULAR GAMES

Though the practice called for the Junior league baseball players was not compulsory, twelve players reported at Finney field last night. Golf, Smith and Parker were over from Sutherlin; Adamson, Clancy, Dyer, Erskine, reported from Myrtle Creek; Henninger and Copeland from Oakland, together with Parks, Taylor and Bridges of Roseburg were those present.
 Coaches G. F. French and T. H. Ireland gave them a good workout and a lot of valuable instruction. Due to the fact that the players were together for the first time there was some looseness displayed and a lack in talking up the game. That will be done away with as the boys get better acquainted and more used to their coaches.

Cellars and Cox of Yoncalla, Yocom of Myrtle Creek, Mellor and Walker of Riddle were not in for practice last evening but will be on the field Saturday evening, at which time a seven-inning game will be played against a team of local players.

The list of players published last week did not mention Walker of Riddle as being one of the players selected. He was one of the three players from Riddle who played errorless ball last Saturday.

Under the coaching of Mr. French and Mr. Ireland, it is expected that this group of boys will make up a ball team that will be hard to beat and one that will "bring home the bacon" to Douglas county.

Certificates of eligibility are being sent out today. Each boy is required to furnish a birth certificate. If that is not available, then he is to furnish a baptismal certificate or a certificate of school record age. Each player must not have attained his seventeenth birthday before September 15, 1930.

The average gas service in Roseburg is not more than fifty feet in length. Adv.

BUYS DURANT AUTOMOBILE
 L. R. Chambers returned yesterday from Portland with a new Durant sedan for delivery to Fred Green of Campview. Mr. Chambers reports that he arranged to secure one of the new Austin cars on June 29 for display and demonstration purposes. The pictures of the new light car were obtained and have been placed on display at the local agency.

TODAY'S MARKETS

(Associated Press Local Wire)
PORTLAND, June 12.—Reports of possible damage to the crop from what is known as dewy mildew, has injected sudden life into the hop market and one result is a marked advance in prices, with considerable inquiry as to production. The 1929 crop is reported as at par for the earlier variety. There is much speculation as to how much damage is being done or will be done by the mildew, plant disease discovered in Europe 19 years ago. The extent of its spread in Oregon yards has not yet been determined.
 The butter market was fairly steady, with trading light and receipts liberal. The season's cuttings will be terminated for the season, very soon, by most growers, and condition from Mississippi and central California, in addition to Texas and the Imperial valley.
 Apparatists are moderate in volume of supply, but there is very little demand aside from camera requirements, and the market has become liberal. The season's cuttings will be terminated for the season, very soon, by most growers, and condition from Mississippi and central California, in addition to Texas and the Imperial valley.
