Reporter Slain by Gangsters

The bullet-torn body of Alfred "Jake" Lingle, a Chicago police reporter, lying on the sidewalk after he was shot and killed by a Chicago gangster in a sub-street under Michigan avenue. Lingle specialized in stories of gangland activities. He was a close friend of Police Commissioner William P. Russell and other police officials. He was personally acquainted with many leaders in the Chicago underworld. (Inset) Alfred Lingle.

Colonel North at Mr. Joseph's death were Colonel Herbert Allen, regular army, and Colonel Eugene Moshberger, commander, 192d infantry.
General White said the party rode from the state officers' mess to the drill ground. He recalled that the stirrups on Joseph's saddle had to be shortened for him. The horses walked.
Death instantaneous
Dismounted at the place where the party was to watch the regiment in close order drill, Colonels Allen and Moshberger were explaining the maneuvers to Senator Joseph. He was receiving the information with characteristic composure.
"Mr. Joseph veered to the left and fell flat on his back," General White said. "Colonel Moshberger made a pillow for him, thinking he had fainted."
Before the arrival of Captain Van Winkle, General White said he had tried to take Joseph's pulse, and feeling no movement, believed him dead. There was no movement or sound to indicate suffering.
While waiting for the doctor the officers had suggested that Joseph was probably worn out and ought to rest for the remainder of the day.
After examination at the infirmary the body was covered and all knew the man was dead.
Those who were with Joseph over the week-end said that, except for the meeting with the county central committee there was no word of politics. Nor did he say anything about being tired. At the infirmary Col. William G. Scott, Portland, senior medical officer, joined in the examination and pronounced Mr. Joseph dead. The doctors gave the cause of death as cardiac embolism—a blood clot on the heart, General White announced.
Had Planned Vacation
SALEM, Ore., June 15.—George Joseph, republican nominee for governor, fatally stricken at Camp Clatsop this morning, had planned a two weeks' vacation in California starting next Wednesday, according to a statement made by Circuit Judge L. H. McMahan of Salem who had planned to accompany him on the trip.
"Senator Joseph was to have returned here next Wednesday morning at 3 o'clock in his machine," stated McMahan. "Plans and arrangements for the outing and trip of rest for the republican nominee had all been made. He was to have driven us to Klamath Falls where we were both to speak before the Kiwanis club. There we were to have picked up Captain Applegate, veteran of the Modoc war, who was to have accompanied us to Alturas, California. At Alturas we were to have been joined by Col. William Thompson, who fought with Captain Applegate in the Modoc war and was a colonel in the Banckock war. The party was scheduled to go from Alturas to Blue lake about 50 miles from Alturas for a two weeks' rest."
"The whole excursion was planned for the benefit of Senator Joseph, who was looking forward to it with great expectancy. He was mentally fatigued and physically worn out from the rigors of the recent campaign and was sorely in need of a rest."
May End Litigation
SALEM, Ore., June 15.—A few minutes after news of the death of George Joseph reached Salem today his petition for rehearing of arguments in the disbarment case in which he was defendant was filed with the supreme court. It came by mail.
The petition for rehearing by Thomas Mannix, who was disbarred at the same time as Joseph, was received by the court Saturday.
There was a possibility, it was believed, that Joseph's attorneys would withdraw the petition.
Job for G. O. P.
PORTLAND, Ore., June 15.—A candidate to succeed Senator George Joseph, republican nominee for governor, who died at Camp Clatsop today, must be selected by the republican state central committee under Oregon laws, Phil Metachan, state chairman, said today. Mr. Metachan said he did not know whether the new committee, yet to be organized, would make this selection, or whether the old one had that power. He was to confer with Attorney General Van Winkle today for a ruling. At any rate, he said, the committee will meet at the earliest possible date.
Metachan said he was leaving at once for Salem to confer with the attorney general.
Under Disbarment
Joseph was for twenty years prominently identified with Oregon politics, and an avowed antagonist of "bossism" and special privilege. Born in a log cabin in Modoc county, California, he reached a high position in this state by virtue of his efforts and diligence.
Bitter in his denunciations of what he considered wrong, Joseph often was at logger-heads with various political factions both in the state assembly and out of it.
Last month he was permanently disbarred by the state supreme court for written and spoken attacks he is alleged to have made on members of that court. He had accused certain members of having professional and unethical interests in cases up for hearing. The supreme court in ordering his disbarment, announced that it would be happy to withdraw the order if Joseph would apologize for his statements.
Key May Enter Race
SALEM, Ore., June 15.—Friends of Thomas B. Kay, state treasurer, it was learned here today will advance his name before the republican state central committee as republican nominee for governor to succeed George Joseph this morning.
Their state nothing will be done until the movement may be launched with propriety.
Kay seriously considered becoming a candidate for the republican nomination before the primaries but his physicians warned him against the rigors of a campaign and he decided not to run. It was known at the time that Senator Harry Corbett, who was a candidate, withheld announcement of his candidacy until he was certain Kay would not run.
After Joseph's nomination many republicans over the state urged Kay to become an independent candidate but he issued a statement declining to enter the race and pledged his support wholeheartedly to the republican nominee.
Prior to the primaries Treasurer Kay appeared as chairman of every political gathering in Salem at which various gubernatorial candidates appeared to speak and introduced each one of them at such gatherings.
At various times in the past the state treasurer has considered running for the governorship but on each occasion some quirk of political fate has made no effort to conceal that the governorship has been an ambition with him for many years. He has been state treasurer longer than any other man in the history of Oregon, was at various times a member of the senate and house in the Oregon legislature from Marion county and also maintained other activities which have given him a statewide acquaintance.
Passing Regretted
SALEM, Ore., June 15.—Regret at the death of George W. Joseph at Camp Clatsop was expressed by men high in the affairs of the state today. Acting Governor Hamilton was not here when the information came. He was believed to be on his way from Eugene to Salem. Governor Norblad, who was among those defeated by Joseph for the republican gubernatorial nomination, is still in the east.
Among comments made here were the following:
Secretary of State Hoss—The sudden passing of Senator Joseph has raised a great many questions concerning the methods of choosing a successor but, through all the turmoil of a busy office, his friends here at Salem pause in their work to pay silent tribute to a man who was well known around the capitol building. Senator Joseph was known as a fighter, and since his nomination at the primaries had developed a tremendous following all over the state. He was a personal friend of mine and his passing is a distinct loss to the public life of Oregon.
State Treasurer Kay—I was deeply shocked to hear of the sudden death of Senator George Joseph. He was in every sense an upright American citizen and loyal Oregonian. He was honest and sincere. His long public service as a legislator and his noble benefactions have contributed greatly to the welfare of Oregon. He was the hardest and most conscientious fighter for a principle that I have ever known. His untimely death leaves a great gap in the business and political life of Oregon.
Chief Justice Coshaw—I have known Senator Joseph for 30 years. When I was in the practice I had more or less business with his office. My personal relations with him have always been pleasant.
Justice George M. Brown—I was acquainted with George W. Joseph for a number of years, and I admired his courage and ability. I felt deeply grateful for his interest in the preservation of the state of our great water power. It is with sadness and sincere regret that I learn of his passing. The people of Oregon have lost a loyal friend.
Justice George Roseman—I regret deeply the passing of Mr. Joseph. In his death, a wise citizen and a man of high character and loyalty and a man who had a vision of the future of our state and a determination to see it carried out, has been lost.
Portlanders Shocked
PORTLAND, June 15.—The shocking news of the sudden death today of Senator George W. Joseph brought forth comment of sorrow and amazement from civic leaders here. Among the statements were:
Henry L. Corbett: "I am so utterly shocked at the news that I don't know what to say. This is the greatest shock since the death of Governor Patterson and I feel George Joseph would have been a wonderful governor for Oregon and I deeply regret the news of his sudden death."
J. C. Ainsworth: "I feel Senator Joseph's death is a great shock to the whole community for he certainly was an outstanding figure in the state just recently a group of friends and I were talking about him and the remark was made that he went into everything so thoroughly that his campaign was surely going to hurt him because he had high blood pressure and a bad heart."
Oswald West, former governor: "I regret exceedingly the loss of the untimely death of Senator Joseph. I have known him intimately for years. His death will be a blow to the community."

ATHLETICS REGAIN LEAD POSITION IN AMERICAN LEAGUE
By HERBERT W. BARKER (Associated Press Sports Writer)
Thanks to the good left arm of Robert Moses Grove and the powerful bats of Lou Gehrig and Babe Ruth, the Philadelphia Athletics are leading the American League again today.
Grove's invincible pitching yesterday enabled the Athletics to whip Detroit, 10 to 1, while Gehrig and Ruth were batting the Yankees to a 17-10 victory over Cleveland, erstwhile pace-setters in the circuit. These two results combined to send the Athletics back into first place by a margin of one full game.
Grove gave the Tigers only four hits while the A's pounded Sorrell, Herring and Sullivan for 14 solid blows, one being Jimmy Fox's 14th homer of the year.
Gehrig hit his 18th and 37th and Ruth his 23rd home runs in the Yankee stadium massacre at Cleveland. "Hungry Lou" drove in seven runs for one of his best batting days this season. Herb Penneck went the route for the Yankees and pitched no harder than he had to. The largest crowd, 33,328, that ever saw a game at Cleveland was on hand.
The St. Louis Browns nipped their old playmate, Al Crowder for two runs in the ninth to nose out Washington, J. E. Crowder traded on Saturday with Helme Mannah for Goose Goslin, blanked the Browns for six innings but weakened in the closing stages of the struggle with a four-base drive in the sixth.
Giants Creep Up
In the National League, the New York Giants advanced to within a game of second place by whipping the Chicago Cubs, 7-4.
Brooklyn lost ground to the Giants by dropping a 4-3 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals. The Cards took advantage of five Brooklyn errors to score nine runs on as many hits. Dazzy Vance was not as effective as usual and gave way to Ray Moss late in the game.
In the only other National League game, the Boston Braves beat Cincinnati, 4-3, behind steady pitching by Don Gowdy. The Reds were blanked for six innings but knocked Cantwell for two runs in the seventh and one in the ninth before the Braves' pitcher applied the brakes.
DEMOCRATS ASSAIL NEW TARIFF BILL
WASHINGTON, June 15.—The Smoot-Hawley tariff bill passed through White House doors today while the senate rang with democratic accusations that President Hoover took a deceptive stand in his statement of intent to sign the measure.
Indications were that the pen-and-ink formality of executing the bill into law would occur shortly after noon tomorrow.
Senator Harrison, the Miscellaneous, denounced the president's statement of last night—saying he did not "suppose there ever was a document sent out from the White House that had more misleading statements and alleged facts in it than that one issued yesterday on the sabbath."

TALKING DOLL GOES TO TRAPOLIS CHILD

Little Miss Christina Trapolis, 3-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Trapolis, was declared winner of the talking doll given away at the Antlers theatre Saturday, following a six-week contest. The votes for the doll were secured through various merchants participating in the contest, and out of the 50,000 votes that were printed, slightly more than 51,000 were turned in.
The winner had 22,475 votes, with Betty Jean Ritter a close second with 18,317 votes. Delores Casey was third with 10,114, Wynona Borgen fourth with 6,868 and Doris Ann Shoemaker fifth with 1,730.

WALTER FISHER TO BUILD IN OVERLOOK

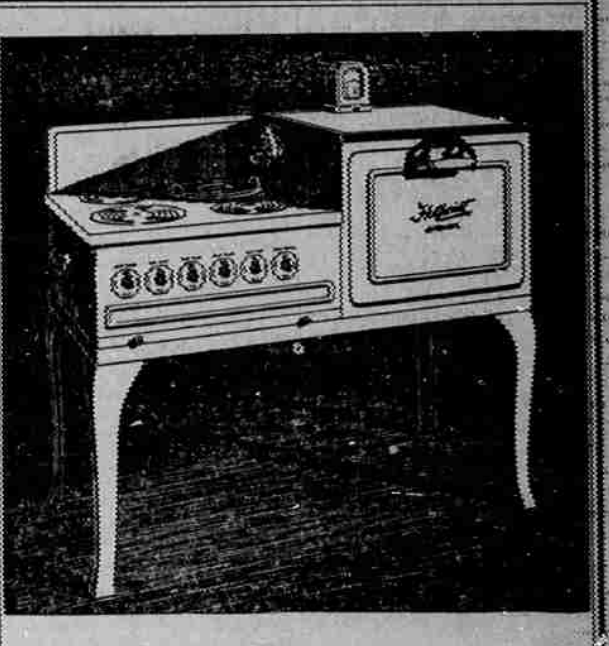

Work is being started today on the new residence to be erected by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fisher. The house is to be located in Overlook addition where Mr. Fisher has been holding building lots for several years. The structure is to be two stories in height of colonial design and will be 40 by 25 feet in size. It will be of wooden construction, following the strict colonial style. Plans were drawn by Roane Hemmaway, Portland architect, and the contract has been let to C. A. Chamberlain. Work of clearing the lot and excavating was started this morning. This building is to cost about $10,000.
