

NATIONAL ASSN. OF EDUCATORS WORKS FOR BETTERMENT

Retirement Allowances on Agenda at Convention; Three in Running for President.

COLUMBUS, O., July 1.—With the presentation of committee reports on tenure laws and retirement systems for school teachers the National Education association swung into the first business session of its 65th annual convention today.

Reports of committees of tenure and retirement allowances, through which the association hopes to build up a more efficient body of teachers for public schools were outstanding among committee studies offered at the initial session of the representative assembly.

Nominations for president to succeed E. Ruth Pyrtle, of Lincoln, Neb., were in order. Three outstanding educators mentioned for the presidency are Joseph Roster, Fairmount, W. Va., president of the West Virginia State N. O. T. M. A. I. school; Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools at Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. John W. Abercrombie, Montgomery, Ala., assistant superintendent of education in Alabama.

An elaborate speaking program for the association's general sessions was centered today upon the international point of view as a vital value in education, one of the themes of this year's meeting. This question as it affects the Philippine islands, was the topic of Camillo Oslas, resident commissioner from the Philippines.

Others on the program were Mrs. A. H. Reeve, president of the international federation of home and school, Philadelphia; Ida Odelle Rudy, director of primary education in the public schools at Dayton, and A. O. Thomas, Augusta, Me., president of the western federation of educational associations.

Dr. Jessie A. Carters, of Ohio State university told the national congress of parents and teachers, an affiliated body, that their organization is too greatly predominated by women and that steps should be taken to interest more men in the adult study classes sponsored by the P. T. A.

"Fathers believe parental education is not for them—and as our parental education program usually is set up, it is not," she said, "when we are talking about parents we think and act and anticipate 'mother' meaning of the word parent, the methods and contents of parental education are bound to exhibit this mental set."

Others on the program were Mrs. A. H. Reeve, president of the international federation of home and school, Philadelphia; Ida Odelle Rudy, director of primary education in the public schools at Dayton, and A. O. Thomas, Augusta, Me., president of the western federation of educational associations.

Wales Thirty-Six, and Still Far From Altar

England's Popular Prince Seems Likely to Be Second Bachelor King Since 1760.

PRINCE OF WALES.

KING GEORGE II.

LADY MAY CAMBRIDGE.

LONDON, July 1.—The Prince of Wales, most famous bachelor in the world, has never married because he fears a wife would "boss" him!

If the popular prince, who has just celebrated his thirty-sixth birthday, retains his aversion to matrimonial ties until after the death of his father, King George V., he will be the first bachelor to be crowned King of England since 1760, when George III. ascended the British throne.

As the heir apparent to the scepter of the greatest empire in the world, the woman question has always been a poser for gay Wales. If he so much as talks to a pretty girl, columns touching on the incident appear in newspapers all over the world. If he actually dances with a young unmarried lady the rumor of his engagement to her is immediately broadcast.

In order to avoid these embarrassing reports the prince has found it necessary to bar all single girls from his new home at Port Helvedere, where he gives many brilliant parties for internationally known celebrities.

Among the young ladies to whom he has been reported engaged are Lady May Cambridge, the niece of Queen Mary; Princess Ingrid, of Sweden, and the Infanta Beatrice, of Spain.

But the prince, ignoring all these widely printed stories, has gone his carefree way without contracting a matrimonial alliance. "During twelve hours of the day," he once told an intimate, "I have to do what other people want me to. The rest of the time I can be myself."

"If I married, I would have to be what my wife wanted me to be." If the prince does marry he will choose, it is said, a brunette, good looking, though not of the doll type. She must be intelligent, understanding and capable of curbing his wilder schemes of amusing himself.

Above all, the prince will not marry until he falls in love and according to all actual evidence (this interesting and romantic event has not yet taken place. The reports that the light-hearted prince would loathe the cumbersome duties of ruling the British kingdom were branded false in his biography printed some time ago.

In this volume it was pointed out that no man in the world has studied more comprehensively every problem of government. He will shoulder his burden, he says, when it falls upon him.

TODAY'S MARKETS

PORTLAND, Ore., July 1.—Portland wholesale market for butter and eggs today ruled steady, especially for grades of each commodity, with prices unchanged.

Butter receipts were rather light but ample for a limited demand in force. Egg demand was fairly active. Some price shading was evident, quality considered.

Country dressed meats and poultry continued steady, supplies sufficient for a fair demand. The cherry season in Umatilla county was brought to a close last week-end with the final car of fresh cherries loaded for eastern shipment on Saturday, from the Milton-Freewater district.

Returns to growers averaged about 2c per lb. for all varieties. Although this is above cost of production, it is much lower than returns of the preceding two or three years. Smaller sizes than usual accounted in part for the lower returns. The Dalles and Hood River are now shipping heavily. Cherry loadings from Yakima and Wenatchee districts are now well over their season's peak.

At Portland, strawberries, cauliflower, asparagus and lettuce were all stronger today, due to generally lighter supplies. Cauliflower will be rather scarce until the fall crop matures. Portland is now receiving cauliflower from Puget Sound points. Production of spring cauliflower near Portland this year was greater than usual, and quality was unusually fine.

Outside demand for lettuce was improving, and several mixed cars are being loaded, with a preponderance of lettuce. Eastern green pea markets continue weak, with liberal supplies of eastern (mostly New York state) green peas.

SOUND ADVICE!

When tempted to over-indulge "Reach for a Lucky instead"

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

Bemoderate—bemoderate in all things, even in smoking. Avoid that future shadow* by avoiding over-indulgence, if you would maintain that modern, ever-youthful figure. "Reach for a Lucky instead."

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Lucky Strike has an extra, secret heating process. Everyone knows that heat purifies and so 20,679 physicians say that Luckies are less irritating to your throat.

"It's toasted" Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

"I have come to the conclusion," writes Sir Henry Thompson, M. D., F. R. S., "that more than half the disease that embitters human life is due to avoidable errors in diet." We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky instead," you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

MANY FOLKS HAVE PILES Amazing How Many Suffer and Do Nothing About It SIMPLE HOME REMEDY QUICKLY STOPS PILES

"I suffered terribly with bleeding piles which were awful painful. Finally after a very severe attack I got a bottle of Colace Pile Pills from the drug store and results were so good I've sent copies of the advertisement to several people I knew, for they are wonderful," declares another free and happy man, Mr. Wm. Elburn, well known fisherman at Rock Hall, Maryland. Thousands of men and women suffering from this dreaded pile trouble are today no longer bothered. If the reader suffers with piles they should suffer no longer. Get a bottle of Colace Pile Pills at druggists—swallow a couple pills per directions each meal time for a few days. That's all.
