Gibson, junior custodian. Following the installation of the new officers a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Interesting guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. George E. Houck are Miss Kitty Chase of Boston, Massachusetts, teacher in Holyoke school for girls in Massachusetts, and Professor Ian Campbell of the geology department of Harvard university. They will spend the weekend in this city before departing for the east.

Casebeer-Livingston Wedding Solemnized at Glide in Pretty Ceremony

Miss Frances Mary Livingston became the bride of Robert L. Casebeer of Glide, at a very pretty wedding that took place in the new residence of Mr. and Mrs. Steven J. Shrum with whom the bride has made her home.

The event took place at ten-thirty in the evening on Thursday of this week. Groups of flowers in pastel shades formed a lovely background for the affair, and tall tapers gave a soft mellow light to the rooms. For the exchange of vows the couple stood before the large fire place that was lighted and decorated with flowers and branches of pine. Rev. Alexander Muirhead of Roseburg, read a most impressive ring ceremony.

The bride wore a model of flowered net over delicate pink with a fitted waist, and long skirt finished with a deep flounce reaching the floor. She carried a shower bouquet of white lilies.

The bride was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Elita Casebeer, who wore a frock of orchid, and carried an arm bouquet of sweet peas in pastel shades.

George Churchill of Roseburg, was the best man. Proceeding the ceremony, "Oh, Promise Me" was played, and following "Because."

Delmar C. Livingston, father of the bride gave her in marriage. Following the ceremony the guests were entertained at a supper. One long table was beautifully set, a large wedding cake forming the centerpiece. Mrs. Fred Asam served.

Those present were Mr. D. C. Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Shrum, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Casebeer, Mrs. Fred Asam, Rev. Muirhead, Elita Casebeer, George Churchill and the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Casebeer.

Both the bride and groom are well known in Roseburg and vicinity having graduated from the Glide high school, and have attended school at the state college.

Mr. Casebeer is employed with the U. S. forest service and the happy couple will spend their honeymoon in the hills.

Mrs. Jack Wharton Is Hostess Friday to Christmas Club

Mrs. Jack Wharton presided over one of the week's enjoyable affairs on Friday evening at her home on East Douglas street, the occasion being the meeting of the Christmas Holiday club.

Sweet peas and clarkies placed throughout the rooms were a colorful background to the seven o'clock dinner and the evening of sewing and chatting which followed.

Mr. H. H. McNamee of San Francisco, house guest of her sister, Mrs. Wharton, was a guest of the club. Members enjoying the evening were Mrs. Leon McClintock, Mrs. Guy Cordon, Mrs. John McClintock, Mrs. Dean Kubler, Mrs. C. B. Wade, Mrs. Kenneth Quine, Mrs. H. C. Church, Mrs. Oscar Berle and the hostess, Mrs. Wharton.

Birthday Dinner Given at Langdon Home in Elkhead

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Langdon entertained on Sunday, June 22, at their home in Elkhead, with a birthday dinner honoring Oscar and George Langdon and Mrs. Ruby Morris.

Those enjoying the occasion, besides the honor guests, were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lee and family of Yoncalla, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Kincaid of Oakland, Delbert Langdon, of Scotts Valley, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Langdon.

Past Noble Grands Club Meets Thursday

The Past Noble Grands club met on Thursday, June 25, in the L. O. O. F. hall with Mrs. Stevenson, Mrs. Bloom and Mrs. Schwartz hostesses. All the officers of the club and twenty-four members were in attendance.

The regular business session was held, followed by an hour of social games and conversation. Later dainty refreshments were served in the dining room, at a table beautifully decorated in red, white and blue.

A monthly prize was drawn by Mrs. Neva Wimer.

Large Number Enjoy All-Day Picnic at Lindbloom's Grove

Lindbloom's grove was the scene of a most enjoyable picnic on Friday of this week when the Daily Vacation Bible school and the Baptist Sunday school and church members gathered for an all-day frolic.

A game of horseshoes was in progress most of the day, two baseball games were played, several races held, and wading in the river was very popular, especially among the younger folks. Lindon Hoffman was the winner of the sweep-stake race.

A bountiful basket dinner was served at noon. The picnic was considered a suc-

PADDLE WHEELERS WILL RACE TODAY ON MISSISSIPPI

CINCINNATI, O., June 28.—Gala days of steamboat traffic on the Ohio were revived today with the third annual race for supremacy of the river's packet boats.

Two paddle wheelers, the Tom Greene of Cincinnati and the Betsy Ann of Pittsburg, were made ready to wench and churn their way up the stream in a contest that recalled days when the river was the artery of travel through the middlewest.

Today's race was from Fernbank dam, 12 miles below here, 21 miles upstream to Coney Island, a pleasure resort. As in other years, thousands were expected to line the banks while several hundred persons secured passage on the boats themselves.

The Betsy Ann, piloted by Capt. Frederick Way Jr., sought vengeance for last year's disputed victory of the Tom Greene, a larger and more powerful packet. The Tom Greene, commanded by the captain of the same name, was first to reach the finish line in a 22-mile race, but the shorter Betsy Ann was first to entirely cross the line.

In the first revival of Packet racing three years ago, the Chris Greene, a sister ship of the Tom Greene, nosed out the Betsy Ann.

OBITUARY

Herbert Moore Boyd was born in Rusti, Chautauque county, New York, May 19, 1857, and died June 18, 1930. At the age of five years, with his father and mother, three brothers and one sister, he moved to Pleasant Valley, Wis., where they lived for five years. In 1867 they moved by team to Hudson township, Douglas county, Minn., where they lived many years. The father passed away in 1889 and the mother in 1892. The brothers, Henri and Dr. Harlow J., and Mrs. Emma B. Van Loon, died several years ago. On February 24, 1888, he was married to Lillian A. Wood. With their three children they moved to Roseburg in 1905. Linker H. of Day, Ore.; Mrs. Lettie Hollister, of Portland, and Mrs. Alice E. Laursen, of Lakeview, and seven grandchildren survive him. He was a member of the Baptist church and was held in high esteem by his friends as the large attendance at the funeral and the wonderful floral tribute attested. The funeral was held in the Roseburg Undertaking company parlors, with M. E. Ritter in charge and the body was laid to rest in the Masonic cemetery.

Colleen Stars in Revue Picture

The petite Colleen Moore, star of many entertaining movies, appears in "Footlights and Fools" at the Antlers Sunday and Monday. This picture is declared the best she has ever made. As usual her picture is a comedy production.

"Footlights and Fools," the newest of Colleen Moore's entertaining screen stories, and the first of her dialogue pictures to include episodes of technicolor, has been secured by the management of the Antlers theatre for a run opening Sunday for two days.

This Vitaphone special offers the popular little star a wide scope for her exceptional talent in characterization, for her role includes highly interesting variations. She appears as a supposedly exotic French actress, with an intriguing Parisian accent, in part of the story; impersonates a slangy Broadway chorus-girl in another episode of the plot, and plays the greater part of her characterization in her own charming personality.

Although "Footlights and Fools" recounts the humorous and dramatic adventures of a Broadway revue star, it is not solely a story of backstage life. Miss Moore's two leading roles, Raymond Hackett and Frederic March, do not portray theatrical characters, and the plot is built around a three-sided romance, with the eventual winner committee was to meet again before the convention formally opened.

The resolutions committee again adjourned until after temporary organization of the convention. The adjournment was taken because the committee is not "official" until its personnel has been approved by the convention, although the primary law provides that the platform committee shall meet 24 hours before the convention.

The republican national administration was assailed in a plank adopted by the committee for the farm relief act, which the resolution charged was costing wheat growers millions of dollars. The tariff law was criticised as giving ten increases to manufacturers for every one for the farmer. The de-benture plan was endorsed in another plank.

CENTRALIA, Wash., June 28.—A coalition of drys and moderates tied the resolutions committee of the state democratic convention in a knot early today and prevented temporarily at least, the presentation of a platform plank demanding repeal of the 18th amendment.

A proposed wet plank was rejected 14 to 13 after a wild and confusing battle. The platform

LOS ANGELES GOES INTO TOP POSITION IN COAST LEAGUE

Los Angeles moved into first place in the Pacific coast league yesterday, ending Sacramento's long residence there, by again downing Seattle, 8 to 7, while Hollywood was giving the senators their fourth straight trouncing, 8 to 2.

The Angels got three runs in the opening of the tenth of the game at Seattle, only to have the Indians score three and tie it up in the latter half. Dittmar's single brought in the winning tally in the eleventh, Hubbell being in the box then for the Indians. Bolancy was the winning pitcher, hurling the whole game.

Flynn lasted five innings on the mound for the Sacs, but the Stars then pounded him and Smith while Hollerson was keeping the Sacramento hits scattered, giving Hollywood an easy victory.

The second pair of first division clubs, San Francisco and Oakland, tied for several days, both lost to stay deadlocked in standings. Tarpin, third Seal pitcher to take part, walked Robertson with the bases loaded in the tenth, forcing in the run that gave Portland a 10 to 9 victory. Walters threw the last inning for the Ducks, got a sacrifice, and won the game.

The Missions made it three out of four from Oakland, winning 11 to 3, as Pete Daplia, acorn bunting ace, was driven from the box and Pearson failed to hold the rye thereafter. Merton Nelson was well out of trouble on the mound for the Missions until a futile rally in the eighth.
