Attractions AT THE MOVIES

ANTLERS — Today, Colleen Moore in "Footlights and Fools"; Tuesday and Wednesday, "The Case of Sergeant Grisca," with Betty Compson, Chester Morris, Jean Harsholt; Thursday, Friday, Saturday, "The Texan," with Gary Cooper, Fay Wray.

HERBERT BRENON, daring adventurer of the films, has tossed precedent to the winds again and delivered another dramatic creation to thrill and startle the world's playgoers.

Brenon's new achievement is "The Case of Serat Griska," an almost literal translation into film of Arnold Sweig's devastating novel of war. It will be presented at the Antlers theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

With Chester Morris in the title role, Brenon builds his drama around this central figure of a common man caught in the relentless machinery of war. It is a story which moves swiftly, brings down its points with terrific effect yet never loses the human qualities which must motivate all great drama.

SOUTHERN CROSS FLIERS WELCOMED AT WASHINGTON

(Associated Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, June 30.—Charles Kingsford-Smith and the trio who flew the Atlantic with him in the Southern Cross today were received by President Hoover in the blue room at the white house.

They found officialdom massed to greet them. The assistant secretaries of aviation of both the army and navy were there as were high ranking officers of both services, taking the place of Miss Hazel Patterson, resigned.

President Hoover, busy in his office, arrived at the white house just in time to greet the visitors. Later the Southern Cross fliers were taken to the senate which took a brief recess while the members of the crew were introduced and as senators filed by and shook their hands.

Senators and spectators in the galleries stood and applauded as they left the chamber with the British ambassador for Bolling field to take off for New York in the giant monoplane in which they had come.

LOS ANGELES WILL SPEND 30 MILLION TO END LONG FEUD

LOS ANGELES, June 30.—(A. P.)—After 20 years of feuds over water rights, Los Angeles hopes to end the controversy by buying outright five towns and numerous ranches.

The city plans to spend $38,000,000 and reach out 350 miles to enlarge existing water facilities, which are considered inadequate to supply the city until the Boulder dam supply is available.

Bitterness among ranchers over water diversion in the past has resulted in dynamiting of water works, armed conflict with city officers and prolonged litigation.

Besides buying outright the towns of Laws, Bleshop, Independence, Big Pine and Lone Pine for $5,790,000, Los Angeles plans to build an 11-mile tunnel to connect Silver Lake with the Owens river.

sheriff, was struck by a hit and run motorist last night when he attempted to stop the speeding car. His condition today was reported serious.
